Supreme Court Opens At S'side

Chief Justice Observes That Wave Of Crime Has Appeared In Prince County.

True bills were found in four criminal indictments presented to the Grand Jury at the opening of the fall term of the Supreme Court in Summerside yesterday. The indictments were The King vs. Ernest Jones, Roseville, rape; and The King vs. Ervil Essery, Mt. Pleasant, two charges of shopbreaking and one of breaking jail.

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell presided and addressed the Grand Jury. He said, "As the Court meets we are still under the clouds and shadows of war and the conflict is, and threatens to be for some time, very severe. We can only hope and trust and work that the earliest and most successful conclusion of the conflict may be reached."

The Chief Justice told the Grand Jury their duties were more strenuous than had been the case at recent courts. He said that the Sheriff's report indicates a number of serious breaches of the law. In the past three sessions, he continued, "I have had the privilege of congratulating the county on the absence of serious crime; but that condition has not prevailed during the last few months. I am sure it is due to no lack of diligence on the part of the police but it seems to be a fact that crime goes in waves. We have periods when the dockets of the criminal courts are clean for months, then suddenly one of these waves rolls in and the courts have to deal with criminal offences."

The Chief Justice then charged the Grand Jury on the cases before them and they retired.

The docket was as follows: The King vs. John (Holman) Gallant, conspiracy, re-trial; The King vs. Larry Walsh, perjury, held over from previous court; The King vs. Ervil Essery, shop-breaking; The King vs. Ervil Essery, shop-breaking; The King vs. Ervil Essery, escape from jail; The King vs. Ernest Jones, rape; appeals: The King, appellant, vs. Cecil Gillis, respondent, prohibition case.

The court proceeded to hear the appeal which was dismissed without costs. Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, K.C., appeared for the appellant and Mr. W. Henry Noonan for the respondent.

Mr. R. S. Hinton, counsel for the Excise Department moved that the case of Andrew Perry, charged with conspiracy, be put on the docket conditionally as a judgment is to be handed down on December 9th in the appeal court which may grant a new trial. The court reserved decision on this motion till after December 9th.

The Grand Jury having brought in true bills the accused were then arraigned. Ernest Jones, charged with rape, pleaded not guilty and his trial will commence today. Ervil Essery pleaded not guilty to two charges of shop-breaking but when he was arraigned on the jail breaking charge his counsel, Mr. E. H. Strong, K.C., moved that the indictment be quashed because of a number of errors allegedly appearing on the face of the indictment. The Court took this motion into consideration. Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, K.C., represented the attorney general at yesterday's sitting. He announced that the attorney general was unavoidably absent.

The following is the report of the Grand Jury:

"May it please Your Lordship.

We, the jurors here assembled, beg leave to submit the following report: We inspected the jail and the R.C.M.P. headquarters and find everything in excellent condition with the exception of one cell which needs some repairs; also the bathroom of the R.C.M.P. quarters which needs some reconditioning to walls above bath and we recommend such repairs be made."

The members of the Grand Jury were as follows: Silas MacFarlane, foreman, H. B. Bernard, Frederick Irving, Frank I. Gallant, William Irving, Basil McNeill, Hugh F. Morrison, W. A. Currie, Gordon Stavert, and Kenneth Crockett. S

Says Draftees In Demonstrations Are "Mutineers"

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28—(CP)—A military spokesman at Terrace, B. C., today described draftee troops who have engaged in anti-conscription demonstrations there for three days as "mutineers" and said their pay and allowances have been stopped while they refuse to take orders from their officers.

The demonstrations at Terrace, 450 miles north of Vancouver, were the largest of a half-dozen in British Columbia during the weekend. The third day of the demonstrations at Terrace came to a close last night without violence and the spokesman at brigade headquarters indicated the present attitude among the men would be allowed to run its course providing there is no injury to civilians or damage to civilian property.

A dispatch from Terrace said that draftee troops from the camp of a French-Canadian regiment began to parade at 1.30 p.m. Monday and marched for hours through the streets. They were not as noisy as in earlier parades but some carried Bren guns for the first time since the demonstrations began. The parade, which was followed by officers in vehicles, stopped at a sawmill where a meeting was held.

As a result of the demonstration yesterday, school classes being held in the Terrace Canadian Legion Hall have been cancelled. Officials said they feared damage to the school as demonstrators damaged a sign there Saturday.

