(A strong unit of Government airplanes arrived at Bilbao materially strengthening that city's defences. Fifteen planes, which overshot their mark and landed in France last week, were believed to comprise the unit.)

At Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish border, Basque authorities broadcast a report that an insurgent air bomb had damaged an electric plant of the Spanish branch of the Fire stone Tire Company at Sondica, a village five miles north of Bilbao.

MADRID, May 24—Madrid newspapers protested tonight at reports that Germany was willing to withdraw her volunteers from Spain if hostilities ceased.

The press cited a statement by the government's new Premier, Juan Negrin, that the word "mediation" was not in his vocabulary.

Police seized a mother and daughter who, they said, acted as Fascist spies while posing as spiritualists.

The mother, Rosario Rodriquez, and the daughter Elenea Cerian, were accused of putting sleeping potions in drinks which they sold to Government soldiers who came to them for seances. Then they stole money and documents from the soldiers and sent the loot to the insurgents, authorities said.

Insurgent bombing planes attacked government lines in the Casa de Campo, west of Madrid, and a Madrid fleet retaliated with a raid on insurgent tranches in that section.

J.D. Rockefeller Dies At Florida

He once wrote:

"I believe it is every man's religious duty to get all he can honestly, and to give all he can."

True to that creed, he bestowed more than $500,000,000 on carefully-chosen philanthropies, transferred much of his holdings to the present head of the clan, John D. Rockefeller, jr., and died leaving what a family spokesman described as a "relatively small, very liquid" estate.

For Funeral Services

Plans were made to return the body to the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills, Tarrytown, N. Y., for funeral services, attended only by members of the family. Burial will be in Cleveland, where Rockefeller began his business career as a $4.50 a week bookkeeper's assistant in 1855.

Rockefeller, who would have been 98 July 8, had expressed confidence in recent years that he would live to 100, and his condition had seemed to justify his optimism.

Founder of the Standard Oil Company, Rockefeller, at the height of his career, directed the activities of 36 oil companies, controlled mines and mills, influenced the policies of hundreds of corporations in many forms of industry and was a heavy stockholder in trunk line railroads.

He was born July 8, 1839, at Richford, Tioga County, N. Y. His father was William Avery Rockefeller, a shrewd farmer and doctor, and his mother Eliza Davison, noted for piety and firm but gentle family rule. She taught her children to work, to save, to give.

He became interested in oil when a strike in Pennsylvania in 1859 drew prospectors from all parts of the country. He was cautious, however, and for two years he obtained and studied information about the fields. Then he and his partner and Samuel Andrews organized Andrews, Clark and Company, to refine oil. They built a small refinery near Cleveland.

The business was put up at auction by mutual consent, in 1865 and Rockefeller bought it in at $72,500. The firm became Rockefeller and Andrews and within five years became the Standard Oil Company of Ohio with a capitalization of $1,000,000. His two brothers, William and Frank, and others became associated with him.

A year before he bought up the old partnership that founded his huge fortune, he married Laura Celestia Spelman, daughter of an Akron, Ohio, merchant. She died March 12, 1915, at Pocantico Hills.

The Rockefellers had five children. Only two, John D., jr., and Alta, who became Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice of New York are living.

Meeting Of The Synod Of Nova Scotia

The 61st meeting of the Synod of Nova Scotia which was held at Halifax last week has now passed into history. For the first time the sessions were held in the University of King's College. This arrangement met with a great deal of praise, as by far the greatest number of delegates were quartered and were given their meals in the University. This not only enabled the delegates to meet a great deal more than in previous years, when they were scattered about the City, but kept down the expenses of the delegates, as they were guests of the College. The Synod was very largely attended, but unfortunately very few were present from P. E. Island. Morning Prayer was said in the College Chapel every day at 9.45. On Thursday morning the Rev. Benjamin Fream, Rector of Kensington took the service.

The Synod opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion in All Saints Cathedral at 7.30 a. m. Tuesday when His Lordship Bishop Hackenley was the celebrant, assisted by three other Priests.

On Tuesday evening the Cathedral was filled for the annual service. The Very Rev. Dean Walley sang the service, while the sermon, which was an able one was preached by the Rev. Mr. Clarkson, Rector of Windsor, N. S.

