Babe Ruth

RUTH MAY BE OUT OF GAME INDEFINITELY

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, N. Y., April 22.—The New York Yankees opened the American League season at Boston today by defeating the Red Sox 7-5, but the victory may prove a costly one. Babe Ruth, the club's chief offensive threat, may be lost to the Yankees for several weeks as the result of an injury received in the sixth inning, when he collapsed while going after Oliver's fly. It was found he has a severe "charley horse" on his left thigh. Up to the time he was carried from the field, Ruth had accounted for five runs, scoring two and driving in three with two singles and a double.

P. W. C. Baseball

A very exhilarating game of baseball was played on the college campus yesterday between the hot dogs of third year and second year B, and the hot dog eaters comprising the rest of the college. The hot dog eaters certainly lived up to their name, handing a trimming to the Hot Dogs by a score of 11-1. Although there were some good hits, most of the runs were secured on errors in the infield and outfield.

BASEBALL TALK An article appeared in the Patriot April 21 in regard to the Rover having hogged all the ball players. We of the Rover section want it understood that we use only players in our own section, and players who did not get a berth on other teams. But if the Rovers can do anything to help revive baseball in the City, they will, I am sure do so.

OLD DEEDS AUCTIONED OFF

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Deeds signed by William Penn, two of which disposed of one-ninth of the State of New Jersey, were sold during a recent auction. A letter written by Washington at Morristown, N. J. February 2 1780, which tells of attacking the "Red Coats" was also sold.

SCIENTISTS FIND TREASURE

EDFORD, Ore., April 20.—Untold possibilities for scientists searching evidence of forgotten Indian civilization, lie in Rogue River Valley, according to research experts operating here. Many Indian relics and bones of prehistoric animal life were displayed by searchers.

OLD GEOMETRY BOOK PRESENTED

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 20.—A textbook on geometry used by Henry Hill, a student at William and Mary College in 1777, has been presented the college library by Stuart H. Hill, New York, a descendant of Henry Hill, one of the 50 founders of Phi Beta Kappa.

IOWAN CHAMPION "KEEPER"

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., April 21.—E. T. Waterman, pioneer carriage-maker, is the world's champion "keeper" his neighbors say. Waterman has a shoe blacking brush which he purchased in Sturgis, Mich., in 1868 and for which he paid 90 cents an umbrella which he has had 51 years and a clock given in payment of a debt ten years ago.

AVIATION WEATHERS SLUMP

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 20.—The air mail business, to date, has weathered the current depression successfully, according to J. H. White, operations manager of the Western Air Express. "In fact," added White, "I believe aviation as a whole is standing the test of the business slump better than most industries."

Mar. Juniors Are Royally Banquetted

Levin Fur Company Team Signally Honored At Queen Hotel Last Evening.

"One of the finest and ablest conducted banquets ever presented in the city." A wide statement and covering considerable territory, but nevertheless true.

A banquet par excellence, sponsored by Mr. B. Roy Holman, and given at the Queen Hotel last evening with the courtesies of the Levin Fur Company, Toronto and Montreal, to the Maritime Junior Champions, Junior Levin Fur Company, was a signal success. It was held under the distinguished patronage of His Honor or Lieut. Gov. Dalton.

A toast list, lengthy, but nevertheless interesting and well appointed, and presided over by Mr. B. Roy Holman, was enjoyed from beginning to end—and why not—Canada's champion chairman was on the job. After ample justice was done to a full course dinner in Queen Hotel style, the Chairman, Mr. Holman, called upon His Honor, the Lieut. Gov. Dalton, who addressed the boys in very appropriate terms, stressing the importance of playing the game and adhering to the old adage of "sport for sport's sake."

SOUTH SEA ISLE GIVEN NICKNAME FROM TIN CANS

WASHINGTON, April 21. (U. P.)—Life on a sea-level mountain peak where full dress uniform is a shirt and mail comes in tin cans is described in the annual report of field work and exploration just published by the Smithsonian Institution.

The Nickname

"The nickname, 'Tin Can Island' was given to it," he says in his report, "from the unique method by which mail is delivered there. The mail steamer, which comes about every six weeks, throws mail overboard in a sealed can and the natives swim out and tow it to the shore. The outgoing mail is carried out to the steamer by the swimmers who hold it on poles above the water."

