

Write Your Name Win a Car!

Miss Margaret Saxton, Nurse, of Halifax, N.S., winner of a recent Turret CAR-A-WEEK CONTEST, and the presentation scene at Province House, Halifax.

AN EASY WAY FOR SOME CIGARETTE SMOKER TO GET A CHEVROLET STANDARD COACH FREE!

So little is required of contestants in this Turret Cigarette CAR-A-WEEK Contest that every cigarette smoker should enter each week's contest. Think of the reward—a Chevrolet Standard Coach—and all you need to do is write your name, address, province and occupation on the backs of the front panels from four Turret Cigarette (20's) packages. Surely the prize justifies this small effort every week—for if you do not win this contest, you may win next week or the week after.

IS WINNER OF THE 13th TURRET CAR-A-WEEK CONTEST

This week's (THE SIXTEENTH) CAR-A-WEEK CONTEST closes September 7, 1932. All entries mailed after that date will be entered in the next week's contest. The winner of this contest will be announced September 21, 1932.

The weekly prizes are awarded not for good writing but for writing which reveals character or temperament, unique or unusual features.

Mr. F. D. Jacob, for 15 years Dominion Government Graphologist; heads the committee of judges and gives free graphological readings to 100 other contestants each week.

The only condition of entry in this contest is that you write the following on the backs of 4 front panels from empty Turret Cigarette (20's) packages with portion of excise stamp attached—on the back of one panel, your name; on the back of another, your occupation; on a third, your street and town; and on the fourth, your province. Fasten the four panels together and mail, on or before the closing date shown above, to Turret Cigarette Handwriting Contest,

Around Pownal Bay

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Judson upon the arrival of a young son.

We are pleased to welcome the Rev. F. H. and Mrs. Littlejohns to Pownal and surrounding districts. Mr. Littlejohns, now stationed in Saint John, N. B., was a former beloved pastor on the Pownal circuit. Music lovers will be delighted to hear that he will play a violin solo in the United Church at Pownal next Sunday evening.

The Misses Alfreda and Leona Melish have returned to Waterside after visiting friends and relatives in Summerside as well as the Exhibition and races in Charlottetown.

His friends are pleased to notice that Mr. W. H. Drake of Waterside took first prize for hay seed, Mrs. Drake for wild strawberry preserves and Miss Helen Drake for an embroidered bed spread at the Provincial Exhibition in Charlottetown.

Mrs. Middleton of Highfield is the welcome guest of Mrs. Laura Clappe for the week-end.

The congregation of the United Church at Pownal were delighted with the singing of Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Raymond of Southport last Sunday evening.

IN MEMORIAM

J. J. MACDONALD

On the morning of Aug. 4th Mr. J. J. MacDonald, Glencoe, passed to his eternal home. Mr. MacDonald was a highly respected resident and esteemed by all who knew him. During his short illness of meningitis he was attended by his family physician, Dr. J. T. Collins, and visited frequently by his pastor, Rev. P. D. McGulgan, his uncle, Rev. John A. MacDonald, Grand River, and Rev. K. J. C. MacPherson, St. Margarets. In spite of all that loving hands did for him, he passed peacefully away at the early age of thirty four years.

On August 6th he was laid to rest in the family plot at St. Joachim's, Vernon River. His large funeral cortege bore eloquent testimony of the regard in which J. J. was held by the people of Vernon River and surrounding communities. Many indeed were the tributes laid upon his bier.

He leaves to mourn a sorrowing wife, Katherine MacDonald, two little daughters, Ann Marie and Katherine, also his mother, two brothers, Aeneas and Alex of Tignish, two sisters, Mrs. P. Murnaghan, Charlottetown and Eliza of Woburn, Mass., all of whom were present during his illness.

Solemn High Mass of Requiem

was sung by his uncle, Rev. J. A. MacDonald. The choir was assisted by Rev. J. B. MacLure, Tracadie and Dr. A. A. MacDonald, Souris. In the Sanctuary were Rev. P. D. MacGuigan, Rev. A. P. MacLellan and Rev. George MacDonald. The pall bearers were C. J. Bruce, Shaw MacMillan, Ernest MacDonald, J. A. Chisholm, Bernard MacPherson and Borden Fraser.

SAFETY TESTS OF GRANDSTAND MEASURE CROWD'S FORCE

When the home team's hero hits a home run and the roaring crowd jumps to its feet, a force of at least five pounds is exerted against each square foot of space in the grandstands. To resist such a strain, the stands must be built strongly, well over prescribed limits for safety, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Tests on a steel platform, six feet square show the stress of crowd movements and the part of the grandstand on which the greatest force is applied by the fans. More lateral force is developed by men in a sitting position than when standing. Greater forces are produced by three men than by nine, a capacity number for the steel platform which was suspended on rods like a lawn swing.

