Dear Sir:—On the 27th September—Our President of Sun Life of Canada, Mr. Robert Macaulay, died at 12.45 today funeral Thursday—Sun Life of Canada.

Many in this Province will learn with regret of the death of Robert Macaulay, President of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

Mr. Macaulay was well known on this island, as for a great number of years he spent his summer vacation at the North Shore of this Province.

The late Mr. Macaulay was born in January 1833, and has had over sixty one years connection with Canadian Life Assurance work, which has made him the dean of the life assurance profession in the Dominion.

Of this long period more than forty-one years has been devoted, with rare singleness of aim, to the service and upbuilding of the Sun Life of Canada.

The late Mr. Macaulay has seen the Sun Life of Canada attain world-wide power under his guidance; he has seen its assets grow from $130,000 to $70,000,000 he has seen the assurance on its books increase from $1,500,000 to over $250,000,000.

Today the Company operates actively under twenty two flags in forty six countries and upon four continents.

The Sun Life of Canada today is a monument to the life-work of its chief executive officer; for the phenomenal progress of the Company, from the struggling infancy in which he found it, to its present premier position among Canadian life companies, is in no small measure due to the executive capacity, the indomitable courage and tireless energy of Mr. Robert Macaulay.

HAY ARRIVES SAFELY IN FRANCE

Mr. Ed. Nicholson, 4 Pownall Street, Secretary of the L. F. U., while engaged in the handling of hay that was shipped from Charlottetown several weeks ago to France, put his address in one of the bales with a desire that the finder would kindly acknowledge it. The other day Mr. Nicholson received the following letter in reply:—

No. 245, Pte. Road, May, 15 Section, 2nd Labor Co. No. 2 Base P. O., B. E. F., France.

Sunday, Sept. 15th, 1915. Dear Mr. Nicholson: Having had the pleasure of finding your address in a bale of hay, while unloading same, I have much pleasure in writing, hoping to find you and all the lads in the best of health, as it leaves me and my pals all alive and kicking. I suppose you only put your address in a bale on chance to see if we boys did really unload it. I can assure you that I have many boys all out here doing our bit for the motherland to get freedom and liberty, and I can assure you the lads from your home are doing famous work out here. Here's good luck to the boys of the Maple Leaf, and may we soon bring them home victorious and successful conclusion.

With best wishes from the lads of the Army Service Corps, No. 2 Labor Company, I remain Yours faithfully, ROBERT MAY, P. S.— Hoping to have a line from you soon.

(The above letter indicates, of course, the safe arrival of the steamer which left here with hay and oats.)

PROF. J. T. THOMPSON GIVES MUSICAL RECITAL IN FITCHBURG, MASS.

HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED BY PRESS OF THAT CITY, MISS HAZEL BREMNER OF CHARLOTTETOWN TOOK PART IN PROGRAMME.

Professor J. T. Thompson, who has been spending a holiday in some of the Eastern American cities, returned Tuesday morning to his home in Fitchburg, Mass., he gave an organ recital after the Sunday evening service in the Rollstone Congregational Church. The Fitchburg Daily Sentinel reports the recital as follows:—

The auditorium of the Rollstone Church contained a very large audience Thursday evening for the recital by Prof. J. T. Thompson, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., in which he was assisted by Miss Hazel Bremner, soprano, and director of the Rollstone church choir. Prof. Thompson is in Fitchburg visiting friends and generally enjoying his stay at Fitchburg, even though it was a laborious interruption of the time which he had taken for an entire relaxation from his duties. Through this recital, it was made known to appreciative listeners, that Charlottetown can be accounted as fortunate in having as a resident musician a student a lover of his art as Prof. Thompson, who made evident during the performance of the programme Thursday evening, that he is an instrument of an uncommon order, and that he is one to whom the sort of music that is revealed through the diligent paths of assiduous and sympathetic study.