Volcanic Origin

All of Niaufoou is a volcanic crater about four and one-half by five miles in extent and the greater portion of the small area above the sea contains a circular crater lake surrounded by a ridge of land rising from 200 to 800 feet above the surface of the lake. The volcanic peak rises about 6,000 feet from the ocean floor. There have been eruptions. The latest in 1929, and in this latter flow of lava the inhabitants of one village fled only a few moments before their village was over run. There was no loss of life.

Although the Polynesians were friendly and hospitable, some of them were sceptical about the eclipse which was predicted by members of the naval expedition. Several wagered against the sun with the result that the son of one of the traders who chose to bet on the scientists now owns more than his share of Tin Can Island pigs. Next to roast dog, Keller reported, roast pig is the favorite food of the islanders.

Broadway And Side Streets

BY JACK GAVER (United Press Dramatic Editor)

NEW YORK, April 22.—New York's first spring weather came into town bearing with it a saucy, light comedy which is doing much to chase the winter gloom out of the Plymouth Theatre. The play is "The Wiser They Are" by a new American playwright, Sheridan Gibney, and boasts of Jed Harris as producer.

MAKING A FINE LAWN

(By J. E. Spencer, B.S.A., Director, Ontario, Horticultural Association) Whatever planting one may do about the home the effect will not be satisfactory unless a good lawn is provided for. A spotted front yard with small flower beds and individual shrubs, even though placed with some notion of uniformity is no longer a popular method of treating the ground that fronts the residence.

DOG SAVED PRIZE HORSE

WESTPORT, Ont., April 20.—When fire destroyed the Fairfield Riding Academy, "Zip" stable dog, chased 21 horses and a cow to safety and led his master to a locked stall containing a prized horse.

COLORED CIRCLES IN SKY CAUSED BY ICE CRYSTALS

REGINA, April 22.—Atmospherical effects that may not be seen again for 100 years were noted in Saskatchewan. White and colored circles covered the northern sky, including a large colored one around the sun, and sections of others at a greater distance, with arcs and tangents.

The phenomenon, as Dr. B. W. Currie of the Saskatchewan University Department of Physics, explained, was caused by ice crystals formed in the high cirrus clouds.

The white circles are due to reflections from the ice-crystals, and the colored one due to refraction through the crystals. At the university, instruments were used to measure angles, and notes were taken on the display of colors.

REHABILITATION PROGRESSES IN FEDERAL PENITENTIARIES

WASHINGTON, April 22. (U. P.)—The Federal government is making extensive efforts to rehabilitate physically and mentally the prisoners confined in Federal institutions, according to an annual report published by the Bureau of Prisons of the Justice Department.

BOOK SEES FORD AND LENIN AS TRAIL BLAZERS

PARIS, April 22. (U. P.)—Lenin and Henry Ford are named by M. Maurice Dekobra, French novelist, as the two poles of attraction in the modern civilization, in the long essay which precedes his new book devoted to the glycerine tears of Hollywood, "100,000 Smiles" which is still in the proof stage.

CITOLAS USED BY MINISTERS

PHILADELPHIA, April 22. (U. P.)—The troubadours of old did not play on gutas. For despite the general idea, the wandering minstrels used a citola. This at least is the opinion of Dr. Jean Baptiste Beck, one of the world's greatest authorities on old musical instruments. He specializes in troubadours, that is when he isn't busy teaching the history of music in the University of Pennsylvania, or in the Curtis Institute of Music.

Australians Aroused At Debt Reputation

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 22.—The inflation and reputation policies of sections of the Labor movement in Australia, combined with the failure of the state Governments to solve the financial problems, has resulted in what may be termed a "mild uprising."

ENGLISH MISSION TO STUDY TRADE

LONDON, April 21.—The small but important trade mission to Canada will sail for Quebec on the Empress of France on Saturday. The mission consists of Sir James Lithgow, president of the Federation of British Industries; Sir Arthur Duckham, deputy president, and Mr. Mackenzie. The underlying object is to co-operate with Canadian manufacturers in ascertaining which of Canada's requirements can best be supplied by British manufacturers. "Co-operation—not competition" might be called the slogan.

A SURE WAY TO RID YOUR HOME OF MOTHS

Follow these directions and FLY-TOX will effectively rid your home of moths. Close all windows and doors tightly in the room and with a FLY-TOX Hand Sprayer, saturate the air with vaporized FLY-TOX. See that all articles of clothing, rugs, chesters, etc., receive a thorough spraying. Leave room closed up for at least three hours before airing. Repeat weekly until all signs of moths disappear. Afterwards spray every two weeks as a precaution. FLY-TOX will kill all the moths and will not stain. Harmless to people.