This is his first visit to his native place in twelve years. It is interesting to note that part of his course was taken at Stoneyhurst, England. He was the guest on Monday of Rev. G. J. MacLellan D.D., of Summerside.—S —BRIDAL SHOWER—The Misses Marion McLellan and Mary McCullough entertained a large number of friends at the home of Mrs. J. L. McCullough, on August 18th to tender a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ada Sullivan, whose marriage took place on Saturday morning, August 20th to W. Henry Noonan. Miss Sullivan was completely surprised when she entered the room to hear the wedding march being played. She was escorted to a seat tastefully decorated with nosegays. A large number of beautiful and useful gifts were opened by Miss Sullivan, assisted by the Misses Pauline Noonan and Mary McCullough, after which ice cream and cake were served. The ices being cut by Mrs. Roy Silliphant assisted by the Misses Marion and Patricia McLellan.

—NEW USE FOR FOX FUR—Mrs. John Arsenault, wife of a fox rancher at the east of Summerside, has found a new use for fox fur, her ingenuity and industry proving that even the fur shed by the fox at this time of year can be turned to account. It is usual in July and August to comb out the old fur from the foxes. This is generally burnt as it is usually dirty. Mrs. Arsenault carefully washed the combings and hung the wool out to dry. She next proceeded to card and spin it and was rewarded with yarn of a fine silky texture and dark grey in colour. Out of this Mrs. Arsenault knitted two pairs of gloves, one ladies size and one pair large enough for a gentleman's hands. They are beautifully soft and have the appearance of brushed wool. This is just another example of the industry and thrift of the Acadian women of Prince Edward Island.—S —ST. PATRICK'S INSTITUTE—Members of St. Patrick's Road Women's Institute met for their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Donnelly with an attendance of eleven members and three visitors. Meeting opened with Ode followed by Creed. Roll call was answered by "How to remove stains". Minutes of last meeting were read and signed. It was decided to shingle the body of the school, also a prize was offered for the best pupil in each grade in school for the year ending June 1933. $5.00 was voted for Sanatorium. A report of the convention was given by delegates. Mrs. J. Myers and Mrs. T. Brazil were appointed on Program. Mrs. Jas. Birt, Mrs. Frank Trainor on School Committee for next month. A contest was put on by Mrs. Walter Rogerson and won by Mrs. M. Handrahan. Meeting was brought to a close by National Anthem, after which lunch was served and a social hour spent. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Jas. Birt, roll call to be Pickling Recipes or Hints.

Says Germany Begins Where Canada Stops

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—(C.P.)—Canada is not sufficiently industrialized! Reversing the anti-machine philosophy of the east Nazi, Beydoun Bey of Beyrouth, who is touring North America, categorized Canadians as "insufficiently base about their industrial machines" and Canada too young industrially. The eastern prince in an interview here compared his Canadian observations with those made in the course of a tour through Germany. "They begin in a sense," he said, "where Canada leaves off. Here you are still in a worshipful attitude toward your machines. You remain ingenuously amazed by them. "Your printing press, for example. Crowds gather in the street to watch its whirling dies grind out newspapers. Perhaps, mildly, it is interesting. But surely to stand before a window for half an hour stupefied by the dizzy mechanical performance is to waste reverence on something that is more grateful for the attention of a greaser with an oilcan." Nazim Beydoun spoke lightly of the present economic stress. "The labor involved in making what man needs has been minimized," he continued. "When the working day is cut proportionately, which is to say, out to about a fifth of what was considered a regular working day before the machine age began, life will be gayer, richer than it was before. "There will be more leisure for everyone—and leisure is most desirable. In the east we live for it. We do not work to get very rich but to get what we need to enjoy our spare time." The interview started in French and was continued in English. "I like this continent and its people," he said, "but I must confess that I feel more at home in Europe. I believe it is because life here is too fast, too hard. Even at meal times one is obliged to hurry. It gives me indigestion."

Minard's is good for Neuritis, Aug. 29-31.

He had been dining far too well and, hailing a taxi, he crawled gingerly inside, after falteringly giving the river his destination. It happened that the opposite door had been left unclashed by the previous fare, and, stumbling against the inebriated one fell outside again. He picked himself up with great difficulty, and accented the highly amused driver. "That's pretty good work," he said, "how much do I owe you?"

The reader is often carried away by the author's train of thought.
