News of the Night.

Have you wrestled with a bedstead on moving-day? Then you know what a job it is to get an ordinary metal bed apart—and put it together again. You will never have that trouble with an "Ideal" Metal Bed.

We make "Ideal" Metal Beds so well that we can safely put our trademark guarantee on every one. And so you will find it there, this bed-insurance policy, right on the footrail—even on the "Ideal" Metal Bed that costs as little as $3.00. It is every bit as good a bed, this $3.00 style, as any of its higher-priced sisters. For there is only ONE QUALITY in "Ideal" Metal Beds.

THE QUEEN'S COUNTY GUARDIAN

Head Offices in New Prowse Block—Charlottetown

The latest news, first of all.

Edward Dougan, City, returned from Amherst Saturday night.

Mrs John Dunphy, Moncton, has returned from a visit to Charlottetown.

Miss Marie Stover, City, leaves tomorrow to attend the Halifax Ladies' College.

Frank and Mrs Crockett, Portland, Maine, are visiting friends and relatives in York.

Harry and Mrs Hyde, Cornwall, left yesterday to attend the Dominion Exhibition at St John, N. B.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the sale of the Mellish property No. 30. Great George St on Wednesday at noon.

Miss Wickham of Montague, accompanied by her sister, Miss Lew, were among the passengers to the city on Saturday and are guests at the Queen Hotel.

John Stanfield, M.P., of Truro, well known here, attended the St John Exhibition Saturday where his firm, Stanfield's Ltd, Truro, had a very superior exhibit which came in for much favorable criticism.

J. R. McGregor, wife and daughter of Montreal are registered at the Victoria. Mr McGregor is one of the firm of J. P. Wilson & Co., well-known paper manufacturers. He leaves for Summerside today.

When a man discovers a place where perfect laundry work is done he at once becomes one of that establishment's most enthusiastic patrons. The Star Steam Laundry claims to do perfect work and have better facilities for doing so than any other laundry in the city. See their ad in this issue.

The S. S. Arnfrid arrived in port Saturday afternoon from Liverpool with a cargo of 16,000 bags of salt and a general cargo of merchandise for Carvell Bros. The Arnfrid is a splendid freight steamer, is 245 feet in length, 36 feet in breadth and has a carrying capacity of 2,000 tons (Board of Trade). She has a speed of nine knots and is electrically lighted and well fitted throughout. Something unusual in a freight steamer becomes apparent to even the veriest land-lubber on the occasion of a walk around on the deck of this ocean-going freighter and that is the modern—yes, luxurious—fittings of her apartments for the officers. These are located on the upper deck and the bridge deck, and include the captain's quarters, dining, sitting, state and chart rooms, etc. Captain Peter Gundersen, when seen by the Guardian representative yesterday, expressed a pardonable pride in his vessel and his courtesy and genial demeanor was marked. Like the remainder of the crew, the captain is a Norwegian and he possesses a good command of the English language. He related a narrative in connection with his vessel which recalls the Russo-Japanese war of some years ago. At the time of the outbreak he was coasting along the Chinese and Russian Pacific Coast and was passing Japan en route to Vladivostock, the principal Russian Pacific seaport, a city of 40,000 inhabitants. His vessel was sighted by Japanese warships and was escorted to Sasebo, and there the vessel, captain, crew and their valuable cargo were held for six weeks as prisoners and prizes of war. On the Mikado's birthday they were released and proceeded to their destination, which they reached in due time, but not without one or two more occurrences of more than usual interest. On their arrival in Vladivostock that town was in flames, a Cossack regimental revolution having succeeded in their efforts towards the destruction of the city. The city itself was not entirely destroyed, but it will be remembered thousands of dollars of damage resulted before the uprising was quelled. Since then the Arnfrid has been coasting in different parts of the world, and lately going outward from Liverpool. Speaking of this Province, Captain Gundersen said he had never visited any country which had so many points of similarity with his own native land as P. E. Island. The general appearance of the land, its mode of cultivation and its products were very similar, and even the climate and the seasons of the two lands were almost alike. He said he felt to a certain extent "at home" when here, owing to these resemblances to his own country. He was most favorably impressed with the people here and spoke highly of the firm for whom he was discharging his vessel's cargo. Of the trip from Liverpool the captain said they were fourteen days out and encountered head winds almost all the time. They leave here tomorrow and will go to Chatham, where they will load timber and proceed to Liverpool.

Rev J. L. Dawson, Sussex, is visiting in this Province.

A first class plumber is wanted as will be seen in classified column.

Mrs H. H. Schaeffer has returned to St John from a visit to this Province.

Miss Francis Steele of Shediac, N. B., has returned to her studies in the P. W. C. City.

Winnie Wadman and Maymie MacDonald, Crapaud, are attending the St John Exhibition.

A meeting of the Northern Institute will be held in Mayfield Hall on Thursday the 15th inst at seven p.m.

John Holman, Strassburg, formerly of this Province, secured the first prize in the standing grain competition.

Mrs John H. Gates, Charlottetown, and Mrs Fred Gates, Anaconda, are spending a few days in York, the guests of W. H. Pope and Mrs Cook.

Miss Daisy Fraser of Durham, N. S., who has been here attending the wedding of her friend, Miss Myrtle Coffin, Savage Harbor, leaves on return home this week.

Mrs A. J. Tait of Shediac entertained at a charming verandah tea last week. Among those present were the Misses Chappel of Japan and Miss Frances Steele, Charlottetown.

The second stage of the Charlottetown Championship, for which a handsome trophy is the prize, will be fired on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp. The ranges are eight hundred and nine hundred yards. Target accommodation will only be provided for those actually competing. Others desiring to shoot will kindly make arrangements for markers.

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Jane, daughter of Elias and Mrs. Coffin, to George Edgar Piggott of Annapolis Valley, N. S., took place Wednesday evening, Sept 7th, at the residence of the bride's parents, Savage Harbor West. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R.P. Murray of Mount Stewart in the presence of the immediate relatives and some intimate friends of the contracting parties. The parlor was very prettily decorated with flowers. Miss Blanch McBeath of Marshfield, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride wore a handsome gown of cream silk with applique trimmings and was unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque and to Miss McBeath a gold brooch set with amethysts. Mr. and Mrs. Piggott left on Thursday on a trip to Boston and New York and other points of interest and will be at home after September 25th at Annapolis Valley, N. S.
