--and those who, getting up in years, have accumulated considerable wealth, are beginning to realize more and more the advantage of assigning the management of their many interests to the Trust Company.

Such men require advice regarding safe investments rather than speculations. The Company, owing to the nature of its business is in a remarkably favorable position to perform this service.

In the matter of rents, balances on agreements or other moneys due the estate, the Company, owing to its thorough organization, can much more effectively collect these than can the private individual.

McDonald, lobster packers, St. Margaret's are busily engaged hauling supplies for their factory.—Citizens are pleased to learn that two of Naufrage's most progressive young men intend opening up a blacksmith shop at Naufrage shortly. As these men are quite capable of work in that line of business, it is hoped they may be largely patronized.—A rather amusing incident occurred a few days ago while one of the farmers of Naufrage was engaged in hauling a load of firewood. His horses, very spirited animals, became unfastened from the sleigh on a steep grade, and so the driver was unable to hold them, and they continued on their homeward course while the load of firewood and driver glided backwards down the grade. The driver shouted "whoa" and the animals not unaccostumed to such familiar sounds suddenly halted, thus enabling the driver to get them fastened to the sleigh once more and proceeded home, none the worse of his amusing experience.—Mr. James A. McDonald, Naufrage, had the misfortune to have one of his fingers severely injured by a huge timber falling upon it, while engaged in lumbering.—Mr. and Mrs. Angus D. McCormack spent Sunday visiting friends at Fairfield.—Miss Mary E. Nanning and Miss Alice McKinnon, Naufrage, returned home after a pleasant week spent visiting friends at St. Peters.—Miss Mary A. Hanning and Miss Alice McKinnon, friends at Morell.*

A LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

To Mrs. Robert Dixon and family I extend deepest heart-felt sympathy in this season of sorrow and bereavement. I was much afflicted when I received the sad news of the sudden death of your loving husband and father and much more when a message of the death of your dear son and brother, George, followed a few days later. May God make known to you His power to calm the soul in the deepest trials, and strength to bear this deep bereavement. We know He doth not afflict willingly. 'tis the furnace that tries the metal and tis affliction that tries the soul, and may we not be reprobate silver. God grant that we may not murmur at His dealings, as Pharaoh who turned harder every blow God struck, even the loss of his first-born only hardened him, but may He grant that it may have wrought godly sorrow, which brings us to His feet, worketh repentance unto salvation not to be repented of. May Hosea 2 and 14 be fulfilled in you all, yes, He hath said I will cause you to pass under the rod and bring you into the "band of the Covenant." May the hearts of the bereaved be solemnized to realize the brevity of life, 'tis but a vapour, as the flower that flourisheth for a time, and then vanisheth away. How soon the joys and pleasures of this world pass away and that "one thing" is needful which Mary was wise in choosing even the "good part" which the world can neither bestow nor take away. May those words be comforting to you and may the great Comforter Himself be near and that you may be reconciled to His will and say "Not my will but Thine be done." I further extend a few words to the bereaved family either at home or abroad, you have been taught by our father to pray, and at that family altar he has pointed you to Christ, and may you be able to say: "Though dead he yet speaketh and the lines have fallen in pleasant places and I have a goodly heritage." I mourn for him as a "father in Israel;" as well as a loving uncle. To you who are left as widow, may you be consoled as David was when his son departed, he said: "I shall go to him but he shall not return to me." We shall meet in the great Home beyond where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are forever at rest."

Please accept those words of sympathy from a loving neice and cousin.

FLORRIE TODD.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ALEX. W. MATHESON

The funeral of the late Anne Matheson, wife of Alex. W. Matheson, took place from her husband's home in Glen William on Friday 27th ulto. The mortal remains of the deceased were laid to rest in the church grounds at Caledonia, whither they were escorted by the large number of sorrowing relatives and friends who had assembled to pay a last tribute of respect to one whom they had learned to highly esteem. Rev. A. J. McNeil, paster of the Presbyterian church at Murray River, conducted the funeral services both at the house and grave. During his discourse, while speaking of the character of her who in life had proven herself a model wife, a loving mother, a true friend, a consistent church member and a ministering angel in sickness, he paid a most touching and pathetic tribute to those grand christian and social virtues by which the deceased had endeared herself to the hearts of all with whom she had come in contact and which would long keep her memory green. The pall-bearers were John M. Cannon, John M. McDonald, William McPherson, Angus McPherson, Angus McLeod and James Collins.

SIX BALLOTS CHANGED FROM "DRY" TO "WET"

WELLAND, Ont., March 2.—In the temperance act scrutiny, which was continued here today the alleged switching of ballots at poll No. 2, Bridgeburg, was investigated. This is the poll over which E. Coulthurst, the deputy returning officer, was arrested.

Six ballots were found where the cross "for" had apparently been erased and changed from dry to wet. Two dry ballots were also found on which the cross had originally been marked wet apparently.

All the Tired Nervous Women

CAN FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Madame Perreault Tells How She Cured Her Kidneys With Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Found Health and Contentment.

Verner, Ont., March 2.—(Special)—"I am very content. Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me well." Those are the words of Madame Eugene Perreault, a highly respected lady of this place, and mother of a large family. For twenty years she was a sufferer. But, let her tell her own story.

"I was always tired and nervous," she states. "I felt heavy and sleepy after meals. My limbs were heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across my loins. My skin itched and burned at night. I had a bitter taste in my mouth, especially in the morning. In twenty years I hardly knew what it was to have a well moment. Then I commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes cured me."

Madame Perreault's symptoms were those of kidney disease. They are the symptoms of nine out of ten of the nervous, run-down, pain-racked women of Canada. Madame Perreault found a speedy and complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills. They simply cured her kidneys.

The Delicacy of Baby's Skin

Cold Air, Rough Winds, Strong Soaps Often Bring on Chronic Eczema.

More beautiful than the rose is baby's skin when in health, and so delicate that it is susceptible to anything which irritates. For this reason baby's skin troubles are many, and frequently chronic itching eczema is developed.

Nothing can be better for baby's skin, when irritated, than Dr. Chase's Ointment, and when eczema is developed you can apply this preparation with the knowledge that its wonderful record as a healer of the skin is due to the success it has proven in the cure of eczema.

The intense itching of eczema of the face and scalp is very hard for the little one to bear, and is a source of worry and anxiety to the mother. The itching parts are scratched, and nasty and colored scars are formed. Eczema naturally becomes chronic and spreads over the body. You can positively control eczema and cure it by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. What is better still is to use this ointment for all chafing and irritation of the skin and prevent eczema from getting started.

CAT SILENCED BELL ON HIS NECK.

NEW YORK, March 1—Commodore Nutt, pet cat of Major Cannon, of the quartermaster's department at Governors' Island, was deported Friday by military order for making the squirrels on the Island his favorite diet. He was canny in his mode of attack. He would roll a peanut near the squirrels and then lie in wait for a dvictim.

He was caught in the act, and reported to headquarters. Major Cannon was notified that Commodore Nutt must leave the island or else be provided with a bell. Thenceforth the tricky pet went about the island tinkling as he went. But the squirrels continued to die and a watch was set upon the commodore.

He was seen Thursday by a sentry creeping toward a chattering little animal. He was creeping on three feet. His left forefoot clutched the bell at his neck. When that bell tinkled it sounded the death knell of another squirrel. That settled the tenure of tabby's lease of life on Governors' Island. He was brought from Governors' Island today and cast into the outer darkness. He joined the great army of unemployed cats in New York City.
