SKATING SEASON OPENS AT BEDEQUE—That up and coming rink skating season on Christmas night with a bang-up Christmas skate. The management of the rink have made several improvements and have overhauled the rink—a phone and purchased new music, and they anticipate a banner year. Junior hockey is coming to the forefront this year. For years the rink management have given one afternoon free to the school children for skating. This has helped to encourage winter sports and this year there will be two hours free for hockey practice for the juniors. This will ensure lots of hockey material for the future. Hockey teams in and around Bedque are not yet organized but there is plenty of hockey talk among both senior and junior teams and the fans are looking forward to lots of fun. There are some new members on the rink staff this year.—S
