CO-OPERATION

After all has been said from platform and press about the solution of the many problems now confronting our country the only solution in the last analysis is co-operation. This applied in its real sense will solve any problem and overcome any difficulty that may present itself.

By co-operation, with one purpose and one aim and each helping the other our Allied armies equipped the greatest army the world has ever heard of and eventually defeated an army that was the greatest in the world while we were gathering our army from the fields and the shops and the offices. Had the different units of our mighty army been concerned only each for himself we should have lost the war. It was won by the splendid altruism that made each man his brother's helper, that inspired them all, collectively and individually and impelled them towards a common aim and a common purpose.

As a farming community we in this province have many problems before us. These problems all added together resolve themselves into one, namely, to make our Province a better, a more prosperous and a happier one to live in. In aiming at this solution we shall benefit ourselves individually as well as collectively and there is no other way in which real benefit, either individual or collective can be attained otherwise. The lone hand, the hand that aims only at selfish benefit, can make but slow progress; when the whole community moves together the object, whatever it be, can be attained.

It is encouraging to note that the idea of co-operation is steadily gaining ground in this province as is evidenced by the meetings being held here at present. At these meetings and especially at the meetings of the Egg Circles and Farmers' Institutes today a great impetus should be given the co-operative movement. The Egg Circles especially have demonstrated the value of practical co-operation and sane leadership, as perhaps no other movement in the province has ever done. What has been done in this department can also be done in every other department of agriculture provided the co-operation is real and not for personal profit alone. We trust the meetings will be largely attended, and that decisions will be reached which will be to the advantage of the province as a whole in which case individual advantage will naturally follow.

REPATRIATION

The Repatriation Committee is the busiest committee in Ottawa. Mr. H. J. Daly, Director of Repatriation, is an outstanding figure in the business and industrial life of Canada, and is bringing to the discharge of his duties, efficient methods and a comprehensive grasp of the fact that the demobilization of our soldiers, and the re-adjustment of industrial conditions, is the most vital task that can engage the activities of the Government and the energies of individual citizens.

The first work is to get the soldiers home. There are two methods of demobilization. The Fighting Corps will be brought back as units under their own officers. Some re-organization will occur to ensure that each unit shall, as far as possible, be composed of men from the same locality. The remainder of the Canadian Army will be demobilized in standard drafts of 500 men.

There is no Post Discharge Pay now. What was known as Post Discharge Pay is now called "War Service Gratuity."

The Department of Labor, in its scheme of a single Employment Agency from one end of Canada to the other, is setting up employment offices in all the urban centres with a population of 10,000 or more and in the smaller places where the need for one exists. The plan calls for 64 offices throughout Canada, of which 20 are already in existence.

This scheme provides for opportunities for employment, for mobility of employment, and for expansion of employment on behalf of the returned men.

There will be attached to each local employment office a number of salesmen. These men will be constantly out among the business men of the district, striving to sell them the services of the office, and encouraging them to use the employment office exclusively for their labor needs.

Another interesting feature, following British experience, is the Advisory Council of Employers and Employees, in connection with each local office.

Such a representative body, giving aid to the Superintendent, will prove indispensable, especially when a strike or lock-out has been declared, as is impending.

At the Winter ports of disembarkation, Governmental and Voluntary Organizations do everything possible to care for the returned men. Women and children dependents of the soldiers are especially cared for. At St. John there is a Women's Reception Committee, composed of representatives of 15 local organizations, which work in conjunction with two Secretaries of the National Y. M. C. A. Halifax has a Creche Committee consisting of all local women who have been active in war work. Every assistance is given returning women at both ports. Children are cared for; baggage is located; sandwiches, hot tea and coffee are provided.

There is a Red Cross Nurse on each Committee to give assistance to either women or children who require her assistance; First Aid supplies and extra clothing for babies are always on hand.

There is an Emergency Hospital, with accommodation for 30 women at each port, as well as a room where babies can be cared for during the wait between boat and train. Any woman requiring monetary assistance receives a gift of the "necessary" amount from the Patriotic Fund. In cases of sickness, provision has been made with the local hospitals.

Each train carrying unaccompanied women and children has on board a graduate nurse, whose salary and travelling expenses are paid by the Canadian Red Cross Society. This nurse has been selected and enrolled by the Canadian Graduate Nurses' Association.

Adequate arrangements are being made to receive women and children at their home stations, to extend to them such temporary hospitality as may be necessary, and to do everything possible to see that they are established in comfortable homes. Several organizations may desire to do parts of this work but it was found advisable to name one Dominion-wide organization to become responsible for the efficient performance of these functions.

Arrangements have been made for the Canadian Patriotic Fund to accept this responsibility, and to supervise the arrangements for the welfare of the returning dependents of the soldiers. In order to carry out this important duty in the best possible way, it is necessary that all other organizations should co-operate.

are inclined to ask, "Is holiness a lost art?" A Christianity after Christ's order is holy. Individual and family consecration stand in need of a quickening. The rush of our modern life tells greatly against our devotional life, and if we are not careful, it will be squeezed to death. The haste, unrest and stifling anxiety of these latter days have invaded the sacred precincts of our homes, and social engagements, business appointments, and the like are taking precedence over family piety. Let us call our souls to a halt amid all the stupefying whirl of today, that the smouldering fires of prayer, devotion, service, and consecration may be stirred. We need hearts to be touched anew until the fires burn and glow with holy ardor. A revival begins at the center, in the soul of the individual and moves on in triumphant energy as this man and that catch the fresh revelation of Christ in his heart.

