

MAXIMS
OF A MERCHANT

A business man must choose a route that not only gives good value to the customer, but that brings him into close touch with customers enough to make it profitable.

Annual Subscriptions Delivered $5.00
By Mail, Canada and U. S. A. $4.50

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

The People's Paper Read by Everybody

Covers Prince Edward Island Like the Dew

CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1928

MAXIMS
OF A
MERCHANT

Good fishing resorts are numerous, but unfortunately most of them are of the sort that the fishing is only good just before you get there and just after you leave.

Charlottetown Guardian Two Cents
Morning Edition, Founded 1887

591,000 PEOPLE LEFT CANADA DURING KING REGIME

During The Same Period Only Some 573,000 Have Been Brought Into Canada.—No Wonder Premier King Does Not Like To Hear About No Employment And People Leaving The Country, Declares Hon. R. B. Bennett.

ANTIGONISH, N. S. Aug. 8.—"Ability and their power to use every eye that Mr. King speaking out west legislative tool that we have to prevent I am talking the old thing, no vent the depletion of this part of work, no employment, about people Canada, or any part of Canada, and leaving this country. Well I am going to develop Canada for Canadians."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

So stated Hon. R. B. Bennett, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Minister of the Interior, in a speech at the completion of the Nova Scotia tour of his summer speaking Government came into office it had to do it until he gives place to a government that will keep people Mess Left by Late N. S. Government here."

CUSHENDUN NAMED IN HIS PLACE

British Secretary for Foreign Affairs Sir Austen Chamberlain Suffering from Attack of Pneumonia.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has been ordered to take a complete rest in order that he may recover completely from the attack of bronchial pneumonia under which he has been suffering.

This became known today when an official communique was issued designating Lord Cushendun as acting Foreign Secretary. Lord Cushendun will represent Great Britain at the September meeting of council and of the assembly of the League of Nations.

The signing of the Kellogg Pact in Paris late this month was not mentioned in the communique, but it is thought certain that Cushendun's signature will appear on that document.

The communique said: "The King has approved the appointment of Lord Cushendun as acting Foreign Secretary during the temporary absence of Sir J. Austen Chamberlain. Owing to his recent illness, Secretary Chamberlain has been ordered to take a complete rest before resuming his official duties. Lord Cushendun will also take Mr. Chamberlain's place at the pending meetings of the Council Assembly of the League of Nations."

Funeral Of Mrs. Mary L. MacMillan

The body of the late Mrs. Mary L. MacMillan was laid to rest Tuesday in Indian River Cemetery.

The funeral left the residence of her son, Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan at eight o'clock in the morning for St. Mary's Church, Indian River, where service began at ten o'clock.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated by the venerable Monsignor D. G. Gillis, assisted by Rev. A. J. McInnis as Deacon, Rev. J. MacDonald as Sub-deacon, and Monsignor Maurice MacDonald as Master of Ceremonies.

The following clergymen were in the Sanctuary, Reverends W. V. MacDonald, P. L. McMahon, Francis MacDonald and W. M. McGuigan.

The choir was assisted by Rev. Dr. Bernard Gillis and Rev. Dr. M. J. Smith.

The pall bearers at Charlottetown were J. D. Stewart, M. L. A., Sixtus McLellan, W. C. S. McLure, M. L. A., D. J. MacDonald, P. W. Clarkin and William Moran, and at Indian River, Peter S. McIntyre, T. A. Dris-J. A. MacDonald and L. B. Millan.

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

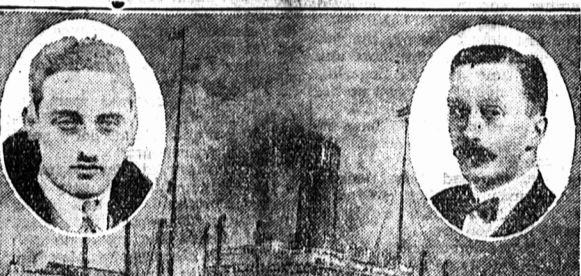

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Rescues Trans-Atlantic Flyers

Buffeted about by waves in their fragile seaplane in mid-Atlantic, Capt. Frank T. Courtney, E. B. Hosmer, of Montreal, son of a former Dominion-wide financier, his financial backer, Fred Pierce, mechanic, and E. W. Gilmour, of Glasgow, wireless operator were succored by the Atlantic Transport liner Minnewaska a few days ago. Capt. Courtney and the other three were attempting a flight from the Azores to Newfoundland when their machine fell in flames into the sea. By the aid of their small radio set the Minnewaska found them after she left her course to go to their aid. The Minnewaska was due in New York on August 6 with the rescued fliers. Photograph shows the Minnewaska and, inset left, Capt. Courtney; inset right, E. B. Hosmer.

