Butter From Fish

While fish is fish it is being turned into butter of the synthetic type such as margarine. Chemists are also making synthetic tallow out of fish. These products are made out of the fish, oil which is also finding an increasing use in animal feeding stuff, states the Natural Resources Department of the Canadian National Railways. While oil is the biggest factor in the fish oil trade, sardine oil also figures in the industry along with pilchard oil. A considerable quantity of the sardine oil is produced by Japan and is competing with pilchard oil which is used for secondary or technical purposes such as adulterant in linned oil and other similar purposes. British Columbia produces about 12,000 tons of pilchard oil annually, half going to European countries. California averages about 20,000 tons, or about 300,000 gallons, of sardine oil a season. Herring oil is also used extensively. Norway being the principal source of supply, producing from 15,000 to 30,000 tons annually. Alaska produces about 5,000 tons, taken mostly by United States con-

DUCK RESPONSIBLE FOR TAXI ACCIDENT

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28—A taxi driver cannot be held accountable for the actions of ducks, Judge Albert S. Owens ruled in the court of common pleas here today.

Dorothy Bree, a passenger in a taxi operated by James Webster last Christmas eve, sued Webster's company for damages she received when an eight-pound duck flying north from the street on which the cab was going south, struck the windshield and broke the glass.

Judge Owens declared in his decision that when a motorist needs a duck going in the opposite direction, it is impossible for the driver to determine what the duck might do or what course it might take.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. A. C. Vincent, D.D., spoke at both services in the Baptist Church yesterday, taking as his morning theme "Let us make restitution," and for the evening "The second of a series of Commandments. The opening address in this series was delivered two weeks ago, "Why the Law." Last evening the first Commandment, "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me," was the theme.

The worshipful music of the day was under the direction of Mrs. G. Elliott Full. The anthems of the morning were "The Magnificat," and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," with the contralto solo in the latter very adequately taken by Miss Pearl Burns.

The closing services of the retreat were held yesterday at St. Dunstan's Basilica. Rev. Father Hubert preached at 2:30 and 3:30 P. M. for children 6 months to 6 years. L-1792-10-27-21.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH

At the Holy Redeemer Church yesterday morning, Rev. Father Myllett, C.S.S.R., preached special sermons for the Feast Day at all Masses. Rev. Father Fuller, C.S.S.R., celebrated High Mass.

At seven o'clock, a solemn procession, the children's crusade, was held. The children were dressed in white, carrying flags representing all the nations of the world, bringing to the mind in a striking manner the thought that Christ is King of all nations. Rev. Father Myllett preached on "Loyalty to Christ the King." In the sanctuary was the Venerable Christopher McEniry, C.S.S.R., Rome, who is conducting a visitation of all the Canadian Eminentior Homes.

The attendance at Sunday School was 414.

SACRED SONG SERVICE

A large number of young people from the various churches of the city met together in Central Christian Church at half past eight last evening and held their joint service of sacred song there.

Mr. Alex. Matheson gave the address in the form of a review of the origin and progress of these meetings from the time of their first gathering in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms some ten years ago up to the present time.

Mr. Matheson commended the promoters, who have endeavored and succeeded in bringing into practice the satisfactory type of services now being carried on.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The subject of the address at the morning service yesterday morning was "Debtor and Creditor," based on the words of the apostle Paul: "I am debtor both to the Greeks and the Barbarians, both to the wise and unwise." In the course of his remarks, the pastor stated that all men are indebted for something to the community, and urged that Christians pay that debt in the same currency which was used by the apostle Paul, as indicated in his own words: "So, as the saints are, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also." In preparation for the Communion, the male quartette sang "Break Thou the Bread of Life."

The Sunday School was well attended, showing a slight increase over last Sunday.