The Charge of the Bishop was delivered on Tuesday afternoon, and dealt first with the Accession and Coronation of King George and the Recall to Religion. The next subject dealt with was the coming 150th anniversary of the Consecration of Bishop Inglis which will take place in Halifax in August and September. Bishop Inglis was the first Overseas Bishop and Nova Scotia the first Diocese. Today there are in Canada 27 Dioceses under their own Bishops and 1909 parishes and missions. "How glad must be the soul of Charles Inglis as he sees and beholds how that his labours have not been in vain in the Lord," said the Bishop. On Sunday the 29th of August the General Canadian Synod service will be held in All Saints Cathedral, when the Most Reverend, The Archbishop of Armagh, and Primate of All Ireland, Dr. D'Arcy will be the preacher. The service will be broadcast. It is expected that about 40 Bishops will be present.

During the Synod many important matters relating to Church work were debated. A resolution was adopted urging that the matter of Religious Education in the public schools be studied and plans put into operation to bring it about. The Rev. Dr. Prince of Kings College in presenting the Report on Social Service, stated that some fifty houses for the poor would be erected in Halifax this year. This was the first such scheme to be put into effect in Canada.

It was stated that the Summer School held at Windsor last summer was a great success, and that all plans had been completed for another such school which will open at Windsor, N. S., on the 29th June for one week.

On Tuesday the delegates were entertained to luncheon at the Church of England Institute, and later in the afternoon were received by His Lordship the Bishop and his mother Mrs. Hackenley at Bishop's Lodge.

The Bishop in his charge had words of praise for the work done by the Women's Auxiliary.

The Synod came to a close on Thursday morning just before noon.

IT MUST BE CONTAGIOUS

PEMBROKE, Me., May 24—(AP)—A trouper, well-equipped for his part was Leland Brown, Pembroke High School senior.

Cast as a mummy afflicted with mumps in the play, "The Mummy and the Mumps," Leland was stricken ill during rehearsals. He had the mumps.

A few days in bed and Leland was back with his schoolmates for presentation of the three-act comedy—his bandage-swathed face swollen for a realistic performance.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. JAMES CHURCH

The text of the morning sermon, preached by the Rev. Dr. J. Keir Fraser was taken from Psalm 130-1—"Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord." God has planted eternity in the breast of every human being. In the time of danger, we realize that and turn to God; in the time of anxiety, we trun to God; and for help and guidance we turn to God. In fact, is not the whole of life, just one great search after God, and thrice blessed is the man who succeeds in that search. But in our text, it is not in the depths of danger, or in the depths of anxiety, or in the time of sorrow that the psalmist has cried unto God, but it is in the depths of sin. And that is the all-embracing reason why we should pray and cry unto God, for man is not judged by what he is but by what he aspires to be.

The evening sermon was based on Kings 19-11, 12—"And behold the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and broke in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind; and after the wind, an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake; and after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice." In these days, we are prone to admire and stand in awe at the big and mighty things; we like a lot of noise, and anything that doesn't make a lot of noise, interests us not. But let us remember that what is big to us, may be small to God, and the things that make a lot of noise, may have no substance. And so in our own lives, we should take to heart our text and seek for power and strength in the silence and in prayer to God who, himself, speaks in a still small voice.

The special music at the morning service consisted of a solo by Miss Lena MacLure "God Bless the King"—Bromley and the anthem, The Recessional by the choir, the soloist being Mrs. H. S. Henderson. The evening anthem was—If ye Love Me."

THE SALVATION ARMY

At the morning Holiness Meeting Mrs. Adj. Lynch took as her text "The Will of The Lord be done," Acts 21st Chapter and 14th verse.

Though Paul knew he would suffer for Christs sake if he continued on his way to Jerusalem he refused to be persuaded by his friends, to abandon his journey.

He declared he was ready not only to be bowed but to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord.

There came a great change in Paul's life when he met Christ on the road to Damascus. With Paul each Christian should know God's will is the best guide in life.

At the evening Salvation Service Adj. Lynch took as his text Psalm 124, verse 7.

"Our Soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers; the snare is broken and we are escaped."

CHURCH OF THE MOST HOLY REDEEMER

The 7.30 o'clock and 9 o'clock Masses at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer Sunday were said by Rev. Father Howard. Rev. Father Oswald Murphy of St. Dunstan's University sang the High Mass. The Boy Scouts and Cubs of the Basilica and Holy Redeemer parishes marched to the Holy Redeemer Church and occupied reserved seats at the High Mass. Rev. Father Howard spoke at the three Masses, and at the High Mass referred in terms of praise to the ideals of the Scouts and spoke of supernaturalizing natural ideals.