The programme played by Prof. Thompson was of a varied character and very interesting, several of the numbers consisting of arrangements of well known works, by the performer, and those of his own composition. Without detailed specification, mention may be made of the skillful and happy arrangement of selections from Wagner, Tannhauser and Lohengrin, which were woven into a piece which carried with it a certain logical connection, and sequence of mood and sentiment. The arrangement opened with the Pilgrim's chorus, after which the modulation brought in the beautiful song, "O Star of Eve," which sweeping into the pomp and splendor of the grand organ, gradually subsiding into the prelude, bridal music of Lohengrin, and ending with the stirring music of the grand march. The selection was one of the very few arrangements from other works which in its orderly development and beauty furnished its own reason for being. Prof. Thompson also played a descriptive fantasy of his own composition, entitled "A night at sea," which gave opportunity to show his command of the resources of his instrument, and in which the imagery presented to the mind pictures that were well marked and easily recognized. An interesting number was the example of old English organ music by Dr. Armes comprising an andante for the slow movement, a minuet, and gavotte. The simplicity of construction as compared with modern works was as marked as the difference between Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield" and the fiction of George Meredith or of Arnold Bennett.

These references cover only a part of the attractive programme presented by the organist to the great enjoyment of the audience, and which would have received more outward manifestations of appreciation, if conditions of time and place had permitted. The pleasures of the recital were enhanced by the singing of Miss Hazel Bremner in her solo, the first of which "I will extol thee by Costa and the second "I know that my Redeemer liveth" from the Messiah. These were sung by Miss Bremner with great beauty of tone, the middle register of her voice displaying a rich and appealing quality. They were sung too with artistic brilliancy and with no attempt to exaggerate the effects.

DEPRECATES THE SCOLDING SPEECHES

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 29.—General Sam Hughes, who, at Merivale, last night made a criticism of recruiting methods throughout Canada, indulged in some further comment this morning. "A great many protests are coming to the department," he said, "against the character of some of the platform recruiting campaigns. Some of the utterances that are made there tend to antagonize rather than to encourage recruiting."

The minister deprecates attempts to secure enlistments by abusing men into joining the ranks.

PREPARATIONS OF GREECE FOR WAR

LONDON, Sept. 30.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company filed yesterday says:—"Bills proclaiming a state of siege in Macedonia, providing help for the families of men called to the colors and providing a credit for $150,000,000 Drachmas ($30,000,000) to meet the expenses of mobilization, were enthusiastically applauded and voted at a sitting of the chamber today. Premier Venizelos, who was given an ovation, stated the reasons why Greece was mobilized and emphasized the gravity of the situation. Former Premier Gounaris expressed his approval of M. Venizelos' declaration."

EXPLOSION IN A GERMANY FACTORY

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 30.—The paper Dagens Nyheter, on the authority of a business man who has just returned from Germany, says that a great explosion occurred in an ammunition factory at Wittenberg, Prussia on August 23. Two hundred and forty-two workmen were killed and many injured.

JOFFRE AND FRENCH MAKE REAL TEST OF GERMAN RESISTANCE.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The British commander in his message to the Lord Mayor added that his message encouraged his troops to push the immediate success to a really decisive issue. "This leads the public to believe there is to be no statement such as followed the battle of Neuve Chapelle, but that, with new British forces in the field, and ample supplies of ammunition, Joffre and Field Marshal French plan a real test, whether the German resistance in France and Belgium can be broken. Russia, though encouraged by the progress of her allies in the west, has not been doing so well in the last day or so. The Austrians have attacked the Russian advance in Southern Poland and retaken Lutsk. The Germans are renewing the great movement against Dvinsk."

"RANJIT" VICTIM OF A HUNTING ACCIDENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—That "Irony of Fate" was again looming up singularly in the case of Prince Ranjitsinhji, otherwise the Jam Sahib of Nawanagar, an East Indian Prince, who made quite a name for himself as a cricketer, tennis and polo player while a student at Cambridge University in England. Ranjitsinhji left his services as a volunteer with the allied troops operating in Northern France and was appointed as aide-de-camp on the staff of General Sir John French and has been actively operating in that capacity for some months. Late in August he secured a leave of absence for a visit to England and the first week in September was spent in shooting in the Yorkshire moors. While after grouse one of the shooting party of which he was a member mistook the prime for a bit of game and the Jam Sahib received part of a charge of shot in the right cheek. Some of the pellets injuring the right eye so that at last accounts he was in danger of losing his eyesight. A recent arrival from the other side said that when he sailed the prince, who had escaped injury from the bullets and shrapnel of the Germans, only to fall a victim of the birdshot of a careless gunner, was in the hospital at Leeds, where the physicians were trying to save the sight of an injured eye.

