SITUATION IN THE BALTIC PROVINCES IS CRITICAL

Hot Fighting at Riga But Troops are Victorious—Losses on Both Sides at Moscow Much Less than Before Reported, But Total is Still Uncertain—Many Children and Non-Combatants Among the Slain and Wounded.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 2.—(Special)—The situation in the Baltic Provinces is still critical today.

At Riga a detachment of Dragoons while grooming their horses were attacked by three hundred workmen armed with swords and revolvers. Eleven Dragoons were killed and 14 wounded.

The troops rallied and opened fire,

Other corps arrived and the workmen were all taken prisoners.

It is impossible to ascertain the total losses resulting from the ten days' revolt at Moscow as many of the dead and wounded have not been reported at the hospitals and some of the bodies were incinerated.

The best returns obtainable show that 548 were killed and 1065 wounded. Of the latter 174 died after being taken to the hospital.

The troops had nine killed and twenty-one wounded and of the police ten were killed and fifteen wounded.

Among those who suffered were many children and the returns generally show that innocent persons suffered heaviest. The final figures will probably total 2,500.