Holy Hour, the last in preparation for the feast of Corpus Christi, was held in the evening. A sermon on Mary, the mother of the Blessed Sacrament, was preached by Rev. Father Howard.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rovers, Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs of Charlottetown were welcome participants in the morning's worship service. Having in mind the Scouts' motto, "Be Prepared," Pastor H. L. Denton spoke simply but forcefully to the boys and leaders from the interest-evoking words, "Getting a Good Ready," the secret for the winning of brilliant victories given by a famous general of ancient Troy. That this had been the secret of success down the ages was shown through incidents in the life of a victorious French Marshal, who expressed the same thought in the sentence: "My battles were all won the day before the fight," in Lindbergh's careful checkings over of planes and plans before record flights, in young men occupying important positions at early ages. Promotions and successes are only for those whose careful, self-disciplined training proves they can be trusted to carry on. Great opportunities and responsibilities lie before the youths of today. Lord Allenby, conqueror of Jerusalem in the recent world war, realized this and admonished an important gathering of youths with these words, "It is upon you, the young and rising generation, that the future of the world depends." Another apt quotation of Mr. Denton's was, "It is good to be alive but to be young is very heaven." The way to be prepared for coveted success in life is by incorporating into it daily the sterling principles of Good Scouting, to cherish health of body, to conscientiously train the mind and intellect, and to cultivate right relations with God, to live today as you would like to live tomorrow.

Mr. Denton's story to the Young Worshippers' League was, "Scouts are always Handy," setting forth incidents of Scout efficiency in first aid in the far away Fiji Islands and in nearby Pictou County, N. S.

The Church was privileged to have for its evening preacher, Rev. J. W. Hayter of Hazelbrook, who, with a stirirng, evangelistic note, developed a powerful sermon from the text, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto salvation unto all who believe." (Romans 1:16).

During the morning service, Miss Vera H. Malcolm Campbell sang with fine feeling and sweet musical appeal. Handel's "Come Unto Me." Wonderfully impressive was the anthem, "Land of Hope and Glory," (Elgar), rendered by ladies choir. The solo part was taken by Miss Pearl Burns in full rich contralto voice. The rendition of this anthem was a spontaneous revelation of the strength of the inherent and latent patriotism of the women of our great British Empire. Another worthy contribution to the day's worship of music was the evening anthem, "Teach Me O, Lord." (Attwood).

It was announced the Sons of England would worship with the Baptist Church next Sunday morning and the Male Choir would lead the music at the evening service.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The subject of Rev. Hugh Miller's sermon at the morning worship was "Hearing ears". The scripture lesson was Matt. 13, verses 1 to 9, the parable of the sower and the seed and Rev. Mr. Miller's text was the 9th verse, "Who hath ears to hear let him hear". The anthem on the occasion was "The Lord is gracious."

In the evening the congregation listened to a powerful address by Rev. C. H. Huestis, D. D., who has been General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada for the past 25 years and is now retiring after a long and successful ministerial service. Dr. Huestis in a clear, eloquent and convincing sermon set forth the work being accomplished by the Alliance and its efforts not only in the prevention of all usual work on Sunday so as to ensure a day of rest for the people but also in the promotion of a due observance of the "Lords Day" and he called for the co-operation of every individual to aid in these necessary objectives. It may be of interest to note here that Dr. Huestis was honored at the recent Convocation of Mount Allison University by having conferred on him the honorary degree of L. L. D.

The flowers at the pulpit were in loving memory of the late W. T. Huggan and the announcement was made that the sacrament of the Holy Communion would be observed next Sunday morning.

Survey Flights Will Begin Today

NEW YORK, May 24 — (AP) — A great four-engined flying boat will cruise 783 miles out over the Atlantic Ocean tomorrow just to see how things look. Another will wing those 783 miles northwestward on the same approximate rounte and with the same purpose, and "sit down" on Long Island Sound.

The two flights will mark the actual start of survey flying between the American mainland and the British Island of Bermuda, looking to the eventual establishment of regular transport service.

The flights by Pan American Airways' "Bermuda Clipper" and Imperial Airways flying boat "Cavalier" will take approximately six hours.

