Bank Raiders' Tactics Shown In Tim Holt Hit

Banditry on the western frontiers is the basis of Tim Holt's new vehicle for RKO Radio, "The Bandit Trail" now at the Empire Theatre. The film vividly reveals the methods used by the bank-robbers of the period in their daring raids on the little communities Holt enacts the part of a young cattleman who unwillingly joins a bandit gang and subsequently endeavors to redeem himself, with exciting results.

Janet Waldo has the feminine lead in the picture which was directed by Edward Killy. The cast includes Ray Whitley, Lee "Lasses" White, Morris Ankrum, Glenn Strange, Roy Barcroft, J. Merrill Holmes and Eddie Waller.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headaches by regulating the digestive and biliary organs, neutralising acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headaches should disappear.

MYSTERY FILM AT CAPITOL

Depicting the gay experiences of two young Americans who try to mix romance and detective work in the glamorous atmosphere of Mexico City, Universal's zestful mystery drama "Meet the Wildcat," is the current attraction at the Capitol Theatre.

Ralph Bellamy and Margaret Lindsay share the love interest in the swiftly paced story which turns a dramatic spotlight upon the schemes and operations of international art thieves who steal priceless art treasures from famed museums. Joseph Schildkraut is featured as the mysterious leader of the underworld organization and Allen Jenkins has the comedy lead as the befuddled taxi-driver who turns detective with near disastrous consequences to all concerned. Other favorites in the cast include Jerome Cowan, Robert O. Davis and Frank Puglia.

Described as a rollicking comedy which blends romance and suspense with fast action, "Meet The Wildcat" is an original screenplay by Alex Gottlieb.

Fun, Melody And Girls In "Rise And Shine"

Jack Oakie, the All-American chowderhead; George Murphy, the guy who rescues romance from the rumpus; Walter Brennan, a grandpa who romances the field; Linda Darnell, the loveliest love interest that ever gave a heart a lift—she sings, too—and Milton Berle, a whinnying Seabiscuit, are the fun mad people of Mark Hellinger's "Rise and Shine," the new musical comedy which dances into the Prince Edward Theatre to-day.

Set on a college campus at the height of the football season, "Rise and Shine" has several new Robin and Rainger songs, dances, girls, laughs and fun. And the story is taken from James Thurber's mad, mad autobiography—"My Life and Hard Times."

With Clayton College expecting its biggest year on the gridiron, football star Jack Oakie is sent to live at Professor Donald Meek's home.

On the scene comes Murphy, a former All-American, and Raymond Walburn and Ruth Donnelly, a down-at-the-heel couple posing as retired educators. Murphy goes for Linda Darnell and helps her keep Oakie in shape. When Sheldon Leonard wants the football player kept out of the big game, so he can bet on the opposition, Murphy rebels. He takes all precautions to protect Oakie, but the star is kidnapped the night before by Milton Berle—who portrays a character called "Seabiscuit." Oakie must be found or the big game will be lost! How he escapes makes a hilarious ending to a side-splitting comedy.

"Rise and Shine" is a riotous musical comedy which preview audiences have hailed.

BINDER TWINE

The order states that persons owning 100 pounds or more of manila or sisal fibre or rope must submit an inventory to the controller of supplies and that if they fail to do so by Feb. 20, they will be subject to severe penalties for any dealings they make in the products after that date.

Use of manila fibre and rope will be prohibited for all but a few purposes. Commercial fishermen will be able to buy up to half the quantity they used in 1941, and will be allowed to supplement their manila purchases with sisal. But the total amount of new rope they buy, made from these two fibres, must not exceed 75 per cent of the total quantity of rope they used in 1941.

Ocean-going vessels, coastal vessels, lake ships, towing ships and lighterage will be allowed a manila quota of 75 per cent of what they used in 1941 but will not be permitted any manila for stevedoring rope.

Dealers who find they have in stock manila rope or fibre which they cannot legally sell, may return it to his supplier who must accept the rope and repay the purchase price. If a dealer has less than half a standard coil of manila rope he will be allowed to use or sell it.

Persons wishing to buy any manila or sisal cordage, other than binder twine, must apply in writing to the supplies controller, and prove the cordage is to be used for an essential purpose.

The order exempts dealings in transmission rope, lariat and yacht lariat containing manila fibre made prior to the date of the order.

The order defines manila as any fibre or cordage which contains manila hemp, no matter how little.

