Compares Present And Pioneer Days

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug 4 (CP)--Second white man to homestead in Dauphin district in north-west central Manitoba. Duncan Cameron, looking over grain-handling equipment on a visit here spoke of the early days when there were no such facilities and crops were bartered. When Mr. Cameron went to Manitoba 47 years ago nearest rail points were 100 miles from his farm, cleared in the middle of uninhabited brush land 20 miles from the present town of Dauphin. Other settlers followed and soon the town of Gilbert Plains sprang up from a few rough-hewn buildings. At first crops were sold to new settlers for seed, and bartered to the Indians, mostly of the Chipewewa tribe. "Settlers brought their wheat to a small mill where it was ground into flour. The flour was taken to Lake Winnipegosis and traded for fish. The fish were brought back to the community and either sold or traded for other articles. If they were sold for cash then the farmer was paid in cash for his wheat," he said. When illness struck, it meant a quick ride to Dauphin for a Dr. Gunn, noted for his stable of fast horses. "If the doctor was away, we had to wait until he returned. Sometimes the doctor would cover distances of 20 to 30 miles in two and three hours."

Preaches More Than 65 Years

REGINA, Aug 4--(CP)--Oldest active minister at a convention of the Western Union of Baptists, Dr. C. C. McLaurin, of Calgary, has been preaching for 65 years during which he has only missed seven Sundays in the pulpit. Born and reared in the Ottawa Valley, 30 miles from Ottawa, Dr. McLaurin, hale and hearty and still a vigorous speaker at the age of 83, first came west in 1897 as pastor to the Brandon, Man., church. In 1908, he travelled from Carnduff to Edmonton via Regina and Saskatoon with a wagon and tent, organizing four churches along the route of his two months journey. Dr. McLaurin recalls "the smallest Baptist church ever to be organized in Western Canada." The church began functioning at Lavoie, Alta., 80 miles east of Edmonton, with total enrollment of four members. Now it has a membership of 40 or 50. During the years 1898 to 1923, Dr. McLaurin was the superintendent of Baptist missions for the west. A hard worker even today, he has just published a book entitled "My Old Home Church: A Story of the Ottawa Valley." Asked for what he attributed his good health and capacity for work, the veteran replied: "Today. For July the collections amounted to $4,716,728, which represented a decline for the month when compared with July, 1936, of $1,681,682."

Gain Shown In Tax Collections

OTTAWA, Aug 3--(CP)--Income tax collections for the first four months of the current fiscal year totalled $86,455,388, a gain of $13,972,214 over the corresponding period last year, a statement from revenue minister J. L. Ilsley said today.

BRINGING UP FATHER

In Memoriam

(Supreme Court Justice Humphrey Mellish 1862-1937)

Three score and fifteen years ago, Out of the finest clay on earth God fashioned a man. Gave him a body, clean and strong--

A body fit to be the living temple Of the cause he was to serve; Gave him an understanding heart; sympathy as deep as is the sea That dashes on New Scotia's rock-bound coast; Gave him a searching intellect so keen That he could grasp each problem as it came And find solution fair, humane and wise. Gave courage that would stand against a host. If conscience told him that his cause was just.

Then, that his soul might grow full strong God placed his feet upon a path so steep. That only one of valiant heart Might hope to scale the heights; And, to sustain him on the upward way, Gave him the priceless gifts of laughter, laced with tears, Of love, of Nature in her every mood. A love that ever calmed a mind perplexed. And fed the wellsprings of his energy.

God alone knew the travail of his soul; As student, fighting against heavy odds, As teacher, dreaming of a Promised Land Where every single woman, man and child Should have an equal opportunity. As lawyer, climbing with unflinching step The dizzy heights to which Ambition led.

Swiftly the kind years hurried on Bringing him honor, influence and place. A loving wife his friendly fireside blessed; Wider the circle of his friendship spread; Men sought, and not in vain, his counsel wise; The poor knocked at his door And never empty turned away; The prisoner at the bar looked unafraid

Into the eyes so merciful yet just. He gave his falling strength Unto the cause so deeply loved. Without a thought of self until he fell. As falls a soldier when his hour has come.

He fell. Not soon will men forget His gentle voice, his winning smile, His sparkling wit that warmed but never hurt, His true humility, the twin of greatness, In which he humbly walked before his God.

And in the years to come O'd folks will name his virtues o'er, And ever hold in loving memory The Judge who understood The frailties of tempted, stumbling Man, And by his love for weak humanity Bred life into the cold, relentless Law.