The music at the evening service included an anthem, "Saviour Again," by the choir, "The Church," by the choir, and "The Church," by the choir. Mr. Preston Beck taking the baritone solo. The sermon of the hour gave emphasis to the importance of Bible Study and was entitled "Our Heritage." During the address at present the chairman of the Bible is of immeasurable value as a means of conversion and Bible Study keeps one converted. Considerable mention was made of the very commendable work of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

The Service of Song at 8:30, under the auspices of the S. C. M. and A. Y. M. C. A. was well attended. Mr. Alex. Matheson being the speaker.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Yesterday being the Festival of Saint Simon and Saint Jude the services at St. Peter's Cathedral were fully attended. The 11 o'clock service opened with a procession of clergy and choir. The vestments of the celebrant and the Altar hangings were of red, symbolic of the blood of the sweetest Christy Canon Malouin officiated at the hour of the celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

The Rev. Dr. Moore, President of the University of King's College, preached a powerful appeal for funds for the Kings Collegiate School, which school was founded in 1862, by the United Empire Loyalists 148 years ago. Some fifty thousand dollars is now required for payment of buildings erected a few years ago. The appeal is made by the Synod and is one which all businessmen should help to the best of their ability. The campaign was arranged for by the late Archbishop Worrell.

The other two Diocesan educational institutions, Kings College and Edgemoor are in a flourishing condition the preacher stated.

At everyone the Rev. Canon Malone officiated and preached a very convincing sermon from the seventh verse of the twentieth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. On the first day of the week the disciples came together to break bread." The preacher appealed to all to realize the great advantage of the daily services of the church and to follow the example of the disciples.

Next Thursday is All Saints Day when there will be a choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist in the morning at 11 o'clock, and the office for the dead will be sung at 7:30 in the evening.

Sky Survey Map

Uncharted Lands

In Aerial Snaps

By R. K. Carnegie,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 28—Surveys from the air are speeding the plotting out of Canada's 3,600,000 square miles, of which almost 75 percent has never been accurately mapped. Fully half of this great area has never been viewed by white men.

Up to the end of 1924 the area mapped was 240,000 square miles. The aerial mapping began and by the end of 1934 more than 480,000 square miles will have been surveyed from above. In other words twice as much country has been mapped in 10 years from the air as in 100 years by surveyors on land.

These figures, released by the topographical survey of the Dominion government, have been brought up to the minute as the field detachments reached Ottawa from the north driven out by the approaching winter. The maps are made from photographs taken from planes. This summer the four detachments in the operations with eight planes took 40,000 pictures. It is the greatest undertaking of its kind in the world. The feverish activity of thousands of prospectors who find the maps and pictures of such great assistance in their search for gold is demonstrated in the appeals that come to the department. Every day wires are received asking for such help.

Not only is the mapping from the air much faster but it is more comprehensive and quite as accurate. This is particularly the case with heavily wooded or very rough land. A surveyor on foot might run his line through a forest a quarter of a mile from a lake and never know it was there. The aerial pictures overlook nothing. For the sake of accuracy the air maps are all checked here and there by actual land measurements.

The aerial surveys are conducted by the topographical survey of which F. H. Peters is surveyor-general and A. M. Narraway chief of aerial surveys engineer. The planes and pilots are supplied by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Vast Resources

Much of the areas yet unmapped contains substantial timber and water-power resources. No one can estimate what are their mineral resources. But for the aid of the air, many generations would have passed before any real knowledge had been gained of the vast expanses of the north. The pictures have reached Ottawa where the maps will be developed during the winter. To co-ordinate the work and to obtain the maximum benefits from aerial pictures, a permanent committee oversees the operations. Dr. Charles Camell, deputy minister of mines is chairman. Group Captain G. M. Rook, senior air officer and A. M. Narraway complete the executive.

Air mapping is highly technical. As the plane flies over the country to be surveyed, three cameras take simultaneous exposures at frequent intervals. One of the tricks is to keep the altitude of the flight uniform so that the pictures taken will all be taken from the same distance from the ground. Grids take care of the varying scales of the picture. Half an inch at the top of the picture covers much more territory than in the foreground at the bottom. The grids correct this. With the tremendous demand for maps and pictures of areas on the Canada "shield" by prospectors, most of the work this summer has been along this formation.

It starts from Beauport, on some 80 miles east of the mouth of the Mackenzie River, stretches down through the Great Bear Lake dis-

Everyone should know the answers to these questions—Are my eyes really efficient? Are they normal or near? Are they strained? What error or errors of vision have I? Do I overwork my eyes?
