—LATE MRS. GILLIS.—The death occurred in Summerside on Thursday morning of Mrs. Mary A. Gillis atthe advanced age of 83 years. The first fatality by drowning to occur in this Province during the present fishing season happened last Wednesday, when James Murphy, a young man of about twenty-eight years, and a son of Mr. Daniel Murphy of Elmira, lost his life while cod-fishing off North Lake.

Although the day was considered too stormy for fishing by most of the lobster fishermen in the vicinity, Mr. Murphy, who was not able to swim, went out in his boat alone. Just how the tragedy took place is unknown, as none of the people along the shore saw the unfortunate man disappear, but shortly after his departure his fishing boat was noticed empty and adrift in five fathoms water. Other boats put out at once from shore, but were too late to discover any signs of the missing man. His boat was picked up, uncapsized, about a mile and a half from land.

Until the weather moderated but little could be done towards recovering the body, but immediately the chance offered many boats were at work in an effort to regain it. Up to the time of writing, however this has not been accomplished. The unfortunate victim of the tragedy was an able bodied and highly respected young man, and his sudden and lamentable death is generally regretted throughout the whole countryside.

Besides his sorrowing father and mother, three sisters are left to mourn their deep loss.

"That life is becoming a cheap and tawdry thing" was the most striking of a series of striking statements made by Rev. Neil Herman last evening in the course of his sermon in Central Christian Church on the subject, "Was Edgar McCarron Murdered."

At the outset of his sermon Mr. Herman said that all men were sinners and murderers since all men had hatred in their hearts, and it was hatred that caused all murder. He paid a sincere tribute to the character of the late Edgar McCarron as a citizen, and he expressed and asked sympathy for the deceased man's relatives.

Mr. Herman deplored the fact that no apparent steps had been taken to fully probe the causes and facts surrounding the man's death, although he gave credit to the legal authorities for making a preliminary investigation. He thought however, that the best of medical and detective skill available in Canada should be secured to make the probe complete. Secrecy in detective work, he claimed, the best modern authorities had declared to be out of date.

Beside the jury that sat on the inquest, said Mr. Herman, there was another jury on this case, the general public. He declared that every citizen was morally responsible for the settling of the matter, and for the bringing of any offenders against the law into the courts of justice.

At the conclusion of his address which was rendered with great spirit and eloquence, Mr. Herman said that he had waited for some of his colleagues to discuss the case, and finally had decided to do it himself. He had not done so for effect, but simply because he felt that by so doing he was rendering a service to the city and the citizens of Charlottetown.

It was announced from the pulpit that the minister would not preach in Charlottetown next Sunday, as he was to speak in Tryon, but that his text for the evening service of Sunday, June 20th, would be "Automobile Sheiks and the girls they pick up."

A quiet wedding took place at the Bishop's Palace, on Saturday, morning at 10 o'clock of Miss Jeanne Armour, daughter of Supt. T. B. Grady, to Dr. Esmonde R. Sullivan of North Adams, Mass., Rev. A. J. McIntyre officiating.

After the ceremony the happy couple left on a motor trip through the Annapolis Valley, returning to the city before leaving for their future home in North Adams, Mass.

The many valuable and useful gifts received testified to the popularity of both bride and groom.

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIAL BELL. —A special service was held on Sabbath, May 23rd in Murray Harbor, North Presbyterian Church on the occasion of a 'Blymyer Bell' having being placed in the Church, and which was presented by Mrs. W. McLure, of Pictou, Nova Scotia, widow of the late William McLure, as a memorial to her late husband. A bronze plate inscribed in relief with the name of Mr. Wm. McLure and other members of the family, accompanied the above gift, and has been placed in the vestibule of the Church. There was a large attendance at the service, the members of the Church being largely represented, together with their friends and visitors from the surrounding villages. The donor of the above gift had cards printed for the occasion and these were distributed to the worshippers for use in the service, the Bell was tolled as it was being dedicated, it was also rung as the congregation were leaving the Church. It has a beautiful tone, and will prove a great asset to the services of the church. The members of the Murray Harbor North Presbyterian church appreciate very much this munificent gift to the congregation by one of its good friends. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. Brown, who is at present supplying the pulpit. He preached a special sermon for the occasion.

At a fairly large and most enthusiastic meeting of ladies interested in the formation of a Maritime Board of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada, Mrs. J. O. Hyndman was last night unanimously selected as the Vice-President for Prince Edward Island.

Several young ladies of the city are now training for the Ladies' Maritime Track and Field Championship to be held in St. John June 19th. It is sincerely hoped that these girls will be able to uphold the athletic prowess that has been the pride of this Province in years past.

With the selection of Mrs. Hyndman as representative for the Island, the executive of the Maritime branch of the W. A. A. F. C. has been completed, and the Maritime organization made an authorized association.

From present indications it would appear that electric current for light, heat and power will be available shortly, throughout the whole province.

