LETTER TO R. L. BORDEN.

England's attempts to come to an understanding; and how New Zealand has handed over her dreadnought for service in the North Sea, thereby provoking the German press to great anger, as from Canada's procedure they were under the impression that Dominions were only megaphones.

-An occurrence took place at Alberton some days ago which looks very much like a dastardly crime. A horse owned by Mrs. George Murphy took sick and Mrs. Murphy's son was sent with one of the other horses to Alberton some three miles distant, for medicine. While waiting for the druggist the young man tied his horse to a post by wire fence. When he came out the horse was ying down, partly entangled in the fence. While in the act of getting the animal extricated a messenger arrived from Mrs. Murphy's saying the horse was dead and that there was no need of the medicine. As this message was being delivered the horse that had been extricated from the fence lay down and died. Dr. Lecky of Charlottetown was sent for and the horses' stomachs were removed and taken away for analysis. No report has been made but it is suspected that the animals were maliciously poisoned.—Exc.