PHOTOS BY WHITE STAR LINE

YOUNG AMBASSADORS OF EMPIRE WELCOMED TO PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

British Boys And Girls Had Brief But Enjoyable Stay As Guests Of Allied Newspapers Of Great Britain And Canadian National Railway s.

The Young Ambassadors of Empire of the Country they had so far seen, as well as the great hospital-ity which had been extended them by all they had met since their arrival in Canada.

One of the party, Mr. Beattie of Fife County, Scotland, expressed his delight with the beauty of the Island which reminded him, in its pastoral loveliness of many parts of the Old Land, both in England and Scotland.

Although yesterday, the day of their arrival did not seem very hot, even to Prince Edward Islanders, to whom really hot weather is exceptional, Mr. Beattie said that such a day would be considered a record breaker for heat in the part of Scotland from which he comes.

Upon their arrival in Charlottetown, the Young Ambassadors were met by Premier Saunders, Mayor Yeo and members of the City Council, and were conveyed to the Victoria Hotel where luncheon was served.

The visitors were guests of the Victoria for dinner, the guests of the Premier and Provincial Government.

There a short address of welcome was delivered by Premier Saunders who reviewed the provinces of Canada and Prince Edward Island in particular, conveying to the visitors the salient points concerning our people and our industries.

Miss Ruth Newbigging of Ayrshire and Mr. John Hackman of the University of London thanked Prince Edward Islanders for their hospitality, the latter observing that the end of the first thousand miles of the journey was well marked by their stay in this province.

The Premier's sentiments of welcome were re-echoed by Hon. W. M. Lea, and Mr. Lindsay in complimentary remarks referred to the invigorating atmosphere of the new land and the inspiration drawn from it by the "Young Ambassadors."

Pleasing music during the dinner was supplied by Wagner's Orchestra.

Over 350 attended the informal ball given by Lieutenant-Governor.

(Continued on page 3)

(To Be Continued)

(To Be Continued)

(To Be Continued)

FLAT RIVER POLITICAL MEETING

Mr. MacLean Conservative Candidate Makes Excellent Impression on Large Audience.

The hall at Flat River was filled with a capacity audience to hear the candidate and other speakers discuss the issues of the coming by-election.

All the speakers received an excellent hearing. Mr. MacLean, as at previous meetings made a most favourable impression on those present.

Mr. John J. MacDonald having been appointed chairman, the first speaker of the evening Mr. W. E. Bentley proceeded to address the meeting. As before, he confined himself to a discussion of prohibition enforcement and the liquor question. There was, he felt, a spirit of pessimism abroad as to the possibility of stopping the sale of liquor—a feeling that those who wanted it would always get a drink, and that they could not be stopped.

Enforcement should follow violation of the prohibition law. But at present this was not being done. If violators were punished, he claimed, the law would then be fulfilling its purpose.

He went on as before to charge the government with violating the law by the improper issue of Doctors' scripts, and again related the story of the banquets in Charlottetown hotels, when liquor was served on the table. Asked by Mr. Duffy to read a letter wherein he had confirmed the commission of this even their warmest expectations, and they hoped one day to be able to repay it.

Mr. George Walsh Smith another member of the party, also expressed his thanks for the wonderful reception which they had everywhere been accorded.

Mr. Lindsay (London) one of the conducting officials stated that previous speakers had said all that was to be said. On behalf of the Young Ambassadors he extended his thanks also, and expressed his appreciation of the excellent treatment and courtesies extended by the Cunard Line and the Canadian National Railways.

He felt that it was a good thing for Canada to see fifty people of this particular kind here. There are fifty ordinary, normal, British children from all parts of the country, who only wish they could meet scores and scores of Canadian children—something hard to do, as the schools are closed.

Mr. R. H. Jenkins, M. P., felt sure that in every province of Canada they would be received with outstretched arms. "We in Canada," he said "are one of your bone and flesh of your flesh, and I think that as you go over Canada you will be expressed by the loyalty of Canadians."

He heartily welcomed the party and felt that, as the days go by, they would feel more and more that the time put in there had been well spent.

Following the luncheon, the visitors were conveyed to the Provincial Building where a reception was held in the Confederation Room. The "Young Ambassadors" had their pictures taken, and the party was conveyed by auto to the centres of interest about the city and country. Some went to the sea-shore, others to fox ranches, while tennis was enjoyed by a large number. At seven o'clock the party returned to the Victoria for dinner, the guests of the Premier and Provincial Government.

There a short address of welcome was delivered by Premier Saunders who reviewed the provinces of Canada and Prince Edward Island in particular, conveying to the visitors the salient points concerning our people and our industries.

Miss Ruth Newbigging of Ayrshire and Mr. John Hackman of the University of London thanked Prince Edward Islanders for their hospitality, the latter observing that the end of the first thousand miles of the journey was well marked by their stay in this province.