PRINCE EDWARD THEATRE

"Bingle's Melodrama" a three part farce comedy was the headline of an interesting and varied program presented at this popular Theatre last night. Produced by the Vitagraph Company with their star cast of merry makers, this farce is a pleasing relief from the slap-stick variety. The story briefly is as follows:—Bingle wishes to become an actor, he buys a play from a poor author. Bingle fancies he is a star hires his own company. The author begs him to withdraw and the audience forces him to, by the aid of an assortment of vegetables, eggs, etc.

The balance of the programme was made up of interesting dramatic stories. "The Phantom Warning" a story dealing with the modern sweat shops. "A Bag of Gold" and "The Divided Locket" were followed with close attention. "The Butchers Bride" provided fifteen minutes of laughter and some interesting scenes at Coney Island. Mr. Duguid sang in splendid style a rousing song, of the sea, "A Thousand Miles from Shore" his powerful voice carrying his audience with him to the swiftness of the melody. The same programme will be repeated today at all three shows.

300,000 AUSTRIAN-GERMANS ON SERBIAN FRONTIER.

ATHENS, Sept. 29.—A despatch says 300,000 Austro-German troops have begun an advance on the Serbian frontier in the direction of Orsova.

HOW GERMANY ADMITS HER LOSS

(Special to the Guardian)

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—(via London).—The loss of another position in France to the Allies as the result of the great battle now progressing is announced officially in a statement from the War Office today. The Germans lost Hill 191, which is a position in the Champagne region north of the town of Massiges. The text of the German official statement follows:—

Western: Yesterday the enemy continued his attempts to break through our lines only in the Champagne region. South of the Menin-Ypres road a position occupied by two enemy companies was blown up. North of Loos our counter attack progressed slowly. Southeast of Soissons, the French have succeeded in penetrating our lines in two small sections. Fighting continues. The French attack north of Arras was easily repulsed. The battles between Rheims and Arras were very bitter. South of St. Mihiel the enemy made a breakthrough through the line of trenches arranged in touch with our reserves, which, during a counter attack, captured 800 prisoners and destroyed others. All the French attacks between the Somme, Railway and Squain Highroad and Chaulange-Stenhoull railway—suffered heavy losses. Early today a strong enemy attack on the front northwest of Massiges broke down. North of Massiges Hill No. 191 which was very much exposed to the enemy's flanking fire was lost. On the other side of the front there were duels and minor engagements of varying intensity.

Eastern theatre of war: South of Dvinsk we forced the enemy back into the marshes and lakes to the east of Wesulowo. Cavalry engagements between Lake Dvitsita and the region of Postawo were successful for us. East of Smorzen we broke through the enemy's positions by storm. One thousand prisoners, including seven officers were taken, six cannon and four machine guns were captured south of Smorzen. The battle continued. Army group of Prince Leopold, Bavaria: Enemy attacks against many sections of our front were repulsed with sanguinary losses. Army group of Field Marshal Von Mackensen: The situation is unchanged.

Army group of General Von Linstgen: On the upper Kormin the Russians were driven back in an easterly direction. About 800 prisoners were taken and two Russian aeroplanes shot down.

HURRICANE VISITS NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—(via wireless to Mobile).—Ten persons are known to be killed, 150 injured, and property exceeding a million dollars, caused by the deathly storm of Indian hurricanes which struck this city at 6 o'clock last night. At intervals a terrific gale swept through the city at a velocity of 120 to 130 miles an hour.

1,800,000 HUNS ON WESTERN FRONT

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Times military correspondent says:—"The last semi-official notice which the press received of the strength of the German army in the west, placed their numbers at 1,800,000 men or thereabouts. There is no serious reason to dispute this figure, although some nine German divisions have been drafted to the east during the last few months. The places of most of these divisions have been taken by new formations from the interior, while considerable numbers have been added to others whose strength early in the year had not been maintained. There are still some 94 German divisions in the western theatre. Most of the German cavalry are in the front, but there is an inordinately large proportion of heavy and machine guns in the west."

