WESTERN PERSONALS

—Dr. J. A. Johnston, Tignish, was in town on Wednesday.

—LOOKING FOR IT.—That Summerside does not take kindly to bursts of exuberant and other spirits, (when shown by out-of-town visitors) was shown on Tuesday night and a certain sporting countryman has several bruises to remind him of the fact. The man in point drove into town on Tuesday night and amused himself for an hour or so driving at top speed through Central, Water and other streets, several times narrowly escaping a collision with approaching teams of motor cars. At last, tiring of this tame sport, he began chasing some people who were walking over one of the street crossings and in one case very nearly ran down two young girls who were hurrying home with parcels. This was too much for a young man standing by who made a flying leap into the wagon and administered a long-delayed licking to the horseman, to the great enjoyment of the small boys and others who gathered from all corners of the town to see the ceremony and suggest other remedies. It is expected that the driver will be summoned to answer the charge of fast and furious driving on the town streets.

—LAID TO REST.—The funeral of the late Harry P. Wood took place Wednesday morning, and was largely attended by his wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The Knights of Columbus were in full regalia, and marched to the church. The pall bearers were: Heath Strong, H. H. LeFurgey, Mr. Hornsby, Jas. A. McNeill, H. J. Massey, and Ed. Dalton. The late Mr. Wood was born in Miscouche about 65 years ago, the son of the late Mr. John Wood of that place. In his youth he learned the blacksmith trade with Mr. Newton Lee, who many years ago conducted a large blacksmithing business where the store of Mr. P. N. Enman and Messrs Godkin Bros. now stand.

E. A. FOSTER, Central Drugstore, Charlottetown

He eventually bought out the business from Mr. Lee and successfully conducted it for some time, but being of a speculative nature he drifted into other lines. Of late years he was largely interested in the canning industry and operated lobster factories at Malpeque, Belmont and Chelton. In his death Summerside loses one of its best and most highly respected citizens. He was a man of broad vision, energetic and public spirited, took a deep interest in matters affecting the welfare of the community and will be much missed. He served several years as a Town Councilor and also as a School Trustee. Four sons are left to mourn, Joseph B. James H., Dr. William R. and Leo. Mrs. Wood predeceased him about 13 years ago. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Pauls Church.

—Mr. George H. Barbour, Probation Inspector, was in town on Wednesday on his official business.
