WIRELESS MESSAGES DURING AID

Plane falls into Ocean 605 Miles From Starting Point—Another Tragedy of Air Averted.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Drifting helplessly in mid-ocean, their radio sputtering occasional messages to search for help, Captain Frank T. Courtney and his three flying companions were located by the steamer Minnewaska, yesterday in the flying boat in which they attempted a flight from the Azores to Newfoundland.

A wireless message from the liner at 4 p. m. announced that another tragedy of the air and ocean had been averted. The steamer had been located 605 miles northwest of Florida, where it took off and about 700 miles southeast of Cape Race. It was drifting 275 miles north-west of the point where the Italian flyer De Pinedo was picked up last summer after a forced landing en route from Newfoundland to the Azores.

When the flying boat, which had taken off late Wednesday, was forced down, Courtney sent out a radio distress call giving his position as 42 north 41 west.

Hours of silence from the distressed plane after its landing led to the general fear that the radio had gone out of commission after its cry for help. But the steamer Aphanta got in direct communication with the plane again just before noon and was given the new position of 42.30 north 39.40 west.

The second message from Courtney dispelled fears aroused by failure of rescue steamers to find him at the general position given by silence of his radio and caused general confidence that the British flyer would be able to direct the searching steamers to his rescue.

Accompanying Courtney are E. H. Hosmer, wealthy Montreal banker of the flight, Fred Pierce, mechanic, and E. W. Gilmore, wireless operator.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Captain Courtney, transatlantic flyer, rescued in mid-sea by the Minnewaska, today in the following newspaper to his wife and the newspapers.

"We were picked up by the Minnewaska after a terrible experience. Our machine caught fire at midnight, at 1500 feet and landed in flames on a rough sea." For ten hours the big flying boat, the White Atlantic before being rescued.

In a radio to the Evening News, the Commander of the White Star liner Cedric, said that Courtney's plane had been abandoned when the Minnewaska took aboard the crew, consisting of Courtney, Edward H. Hosmer, Montreal broker, who financed the flight, E. W. Gilmore, wireless operator and Fred Pierce, mechanic.

It was the second failure for Courtney in a transatlantic attempt. A year ago he was obliged to fly to the United States by way of the Azores but was forced down at Corunna, Spain.

C. N. R. Advertise The Maritimes

(Special to the Guardian)
MONCTON, Aug. 3.—A Canadian railways staff photographer is at present in the Maritime Provinces taking motion pictures and photographs of camps, industrial plants and scenery in general, for use in the United States and in every province of Canada in advertising the Maritimes.

It has been noted that a greater interest is being manifested in the Maritimes by people in the other provinces of Canada, and efforts are being made by the Canadian National Railways to bring them East to spend their vacations in the provinces by the sea. In pursuance of this Mr. R. Creelman, Passenger Traffic Manager, Western Region Canadian National Railways and Mr. G. A. MacNicholl, General Passenger Agent, Vancouver, made a tour of the Maritime provinces recently and they were greatly impressed with their beauty and the possibilities for expansion along industrial and agricultural lines.

Sick Cured By Man In Trance

BERLIN, August, 3.—All Germany is mystified by the astonishing power of two rustic youths to cure diseases while they are in a trance.

Thousands of cures are credited to the youths, who are named Julius and Rudolf Seiler. They are only 20 years old, and they live in a little country cottage at Ottenheim, in the Rhine Valley.

A number of a sick person goes to their home it is not even necessary for the patient himself to go and describes the invalid's symptoms. One of the brothers listens, while the other goes into a trance. Then the first youth consults his still and hypnotized brother. There is silence for awhile. Then, from the lips of the man in the trance comes a strange voice which dictates in thunderous tones the course of treatment for the patient. The words are written down, a small fee usually a dollar is paid, and the prescription is taken to the patient.

City Of Eternal Youth

(By British United Press)
LONDON, Aug. 3.—There is a city of Peter Pan. It is Bradford in Yorkshire. Here men never grow old. They are still in the heyday of youth at 60, and in the very prime of life at 70.

At 90, perhaps, they begin to look upon themselves as veterans, but only just. Many of them never retire from business. Those who do only make their retirement an excuse for working harder than ever in public life.

There are as many as four active aldermen and three vigorous city councillors over the 70 mark. In the minor Peter Pan of them all is Lord Barnby, the great wool magnate. In the hunting field he still takes the fence with the rest, and on his last birthday—he is 85—he secured a couple of fox brushes.

Before setting off to his office from his country seat he takes a quick run round the house just to keep fit.

