

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY

VETERANS OBSERVE SEMI-CENTENARY OF THE BATTLE OF CHICKAMAUGA.

Just fifty years ago today the armies of the Union and the Confederacy faced each other in battle on Chickamauga Creek, in Tennessee, and began a series of engagements that were among the most spectacular and deadly in the history of warfare.

The semi-centenary of Chickamauga will be fittingly celebrated today and tomorrow by the Union veterans gathered in Chattanooga, Tenn., in the forty-seventh national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and by the Confederates who have met with them.

September 19 is the birthday of Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs in the Laurier administration, at Hamilton, Ont., 1839; and of Hon. Isaac Benson Lucas, Ontario statesman, at Lambton, Ont., 1867.

STILL PUZZLED BY ROBBERY. HAZLEHURST, MISS., Sept. 18.—The directors of the Bank of Hazlehurst heard the official explanation today of the rifling of the bank's vault while the employees of the institution watched a parade from the street.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Representatives of practically every important trade paper in the United States and Canada were gathered at the Hotel Astor in this city today when the eighth annual convention of the Federation of Trade Press Associations was called to order.

"A great new lot of little boys suits come in by express the other day. The prices are 2.75 3.75, 4.75, 5.00 and up. Bring in your small boy and let us fit him. Moore & McLeod 1553-9-18M31

"The finest Linens in the World are made by John S. Brown & Sons—The famous Shamrock Mills. This store is the P. E. Island Agent for this wonderful line—to get it is to know what perfection in linens means. Moore & McLeod 1553-9-M31

"Some more of the new English Hats for men—particularly the very handsome new soft hats—just in to day. Moore & McLeod 1553-9-18M31

"While attending the Exhibition it will pay you to call at the Two Macs at the headquarters for horse and cattle preparations, smokers' supplies, toilet articles and everything you could want in the line of good drugs and sundries. The Two Macs, 149 Great George St. M31

Governor of Canada about two years before, and had shown great tact, ability and statescraft in dealing with the many and varied problems then confronting Canada. Under his regime, in 1840, the Upper and Lower Provinces were reunited, and he had already taken the first steps toward the working out of a system of real responsible government when death intervened. In the opinion of most historians, Lord Sydenham would have found a conciliatory way out of the difficulties which were soon to bring about one of the most stormy periods in Canadian political history. His successor, Sir Charles Bageot, who assumed the governorship in the following October, attempted to carry on the Sydenham policies, but he, too, died before his work was more than commenced. The struggles for responsible government in Canada reached a crisis during the administration of Sir Charles Metcalfe, who assumed the governorship in 1843, and that of the Earl of Elgin. Among the many able statesmen who have governed Canada, Lord Sydenham is entitled to a place in the front rank, and his sudden death was a great blow to the country.

September 19 is the birthday of Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs in the Laurier administration, at Hamilton, Ont., 1839; and of Hon. Isaac Benson Lucas, Ontario statesman, at Lambton, Ont., 1867. On this date, Sir Alexander T. Galt, Canadian statesman, died in Montreal.

HAZLEHURST, MISS., Sept. 18.—The directors of the Bank of Hazlehurst heard the official explanation today of the rifling of the bank's vault while the employees of the institution watched a parade from the street. No light was thrown on the robbery, which is considered one of the most clever and daring ever committed in the State.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Representatives of practically every important trade paper in the United States and Canada were gathered at the Hotel Astor in this city today when the eighth annual convention of the Federation of Trade Press Associations was called to order.

WELLESLEY, MASS., Sept. 17.—Wellesley College girls may return to college this fall in tight skirts. The college and Albany Railroad had come to the rescue of the young women. Right in front of the Wellesley station more than a hundred laborers have been working for the last few days grading the tracks so that the distance between the car steps and the ground no longer will be three feet, as heretofore, but will be only one foot.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Among the passengers sailing for New York today was James Hope-Nelson, who is going to St. Louis to claim as his bride Miss Isabelle Valle of that city. The marriage will add another to the already long list of alliances between American girls and English gentlemen. The bridegroom elect is the eldest son and heir of Sir William Hope-Nelson, baronet, who is a wealthy steamship owner. It is understood that the wedding of Miss Valle and Mr. Hope-Nelson will take place in St. Louis early next month.

