Tempest In A Tea-Spoon

(Canadian Press) TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 13.—Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields calls it "a tempest in a tea-spoon" but he is involved at present in a dispute in which women of this congregation, Jarvis St. Baptist Church, are concerned. Charges by the women that men lack the missionary spirit and a statement by the Rev. T. T. Shields that he is through with "Petticoat rule" in the church, feature an article in the Gospel Witness, dealing with the dissolution of the Women's Missionary auxiliaries of the Baptist Church.

"Are we, then, in such straits, we need that a Deborah should come to judgment? We are told that this paper is not a woman's paper... its messages are for men as well as women, and we believe we have as many men readers as women. We are told it is a 'family paper' and is written with the men specially in mind. We believe that in any Christian organization this is utterly unscriptural. A Regular Baptist professes to believe that the Bible is inspired of the Holy Spirit, and we have never yet found any reason to believe that the words of the apostle 'I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man' have been exempted from that general inspiration.

"Is there any scriptural principle which, on the one hand, can justify a company of women assuming this superior air and speaking derogatorily of the spiritual life and missionary interest of the male members of the churches? Or is there anything in the Bible to require a company of men to accept such aspersions without testifying against them? It is implied that neither the pastors nor the men of the churches are instructed. The people are not taught by their pastor to give. The men, in short, are utter failures everywhere. Brethren, shall we resign and hand it all over to the laics, for we have now reached page ten and we have failed to find one suggestion that a woman of the board, or woman under any circumstances, ever failed any where. Who would be a man? No man living has a profounder respect for womanhood than this editor. Many of the best workers he has ever known in the work of the Lord have been women. But women adorned with the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which, in the sight of God, is one of great price, never try to take the place of man, nor presume to usurp authority over men. We are confident that all the women readers of this paper will approve of our position, and we shall not lose the support of one woman, whose co-operation any sensible man would desire; but we stand on scriptural grounds."

A December issue of the Gospel Witness, of which Dr. Shields is the editor, deals with the correspondence between the Union of Regular Baptist Churches and the board of Women's Missionary Society of Regular Baptists, in which the former protested that the latter were receiving too large a portion of the church's revenue, and asking them to revise their constitution to give the Union more control over their money.

Catholic Women's League Meeting

The Charlottetown sub division of the Catholic Women's League held their monthly meeting in their hall on Monday evening, with a splendid attendance. The President, Mrs. Adrian Peters was in the chair, and a musical program with our National Ode O Canada as the opening number, was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Alfred McKearney rendered delightfully, a violin selection while Miss Nora Murray and Miss Bernadette Connolly gave charmingly rendered vocal solos. Each number was heartily encouraged and the accompaniments were played by Mr. Austin Connolly. The president on behalf of the Society thanked the young ladies and gentlemen for giving of their time and talent for our entertainment.

The business meeting was then held, when the minutes of the two previous meetings were read and adopted, as was the report of the treasurer which showed a satisfactory financial condition. Our report was given by Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, by the committee on Old Age and Infirmary, and the Catholic Women's League wish to thank the following, who made donations as well as for their courtesy to those soliciting: DeBlais Bros; Sydney Green; Clarke and McDonald; C. D. Riley; Hickey and Nicholson; Cudmore Bros; Victor Coyle; J. P. McCloskey; Clark Bros; National Candy Co.; Carvell Bros., and Knights of Columbus. All matters pertaining to convention arrangements were discussed, and plans made for the society's winter activities. Meeting adjourned to meet again on February 3rd.

Corn Now Rules Chicago Wheat Pit

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The grain world witnessed coronation of a new cereal king today in the Chicago Board of Trade. By decree of the directors, native American corn was elevated at the opening gong to the throne occupied for 82 years by wheat, the main cereal.

The remnant of a once-mighty group of wheat traders transacted their last deal, for the present at least, in the big wheat pit of the Exchange Saturday and moved across the floor of the vast trading room to the smaller pit built for brokers who deal in corn. The corn traders took over the wheat pit in the centre.

Amherst Makes Six In A Row

GAIN HARD-FOUGHT 3-1 VICTORY OVER SACKVILLE AGGREGATION; CENTRAL TILT. AMHERST, N. S., Jan. 13.—Defeating Sackville in the initial meeting between the two teams this winter, Amherst hung up their sixth straight victory in the Central Section by a score of 3-1. The game was rough with both teams drawing several penalties, Arthur Dalton, centre player on the Amherst line-up made four trips to the penalty box, his last infringement coming after he and Jack Johnson, Sackville defence man, had come to blows in mid-loe.

Sackville opened the scoring in the first period but the former Central champions only held the lead for a few moments, when Pin Dalton took a long hard shot from centre ice and fooled Wry completely. Playing a defensive game in the third period and placing reliance in individual thrusts, Amherst tallied the final goal.