'Til it became what it was meant to be-- The People's safeguard, champion and friend. --Anne Alfreda Mellish.

Archbishop Of York Pleads For Christian Unity

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Aug. 3--The Archbishop of York opened the second World Conference on Faith and Order tonight with a plea for Christian unity in the face of a "resurgence of paganism" in the world.

Four hundred delegates are taking part in the meetings here which will last two weeks. Citing the aim of the conference, a united Christian front, the Archbishop declared the great obstacle to reaching that goal lay not among the people but among churchmen themselves.

He drew attention to the weakness of the church in "calling men to worship at rival shrines" and asked for "more understanding among Christians of deep unaltered traditions."

The delegates in their deliberations will discuss how best to meet the "rise of an aggressive anti-Christian movement in the past decade, the new power of the totalitarian state, and active anti-church propaganda among the youth of all nations."

The conference follows closely on the Oxford conference on church, community, and state. It is expected to nominate a committee of seven to work with the Oxford Conference Committee of seven toward the creation of a world council of churches, since the two conferences represent the two wings of the modern ecumenical (world-wide Christian) movement.

Outcome of the Lausanne conference, 1927, the present assembly will work specifically towards eliminating all obstacles in the way of Christian unity, which leaders believe they must study seriously if they are to retain the confidence of their flocks.

Work will go on in four main sections: the Christian doctrine of grace, the church and the word of God, the ministry and sacraments, and the Church's unity in life and worship.

Sea View and Vicinity

Haymaking season is about over the weather all through has been favorable and the crop proved to be much better than was predicted.

The hall in Sea View was filled to its utmost capacity on Sunday evening to hear Rev. Mr. Bridgewater who supplied for Rev. Mr. Fream, at the different parishes. Mr. Bridgewater gave an inspiring and helpful address and was listened to with a great deal of attention by the large congregation who were present.

The people of St. Stephen's Church of Burlington are having their church thoroughly renovated on the inside. This will make a great improvement and they hope to have it ready for the reopening in the early part of August.

Mr. Roy Adams, has opened a grocery store at Sea View corner, his many friends wish him every success in this undertaking.

The fishermen are finding the codfish very scarce for this time of year even the mackarel are hard to get and they are unable to supply the peddlars with the quantity desired for their customers.

Mr. Joseph MacGregor, is erecting a fine new barn at his residence in the place of the one that was destroyed in the gale last Autumn.

Many friends deeply regret to learn of the illness of Mrs. Sadie Campbell, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Crozier, Darnley. Miss Pauline Coulson, R. N. is attending her.

Mrs. John L. McKay, is spending a few days pleasantly with friends in Malpeque.

SWEET CAPORAL CIGARETTES "Do you believe in love at first sight?" "Of course--I fell for Sweet Caps right from the start!" "The purest form in which tobacco can be smoked."--Lancet

In Memoriam MR. EDWARD J. FRASER On June 17th, there passed away peacefully in the Charlottetown Hospital, a resident of Vernon in the person of Edward J. Fraser, at the age of sixty-three. His death came as a great shock to his friends and neighbors of Vernon and the surrounding districts, for he had gone to the Hospital on Sunday, June 13th, and died on Thursday evening June 17, from a heart attack. While in the Hospital he was quite conscious up to the hour of his death, and received the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church. Mr. Fraser was not in good health for the past two years yet he was able to be around and took an interest in all things pertaining to life. He was a very intelligent man in many ways and had an exceptionally good memory. There are left to survive: his wife, Mrs. Sadie Fraser; six sons, Russell, New York, Alan, of Boston, Mass., Harold, of Fort Augustus, Earl, Newman and son at home; two daughters, Gerald McQuaid, of Vernon, Mrs. Chas. Murphy, of Vernon. There are also two brothers, Judge A. L. Fraser, of Souris, A. A. Fraser, Vernon; and sister, Mrs. McIsaac, of Jersey, U. S. A. He was predeceased by one sister, Dr. A. J. Fraser, Beach and one sister, Mrs. Mouch Boston, Mass. Although the weather was favorable his funeral was attended to St. Joachim's Ch. Vernon River, on Saturday morning at nine o'clock. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. P. D. McGuire. Pall bearers were: Mr. M. Furness; Mr. Martin Room; Mr. Joseph Murphy; Mr. Jenkins; Mr. A. Sullivan and Trueman Jenkins. May his soul rest in peace. The "multiplication table" of home cook is--three teaspoons make one tablespoon; 16 teaspoons make one cup; two and half cups make one pint; five make one quart.