ROME, Ga., Sept. 16.—Seven residents of Chattooga county two of them young women and one a venerable Methodist preacher, are held in jail at Summerville without bail because of their efforts to settle out of court charges against two of the seven.

The prisoners are William Bagley, the Rev. A. Mulkey Hill, W. H. Dempsey, Washington Reynolds, his son, Benjamin Reynolds; William Hayes and his wife, Ethel Bagley Hayes, and a young daughter of William Bagley. All of them are accused of contempt of court. It is alleged that by the use of money and intimidation they endeavored to get witnesses to leave the jurisdiction of the court in a case involving an attack on the daughter of Washington Reynolds by young Hayes.

After making a promise of marriage young Hayes is alleged to have married Ethel Bagley, the daughter of William Bagley. Reynolds then made charges against Hayes and William Bagley refused to go on Hayes' bond. His bride in retaliation made accusations against her father.

The aged preacher, with tears streaming down his cheeks, begged to be freed under bail, saying he was merely trying to act as a peace-maker. Judge Jones, with a dignified request, all of the prisoners are accused of compounding felonies.

—THE COLONIALS.—The Colonial Stock Co. opened a three days engagement at Happyland last evening and notwithstanding the disagreeable weather there was a large attendance. The play presented by the Company was The Golden Rule and was well staged. All the different members of the Company played their parts exceedingly well, while the vaudeville between the acts, was as usual, a feature of the performance. Tonight they will play the English comedy drama A Fool and His Money which will no doubt draw a crowded house.—J.

—MR. WILLIAM ROSE.—The death occurred at Summerside on Wednesday evening of Mr. Wm. Rose. Deceased who was 29 years of age had been ailing for some time, but was able to attend to his business until Saturday last when he was forced to take to his bed and gradually sank until death took place as stated above. He leaves to mourn, his wife three small children, his father and mother residing in Bedeque, also six sisters and one brother. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's Cemetery and was largely attended. Services were conducted at the church and grave by Rev. J. C. McLean. J.

—LEVER, CE TODAY, WON FORTUNE 'FAME AND TITLE FROM SOAP'. Sir William Lever, the famous English manufacturer of soap who lately bought Stafford House from the Duke of Sutherland and presented the historic edifice to the nation as a museum, will celebrate his sixty-sixth birthday today. Soap grease and printers' ink were the ingredients used by Sir William in working out his formula for success. He was born in Lancashire and at sixteen began his business career in his father's shop at Bolton. Ten years later he laid the foundation of the great business which is now known all over the world, and which has made its proprietor a multi-millionaire and a baronet. The great soap works at Port Sunlight, Sir William's "model manufactory," are numbered among the "sights" of England.

—SAY "SMOKE" WILL RETURN. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Federal Judge Carpenter today approved the perfected bill in the appeal of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, convicted of violating the Mann Act and the document will be filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in a few days. Johnson's attorney declares he will return from Europe to Chicago when his appeal comes up next month.

CHARGE RAILROADS ALSO OPERATORS OF ANTHRACITE MINES

PERSEY CITY, September 17.—Testimony to show that the Lackawanna, Erie, Lehigh Valley, Philadelphia and Reading, and Central railroad of New Jersey directly or indirectly control the anthracite coal mines of the east, was given at the opening session here today of the New Jersey legislative committee appointed to investigate the alleged hard coal combine. There was put in evidence a circular alleged to have been issued confidentially at Philadelphia last spring which specifies the prices to be charged for coal in the following season.

Charles J. Roe, of Jersey City, counsel to the committee, said he would establish that the railroads named, not only controlled the mines but were actually engaged in coal mining. Harry L. Bellis, and investigator in the department of justice, and of the Pennsylvania Public Utilities commission, gave testimony tending to show the prices of coal were the result of an agreement between the railroad.
