There passed away in Montague, Tuesday, January 21, Mr. Harris Jordan, after a very brief illness. His death, which was a great shock to all, came at the early age of 34. He was born at Guernsey Cove and received his early education there. He then entered Prince of Wales College, and later attended Mount Allison University. He took up teaching as his profession, and successfully taught in Abney, White Sands, Beach Point and Murray Harbor, having taught in all three departments of the last-named school.

On the afternoon of Jan. 30, it was learned with deep rgret that Mrs. Francis Hagan passed away at her home in Kelly's Cross. She had been in failing health for the past year, and although all had been done for her that could be by medical attention and kind nursing, her family had fondly hoped that she would be restored to her usual good health, but God in His infinite wisdom willed otherwise. She gradually weakened until the end came, and her gentle spirit peacefully passed out of this world to a more peaceful abode of eternal happiness.

At St. James Church Rev. Dr. J. Kier Fraser conducted both services. In the morning he dealt with some of the problems of the time, including the lax enforcement of law, the love of pleasure and luxury, and the desire for entertainment in the church. He also, in conjunction with clergy of other churches engaged in special prayers for victory for the British cause in the present conflict. The choir rendered two Anthems: "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears" (Field), and "For Our Armies We Would Pray" (Harrison).

In the evening Dr. Fraser spoke on "The Importance of Little Things", and the choir rendered the anthem, "Saviour Again to Thy Dear Name We Raise," (Caleb Simper).

In the midst of life we are in death—these words were never more clearly brought to the minds of the people of Donagh and surrounding districts than when the news of the sudden death of Mrs. Michael Beaggen which occurred on the evening of Dec. 13th spread over the neighbourhood. After partaking of her supper she opened a letter which had come from her daughter in Boston and suddenly fell to the floor. Her daughter in-law with whom she resided, was close at hand and immediately put forth all efforts to revive her together with neighbors who were close at hand, but she never regained consciousness.

The weather station recorded the precipitation at less than a fifth of an inch. Early yesterday when the temperature dropped below freezing an inch of snow fell and for several hours a 27-mile-an-hour wind kicked up a swirling drift. Last night, however, the wind had dropped. A brief drop in the wind was followed by a 32-mile-per-hour gale. .

NEW "MOUNTIE" HERE — A new member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and a very popular one, arrived in the City recently. Like any ordinary member of the Force he was transferred here with certain duties to perform and much is expected of him later. The newest addition to the local barracks is still quite young, dark, muscular and handsome. However, he refuses to "step out" with anybody but Constable H. J. F. Ade who went to Ottawa and escorted him back here. He also has a very romantic name, Don of Navigator, or for short "Gietza." The newcomer, by the way, is a police dog and is highly trained in his special line of work. He replaces, "Donner", the dog who operated in this territory last year but who is at present unwell and recuperating in Ottawa. "Gietza," like his predecessor is a one-man dog and will hunt with nobody but Constable Ade. He will be used in this province to track down any wrong doers, trace lost persons or articles. He is of Dobermann-Pinscher ancestry.

Miss Rose Smith, 40-year-old Charlottetown woman was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when she was struck by a horse drawn vehicle on Queen Street, opposite Martin's garage. She died in hospital about one hour after being struck by a coal sleigh.

Police said the sleigh was driven by Maurice Hennessey who was delivering an 1800-pound cargo of coal to one of his father's customers. The horse was travelling at a walk when the accident occurred at 2:25 p.m. Hennessey was proceeding north on Queen, going toward's Euston, at the time. He told Police he did not notice the woman until she was under the forward left side of the sleigh. She suffered internal injuries.

When first noticed by William Connolly and Ray Steel of Charlottetown, who pulled up in their car facing south on Queen Street at the time of the accident, she was partly under the front of the left sleigh runner. It is believed that she may have been hit by the left shaft.

Connolly and Steel immediately rushed the injured woman to the Charlottetown Hospital where she received medical attention. An hour later she passed away.

Coroner Dr. I. J. Yeo ordered an inquest. A jury was impanelled and the hearing adjourned until 2:30 p.m. today. On the jury are Messrs. M. W. Reardon, William Rix, Henry Hardy, George Berrigan, James Brown, Reginald Jenkins and Byron Brown.

Although several persons were near apparently there were no actual eye-witnesses. It is thought the woman was crossing the street and was watching a car and did not notice the sleigh. The horse prevented the driver from seeing her.

Miss Smith was a daughter of Mrs. Duncan Smith, 33 Upper Hillsboro Street. Her father is dead. She resided at home.