The Premier's sentiments of welcome were re-echoed by Hon. W. M. Lea, and Mr. Lindsay in complimentary remarks referred to the invigorating atmosphere of the new land and the inspiration drawn from it by the "Young Ambassadors."

Pleasing music during the dinner was supplied by Wagner's Orchestra.

Over 350 attended the informal ball given by Lieutenant-Governor.

(Continued on page 3)

TOUCHING SCENES ON PILGRIMAGE OF WAR VETS

With The Prince Of Wales As Its Central Figure, The Pilgrimage Is Becoming A Demonstration On A Large Scale Of Anglo-French Friendship. — Touching Service At Vimy Ridge.

LILLE, France, Aug. 8.—The pilgrimage of the British war veterans with the Prince of Wales as its central figure is becoming a demonstration on a large scale of Anglo-French friendship.

The popularity of the Prince is being constantly demanded as for instance at Bethune today. The Prince found himself free for 15 minutes after a ceremony and descended to the street with the prefect. As he walked bare-headed in the sunshine around the square he was greeted by a tornado of cheers from the populace while heads were craned from every available source at windows and on roofs.

Pending tomorrow's great ceremony at Menin gate there was a touching service this morning on the highest point of Vimy Ridge, where the imposing light house mortuary, and the still uncompleted memorial church stands above the French dead who lie in 34,000 graves about the hillside. A light is always burning at the top of the lofty tower beneath which repose the remains of a vast number of unknown French soldiers.

Here in the presence of Generals Weygand, Gouraud and Petain, and a host of notable officers, Colonel John Brown, representing the British Legion, placed a memorial wreath while the national anthems were played. The wreath was inscribed "To the unending memory of France's glorious dead from their comrades of the British legion. We shall never forget the friendship forged in fire."

At the conclusion the whole party marched in procession, headed by playing bands, to Vimy where all were entertained at luncheon.

fact, he refused to read the letter. Such incidents had a very poor effect in respect for the law. He enlarged considerably on this incident, and scorned the government for not living up its promises, saying that they, through the commission, were encouraging the sale of liquors, by making it easy to sell scripts. There should be a proper supervision of the issue of these scripts, to see that they were issued solely for medical purposes.

He charged that a year ago doctors' certificates signed in black, were being publicly hawked about the streets of Charlottetown.

In substance, his address was practically the same as those delivered by him at Wood Islands and at Iris.

A gentleman arose in the audience and scored Mr. Bentley from the slight which he had done to the Saunders Government, claiming that they had improved the poor roads—a legacy of the Stewart Government. He also claimed that anyone who wished to work on the roads would always find work enough.

He closed his speech with an appeal to the meeting for their support on the fifteenth.

Mr. MacLean thanked the electors for the support they had accorded him in the last elections. The Conservatives he said were in a position of not having to retract any statements or apologize for what they had then put forward.

Mr. Bentley's addresses, in themselves, were proof of this.

The speaker went on to criticize his machines of the previous meeting by Mr. McIntyre, in which he claimed that taxes should be increased.

As to the roads we had the best roads in the sections where the taxpayers asked the government to keep its machines off the roads. He was prepared to admit, however that the department of Public Works had done some good work; on the roads. A young man in the south of the district was especially efficient in this regard. Belfast district was indeed fortunate in having a by-election, as this insured plenty of work being done in the district. He went on to score the method of ordering machines over the telephone, and asked what had become of the $21,000.00 commission.

Since the Saunders Government came into power, he asserted, the country had gone into debt $460,000.00. The money had been spent whether borrowed or not.

It is all very well to say any one can find work on the roads. But that is not the way the act reads. The Bell Government was an outrageous government. But compared with the Saunders Government, which was perhaps the reason why Mr. Lea delved so deep into their record the other night.

It was not so much the extra taxation, which enraged the people at the time of the Bell Government, to answer Mr. Lea. It was taxation imposed in violation of pre-election pledges.

As to the technical school, so highly praised by Mr. Lea, that had been a total failure, as the people would not patronize it. All the grants were ridiculously small.

He dealt with the incident of the resolution foisted on the Central Farmers Institute last winter, asking that the county fairs be withdrawn. Two representatives of the department were present to see that it was put through.

(To Be Continued)

GENE TUNNEY ENGAGED

(Canadian Press) SOUTH BRISTOL, Maine, Aug. 8.—Formal announcement of the engagement of Gene Tunney retired heavyweight champion to Miss Josephine Lauder of Greenwich, Conn., was made here today by Mrs. George Lauder, Jr., mother of the girl.

The formal announcement followed rumors of the engagement that have been prevalent since the heavyweight title holder defeated Tom Heeney, New Zealand challenger, July 26 and a few days later announcement of his retirement from the ring. Tunney is visiting at the summer home of the Lauder family here.