"We must admit a possibility of a fresh transfer of German troops from the east to the west, but with 700 miles for the Austro-Germans to hold the ground in the east, the Russian armies still in position to fight well, the chances that the Germans will be able to undertake an offensive in the west with successes are not rosy. "If not more than 11 divisions of the new army mentioned by Lord Kitchener are now in France, then we must hope that our power of reinforcing our armies with new divisions, as apart from the new divisions maintaining them for long in the field, is greater than the German power in the same sense. We have a hard nut to crack, now that we have passed to the offensive. The ground in front of us is honeycombed with trenches. The Germans have all the best of the ground. The masses of German troops which came into Flanders in the autumn of 1914 are still for the greater part on our front. We have no Vooges—no natural line of defence in short to lighten our rank. The Scheidt and Meuse in our front are all fortified by the enemy."

ON THE EVE OF GREAT EVENTS

ATHENS, Sept. 29.—(Via Paris).—"I believe we are on the eve of the most important operation of the war: namely, the landing of troops in Macedonia to begin the march, not so much on Constantinople, as on the Dardanelles. The British army, on the Gallipoli Peninsula, who has come to Athens from the Dardanelles front. "The two offensive forces are gradually closing in. The Mesopotamia expedition is approaching nearer to Baghdad, and from the Suva Bay—Gaba Force line, an attack on Constantinople may begin at any moment."

GERMANS CAPTURED BY BRITISH FORGES

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The London correspondent of the New York Herald this morning says:—"Despite the efforts of the Germans to minimize the great Franco-British victory on the western front, I am in a position to say though both the London and Paris press deprecate premature rejoicing—that the results achieved are far more potential even than the victory on the Marne. "The latest figures report the capture of more than 23,000 men and all the special despatches from the battle front agree that the German losses were terrific. "No doubt, as the German communicate reports, there have been very heavy losses in the allied armies but the result achieved, the establishment of the moral superiority of the Franco-British forces and the capture of nearly all the points, was worth the great sacrifice. More than a week ago I cabled that the artillery action along the whole of the front was the prelude to a great movement which I believe has begun, and which will continue, according to the judgment of the military experts here until the Germans are driven out of France and Belgium and over the Rhine. "The French are still advancing in Champagne, while east of Loos the British are also going forward. All German counter attacks, and they have been of the fiercest character—owing to the stinging comments of the Kaiser on the incapacity of his Generals, have broken down. "To add to the feeling of jubilation which, despite official cautions cannot be suppressed, favorable news continues to come from the eastern theatre of war, to the effect that the Germans are failing to pierce the barriers at Dvina, and are meeting with disaster among the Russian marshes, while General Ivanoff, retaining Kovel and administering a smashing blow to the Austrians, has compelled them, according to the very latest information, to evacuate Brody. "General Cadorna and his Italian army, fighting amid ice-clad mountain peaks, also were advancing slowly, but steadily."

EMPEROR MAY SELL HAPSBURGS' HOODOO.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—A story that the Emperor of Austria is seeking to banish Hapsburg hoodoo by selling the famous opal—the earless stone in his collection—is being circulated in the American colony here. The prospective purchaser of the opal—the value of which is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars and which weighs seventeen carats—is supposed to be one of the biggest jewelry firms in Holland. The head of the firm went to Vienna a few days ago ostensibly to complete negotiations for the purchase.

TWO BULGARIAN MINISTERS RESIGN.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—A Havas despatch from Athens says:—"The Bulgarian ministers of finance and commerce have resigned, according to a report received from a reliable source in Sofia. "The reason given officially is a divergence of views on internal questions, but the real cause is the complete disagreement of the cabinet members with Premier Radoslavoff on the policy to be followed in view of the determined attitude of Greece. "King Ferdinand granted an audience to former Premier Matifoff, leader of the party favorable to Russia, and asked him, it is understood to form a new cabinet."

He was thrown off the wagon onto the highway bridge, picked up unconscious and died soon after being taken home. Deceased was upwards of sixty years of age and is survived by his wife.
