DODGERS TIE UP SERIES HALTING YANKS 3-2

Wyatt After Shaky Star Hurls Brilliantly As Winners Come From Behind To Win

(By Judson Bailey, Associated Press Sport Writer) NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Brooklyn's battling, always courageous Dodgers fought their way from behind today to a 3-2 triumph over New York Yankees and tied the world series before another tremendous turnout of 66,248 fans.

John Whitlow Wyatt, tall and bald, this year's stand-out among all the National League's pitchers, turned the trick for the Dodgers.

The 32-year-old Georgia right-hander was pelted for nine hits by the Yankees, seven of them in the first four innings, but he seemed to get better as he went along and he never let the Yanks get wound up.

He was marvelous with men on bases and even though the Yanks managed to get at least two runners on the bags in six different innings Wyatt never lost his poise.

Ten Runners Stranded

A double by Tom Henrich was the only extra base blow he permitted and after the fourth inning he kept the batters virtually smothered. Altogether he caused the American League champs to leave 10 runners stranded.

The Yanks got to him for single runs in the second and third innings and made the spectators start thinking the duel was to be a second showing of yesterday's opener which New York won by the score 3-2.

But it was another Georgia boy, Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, who cracked first.

The Dodgers, who were held to six hits during the game, broke their bonds for two runs on a pair of walks and two hits in the fifth inning to tie the score and then punctured over the winning run and chased Chandler from the box in the sixth.

For four innings Chandler was masterful, fanning two men in the first inning and facing only the minimum 12 batters. When Joe Medwick singled in the second he was erased by the first of three Yankee double plays.

Then Chandler gave his first past to the first Dodger up in the fifth inning, Doph Camilli.

Medwick followed with a hard double that bounced against the low wall in left field, sending Camilli to third and Cookie Lavagetto to wait out another walk to load the bases.

Peewee Reese smashed a hot grounder to shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who threw to Joe Gordon in time to force Lavagetto, but Camilli scored and Reese was safe at first as Gordon's hurried relay bounced from the ground into John Sturm's glove and out again. Then Mickey Owen punched a ground single into left field for another run.

A fast double play on Wyatt pulled Chandler out of this jam, but in the sixth inning Gordon made a bad throw on Dixie Walker's grounder. Billy Herman singled him to third to rout Chandler, and after Johnny Murphy had fanned Pete Reiser, Camilli looped a single into right field for the winning run.

End of Winning Streak

Thus ended the domination of the Yankees in World Series play. They had not been beaten in the autumn classic since Oct. 9, 1937, when New York Giants captured their only game of that series. Since then the great combinations managed by Marse Joe McCarthy had won 10 straight series games and had swept two world championship series in straight sets in 1938 and 1939.

At the start today there was no reason to believe they weren't still on the same track.

Following today's encounter the scene shifts to Little Fiddlet Field, seating about 32,000, where the next three games are to be played.

Squarebriggs To Coach North Sydney

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 2.—(CP)—Johnny Squarebriggs of Charlottetown will be playing coach of North Sydney Victorias in the Cape Breton Hockey League this winter. Club officials announced tonight.

Squarebriggs, who played left wing on the Vics most of last winter succeeds Mickey Roach.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 2.—(CP)—Eddie Shore, manager of the American Hockey League entry, the Springfield Indians, arrived here today to make preparations for his team's three weeks fall training. Tomorrow the Indians will start two-hour practices twice daily.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—(CP)—An entry of more than 100 players will take off in the University of Toronto inter-collegiate golf championship tomorrow at the Glen Eagles club.

Neither manager was sure tonight of his starting pitcher for the next game. Lefty Maris Russo developed a troubled stomach this morning when he was in line for duty and McCarthy said he would take his turn tomorrow if he feels well. But otherwise the Yanks will rely on right-hander Atley Donald.

Manager Leo Durocher leaned toward his budding veteran, Fred Fitzsimmons, a knuckle ball specialist who has been with the Giants and lost both times.

However, speedball Kirby Higbe, who won 22 games this season was also a Brooklyn possibility.

YANKEES: Sturm struck out on four pitches. Rolfe dragged a bunt for a single. Henrich walked on five pitches. Dimaggio knocked a roller to Reese who threw to Herman to start a double play, Reese to Herman to Camilli. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Little World Series rained out

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—(AP)—Rain, falling in a steady downpour, forced postponement tonight of the sixth game of the little world series between Columbus Red Birds of the American Association and Montreal Royals of the International League.

The series commission ordered the postponement an hour and a half before game time. The Red Birds are leading three games to two by virtue of last night's 13-3 victory.

Manager Clyde Sukeforth of the Royals is expected to call Kemp Wicker to the hill when play resumes, while Burt Shotton of the Birds likely will use Sam Nahem.

Emotions Give Way As Dodgers Hold Celebration After Evening Up Series

(By Charles Dunkley) (Associated Press Sport Writer) YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Emotions suppressed and smouldering in the hearts of Brooklyn Dodgers for 24 hours gave way with terrific force after they beat the Yankees 3-2 today to even the world series.

Leo (The Lip) Durocher, foreman of the Dodgers, took personal charge of the joyous celebration in the clubhouse. He was joined by that fashion-plate, Larry MacPhail, Brooklyn president and general manager.

The Dodgers had just handed the Yanks their first defeat in their last 11 world series games and Durocher was elated over the achievement.

"We could just as well have had two right now as to have had this thing even," he began. "Good old Wyatt pitched a whale of a game. But those Yankees ain't seen nothing until they see what Kirby Higbe is. Higbe will definitely start tomorrow. He's got a curve that'll kill 'em."

MacPhail threw his arms around Durocher and gave him a bear-hug, declaring: "We've been doing nothing but bouncing back all year, and we'll keep right on bouncing. I feel pretty good about this series now."

Durocher said that either Higbe or Freddy Fitzsimmons would be his pitching choice tomorrow, and that it all depends on how Fitz's arm feels in the morning. He explained: "Fitz's arm sometimes tightens up in the morning, and if it's all right tomorrow he'll go. Otherwise it'll be Higbe. Higbe will definitely start the next day if I don't use him to-morrow."

Durocher had particular praise for the aggressiveness and hitting ability of Joe Gordon, the Yankee's sparkling second baseman. He declared that Gordon is the man to stop in the Yankee attack.

Gordon's home run and single were decisive in yesterday's game, while today he walked three times and got one hit.