The two companies plan to work in concert, with alternate schedules, in establishing the transport service.

"MAYTIME" A TRIUMPH FOR EDDY AND MACDONALD

"Maytime," based on the unforgetable Broadway play by Rida Johnson Young, came to the Prince Edward Theatre Monday enhanced tenfold by the vaster resources of Hollywood and the artistry of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer workmen.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy are the stars and John Barrymore appears in his first role since Romeo and Juliet," now being road showed throughout the country. Lynne Carver, a screen newcomer, has the juvenile feminine romantic part with Tom Brown.

Noel Langley adapted the piece and the songs were written by Sigmund Romberg, composer of the original Broadway score, with Herbert Stothard, who composed the first screen operetta, "Czaritza," which occupies a melodious sequence.

Hollywood's "Maytime" is a lavish thing, beautiful to see and lovely to hear. Obviously, it was possible to attain a breadth of background that was impossible an any stage.

Hunt Stromberg and Robert Z. Leonard who respectively produced and directed last year's screen hit, "The Great Ziegfeld," occupied the same positions on the production of "Maytime." They have gone to even greater lengths and the result delighted a capacity audience here.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy add to the laurels they won in "Naughty Marietta" and Rose Marie." Their song together, "Will You Remember?" from the stage play, is unforgettable. Miss MacDonald also sings two complete operatic arias and parts of others Eddy sings three excellent novelty songs, "Students' Drinking Song," "Vive L'Opera" and "Virginia Ham and Eggs." Together, they give a beautiful rendition of the folksong, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

"Maytime" is an auspicious beginning for the new year. It sets a spectacular pace for Hollywood to follow in the months to come.

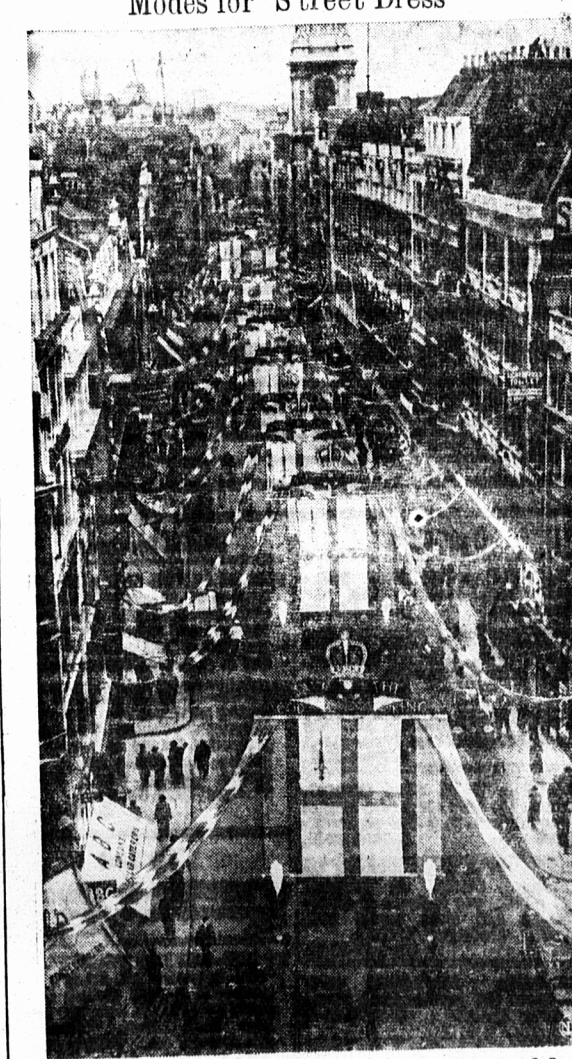
Another Angle on Coronation Fashions—Modes for "Street Dress"



London put on its finest "street dress" to greet King George and Queen Elizabeth in proper style during the coronation procession. In the prosperous business districts, like Cheapside (above), lavish displays of ornate banners, with miles of bunting streamers, paid tribute to Their Majesties.

Poor Vie With Rich to Make London Gay

The King and Queen weren't expected in Hoxton's poverty-ridden Esse street, but loyal Britains all, the residents chipped in pennies to buy th pennants and flags with which they have given their thoroughfare festive air that challenges the sumptuous displays of more fortunat qquarters.