Mr. Bruce, who followed Mr. Bentley endorsed the record of the Saunders Government, claiming that they had improved the poor roads—a legacy of the Stewart Government. He also claimed that anyone who wished to work on the roads would always find work enough.

He closed his speech with an appeal to the meeting for their support on the fifteenth.

Mr. MacLean thanked the electors for the support they had accorded him in the last elections. The Conservatives he said were in a position of not having to retract any statements or apologize for what they had then put forward.

Mr. Bentley's addresses, in themselves, were proof of this.

The speaker went on to criticize his machines of the previous meeting by Mr. McIntyre, in which he claimed that taxes should be increased.

As to the roads we had the best roads in the sections where the taxpayers asked the government to keep its machines off the roads. He was prepared to admit, however that the department of Public Works had done some good work; on the roads. A young man in the south of the district was especially efficient in this regard. Belfast district was indeed fortunate in having a by-election, as this insured plenty of work being done in the district. He went on to score the method of ordering machines over the telephone, and asked what had become of the $21,000.00 commission.

Since the Saunders Government came into power, he asserted, the country had gone into debt $460,000.00. The money had been spent whether borrowed or not.

It is all very well to say any one can find work on the roads. But that is not the way the act reads. The Bell Government was an outrageous government. But compared with the Saunders Government, which was perhaps the reason why Mr. Lea delved so deep into their record the other night.

It was not so much the extra taxation, which enraged the people at the time of the Bell Government, to answer Mr. Lea. It was taxation imposed in violation of pre-election pledges.

As to the technical school, so highly praised by Mr. Lea, that had been a total failure, as the people would not patronize it. All the grants were ridiculously small.

He dealt with the incident of the resolution foisted on the Central Farmers Institute last winter, asking that the county fairs be withdrawn. Two representatives of the department were present to see that it was put through.

(To Be Continued)

(To Be Continued)

Announcements, Coming Events, Meetings, Etc

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR now procurable in Gingham or cotton bags. All Grocers. 7-14-1f.

Club meeting Cornwall Rink Friday, 10th.

The Albany Shipping Club landing hogs and lambs Aug. 16th, instead of August 9th.

Come to the Clam Social in Summerfield Hall Thursday evening August 9. 6993

Meeting of Belfast Farmers' Institute Aug. 10th. Taking orders for Bindertwine. 6987-8-9-21

Warning. Borden Hall tonight. Biggest comedy shown yet. New laughs. French River Friday; 6910 on Saturday.

Come to dance in Kinkora Hall Friday evening August 10th. 6957-8-8-21

Reserve Saturday, August the 11th, for the tea-party at Stella Maria chapel North Rustico. All kinds of amusements. 6963-8-8-41

Come to Dance at C.M.B.A. Hall Vernon River Friday, Aug. 10th. 6966-8-8-31

Remember the Tea at Cavendish Aug. 15th. 6965-8-8-31

Perian Beauty Shoppe. The Corner of St. George and Euston St. Shampoo, Facials, Scalp Treatments, Marcel Waving, Water Waving and French Curl. For appointments phoned 1157. 61

Come to the Ice Cream Festival and dance in West St. Peters School house Friday evening, Aug. 10. 6942-8-7-31

Come to Ice Cream Social and Dance on Southport School Grounds, August 9th. If not fine Friday night. 6926-8-7-31

Reserve Saturday, August 11th for the big tea party at St. Peter's. 6813-8-1-81.

Loading hogs, lambs and cattle Tuesday, August 14th at Millview. Live at once. Ugg Club loading name day. All orders for twine to be in by August 13th. Slanned. Sec. in by Millview Live Stock Society of Millview. 6982-8-9-41.

I SEE WHERE THE CANNIBALS NOW USE MIDGE'S FOR APPETIZERS

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—Maritime east and southeast winds, cloudy with occasional showers.

Toronto, clear	82-68
Montreal, cloudy	65-64
Quebec, rain	74-62
Charlottetown, fair	73-59
Halifax, cloudy	64-46
Boston, cloudy	68-54
Saint John, fair	68-54
Boston, cloudy	64-58
New York, cloudy	73-69
High tide this afternoon at 4:36.
Sun sets this evening at 7:21
and rises tomorrow morning at 4:54.
New moon Wednesday, Aug. 15th 9:25 a. m.
Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown.

Condensed Specials

RATE—6 per word, net each insertion in this column.

CHOICE CORNER BEEF FROM stall-fed cattl. Saunders, Newswomen & Co. 5-8-1f

JOB PRINTING OF EVERY description, cheaply and expeditiously executed. Guardian Central Job Printery, Phone 132.

YOU WANT GOOD ENVELOPES. Prices 50 for 20c; 100 for 35c; 250 for 55c; 500 for $1.00; 1,000 for $1.85. Postpaid. Guardian Office, Guardian Job Printery.