Warmly—Clad Canuck Faints

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 13.—The time was January 11. The place was a Hammond restaurant. The person most involved was Charles McBraid. McBraid walked into the restaurant yesterday and asked for a glass of water. He drank the liquid and collapsed. Police summoned Alva A. Young, city physician, to whom McBraid, when he revived, explained just how he felt.

"Heat prostration, No. 1. of the series of 1931," said the doctor. "And that's funny. This being January, where are you from?" "Saskatchewan," was the reply, and the doctor advised lighter clothing if McBraid planned to stay in Hammond any great length of time. Yesterday's temperature here varied between 30 and 38 degrees above zero—very warm for a man clothed against normal mid-winter temperatures in Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Newlywed (consulting cooking book)—Oh dear, that cake is burning and I can't take it out for five minutes yet.

Life Insurance Underwriters Ann. Meeting

The annual meeting of the Life Underwriters Association of Prince Edward Island was held on January 12th, 1931, in the Board of Trade Rooms with a large number present. The speaker of the day was Mr. J. F. Gordon of Charlottetown, who gave a most interesting and instructive address on Life Insurance from the business man's viewpoint. In his address Mr. Gordon pointed out how through life insurance a man developed evenness of mind, a sense of contentment, and the power of facing the duties of the present with courage, those of tomorrow with unworried calm. Mr. Gordon stated that for a few dollars a week the insurance company gave the business man the assurance that if the dreaded reaper came, those he loved should not suffer want. The speaker quoted the following words of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, "The touchstone of business success is in the question 'Can you save money?' If you cannot drop, the seed of success is not in you!"

Mr. Gordon said that insurance was a strong protector and that the average business man frequently had the duty of settling up the estate of some friend and generally he has the painful experience of telling a poor widow that none of the gaily engraved certificates in her little box was worth a dollar. Had it not been for a little insurance, all too small, she should have been penniless. Insurance in Mr. Gordon's estimation, is the brightly mailed protector of the widow and fatherless.

The speaker next related an incident of how a large business in Chicago went on from strength to strength after the death of the owner due to the fact that he left sufficient money to wind up his estate without a loss and through this great access of capital the new management was able to extend the business and keep it in a healthy financial condition. Consequently insurance saves, conserves and makes progress possible for the business man.

Mr. Gordon closed his address by sincerely assuring the members of the Life Underwriters Association that by presenting their proposition to the business man they are asking no favors and there is no mendicant's part.

At the close of his address a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Gordon on behalf of the members of the Association for his very interesting address. After Mr. Gordon's address the annual business meeting of the Association took place.

The election of officers for 1931 resulted as follows: Honorary President—Mr. F. W. Hyndman. President—Mr. J. A. McKenzie. Vice President—Mr. R. H. McNeill. Secretary Treasurer—Mr. B. H. Hughes.

Opening Game Prince County Hockey League

The opening game of the Prince County Intermediate Hockey League was played last Friday night at Kensington rink. The game was fast and exciting although played under protest. The teams, Kensington Granites and Holman's team from Summerside, both played good hockey. The final score was 3-2 in favour of the Granites.

Mr. McLean, M. P., Hon. President of the League, opened the game and delivered the following encouraging speech: Ladies and gentlemen, it affords me much pleasure to be here to open this, the initial game in the Intermediate League for 1931. It is now three years since the various teams of the League have been playing for a trophy. My hope that it would stimulate interest in hockey throughout the rural sections of this country has been realized. New rinks have been opened at Bedouque and Wellington and more interest than ever is being shown in Kensington and also the Western section of the County.

If hockey in this Province is to be kept on a purely amateur basis we must develop our intermediate players. In the other provinces the standard of hockey has been greatly increased by importing players from Upper Canada but Prince Edward Island does not wish to do that. We want to produce our own teams and players that we can be proud of. The Intermediate Hockey Association can do much towards supplying the senior teams with good players, so that in the not too distant future P. E. Island should regain the supremacy that it held for some years in hockey circles. This year is a very critical one in the history of the League. The rules of the Association provide that the team winning the cup for three successive years shall hold it outright. Alberton has won the cup for the last two seasons. The fact that Alberton if she wins this year will retain the cup forever should stimulate all teams in the League to greater efforts. The League is in for a wonderful winter's hockey and may the best team win. S.

