DEAUVILLE PUBLIC WILL BE STARTLED

Weird Beach Attire Ideas, Daring Leg Encasements, and Bottled Sunburn.

DEAUVILLE, August 23.—Ballroom gowns and modernist art have been added up and divided by two to provide bathing and beach attire with which to startle the public at Deauville's "Grand Semaine," which opened today.

Van Dongen, whose Christian name "Kees" no one ever uses, has turned loose his fantastic art designs for the bathing suits.

This final splurge of the tired rich, ending with the Grand Prix horse race a week from tomorrow, is to the seashore what the Grand Semaine in June is to Paris.

Everyone desires to be seen, and the women try out their best ideas on Deauville society, which at present includes the Duke and Duchess of Westminster, Mrs. Jean Nash Dubonnet and scores of well-known actresses and film artists.

Gorgeous silks cut by the best dressmakers are used for the new wrap-around bathing suits which Van Dongen is said to have inspired. These are of one-piece, acutely abbreviated design.

Frequently they resemble chopped-off dressing gowns, with uneven hems and tight belts. They fold crosswise in front, with wide lapels.

Legs are much in evidence and are frequently encased in contrasted stockings, carrying out the idea of Paul Poiret, whose protest: "Why dress both legs alike?" has stirred mannequins and society to feats of daring.

Hand-painted sunburn is having a sudden vogue with thousands of city-bleached holiday makers, who swooped down for the big week, filling all available quarters. Many women and not a few men are applying "tan" out of bottles.

Important Medical Clinics Held Here

Four important medical clinics were held this week, two in Charlottetown at the Prince Edward Island and the Charlottetown Hospitals on Monday and two in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, yesterday.

The lecturers were Dr. R. C. Armour and Dr. H. A. Dixon of Toronto. At the clinics in Charlottetown there were 28 provincial medical men present and at Summerside 17. The subjects discussed were:

Diagnosis and Treatment of Borderline mental cases from the standpoint of the general practitioner.

Interpretation of signs and symptoms of organic disease of the spinal cord and brain.

The diagnosis and treatment of the commoner skin affections.

This was the third series of similar meetings held here during the present summer. Next month similar clinics will be held at which the lecturers will be Dr. H. W. Little, Gynacologist, and Dr. Mont Montgomery, Physicians.

These clinics have been held throughout Canada during the past two years, directed and provided for by the Canadian Medical Association and intended to provide expert post-Graduate assistants to medical men throughout the dominion. The Association selects the lecturers and invariably the best men available in their specialties and commissioned. It is interesting to note that the Sun Life Assurance Company contributes $30,000 annually to provide this service for Canadian doctors.

Local medical men speak of the services rendered by the visiting doctors in the highest terms declaring that attendance at the clinics are quite equal to a post graduate medical course.

Federal Minister And Premiers Will Discuss Subject

(Special to the Guardian)

OTTAWA, Aug. 23. —Advantage probably will be taken of the presence of the Provincial Prime Ministers in Ottawa early in November for a discussion between Hon. Chas. A. Dunning, Premier Ferguson of Ontario and Premier Taschereau of Quebec concerning the development of water powers on inter-provincial streams in which the Dominion Government is interested by reason of navigation rights.

The Prime Ministers of Ontario and Quebec will be in the federal capital for a week or two attending the conference of provincial Prime Ministers and Dominion Ministers. The premiers of Ontario and Quebec will hear what Mr. Dunning to propose regardfng the exploitation of such inter-provincial water powers as those on the Ottawa river at Carillon.

Baldwin To Stress Canada's Advantages In Lanark Speech

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Aug. 23. —Premier Baldwin in his speech at Douglas Castle, Lanarkshire, on Saturday, Aug. 27th, will endeavor to arouse greater interest in Great Britain in the development of Canada, according to the London correspondent of the Glasgow Herald, who always is well informed on political matters. The Premier, the correspondent foreshadows will emphasize the Dominion's importance, her empty spaces, and the desirability of her vast natural resources being developed by Britons rather than by Americans or people from other countries.

"In other words," the correspondent says, "Premier Baldwin, being convinced that he has interpreted his own country and its spirit to the Canadians, stimulated by his recent experiences in the Dominion, will set himself to perform a similar task for Canada by explaining her needs and how best her deep-seated loyalty can be forwarded with gratifying results on Great Britain's unemployment figures."

Informed opinion in Great Britain, the correspondent adds, is confident that the Premier's double mission will have political and economical results of the first importance, especially in the sphere of migration, which is ripe for wider consideration than it has been receiving.

