RAY MILLAND A RIOT IN TOPNOTCH COMEDY

The headache Ray Milland had in the memorable "The Lost Weekend" are pale indeed beside the things that happen to him in Paramount's new love and laugh film, "The Trouble With Women." This hilarious variation on a theme that has puzzled man ever since Adam swapped a rib for a mate, opens today at the Prince Edward Theatre with Teresa Wright and Brian Donlevy co-starring with Milland.

In "The Lost Weekend," Milland's enemy, alcohol, was at least curable. "The Trouble With Women" pits him against a foe that neither time nor science has ever been able to conquer—Woman.

Milland is cast as a book-wormish professor of psychology. He has written a book in which he states that some women must be dominated by their mates, the more violently the better. Miss Wright, playing a smart reporter, misquotes Ray as advocating wife-beating, and he promptly uses her paper for toilet paper.

Editor Brian Donlevy then assigns Teresa the job of getting Milland to drop the suit, and that's when Ray begins to get first-hand information about the trouble with women.

First and foremost, he learns they can throw punches, for he is soundly slapped by Miss Wright and Rose Hobart, who plays Ray's fiancée. More than that, he is attacked by an entire chorus of burlesque queens.

But the worm finally turns, does a little slugging of his own — Donlevy is his victim — and successfully proves his theory about the dominant male by sweeping Teresa off her feet.

In Memoriam

In fond and loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. George A. MacPherson who passed away July 24th, 1946.

She bade no one a last farewell She said good bye to none Her spirit fled before we knew That she from us had gone.

Remembrance is a golden chain Death tries to break, but all in vain, To have, to love, and then to part Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.

The years may wipe out many things But this they wipe out never The memory of those happy days When we were all together.

Lovingly Remembered by Husband and Family.

OUR P. E. ISLAND HOMES

On Prince Edward Island homesteads. Where golden sunbeams glance, And myriad hues, or greens, and blues, With shifting shadows dance.

To the music of the plough, and hoe, The rake, and tractor too, Where the healthy draught of farmland, Is slaked by the glistening dew.

Remmed in by placid waters, In nature's lap they lie, Warmed by the glowing sunlight Flashed from a radiant sky.

Blessed with bounteous harvests, A gift from His golden throne, In the midst of peace and plenty, Stand Prince Edward Island homes.

It matters not on land, or sea, Where'er we chance to roam, Our hearts go out in longing, To our P. E. Island homes.

—By Mary Catherine Christy (Returned to P. E. Island after 53 years residence in the United States.)
