DEPARTURE OF THE RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION CORPS YESTERDAY

The members of No. 12 Reinforcement "Draft" Railway Construction Corps under command of Lieut. W. A. McDonald were given a splendid send-off upon leaving Charlottetown early yesterday on their departure for Halifax. Only comparatively few citizens knew that the men were leaving, but the stirring strains of patriotic airs from the Fourth Regiment Band soon aroused the populace and quite a crowd gathered to bid the boys farewell. They were given hearty cheers as they took their departure.

Following is a list of the members of the unit with their addresses and the names of their next of kin:—

- Lieut. W. A. McDonald, Wheatley River, next of kin—Donald McDonald. Sgt. J. H. Lewis, Charlottetown, next of kin—James Lewis. Sgt. F. Sullivan, Vernon River Bridge, next of kin—Owen Sullivan. All of the above went with the exception of Sergeant Jack Lewis who, owing to the illness of his brother has been transferred to the depot at Aldershot. The name of Sergeant E. H. Davey (Chic) is to be added. Private F. Weeks is ill in the hospital, and was therefore unable to leave. It will be noted that, in some cases there are several members of the same family in this Draft. There are three McLennan brothers, Corporal A. H. and Privates H. and A., of Malden, Mass. There are the two Smith brothers of Glenfanning; the two Dennis brothers, of Arlington, and the two Martin brothers, of Martin, Lot 23. The previous day the boys were each presented with a Testament by the Bible Society. The presentation was made by Canon Simpson, who gave a brief address. Messrs. W. S. Louison, J. D. Seaman and A. W. Sterns, representing the Society, were also present.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER STATESMAN OR POLITITIAN WHICH?

Sir.—In this, the most trying time so far, in the history of Canada the people naturally look for the leader—the Moses—to lead them safely through—Sir Wilfrid Laurier being the man whose followers make the loudest and most reckless claims for it—is only right, yes prudence on the part of all Canadians to submit these claims to the acid test of history. The question therefore to be settled is the answer to the above caption. To do so a definition of the terms should be given. The following will cover the accepted meanings—A Statesman acts and legislates not only for the present but for the future and permanent good; a politician acts and legislates for the present advantage, regardless of the future. Assuming these definitions to be sufficiently comprehensive let us look back in history at the part Sir Wilfrid Laurier has played as a public man in Canada and judge the man by his record, taking up some of the great questions of our history in which he took part—as criteria to form a just opinion on.

To appreciate the vision of the anti-confederates let us consider what we would have in the place of the Dominion of Canada of today had they succeeded in their aims—We would have six separate colonies struggling along with warring tariffs between them; no communication from out west except through the U. S.; no such provinces as Man., Sask., and Alberta with the immense interprovincial trade, as at present carried on; the Hudson Bay Company would still be ruling the Western plains as there would have been no power to purchase their franchise; what trade and settlement there would be in these plains would all be controlled by the U. S., whose railway lines alone would have access to them, the buffaloes would roam the lands now supplying the nation with wheat; these and many other untoward conditions we would now have instead of the Canada of today if the men of Mr. Wilfrid Laurier's party had succeeded. Was he not a politician then and not a statesman?

CONFEDERATION

When Confederation of the B. N. A. Colonies into one national body was being advocated he was its first proponent—After B. C., came should not be held too rigidly to the count for his views—yet he was then twenty-five years of age admitted to the bar and editing a paper. He was an anti-confederate and chiefly so on racial grounds. One quotation from an article by him at the consummation of Confederation to show his narrow parochial viewpoint will suffice: "You have succeeded gentlemen, you have obtained a temporary triumph, but

C. P. RAILWAY

When Confederation became an accomplished fact the linking up of the whole country by railway was one of their first problems—After B. C., came in the Government grappled with the question and some progress had been made when a change of government took place in 1878. The new government had no heart in the undertaking and as a result only a limping attempt at progress had been made up to 1878 when another change of government took place. A new government took place under Sir John A. Macdonald soon formulated a policy and

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations, and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher In Use For Over 30 Years The Kind You Have Always Bought started energetically to carry it out, but not without encountering fierce opposition. By this time Mr. Laurier had arisen to greater prominence in public life particularly in Quebec. He did all in his power to thwart the enterprise but fortunately failed—Had he succeeded there would be no C. P. R., nor any other Railway running throughout Canada from coast to coast for many a day—it takes little imagination to appraise the result as we have it and what it would be had he and his party succeeded—In looking back at the part he played then what is the reply? Was he a statesman or politician? His vision was wrong, his prophecies were wrong. They were those of the short sighted politician.

The Riel Rebellion

Before the opening of the C.P.R. from Ontario west the condition of settlement in the west was bad, and no doubt the settlers had many grievances. This state of affairs gave an opening to such a man as Riel to foment trouble. He organized a revolt but did not confine his program to a war against the government, he set out to do and did massacre the innocent white settlers. He was captured, tried and executed. He received justice. His execution, however, was made a political question and a party formed in Quebec to resent it, known as the Nationalist party, in a short time taking the place there of the Liberal party altogether. Mr. Mercier led the local wing of it, and Mr. Laurier led the Dominion branch, but retained the name Liberal. The movement had in view solidifying Quebec for Mr. Laurier by making a martyr of Riel, who was a French half-breed. The agitation created was indefensible, but the plan worked as intended and Mr. Laurier became and is today the greatest power in that province. The claim that Riel was unjustly executed because he had some French blood in his veins was a hollow one. Sir John Thompson, whose record is above reproach was Minister of Justice at the time and took full responsibility for refusing commutation of the death sentence. Yet this is the origin of the Nationalist party that we hear so much about. If their theories are had they are those Sir Wilfrid Laurier taught them. Are they not the of the politician?

THE NATIONAL POLICY

The position of Canada lying alongside the U. S. with its extremely high protective tariff its industries largely perfected and organized; a large wealthy population animated with hostile prejudices, ever ready to strike a crushing blow at a community with a low tariff left it defenceless in the race. Under such circumstances it was only natural our people lacking employment at home should cross the border where such was plentiful and wages high. Consequently the exodus to the U. S., began to grow larger every year and the loss of population seriously felt. There was therefore no alternative for Canada but to adopt a protective tariff, on our own industries and thus find employment for our people at home. That was truly a salvation policy for us. The proof of such is that—when the party led by Mr. Laurier which opposed it in opposition accepted it when returned to power and is still our national policy. He was simply a

Irritated Skin—Eczema

HEAT IRRITATES the skin, and sudden changes of temperature tend to set up skin troubles, such as eczema or piles.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment positively cures eczema and piles there is no place where it is better known or more fully appreciated than in the blacksmith shop, machine shop or foundry.

Relief from the itching and stinging sensations, which make these ailments so annoying, comes almost as soon as the ointment is applied, and cure is the result of a little patient use of this healing, soothing treatment.

But you must be sure to get the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, for imitations and substitutes are sure to disappoint.