FOR FAMILY WORSHIP

By the Rev. Joseph W. Kemp

In some respects the most pressing need of the hour is a spiritual revival; a revival which shall have upon it the hall-mark of God; a revival which shall touch human life in all its phases. Spiritual life everywhere is registering low, and in some quarters it would appear as though it had died altogether. There is nothing remaining but the white ashes of the old-time glowing fire.

There is need for a revival of personal holiness. As we look around upon the professing Christians of today we

Your Problems Solved BY REV. T.S. LINSKOTT, D.D. (All rights reserved)

Dr. Linscott, in this column will help you solve your heart problems, religious, natural, social, financial, and every other anxious care that perplexes you. If a personal answer is required, enclose a five cent stamp. No names will be published; if you prefer, sign your initials only, or use a pseudonym.

"A FISHERMAN": "I am engaged in fishing, and would like to be a Christian and a preacher. Please give me your advice?" Most of Christ's original twelve disciples were fishermen and he commanded them to follow him, saying he would make them "fishers of men." To be a Christian you must repent, and accept the pardon which God has for you. It will then be made clear to you whether you ought to leave your present occupation for preaching. You must be willing to remain a fisherman, or to be a "fisher of men," as God may instruct.

CHRIST CALLING HIS DISCIPLES: "Did Christ call his apostles to leave their work and follow him off hand, or did he have previous acquaintance with them?" asks "A Bible Student." I have no doubt that he had an intimate acquaintance with most ROYAL BANK ANNOUNCES MOST COMPREHENSIVE PLAN OF EXTENSION THAT HAS YET BEEN MADE BY ANY OF THE LARGER CANADIAN BANKS.

Branches will be Established at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Buenos Ayres, Argentine, Montevideo, Uruguay and Paris, France.

MONTREAL, January 16.—Special As a result of the vital importance to Canada that the foreign trade of the country should be extended to the greatest possible extent, the Royal Bank of Canada today made the most important announcement of plans for new branches that has yet been made by any of the larger Canadian banks. The Royal Bank has had twenty years' experience in the foreign fields of Cuba, West Indies and Central and South America. On this account it is especially equipped to handle foreign business and to help attract more of it to Canada. Following on a careful investigation extending over the past couple of years, the Royal Bank now announces that it will help to direct a larger amount of South American trade to the Dominion by the immediate establishment of important branches at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Buenos Ayres, Argentine and Montevideo, Uruguay.

As is well known in Canada banking circles no Canadian capital has been required for the extension in foreign countries by the Royal, as the foreign deposits at every point have always greatly exceeded the foreign commercial loans.

In addition, the Royal has concluded arrangements to open a branch at Paris, France, in order to secure for Canada a share of the commerce which is expected to develop as a result of the rehabilitation of Northern France and Belgium.

The Royal now has the largest number of branches in Canada of any Canadian bank.

if not all his apostles, before he called them to leave their occupations to follow him. Doubtless He had discussed the matter with them, and given them plenty of time to arrive at a decision. They knew who he was, what He taught, and, in outline, what following Him meant.

Tea in the Garden of Eden

A Tommy wrote to his mother from Mesopotamia:

"This may be the Garden of Eden, but the only thing that makes it endurable is our daily ration of Lipton's. In fact, Lipton's is the only thing hereabouts that I'm not 'fed up' on."

There is a universality about Lipton's that strikes home to English-speaking people wherever they may be.

To thoroughly enjoy Tea you must get Lipton's, and make it according to the directions on each package.

Mothers!

An Appeal For Your Children

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, salts or cathartics. How you hated them. How you fought them. How you dreaded their after-effects. That was all wrong, but then nobody knew better.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physics is over. We don't force the bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after-effects. And the dose is a candy tablet.

Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't know what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender bowels are harmed by them. The modern way is to give a gentle laxative more frequently. To keep the bowels always active. The best method is Cascarets.

Cascarets are candy tablets. Children love their pleasant taste. They cost only 10 cents a box, with full directions for children's dosage at all ages. Babies too! Give Cascarets, then don't worry—they never disappoint.

to a close. I should like to say how much you are in my opinion, to be congratulated on your business organization, and I particularly refer to your President, your Directors, your Secretary and your business manager. With your Secretary I am most frequently brought in contact and I am sure that he will not consider it as an empty compliment when I say that I hold the highest opinion of his undoubted business ability.

Your organization is a most valuable business asset, and I should be very glad if any words of mine, could, even in the least degree, increase for it your appreciation and ensure for it your loyalty and support for the future.

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, I have to thank your executive for their invitation to be present at this meeting and I also thank you all for the kind attention you have given me.

Other speakers at the afternoon meeting were Rev. P. P. Arsenault, Mr. J. E. Sinclair, M. P., Mr. W. H. Hogan, Rev. Dr. Monaghan, Rev. Dr. Gauthier, Mr. W. A. Brown, chief of the Poultry Division, Ottawa, and Mr. Theodore Ross.

The following resolution was passed, moved by Rev. Dr. Gauthier, seconded by Mr. Sinclair, M. P.:

"Resolved that this Association endorse the action of the Executive committee in broadening the vision, extending the constitution of the Egg and Poultry Association by forming the Canadian Farm Products and urge that the Executive for 1919 complete the organization of the branches and take over the business of the Egg and Poultry Association as speedily as possible.

The evening meeting was largely attended. Hon. M. McKinnon presided and the other speakers were Corp. P. A. Hughes, Premier Arsenault, Mr. J. E. Sinclair, M. P., Rev. Dr. Gauthier, Mayor Wright and Mr. J. W. Mitchell, Ottawa.