Died In China

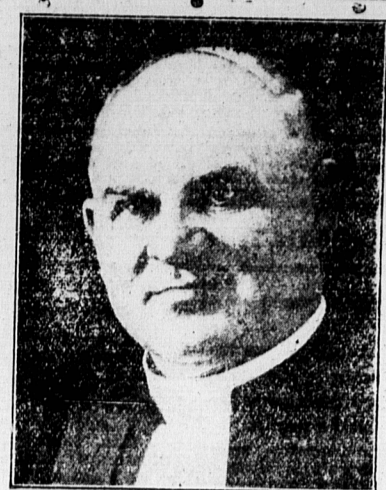

(Canadian Press) TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 13.—A cable received from Shanghai, China, announced the death from pneumonia of Miss Margaret King, who for 35 years served in China as a missionary under the auspices of the China Inland Mission. She labored as an evangelist among Chinese women and was stationed at Yangchow, Kiangsu Province. She was home on furlough four years ago. Miss King was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James King of Sarnia.

Street Playing Now Considered

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 13.—Providing street playgrounds for children is a question which is interesting the Chief Constable of Manchester, who thinks some of the narrow streets in the city might be closed to through motor traffic for the sake of the children who have no other playground. The Chief Constable, however, sees legal difficulties in the way, and is trying to be careful not to create in the children a false sense of safety. He points to the work already done by his officers in educating and piloting children, and is now conferring with motor car drivers on the possibility of respect being shown to notices marked, "No Throughfare" at the ends of narrow streets. In the meantime the list of street fatalities among children is being tragically lengthened.

Founding Is Celebrated

The forty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons, was celebrated on Monday evening by the Willing Circle of Trinity Church at the home of Mrs. E. H. Ramsay, Upper Prince Street. Miss Hugh, the newly elected president, spoke briefly on the founding and growth of the Order. After prayer by Mrs. W. A. Thompson and a solo by Mrs. W. G. Spencer, Dr. Ramsay addressed the meeting, basing his remarks on the 45th Psalm, which is the Psalm of the Order. The closing prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Brown after which a social hour was spent. The refreshments included a large beautifully decorated birthday cake which was made brilliant with forty five lighted candles. The circle is looking forward to a year of increased membership and greater activity.

Chain Of Hockey Rinks And Sport Arenas Will Be Erected In Britain

Netherlands Plans To Go In For Winter Pastime On Large Scale—Players And Instructors Will Be Imported From Canada And United States.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 13.—Details of the most ambitious scheme for the erection of sporting stadiums throughout Great Britain were made known recently. The principals are General Rinks Trust, Ltd., but working in conjunction with them is the National Sporting Club.

The plan is to construct immediately large covered stadiums in London, Nottingham, and Southampton, and to proceed at a little later date with building of similar bowls in Paris, Dublin, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, Birmingham, Cardiff, and other centres.

Work on the London stadium, which will be at Earl's Court, will begin at once. More than two hundred men will be engaged, and they will be kept employed for 24 hours a day until the middle of this month, when the place will be opened.

The main project of General Rinks Trust is to promote indoor skating and ice hockey on a scale never before attempted in any country except the United States and Canada.

When all the stadiums are in use a new ice-hockey league will be formed, and, if necessary, famous players from the States and Canada will be brought to this country to play in matches and to give instruction to British exponents.

The Earl's Court Stadium will accommodate 11,000 people for ice hockey and 13,000 for boxing but the present arrangement is that the summer months will be regarded as a close season during which the stadiums will be leased for exhibitions and various sporting events.

There will be two rinks at Earl's Court one of championship size and one smaller for experts and figure skaters, and the contractors guarantee that in each of these the ice can be removed in two hours.

The general manager appointed is Mr. Walter Keigwin, who is well known in the skating and hockey world.

In twelve months from now it is hoped that at least twelve of these arenas will be in operation. In each fifteen weeks of the year will be devoted to hockey, and from 20 to 24 weeks to skating.

The National Sporting Club, which is now temporarily quartered in Soho London, has been given the sole franchise for boxing in all the stadiums, here and abroad.

It needs to be stated that a somewhat similar scheme was proposed about a year ago, with which the National Sporting Club was also connected, but this, for a variety of reasons, fell through.

It is not the present intention of the club to install itself at Earl's Court although that may be a development of the future.

A letter has been issued, signed by Lord Tweedmouth, which in its own way is quite remarkable. It states that the ordinary share capital of General Rinks Trust is £160,000, but that the company will go to allotment when £80,000 has been subscribed in cash. Of this amount the National Sporting Club will have to find £20,000.

$300,000 for Hockey. The sum of £60,000 has been found by those interested in the hockey and skating business, while towards the £20,000 required by the National Sporting Club £7,500 has been guaranteed by the directors of the club and their friends.

CANCER CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press) JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 12.—The Administrator of the Transvaal has convened an important cancer conference for next April at which delegates from the Medical Association of South Africa will be present. Discussions will envisage radium utilization and potentialities of propaganda for the prevention of cancer.

Meanwhile private researches by a leading South African doctor have led him to the conclusion that the partial failure of one or more ductless glands will predispose adults powerfully to cancer, and considers that the solution of the cancer problem will be found in future developments of endocrinology.
