

Nothing is more surely established than the fact that we are what we think—that we become like our thoughts.

"Nothing succeeds like success"—that's a false philosophy; some men's real success is but the story of their appalling failure.

WHOLESALE BREAK WAS PLANNED

Outside Confederates Were To Use Machine Guns To Help Convicts in Auburn Prison to Escape.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 6.—(B. U. P.)—A plan whereby prisoners at Auburn penitentiary were to stage another outbreak, aided by confederates armed with machine guns outside the walls of the prison, was nipped in the bud today by officials of the institution.

Discovery of the scheme has led already to the suspension of one guard, Edward Drake, and Acting Warden Frank L. Heacock announced late today that all the information concerning the plot which he has unearthed has been turned over to the District Attorney's office. A grand jury investigation may result, it was indicated.

Drake, the suspended guard, is charged specifically with having permitted convicts who accompanied him out of the prison on a truck to request a "speakeasy" in the northern section of Auburn.

The guard permitted the convicts to obtain liquor and to smuggle letters out of the prison, according to Heacock.

NOTORIOUS HANGOUT

The "speakeasy," Heacock said, is the hang-out for a number of notorious characters who have been released from the penitentiary and it is believed likely that these men were in league with the convicts who visited the resort.

A number of letters have been seized, according to the Warden, revealing the complexities of the plot.

Soldier Playing May Cost Boy Loss Of Eyes

COLDSTREAM, N. B., April 6.—Leland Orser, aged 7, and Cyril, aged 5, were seriously injured this afternoon when they were shot from a gun in the hands of a brother, Kenneth, aged 10 years. It is expected that Leland will lose the sight of both eyes. The other child's condition is not considered serious.

The three children were playing around the house of Clair Seeley, when they found a loaded gun in the woodshed. Kenneth, it is said, seized the gun, and pointed it at the two children, with whom he was playing soldier. He pulled the trigger and the charge crashed into the face of Leland and passed on to injure Cyril about the head.

Both decided their honor had been saved and went home to cook breakfast. Two women acted as seconds while a woman surgeon was on hand in the event of casualty.

One of the women was alleged to have found the other woman in a cafe with her husband whereupon she administered a stinging slap. The other woman then demanded a duel.

PLANE WILL BE SHIPPED BACK TO N. Y.

Owing to Damaged Pontoon, Seaplane Will Not Make Return Flight.

(Canadian Press)
HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 6.—Damages sustained by the seaplane, while riding the sea sixty miles from Bermuda on Tuesday night will prevent a return flight to New York which has been planned for the next few days, it was learned yesterday. The plane with pilot Yancey and his companions will be shipped back on Tuesday.

Examined yesterday, a stay connecting the pontoon with the fuselage was found to be defective, the welding having split across and it was feared the metal had crystallized. It is impossible to effect repairs here, and the special brand of gasoline required would not be obtainable for three weeks at least.

A test flight yesterday morning turned out well, but a landing, except in dead calm, would be dangerous. As the Government opposes a return flight attempt under these conditions, the fliers with their plane will sail homeward on Tuesday.

LATEST DOINGS AT THE NAVAL PARLEY

(Special to The Guardian)
LONDON, April 5.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald and Foreign Minister Briand continued efforts today to find a solution to the French security claim. At the end of their talk at St. James Palace the French Foreign Minister rushed away to Paris for the week end, saying he was returning Tuesday to resume the negotiations. As he was dashing off to the train he remarked somewhat cryptically, "I think the end of next week will see the finish of it one way or another." The assumption was that he was referring to the proposed security pact. Shortly afterward, Premier MacDonald arrived at the U. S. headquarters and had lunch with U. S. Secretary of State Stimson and D. W. Morrow of the U. S. delegation. It was presumed that the British Premier planned to report the result of his morning's meetings with the French to the U. S. delegation.

(Canadian Press)

Shoals of telegrams, all the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific, to use the Minister's own words, have reached the Department, and as a result it has been decided to delay second reading of the bill until deputations have had an opportunity of conferring with the Government on the matter. Under the present regulations a fair wage clause is placed in each Government contract, which compels the contractor to pay fair rates of wages to the workmen. The rates of wages prevailing on private jobs in the district in which the government work is being done, are taken as "fair wages."
