CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

(From F. B. McCurdy & Co's Private Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3—There were no fresh developments bearing upon cotton over the holidays of sufficient importance to overshadow the impression made upon sentiment by the prompt stopping of January notices here on Friday and a few January notices were issued but leading spot people were buyers of both January and March, it developed that over 103,000 bales had changed hands as a result of the notices last Friday and after some irregularity the market firmed up on the idea that after all there was no indication that the local stock was to be a burden but that on the contrary there was quite a sharp competition for its control. But such considerations as these were not enough to inspire fresh general buying and in the absence of outside support there was more or less irregularity. With the cables steady the market opened five to eight points higher, reacted slightly under local selling, then firmed up on the demand from spot interests and advanced after showing an advance turned easier again on rumors that early returns to the National Spinners Association showed 11,000,000 bales planned to January 1st. These rumors were not confirmed and the selling on them was not aggressive but March eased off from 15.07 to 14.99 and the market seemed to be uncertain in the late trading. W. W. PRICE.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

(From F. B. McCurdy & Co's Private Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3—The market opened moderate and about unchanged from Saturday's close. Shortly after the opening as there seemed to be but little demand for stocks the bears made a drive at prices and succeeded in forcing them down from 1 to 2 points all through the active list. The pressure was greatest in Steel, where some liquidation seemed to be brought about. Elsewhere but little long stock came out and the market soon began to harden, the Northwestern Stocks showing conspicuous strength. These were soon followed by Union Pacific, Reading and other actives and during the rest of the day the market held strong throughout with Union Pacific being the most prominent in the advance. Prices seemed to advance of their own volition and more owing to a scarcity of stock offered for sale than for any reaction on the part of the market. The rise along but it did not look as if the advance went far enough to cause very much alarm in that quarter as yet. The highest prices of the day were made in the last hour and after half past ten there was at no time any reaction worth speaking of. Call money opened at 6 per cent and loans were generally held strong at that figure which was the highest of the day. Later on the quotation eased off to 5 1/2 per cent. In the last few minutes the highest prices of the day were reached and the market closed active and strong throughout. Canadian Pacific last week closed at $28.66, 1/2. Increase $78,000. Total sales, 421,500. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

John G. Harker of Summerside is spending his Xmas holidays at Bonshaw the guest of C. W. Crosby, M. L. A.

The attention of shippers is directed to the advertisement of the Island Cold Storage Co., Ltd., which appears in this issue.

Miss Bessie McNeill, who is attending the U. C. C. here, is spending her holidays at the home of her parents A. A. and Mrs. McNeill, Nine Mile Creek.

Recently a meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. by several young men for the formation of an orchestra. Another meeting will be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

Misses Annie Campbell and Florence McKinnon have returned to the city after spending a very pleasant vacation at the home of the former's parents, Angus and Mrs. Campbell, Darlington.

A. S. Black, fur buyer of Truro, was in the city last week. He reports the fur trade in a very bad state, especially for racoon, skunk, and muskrat. Muskrat skins are not expected to average over twenty-eight cents at the January sales in London. The supply of "rats" seems to be greater than the demand, and lower prices are going to prevail for the balance of the season. While here Mr. Black went to Kensington and offered a fancy price for eight black foxes that were being shipped to London.

Mirth and happiness abounded at the home of Mrs. Taper, Queen St., on Monday, New Year's Day when her father and mother, F. H. and Mrs. Horne, held a family reunion, to which twenty guests were invited. The guests of honor were their three daughters, Mrs. Isaac Holman, York; Mrs. Bruce McMillan, Brackley Point Road, and Mrs. Taper, city, with their husbands and children, thus bringing together the three generations in a bond of dearest love. A jolly time was spent at the dinner and supper table, where Mrs. Taper's culinary efforts shone brightly. The tables were delightfully laid with the most substantial and appetizing dainties this happy season affords and Mrs. Taper, who was the experienced cook, most certainly have felt repaid for her efforts. In the evening hours social chat, music recitation and songs passed the time all too quickly and the violin music by Mr. Horne, accompanied by Mrs. McMillan, was a feature of the evening. At a late hour the family union broke up and it is the hope of their friends and the Guardian, that they may all be spared to celebrate this happy event for many future years.

Walter Mathieson, City, left on the mail special last evening for Monrovia to recommence his studies in McGill after spending the Xmas holidays in this city.

The Earl Grey met with considerable ice in Hillsboro Bay yesterday while there was practically nothing to hinder her from making a good trip while in the Straits. She took over 76 passengers.

Rev. T. H. Hunt, of King's College, Windsor, who has been spending the Christmas season at his home in St. Pleasant's, came to the city yesterday afternoon and left on the mail special last night on return to the College.

The Union services were held last evening in the Peoples' Church and St. Paul's School room. Both services were well attended and the subject was "The Layman's Opportunity and Responsibility." In St. Paul's Rev. T. W. Murphy, presided, Rev. T. F. Fullerton delivered the address, Rev. J. F. Floyd read the Scriptures and W. C. Turner, W. S. Louison and Rev. R. G. Strathie offered prayers. The excellent singing was a pleasant feature of the service.

CLOSING AT BONSHAW SCHOOL. On Friday, Dec. 23rd, Walter McNeill and Miss Katie McNeill, teachers of Bonshaw, held their half-yearly examination in the presence of a large number of friends and the ratepayers of the district. The school was artistically decorated for the occasion by the teachers and pupils, with spruce and Christmas bells. The

Dear Teacher— We, the pupils of Bonshaw School wish to convey to you a slight token of our affection and regard. What we offer you is but a poor symbol of our feelings, but we know you will receive it kindly, as a simple indication of the attachment which each one of us cherish for you. Please accept with our little gift our earnest good wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Signed on behalf of your pupils, Mr. McNeill, an entirely by surprise. Mr. McNeill, in a few well chosen words thanked his pupils for their kindness and expressed a wish that they might still do better work in the future than they have done in the past. Miss McNeill was presented with a valuable hand-bar by Ada Bell. The pupils and visitors were treated with confectionery by the teacher and the school was then dismissed. Mr. and Miss McNeill are to be congratulated on the success of their first examination and it is the wish of many that there may be more of such in the future to keep alive the interest of the ratepayers in the school, and to encourage both teachers and pupils.

Various classes were carefully examined in all subjects, by Richard McRae, teacher of Argyle school, and Harrison Villet, teacher of De Sable, both of whom expressed themselves very much pleased with the promptness with which all questions were answered, showing that the pupils were thoroughly taught by their industrious and painstaking instructors. The principal offered a prize to the pupil in each class, who was considered by the examiners to be the best student. The prizes were awarded as follows:— In the fifth grade to Bertha Carson, in the Senior fourth grade May Carson, in the junior fourth grade Harold Crosby. At the close of the examinations Mr. McNeill was presented with a beautiful pair of driving gloves and the following address was read by Patrick McManus:
