SUNDAY WILL BURY EX-WIFE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—According to present arrangements the body of Mrs. Louise Snydam-Noble, who died Sunday morning in a suicide pact with Frederick Noble, will be accompanied today from the receiving vault in Woodlawn Cemetery to the lot of her parents in Philadelphia by her mother, Mrs. John Jay White, and her first husband, Walter Lispenard Snydam.

Noble's body has been taken to Sayville, L. I., and laid at rest beside that of his mother. His father, H. M. Noble, and a brother and two sisters were the only mourners at the brief ceremony.

Mrs. White, mother of the suicide-wife, authorized this statement:

"I am sure Louise must have been a little out of her mind. She came to stay until Monday morning, but she did not remain. She vanished from my apartment between 10 o'clock at night and 9 Sunday morning. Then I found her dead with Noble, the man she had married. All I can do for her is to see her buried far away from where she made her mistakes."

His father spoke for Noble, who married Mrs. Snydam after she was freed from her husband and then killed himself with her.

"I am sure this woman led my son to and his life. She seemed to have an uncanny influence over him. She could make him do whatever she wanted. The last time they were at my house they spoke, or she did, of suicide. She said if she ever tried it, it would be a success."

shines. That is Walter Lispenard Snydam, former husband of the runaway wife. He, it appears, always endeavored to get his wife to leave the frivolous, incapable young Noble.

The day before she married Noble it appears Mr. Snydam made a proposition that if his former wife would leave Noble and go to Europe for two or three years there might be a reconciliation. He would take her back again as his wife if she would join him in absolute secrecy, prohibiting all publicity.

MORMON WOMAN HAD 537 DESCENDANTS.

SPRING VALLEY, Utah, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Sylvia A. Sandford, who is dead at the age of 97, had lived to count 534 descendants, running to the fifth generation. Born in Vermont, Mrs. Sandford was one of the early converts to the Mormon faith, and crossed the plains to Utah in 1848. Mrs. Sandford's own family consisted of eight children, a modest one for those days, but three great-great-grandchildren have recently been added to her descendants.

The Canadian Gazette announces a general change in the pay and allowances of officers and men in the permanent and non-permanent forces of the country. This will be of much interest here. The pay of the men of the non-permanent forces has been increased from 50 cents a day to 75 cents a day. The schedule of efficiency pay has been done away with and the schedule is now a flat rate of 75 cents a day for those serving two years in succession, with an efficiency allowance of 15 cents a day. The old rate was a flat one of fifty cents and an efficiency and service allowance of 20 cents and 40 cents and 50 cents a day. The increase of non-commissioned officers is on the same basis. The pay of the men in the permanent forces has been improved and changed from a daily pay to an annual salary. The pay of non-commissioned officers of the higher ranks has been so arranged that now when they receive promotion they will not be reduced in pay. Formerly the non-commissioned officer who was promoted would be actually losing money through his promotion because the allowance for the lower rank was greater than that for the higher rank. A slight change has been made in the allowances for officers with the annual salary but the difference is not appreciable.

A friend in Vancouver, referring to the death of the late W. K. McKay, previously announced in The Guardian, says:—On Sunday Jan. 21st, a sympathetic company of former friends from New London, Summerside and other points in P. E. Island assembled at the Chapel of Center & Hanna, Undertakers, Vancouver, B. C., to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the late Wm. Keir McKay, son of the late Geo. B. McKay of Clifton, P. E. I. The deceased had come to Vancouver from Edmonton last spring, and was employed in the Real Estate office of Hector A. Stewart. His last illness was very brief, and before his friends had generally become aware of it the end had come. The Chapel was filled to overflowing by those who had known him in the home land. His two sons, Chas. & Ralph were present from Edmonton, and his brother John G. from Tacoma, besides several relatives resident in Vancouver. Among the names to be seen attached to the floral offerings which covered the casket were those of H. A. and Mrs. Stewart, S. W. and Mrs. Brown, J. O. and Mrs. McKinnon, Vancouver, and MacLean and Freeze, Edmonton. Rev. Mr. MacAulay, who is supplying the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church during the absence of Rev. Dr. Prater, preached the funeral sermon and the remains were taken to P. E. I. for interment in charge of the deceased's eldest son, Chas. B.

Everyone should pay their Jan. electric light bill before Feb. 10th, as that date is the last to get a discount.

The Crystals must win tonight or lose all chance for the trophy and championship. The Vics are determined to go through the season without defeat and it will be the game of the season tonight.

There will be a tea in Zion Church lecture room Valentine day. A well supplied refreshment and candy table will be provided and tea served from 5 to 7 o'clock. Tea and admission will be 20 cents. Every one should help build the new church.

A P. E. Island lady's success as a novelist is set forth in plain terms in the following item from an exchange—L. C. Page & Co. of Boston, publishers of L. M. Montgomery's "Volumes of Delight," announces that "Anne of Green Gables" is now selling in its thirty-second edition, "Anne of Avonlea" in its seventh edition, "Kilmeny of the Orchard" and "The Story Girl" each in their eighth edition.

The sad news has been received by John and Mrs. McKinnon of Rose Valley of the death of their daughter Eliza beloved wife of William Ross, Quincy, Mass., which occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. M. on the 31st Jan at the age of 36 years. The deceased was well and favorably known here for her friendly and cheerful disposition. She leaves to mourn a husband and two children besides a father and mother, three sisters and seven brothers and is deeply regretted by all her acquaintances.

A meeting of the Evangelical Alliance was held in the parlor of St. Andrew's church yesterday morning, the president, Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, in the chair. There were present:—Messrs Hutchinson and Anderson, Raymond, McLean, Appel, Heine, Lawson, Thomas, McCutcheon, Wentworth, Gaetz, Roe and Evans. The secretary reported that the services during the week of prayer, despite the very unfavorable weather, had been successfully carried out. The collections would amount to about $75 for the work of the alliance. The paper for the meeting by Rev. F. H. Wentworth on the preacher and politics was able and interesting, and was followed by a very animated and useful discussion. There being no regular present, the brethren were able to speak with the utmost freedom.—St John etc. (A number of the clerics referred to are well known here.)

The many friends of the late Cassie Jane McLeod, will regret to learn of her death which occurred at her home Stanley Bridge, on Sunday, the 4th inst. She leaves to mourn besides her parents, four sisters and one brother. The funeral took place from her father's residence to the Presbyterian Church, Stanley, where a very impressive funeral service was held by the Rev. James Murray, B. A., pastor of the church. Rev. William John Sterling, and the Rev. William S. G. J. Evangelist Joseph McKay, preached the funeral sermon. After the benediction the remains which lay in a beautiful white plush casket, literally covered with flowers, were viewed by hundreds of people. Interment took place in the Guelph Memorial Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Murray and Rev. Mr. Sterling conducted the service at the grave. The pall-bearers were as follows:—Chester McEwen, Frank McEwen, Josiah McEwen, A. J. McNeill, Heath Montgomery, Cuthbert Montgomery, Mr. McLeod's brother, undertakers in attendance were, Andrew Bowness, Kensington, and Dan McLeod, Hunter River.