PARLIAMENT PROLOGUED BY THE KING

Speech From the Throne Expresses Confidence That Kellogg Pact Will be Important Guar- antee of World's Peace.

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, Aug. 3.—Confidence that the Kellogg pact to outlaw war will be an important guarantee of peace was expressed by the King in proroguing parliament today. The speech from the throne said: "My Government has been happy to accept the proposed treaty for the renunciation of war in the form in which it was finally proposed to them by the government of the United States. The proposed treaty has similarly been accepted by my governments in the Dominions and my government of India."

"It is my confident expectation that when completed, it will constitute a new and important guarantee of the world's peace."

"In harmony with the resolution of the imperial conference of 1926, recommending further development of the present system of consultation between my governments, arrangements have been completed for the appointment by my government in Britain of a representative in Canada with the title of high commissioner. He will proceed to Ottawa in September."

"The imperial wireless and cables conference submitted a unanimous report on improvement in telegraphic communications between several parts of my empire. To the principles underlying the report, my governments concerned are favorably disposed. I hope with the wholehearted co-operation of the telegraph systems, that the various parts will be organized to the lasting benefit of my empire."

Parliament was prorogued at 3 p. m. The new session will begin on November 6. This will be the last session of the present parliament which expires on or before November 1, 1929.

New Locomotives For The C. N. R.

(Special to the Guardian)
MONCTON, Aug. 3.—The second of the switching type locomotives to be constructed at the Moncton shops of the Canadian National Railways was turned out yesterday and successfully passed all trials. These engines carry a boiler pressure 220 lbs. per square inch, and have all the latest appliances. They are equipped with five lighting apparatus, which enables them to be used in cases of emergency of that kind.

The shopmen are very proud of their achievement and their work compares with the best of the kind anywhere.

Apologues was taken of this second engine of the series with the men who worked on it. These new switching locomotives are being put into service on the Atlantic Region.

DECLARES CAPE BRETON SHOULD BE THE PITTSBURG OF CANADA

Conservative Leader At Inverness And Port Hawkesbury Deals With Question Vitaly Affecting That Section Of The Maritimes.

INVERNESS, N. S., Aug. 3.—"The Island of Cape Breton, should be the Pittsburgh of Canada; should be the Pittsburgh of the British Empire."

In these words Hon. R. B. Bennett, tonight spoke of the steel and coal industry of Cape Breton. The Conservative leader commended upon importation into Canada of anthracite and bituminous coal and coke. "Why is it," he exclaimed, "that in Inverness you work only three days a week in our collieries? Why is it you have nobody to buy your coal? It is because we are buying coal from the United States and other parts of the world."

Mr. Bennett referred to published reports that the United States would sell $300,000,000 worth of steel to Canada this year. "Do you think," he asked, "if Cape Breton were a part of the United States the American Congress would permit $300,000,000 worth of steel imported into that country in one year? Do you think the United States Congress would permit its workmen to be discouraged, its industries nearly put out of business by allowing steel to come in from another country?"

He went on, "United States legislators for its own people. This is a selfish world. Is it not time that we legislated for our own Canadian people?"

At Port Hawkesbury—the threshold of Cape Breton—Mr. Bennett late this afternoon delivered an address in the town hall. As he did again tonight, he stressed the importance of the steel and coal industry in the Maritimes in the National life of Canada.

Communists Active In United States And Mexico

(Special to the Guardian)
ATLANTA, Aug. 3.—Declaring that communists were attempting to undermine labor organizations in the United States and Mexico, William L. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today called upon the members of the executive council to devise plans to thwart the communistic efforts.

Citing the calls by communists to members of railroad and mine unions to convene at specified dates within the next two months to consider new labor organizations, Mr. Green stated that information had been received that fifteen Russian communists had been sent into Mexico since the assassination of President-elect Obregon and the subsequent disappearance of Luis N. Morones, formerly Secretary of Labor and Commerce.

Gendarme With Two- Foot Moustache Will Leave For Europe Aug. 18

(By British United Press)
PARIS, August 3.—A Parisian figure as well known to British tourists as to Parisians has passed away in Pierre Leclercq, the gendarme with the two-foot long, red moustache, who for long was stationed at Porte Saint Denis on the Grande Boulevard.

He died in hospital from stroke while on duty during the heat wave. He was greatly admired by the minnettes, and his affability and engaging manner, coupled with his somewhat theatrical but efficient flourish of his white baton when directing traffic, made him generally popular.