HOLD ON

Aside from the intermittent thunder of British artillery and a running series of Japanese air attacks on Singapore the day brought no action of consequence. British headquarters thus summed up:—

"There is no change to report in the situation. Our artillery has engaged enemy transport in Johore Bahru (just across the strait). Enemy aircraft have made a number of raids on the island, causing some damage but few military casualties."

Singapore had a quiet afternoon after this morning's raids, which shook residents in a wide area but caused comparatively few casualties and only limited damage.

The bombing of the residential districts was indiscriminate. Touring the area, I saw a number of damaged residences and trees uprooted and gardens plowed up. People throughout the district were shaken, but I saw no casualties, even around refugee huts which were set ablaze. Within a short time the fires were extinguished and the people were going calmly about the task of salvaging their belongings.

RECEIVES JAIL SENTENCE — A young man from the City was sentenced to six months in jail when he appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate G. J. Tweedy yesterday charged with theft of a coat. A resident of Central Royalty reported the theft of the coat to Royal Canadian Mounted Police the previous day and a few hours later the man was apprehended. He pleaded guilty in Court yesterday.

FIREMEN OUT — Slight damage to the roof of 233 Richmond Street was caused by fire which broke out about 11 o'clock last night. It began as a flue fire but a spark ignited the shingles on the roof. Firemen took half an hour to get the blaze out. A 45 foot ladder was used to reach the roof and a line of hose was laid. City Police said last night that many telephone calls about the fire proved annoying as important calls were held up.

CONFINED TO HOME — Mr. Harry G. Lapthorn, well-known representative of the George Weston Company, is still confined to his home in the City because of illness. It is pleasing to note that he is making rapid recovery and expects to be out around again in a week.

MAYOR HOLMAN

For 14 years a member of the City Council, Coun. J. E. Blanchard has served the longest of any member of the present slate. He first entered the Council in 1926 and with the exception of one term when he was unsuccessful as a candidate for the Mayoralty, has been there under every Mayor since.

Probably the next long-service Councillor would be Coun. F. C. Dougan, who entered the Board the same time as Coun. Blanchard. However, he has been out of office on at least two occasions since.

Councillors R. C. Chandler and Henry Lapthorn were first elected to the Council in 1936. Each has continued to serve without a break ever since.

Coun. J. T. McKee has just completed two terms in Civic Government and by virtue of yesterday's acclamation is about to enter his third.

Councillors J. E. Sterns, T. A. Butler and B. Earle MacDonald have just completed their first term in the City Council.

One candidate seeking election to the Council failed to qualify because of tax arrears.

The election next Wednesday will be effective in Ward 5 only where the five candidates mentioned above will enter the contest. The three securing the most number of votes will be declared elected.

Mr. Lester P. O'Donnell has been appointed Returning Officer for the election.

Local C. W. L. Monthly meeting

Father O'Neill Gives Interesting Address On "The West As I See It".

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Sub-division of the Catholic Women's League was held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 3rd, in the K. of C. Hall, with a large attendance of members and friends. Mrs. W. T. Coady presided and the League prayer was recited by Rev. Richard O'Neill of Viking, Alberta. A short musical program was then enjoyed when Mrs. (Dr.) L. Duffy sang very sweetly, with Mrs. William Campbell as pianist. Following this delightful prelude, Reverend Father O'Neill, the guest speaker of the evening, addressed the meeting, taking as his subject "The West as I see it."

In a brief synopsis of his interesting and illuminating address, it is seen that as Spiritual Father of a vast territory covering 1600 miles, Father O'Neill's life is one of constant activity and care, in ministering to his people, whose nationality is, to say the least, varied, the congregations of the three churches, throughout his territory being composed of Poles, Ukrainians, Czecho-Slovakians, Italians, Bessarabians, Yugoslavs and Serbs.

Although a subjugated people in Europe, said the Reverend speaker, as Canadian citizens they appreciate and take advantage of the freedom which our country offers them; and, the fact that they may really own the earth which they till gives to them a sense of security hitherto unknown, which is an incentive to advance further, and become more worthy citizens of their adopted country.

Of all these races, the Slavs are intellectually the superior, and instances were related of the command of the languages possessed by many of these, and the ease with which five or six languages and more, could be commanded as the occasion arose.

Depicting the characteristics of the different races, it was interesting to note, that they are trusting, sincere and of a hopeful nature, refusing to become discouraged in the face of adversity. The depression which followed the repeated failure of crops, proved to be a salutary lesson to these new Canadians who through necessity educated themselves in the matter of buying wisely and who discovered that a good living could be obtained through other channels apart from tilling the soil.

