After the guests had a jolly good time participating in the different games, a dainty lunch was served.

BIRTHDAY PARTY—An occurrence of very much pleasure and interest took place at Cross Roads on Friday evening, Feb. 28th. The occasion was the celebrating of the birthday anniversary of Mr. John Dalziel, of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Dalziel have been worthy and respected citizens of the community for a great number of years. Some eighteen or twenty neighbors and friends gathered to wish Mr. Dalziel many happy returns and to express the hope that he and his amiable partner, Mrs. Dalziel, might enjoy a measure of good health to be able to all spend many more happy evenings together. An address was read and some appropriate remarks offered. Mrs. Blake Wood made the presentation in the form of a well filled purse as a token of good will from those present. This was followed by singing "For They're Jolly Good Fellows," music and social converse, after which the choicest refreshments were served including a beautiful birthday cake, prepared by Mrs. J. Beaton, furnished a delightful evening's entertainment, which was brought to a close by the singing of "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgotten."

THE MACDONALD WOMEN'S INSTITUTE met at the home of Mrs. H. Mutch, Southport, on Thursday evening, Feb. 20th. There was an attendance of fifteen members. The meeting opened with the usual opening exercises. Roll call was responded to with selections from a favorite Canadian author. An interesting feature of the meeting was a recitation from the President, Mrs. Reddin, entitled "The Long Portage," by Drummond. The School Committee present reported the requirements of each school and committees were appointed for the ensuing month. An interesting item of new business was a discussion on resolution to erect a Community Hall with a skating rink in connection in a central part at or near end of Bunbury Road. The matter to receive further consideration later. Arrangements for next meeting to be held in Cross Roads district on third Thursday of March, where roll call will be answered by "a housecleaning hint." Meeting adjourned. During a chat, which followed, lunch was served.

WEDDING BELLS—A quiet but pretty wedding of interest to Charlottetown people was solemnized at the Church of St. Charles Borromeo, Detroit, Mich., on Monday, March 4th, when Rev. Fr. Haney united in marriage Frances Beatrice, daughter of James A. MacMillan, of Charlottetown, and John E. Connolly, son of Mrs. John Connolly, of Sydney, N. S. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mulcahey, of Sydney. The bride, who looked very winsome, was attired in a gown of chocolate colored crepe with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid was becomingly gowned in old rose crepe with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of orchid sweet peas. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate friends of the young couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mulcahey. Prior to her marriage the bride who was a valued member of the staff of the Maritime Stationers, Ltd., was the guest of honor at several pleasing functions. The groom is a former well known Maritime newspaper man. Many gifts of linen, cut glass and silver testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held. The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace of pearls and to the bridesmaid, an amethyst rosary and to the groomsmen, a fountain pen. After a short wedding trip the young couple will reside in Detroit, where the groom is a member of the staff of the Hudson Motor Car Co.

PERSONALS Mrs. Dingwell Jenkins, Vernon, accompanied by her two children, William and Leida, were recent visitors to the city, where they were the guests of J. D. and Mrs. Jenkins, Euston St. Mrs. Dingwell Jenkins, Vernon, accompanied by her two children, William and Leida, were recent visitors to the city, where they were the guests of J. D. and Mrs. Jenkins, Euston St. Mrs. H. K. S. Hemming, Mrs. H. J. Palmer's daughter, who resided in Montreal arrived in the City on Saturday evening last and will remain with her mother during the latter's convalescence. It is pleasing to know that Mrs. Palmer is improving.

SOUTHERN NOTES Mr. John Hume of Iris, is, we are informed about to take up his residence in Charlottetown, where he has obtained a lucrative position. He will be greatly missed in Iris where he was very popular. Mr. Hector Ross of Glen Forest, is spending the winter in Valleyfield. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mosher were visiting friends in Port Wood last Sunday. It is for the scientists to tell us why the flu has been absent these last two winters. Are the germs all dead and the disease defunct or is the condition of the atmosphere unfavorable and if so how does it differ from former conditions? The thing to be thankful for is that we are spared its onslaught. It is not unusual to refer changes in the weather to the moon at first quarter, last quarter, full or new, but on Sunday the 16th of February, when we had one of the severest storms on record the moon was at none of these phases. This goes to show that if the moon controls the weather its power is just as great before changes as at the changes. Probably it had nothing to do with that storm. When the weather is dead set to run wild I don't think the moon is consulted at all. I shall say nothing about the planets, for I haven't watched them in their courses lately and at the moment do not know their relative position, but my impression is that now they are pretty far apart and so are not favorably placed for doing much atmospheric disturbance.

SOME NEW USES FOR BEAD MOTIFS

Whether beading would ever appear again after its long use in slinky beaded tunics has been a question that has only recently found an answer. Beads as trimming are newly smart, but they must be used in a new manner. A fish net effect of beads in the same shade as the gown adorns the clever evening frock. Stripes of beaded designs form diagonal lines on the bodice of another. Black palmettes ornament black frocks that can make the best use of these shining adornments. Crystal beading is smart on frocks of soft colors.

DECORATION FAD TO BE REVIVED

Have you wondered whether the Chinese influence in decoration would ever be smartly revived again? A few years ago it was so tremendously popular and then with the revival of periods and the trend toward the modern, the Chinese decoration went out considerably. Now it seems to be in evidence again, due to the popularity of Chippendale furniture. Chinese porcelains and mats as well as other items of Chinese inspiration are coming back into the mode.

SHOES MUST PROVIDE DARK COSTUME TONE

That brown shoes will be much in evidence this spring is a general belief. Patent leather footwear will be the choice with many printed costumes and combinations of brown and white are anticipated as leaders for sports wear. It is conceded that shoes should invariably supply the darker tone of the costume.

MODERN WOMAN'S EDUCATION LIMITED

TORONTO, Ont. March 9.—"Modern woman is the most poorly educated person that ever existed—she takes on the estate of matrimony knowing nothing of cooking, of how to maintain a home or how to rear children," said the Rev. W. Revers, Dent, Orillia clergymen and author in an address before the Lions club. "Our education system is entirely wrong," he said. "There is too much general knowledge crammed into our boys and girls. A man is only well educated when he has the ability to apply the knowledge he has gained. That is where we have been making a grave error in education. 'What happens to our women? They spend 15 to 18 years learning something that has nothing whatever to do with their mission in life, home