Nursery Modes For Grown-Ups

LONDON, August, 3.—Modish dressmakers have gone to the nursery for some of their most striking dress accessories this season. A bib-and-tucker vogue which began in one exclusive Paris dress salon started this grown-up raid on the children's wardrobe. Afternoon dresses had their corages draped in obvious imitation of the bibs that are fastened under baby's chin. Little tuckers of fine linen, lawn, and georgette gave a demure good-girl look to jumper and simple frocks. Bows that might have been copied from the ribbon regalia of late Victorian infants in their Sunday best, strayed to the shoulders of smart evening gowns.

Even the hairdresses cultivated a shingle embellished with the important-looking top curl that adorning mothers at one time carefully trained on their babies' heads.

INSURANCE REPRESENTATIVES IN TOWN

Vice President and Maritime Supervisor of Crown Life Pay Visit to Province.

Mr. Ford S. Kumpf, Vice President and Managing Director, and Mr. Griffin, Supervisor for the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland of the Dominion Life Assurance Company, are in the city on a short visit.

Mr. Kumpf has lately travelled through the Prairie Provinces of the Dominion. He finds that crop conditions there better than they have ever been, and the reported estimate of not less than five hundred and fifty million bushels is fully corroborated by statements which the company receives from its loan inspectors there.

General business conditions throughout the whole of Canada seem to be better than for a number of years past. This statement is proven to the company by the fact that its interest collections on mortgages throughout the Dominion have been better in the last eight months than at any time during the last ten years, and the amount of insurance written, which is another indication of the country's prosperity shows an increase of 25 per cent for the first seven months over the corresponding period of last year—as regards the Dominion life.

"I am also pleased to note" said Mr. Kumpf, "that our Prince Edward Island agency under the management of Major J. A. MacKenzie is having its share of this increase. I haven't been down in the Maritime Provinces for over two years, but during my short visit have found a much more optimistic feeling prevailing."

Mr. Kumpf and Mr. Griffin leave the city tomorrow by motor car, via Borden, where Mr. Kumpf takes the Maritime Express for his home in Waterloo, Ontario.

Polish Fliers On Way To New York

(Special to the Guardian)
LA BOURGET AIRDROME, Paris, Aug. 3.—Heading out to sea in fog and drizzling rain Majors Louis Izdrowski and Kasimir Kubala were the French coast line and to be well over the Bay of Biscay on a flight to New York via the Azores probably without a stop. The two fliers, after weeks of preparation left here at 12:41 a. m. (Toronto time) today.

The French flying smack Phinot reported that at 3:15 a. m. it saw a white seaplane—the Marshal Pilsudski as the Polish plane was named, 55 miles off the French coast. It was too foggy to make out the plane's marks. The start was somewhat sudden. They had been here for several weeks preparing for the flight but had mentioned no departure date. The plane circled through the haze down over Paris, then passed over Chartres and was seen as the first streaks of day lighted the sky.

For the next thirty or more hours these rather calm appearing poles will be out of communication with the world. Their craft carries no radio equipment and the only means of fracturing them on the Transatlantic attempt will be through vessels that must sight them.

Internal Crisis In Jugo-Slavia

(Special to the Guardian)
BELGRADE, Jugo Slavia, Aug. 30.—Jugo Slavia faced what is regarded as the most serious internal crisis of its ten years of existence today, when two parliaments met simultaneously in Belgrade and Zagreb. The Croatian peasants' parliament convened in Seagreb and adopted a strongly worded proclamation against the policies of the Belgrade government. It was declared that the peasants were determined to get what they considered their rightful share of government benefits, or they would preserve in their present tactics of obstruction.

The proclamation said "we entered the family of the Zerbin-Crotian-Slavonian kingdom for the common good, not for the benefit of one chosen state. The act of 1918 and the constitution of 1921 which proclaimed equality and justice for all provinces have degenerated into a shield for Serbian hegemony at the expense of all others." Before the national assembly at Belgrade, Father Korosek the new premier, read a ministerial declaration saying that the government regretted that it did not have the co-operation of all parliamentary groups.

Arrangements Not Yet Approved

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, Aug. 3.—Proposed arrangements to send 10,000 British miners to assist in the Canadian harvest field have not as yet been approved but are still under discussion. The announcement made Aug. 1st by the Canadian Press that Right Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, Secretary of State for the Dominions had stated in the House of Commons that the arrangement had been concluded was erroneous and the result of misinterpretation of the cable.

Funeral Of Mrs. W. S. Fielding

(Special to the Guardian)
OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 3.—The government of Canada and His Majesty himself were represented at the funeral this afternoon of Mrs. W. S. Fielding, Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King represented the government and Colonel Willis O'Connor, A. D. C., the Governor-General. The funeral took place from the family residence.