Two officials of the Maritime Electric Co., Messrs R. A. Donaldson Assistant Chief Engineer of the A. G. White Management Co., N. Y., and who is also vice President of the Maritime Electric Co., and T. J. Coleman, General Manager of the Maritime Branch, visited the city last week and looked over the situation to prepare erecting plans for the installation of machinery which will be shortly shipped.

It is the intention to install at once a 1,000 kilowatt machine which in conjunction with another of the same capacity, which will be placed later will be capable of supplying the entire province with heat, light and power.

Mr J. T. McKee, the local superintendent, looked over the location of pole lines from Borden through Crapaud and vicinity, about thirty eight miles and through Elm Avenue past Milton, Hunter River New Glasgow and Bedeque over twenty five miles and reaching across Southport fifteen or twenty miles in either direction. The ground towards Summerside and other sections will be gone over later on.

Just what this means to the province can hardly be estimated. When one considers the possibility converting the millions of tons of sand of the finest quality which is to be found on the Island shores into glassware, the canning of fruits, vegetables, berries, etc., without the expense of hauling coal long distances, which now is at present a detriment to the industry, it will be seen that the plans of the Maritime Electric Co. should receive the hearty support of all in the province.

It is understood the first units are to be installed without undue delay.

The June term of the Supreme Court opened in Summerside yesterday morning with Judge Arsenault presiding. There were two criminal bills before the Grand Jury, the King versus Stanley Wedge (charged with forgery), the King vs. Howard Trowsdale, (charged with theft). The Jury found true bills in both cases.

Stanley Wedge on being arraigned pleaded "guilty". Howard Trowsdale was arraigned and pleaded "not guilty". His case will be taken up when the court opens this morning.

The following composed the Grand Jury: —A. S. MacKay, Summerside, (foreman), Davis Baker, Freetown, Clarence Morrissey, Tignish; Albert MacKinnon, North St. Eleanors; Emerson Mathews, Alberton; Selvyn C. Clark, Augustine Cove; Rod'k J. Judge Arsenault hoped that he would have the same success in the practice of his profession that he had made as a student at law.

Three absent debtor cases and five non jury cases were taken up yesterday and disposed of.

Hardened troops could scarcely have gone through a military review with better appearance or more disciplined condnct than did the cadet corps of Queen Square and West Kent schools respectively on the occasion of their annual inspection in Victoria Park yesterday afternoon.

There was a gratifyingly large attendance of spectators, evidence of the great interest taken in the cadet work of these two schools. Shortly before three o'clock the inspection of the Queen Square Corps began, those taking part in the review being His Honor Lieut. Governor Heartz, his Aide, Col. S. R. Jenkins, and Captain Logan, Cadet Inspecting Officer for Military District No. 6.

No more favorable weather could have been provided for the event, and the boys went through the march past (with His Honor taking the salute), company and column drill, and all the other military manoeuvres from A to Z. The appearance presented by both units, dressed in khaki uniforms and in most companies carrying rifles, would have done credit to much more experienced and seasoned soldiers. Each move and tactic was carried out with ease and precision and the leadership was excellent. It is safe to say that the standards of both corps in other years have been fully maintained and that both units will rank high when compared with those of other places.

The officer commanding the Queen Square Cadet Corps is Arthur Gormley, and the instructor Mr. Leo McDonald, Fred Pickard commanded the West Kent Corps, of which the instructor was Mr. Vernon MacLeod.

The accident happened in front of the little tot's home, who at the time was crossing the street. It is thought the car wheel passed over her body. Dr. Dewar was summoned, but could not ascertain at the time if the child was hurt interaally or not. Another fatality by drowning occurred yesterday at Hunter River when Mr. John Smith, a retired farmer of advanced age, fell into the mill dam at Hunter River and lost his life.

The aged victim of the tragedy whose family reside in the United States was living in Hunter River alone, and was known to be in poor health and subject to spells of weakness. It is thought that he was suddenly overtaken by weakness while crossing the dam, and in this way fell into the water.

The late John Smith was seventy six years of age. The funeral will be held on Friday at 3 o'clock.

You Wonder Why You Cannot Sleep

IF you could only sleep at night there would be some chance of getting back the nervous energy which is expended during the day.

But you cannot sleep. In the mornings you arise feeling tired and played out. By evening you are all in. Your nervous system is entirely exhausted.

"Is there no way to get out of this condition?" you ask. There is. By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food regularly you can feed the nerves back to health and vigor.

Perhaps you have never realized the cause of your sleeplessness. But this is the outstanding symptom of exhausted nerves. You may also have nervous headaches, indigestion and spells of despondency. You may be unduly sensitive to light and sound. You may be irritable and inclined to worry when there is no real cause. But inability to rest and sleep is one of the surest signs that you need the help of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to get back to health.

Nervous disorders do not get better of their own accord. You must supply the elements of Nature which are required to build up the depleted cells and these elements are most happily combined in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 60 cts. a box, all dealers or The Dr. A.