Gathering Of The Clans Today

In connection with the Scottish Gathering which is being held at Vernon today a long list of athletic events are being run off and judging from latest advice every event will draw large numbers of competitors and will be hotly contested.

The Caledonia Club are noted for their big athletic events and this year will be a long shot ahead of former years.

Besides the athletic events there will be the usual Scottish dances which will be a big drawing card in themselves.

Music and plenty of it will be furnished by the Caledonian Pipe Band, who are now becoming famous for their splendid concerts at social gatherings of this nature and perchance they can be induced to uphold their honor won on Saturday last in the "tug of war."

Preparations have been bigger and better than ever this season and the spot overlooking beautiful Vernon could not be surpassed for an outing and we feel sure that a large gathering will join with the Caledonian Club in enjoying their annual gathering at Vernon today.

MINERAL DEPOSITS OF BRITISH EMPIRE WILL BE REVIEWED

Action Taken At The Opening Session Of Empire Mining And Metallurgical Congress.– Survey Of Industries Also To Begin In Move Of Vast Possibilities.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23. —Action was taken at today's opening session of the second triennial Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress leading to the institution of a review of the mineral resources and industries of the British Empire.

It was regarded as a move of vast and far-reaching possibilities, commencing as it would an effort, which if eventually prosecuted, would achieve a comprehensive tabulation of the Empire's mineral and industrial resources that would aid in the formulation of economic policies in the Empire.

Sir Thomas Holland, past president of the British Institution of Mining and Metallurgy, London, brought forward the proposal in a paper, entitled "Proposed Review of the Mineral Resources of the Empire."

Resolution Carried

Following the presentation of the paper by Sir Thomas Holland, R. E. Palmer, O. B. E., President of the British Institution of Mining and Metallurgy, London, presented a resolution advocating the institution of this review. The resolution was unanimously carried.

The congress was declared open by Sir Robert Horne, honorary president, and former chancellor of the exchequer. He opened his address with an eloquent testimony of loyalty of the congress of the empire.

Coal Problem Told

"Coal offers the means by which Great Britain can achieve a prosperity that will unshackle it from draining war legacies, and enable it to shake off continuing post-war depressions," said Sir Robert. "Coal is a problem, the solution of which is of importance to the whole empire, but of vital significance to the Mother Country."

Sir Robert deplored the fact that only one-fifth of the coal used in Great Britain was employed in a fashion which gave the added benefit of such importance by-products as tar, benzol and ammonia. The remainder was consumed in a raw condition, with a deplorable waste of valuable material, as much as 3,000,000 tons of potential fuel escaping into the atmosphere in the form of soot. The attempt to solve this vital problem on practical and commercial lines had, he said, been engaging the attention of some of the best brains of the mining world for several years.

Independence in Metals

Sir Robert stressed the growing independence of the Empire in regard to raw metal production. In only two important products, copper and petroleum, was the Empire deficient. The opening of new resources of copper in South Africa and experiments and research in the extraction of fuel oils from coal would, he thought, in the near future greatly improve matters.

Turning to Canada's minerals, Sir Robert pointed out that although the Canadian population represented only one-half of one per cent of the population of the world, Canada was now in the third place among the countries of the world in the production of gold, and was likely soon to be the second. Ninety per cent of the world's nickel came from Canada and 80 per cent of the asbestos. Canada was on the threshold of her mineral discoveries, he said, with such a vast area unprospected.

Organ Aroused Over Arrival Of Mayor Walker

(Canadian Press)

BERLIN, August 23.—Rote Fahne, Communist organ, is aroused over the expected arrival here tomorrow of Mayor Walker of New York which it terms "sheer provocation" in view of the Sacco-Vanzetti case. "Walker," the paper says" represents the murderous American Bourgeoisie no matter whether he belongs or does not belong directly to the clique who butchered Sacco and Vanzetti.

"Berlin workers all greet Walker as they greet all members of the ruling classes of America—"To the devil with you". A veritable cloudburst of epithets addressed to the United States generally and to Governor Fuller and Judge Webster Thayer personally, today, broke in a section of the liberal and radical Berlin newspapers over the executions.

"The civilized veneer has been stripped from the State of Massachusetts" and "inhuman American capitalism ruthlessly violates elementary justice" are sentences taken at random from Vorwaerts.

Despite the shattering of windows in the famous glass room of the League Building, the conference held to its decision to meet there, the blinds being drawn as a substitute for windows and red curtains being drawn across inside to hide the destruction caused by Sacco-Vanzetti rioters in their demonstration last night.

The Cuban delegate, Aguero Y. Beatancourt, President of the Conference, in his opening address, called attention to the importance of the presence of the United States delegation headed by Hugh R.