Experience teaches that a certain amount of reverse of good fortune is beneficial to a people, as it is to a nation which becomes too self assured, and makes no progress, if no difficulties present themselves. Self reliance and trustworthiness are born of difficulties bravely faced and surmounted, and the people of the West have come back braver and more reliant, because of trials born with the calm acceptance natural to them.

Speaking of the spiritual side of his people, Father O'Neill said their Faith was simple and sincere and this was exemplified in the deep respect which was shown their priest, and their abiding trust in him. He spoke of the invaluable aid given by the Sisters of Service who through correspondence in winter, and follow up work in summer, instruct the children in Christian Doctrine in preparation for Confirmation during the visit of the Ordinary of the Diocese.

As a priest of the Western Missions, he has had a vast experience in coping with many peoples and their many problems, the successful issue of which called for stability of purpose, sincerity and consideration for each and every individual.

Following the address a vote of thanks which was moved by Miss Mary McDonnell and seconded by Mrs. Frank Murray was presented the Reverend speaker by the President. The Chaplain, Rev. L. A. Dougan further expressed appreciation of the excellent address to which Fr. O'Neill responded in a happy vein of thought.

The business meeting followed with the reading and adoption of the minutes of January meeting and the treasurer's report. Correspondence included letters from Rev. Mother General, C. S. M.; telegram from War Rationing Board, Ottawa; Mayor B. R. Holman; Mrs. J. H. Monaghan, Cambridge, Mass.; Private Vernon A. Murphy, England; Andrew J. Lamont, Chief Radio Officer, S. S. Radway. The correspondence received from the men on active service, expressed appreciation for the reading matter which is being forwarded regularly by the members. The Convener, Miss McDonnell said that to date, 31,000 wrappers for mailing have been distributed also that papers and magazines have been sent to the Home Forces through our military chaplains.

In reporting as Convener of War Work, Mrs. F. J. Casey, spoke of the pleasure which our Christmas gift brought to the men of the Merchant Marine, as expressed in the letter received from the Chief Radio Officer of the S. S. Radway. Further reporting Mrs Casey said: Groups in St. Joseph's and Notre Dame Convents and the Nurses Club are working and will be reported in due time. On Wednesday afternoon our women working at the Red Cross have finished 6 (six) surgeons gowns, cut dozens of pyjamas, and packed ten (10) cases of blankets, afghans, quilts and pyjamas. At the recent meeting addressed by Madame Casgrain at the "Charlottetown" on Wartime Price Control, Mrs. F. Murray and Mrs. J. E. Cullen, members of our subdivision and your convener, were elected members of the Advisory Board. In regard to this wartime measure, it is important that every woman adhere to the appeal made to us as individuals, to see that this law be carried out. If the country is to benefit by it and victory is to be ours, prices must be controlled and our co-operation is essential. The Women's Club for our Territorial forces in England to which we have contributed, has opened this month, under the auspices of the C. W. L. It is a home for each and every girl belonging to the forces, and is welcomed as supplying a long-felt need. To the present date $492.00 has been expended by our sub-division in war work. I would urge our members to buy War Saving Certificates and co-operate in the Victory Loan campaign.

Reports were heard from other committees showing interesting work done, especially in the Social Service department, which reported 44 different articles of clothing distributed. A very enjoyable social evening was held in the Holy Name Hall on Jan. 22nd. and capably convened by Mrs. J. E. Cullen who presented a financial report of same at this meeting.

On completion of further business meeting adjourned.

Take it easy For courtesy

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 — (CP) — exaggerated politeness points you out almost as surely as too little politeness, says Margaret Kernochle, writing on Common Courtesy.

Courtesy over-done appears more like awkward book-learning than graceful consideration of others. It makes you seem ill at ease and often leaves the other fellow uncomfortable as well.

Actions that put politeness into a prim and proper category often imply; "Custom demands this courtesy or I wouldn't be bothered with it."

A man sweeps his hat off his head, bows to every acquaintance on the street in a slightly Victorian manner which marks him as a town character.

A friend jumps up as if he were spring-operated, to seat someone who comes into his office. He seems over-anxious to please, and unsure of his own hospitality.

And there's the octopus handshake, which is no better acknowledgement of friendliness than the jellyfish handshake.

Of course, the solution to over-doing courtesy is to take it easy. Natural kindness and pleasant disposition will come to your aid in any correct but moderate manners campaign. And often you can assist the other fellow in his own adjustment to easy amenities.