Laurier's finance minister did not see his beloved wife laid to her rest, for he had been seriously ill for some time and was unable to leave his bed not even for the funeral.

Radio Broadcast From C. N. R. A.

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 3.—Promptly as the hands of the clock indicated the hour of seven ten there floated out over the air from Station C. N. R. A., Moncton tonight the strains of Canada's National Anthem "Canada," to be wafted to the barque carrying to Canada's shores the young ambassadors of empire and to be followed immediately by the Maple Leaf For Ever.

As the time set for the broadcast approached a stillness pervaded the studio and one could in imagination see the great ship the S. S. Armaula of the Cunard line ploughing her way through the seas and bringing these youthful ambassadors to the highest level in the empire crown. As the strains of The Maple Leaf For Ever died away a message of welcome from the Hon. William Lyon MacKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, was broadcast and immediately after two quartette numbers by St. Andrews male quartette of New Glasgow, N. S., and a solo by Mr. J. G. MacKenzie of the same place were rendered following which the address of Sir Henry Thornton, K. B. E., President of the Canadian National Railways, was put on the air.

The balance of the programme consisted of a violin solo by Mr. Ben Wagner of Charlottetown, P. E. I., a tenor solo by Mr. Rod C. McCleod of New Glasgow, N. S., after which the stirring strains of God Save the King brought the special broadcast to a close.

Those comprising the salon orchestra of C. N. R. A. were violins, Messrs Avard J. Carter and Ben Wagner, Miss Ruth Rand Cello, Mr. Geo. Taylor organ, Miss Vera Sharpe, piano, conductor Ida Bremner Malcolm. The St. Andrews male quartette who sang O Canada, and the Maple Leaf For Ever accompanied by the salon orchestra, also the quartette numbers consisted of Rod C. McCleod first tenor; W. Ballie second tenor; R. N. Gray, first bass; J. G. MacKenzie second bass.

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—Extreme dullness marked the export trade in Canadian grain here today there being practically no demand from foreign buyers. Further weakness developed in the domestic market for Canadian Western oats and prices were reduced another cent per bushel. The demand for spring and wheat flour was quiet but prices for all grades were steady. A moderate amount of business was done in all lines of milled and values were firm. Standard grades of rolled oats was firm and the demand for all grades continued good. The receipts were 1,400 cases. The trade in butter continued of a limited character but prices ruled steady. The receipts were 1,467 packages. There was little inquiry for cheese but the undertone to the market was firm. The receipts were 8,323 boxes. Imported beans continued in good demand, new crop October and November beans were quoted at $2.40 to $2.50 per barrel in car lots to arrive, extra track and immediate stocks of choice white handpicked sold at $4.10 per bushel, extra store and car lots at $3.90 per bushel.

NOT TO BE DRAWN ON TARIFF POLICY

Premier Baldwin Refuses to Comply With Questioners in the House of Commons as to Matter of Tariff.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister, today refused to comply with questioners in the House of Commons who sought from him some definite statement on the government's tariff policy. There was a brisk fire of questions aimed to develop whether the free trade speeches of Winston Churchill or the Protectionist utterances of Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary represented the cabinet policy.

The Prime Minister carefully refrained from making any definite statement. Instead he greeted the heckling in a jocular vein, especially when it turned upon conflicting sentiments expressed by members of the cabinet.

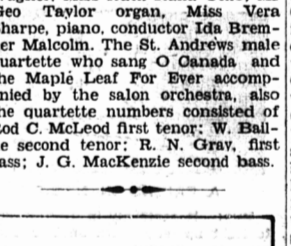

At one stage he said: "I must frankly confess that after such examination of these speeches as I have been able to make, I am struck not so much by the diversity of testimony as by the many-sidedness of truth."

The sally was greeted with prolonged laughter and cheers. About the only definite information that the House got from the Premier was that he would decline to appoint a Royal commission to investigate the present need of placing "safeguarding duties" on iron and steel products. Otherwise the House was no wiser than when it started as to what the government's policy will be when it goes before the country in the next general elections.

TRAGIC DEATH AT CARDIGAN

The community of Cardigan was shocked yesterday afternoon by the tragic death of Mrs. John Moore, as the result of an unfortunate accident. Mrs. Moore, who was 67 years of age, had been helping her husband in the garden and was on a load of hay which toppled over. She fell to the ground sustaining injuries from which she died almost immediately.
