FREE MEDICAL ATTENTION—In the report of the Abegweit meeting published yesterday, reference to remarks made by Doctor Yeo should have read as follows: Dr. Yeo referred to the fact that as long as he could remember, no player who had been injured either while playing for or against an Abbie team, had not received free medical treatment and care.

"BARDELYS THE MAGNIFICENT" has been hailed by critics as Rafael Sabatini's greatest love story. The conqueror of women's hearts he, Bardeleys, the king's favorite, termed The Magnificent, wagers his vast estates on the whims of the fairest daughter of all France, Roxalanne The Beautiful. A coward's challenge accepted and Bardeleys sets forth to woo the famed Roxalanne De Lavedan. Into the heart of danger he plunges unaware of the obstacles cast in his path by the unscrupulous archvillain Chatellerault, spurned by the famed Roxalanne, who would seek to bring about the downfall of the popular Bardeleys. First chapter starts Monday.

RETURNS FROM WEST—Mr. George Cass, North River, returned home last week from Shellbrook, Sask., where he had been employed for the past harvest with the Sask. Elevator Coy., buying and shipping the farmer's wheat in that vicinity. He reports a wonderful yield, approximately 420.000 000 bushels in all Western Canada. Prices ranging as high as $1.20 per bus. at the local elevators, and still advancing. The farmers attribute the high price to the Pool Elevator Coy., who are endeavouring to handle their wheat to the best advantage in opposition to the line elevators. Mr. Cass returned via Toronto and Guelph, where at the Jesuit Novitiate in the latter city, he visited his brother John. He also met the Island boys, who are studying there and reports them well and happy.

A song or a smile promotes harmony, believe it or not.

Whoever sympathizes with a child has something of the spirit of Jesus.

When you have done your best, and refuse to worry, you are pretty near to happiness.

It is always a happiness when you ask God's blessing on your efforts.

SERMON TASTER'S TACITURNITY.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The New York Times to-day publishes anecdote about President Collidge which it says is characteristic of the president's economy of words The "latest story" follows:

President Collidge attended church service some time ago unaccompanied by Mrs. Collidge. On his return to the White House, Mrs. Collidge asked him wether the sermon was good, to which he replied: "Yes."

"What was it about?" she asked.

"Sin," he answered.

"What did the preacher say about it?"

"He was against it."

The most satisfactory method of cleaning windows is with a chamois.

DUKE OF MANCHESTER

In the heavy fog now enveloping London he caught and held a fleeing jewel thief, until police arrived, only to discover afterwards that in the struggle someone else had picked his pocket of a considerable amount in bank notes. The Duke is well known in Canada, and one of his sons is working on an Alberta ranch.

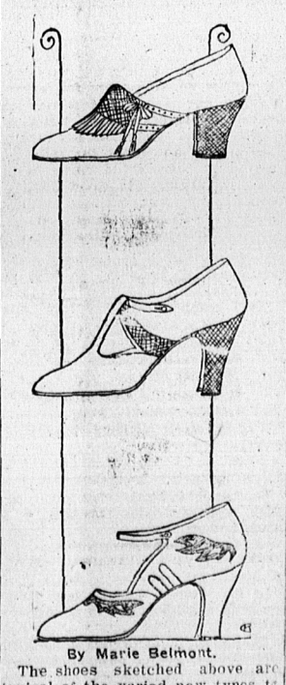
Fashion Fancies



By Marie Belmont.

The shoes sketched above are typical of the varied new types to be seen in the smart shops. We see a goodly amount of lizard used as trimming, and the walking shoe at the top of the column is of black kid with black lizard saddle strap and heel.

Below this is a brown kid one-strap slipper, with brown lizard trimming and higher heel. The one-strap slipper is a great favorite all the smarter shoes being quite simple in outline.

The third slipper is of black patent leather with trimming insets of red kid.