The Army spokesman said the parade involved 1,000 to 1,500 men. He added that not more than 25 per cent of the troops in the area were actively involved and that the remainder were forced into the demonstration by intimidation. "Men are going active just to get away from those people," he continued.

At the weekend the men took Bangalore torpedoes and mortar bombs but returned them later, saying they were too dangerous to fool with. However, they still have rifle ammunition, said the spokesman, adding that messages have been sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King through the General Officer Commanding listing the grievances of the demonstrators.

"It boils down to the fact that they just don't want to go overseas," said the spokesman.

A dispatch from Terrace last night said that draftees from three regiments took part in the demonstration and that they had demanded that they be returned to their homes in Quebec.

Pacific Command headquarters here announced that inquiries will be made into demonstrations at six British Columbia centres since Friday in which draftee troops protested the Dominion Government's decision to make 16,000 callup troops available for overseas service.

Demonstrations have been held at Vernon, Chilliwack, Nanaimo, Courtenay, Prince George and Terrace. The only recurrences yesterday were at Terrace and at Prince George where about 300 men marched through snow-covered streets for less than an hour, carrying anti-conscription placards and shouting slogans.

At Vernon an attempt to organize a second demonstration last night was squelched by military police who dispersed paraders gathering outside their barracks. From 150 to 200 draftees had gathered when the military police arrived. Earlier yesterday Section Seven of the King's Rules and Regulations of Canada were read to every home defence man in camp with emphasis on the penalty phrase threatening imprisonment for life for any soldier convicted of inciting to mutiny, rioting or taking part in any similar disturbance.

Wedding Bells

On Wednesday, November 8, 1944, at 8 P.M., an interesting wedding was solemnized in the United Church, Hampton, when the bride's uncle, Rev. W.A. MacQuarrie M.A., B.D., Souris, assisted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Peter Jackson, and a former pastor and good friend of the contracting parties, Rev. D.J. Morrison, Bradalbane, united in marriage Annie Lord, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Morrison, Hampton, and Hollis Roland, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald, Bonshaw.

The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with potted plants and trailing greenery by friends of the bride. The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Peter MacDonald, Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown presided at the organ. To the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus the bride came up the aisle, leaning on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She was very winsome in a floor-length gown of white brocaded satin, silver slippers, and finger-tip veil worn in coronet style. She carried an exquisite arm-bouquet of American Beauty roses with ferns and ribbon streamers. Her only ornaments were a handsomely carved locket and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom. Her attendant, her sister Miss Ruby, Prince Edward Island Hospital, Charlottetown, was attractive in a floor-length gown of turquoise blue silk with matching juliet cap and veil. Her bouquet also an arm one, was of large yellow chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's friend, Mr. Colin MacLeod, Bonshaw, was his best man, while the ushers were Mr. William MacQuarrie, Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown, and Mr. John Gordon, H.M.C.S. Queen Charlotte, Charlottetown. The bride's mother wore a gown of black wool crepe and black hat with touches of red. Her corsage was of red roses. The bridegroom's mother chose brown wool crepe with corsage of yellow roses.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of guests and well-wishers, many standing to catch a glimpse of the bridal party. Before the ceremony the bride's aunt, Mrs. John L.MacQuarrie, Hampton, sang very sweetly: "O Perfect Love", and during the signing of the register the bridegroom's uncle, Mr. Stephen MacLeod, Bonshaw, sang most expressively, "Because." Mendelson's wedding march was played as the bridal party came down the aisle. At the outer church door they were liberally showered with rice and confetti by friends.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. MacQuarrie, Hampton, and was attended by more than a hundred guests. The bride's sister Morey, in a dainty gown of yellow moire taffeta with contrasting accessories, attended the door. The bride's and bridegroom's parents joined the bridal party in the reception line in the living-room. Mrs. George P. Dunsford arranged the wedding gifts. Mrs. Howard B. Wood ushered. A dainty buffet lunch was served in the dining-room from a prettily decorated and handsomely appointed table covered with an antique lace cloth. The wedding cakes, one in three tiers and beautifully decorated had the centre of the table. Long white satin ribbons were suspended above. The entire room was candle lit, the table being lighted by tall white tapers in silver holders. Fronds of asparagus fern and nestling pink geraniums rested at the base of cakes and candlesticks. The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Geddie MacLeod, Bonshaw, presided over the coffee urn, while the bride's grandmother, Mrs. William A. MacQuarrie, poured tea. Mrs. Sydney D. Dunsford, Victoria, replenished. Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. (Rev.) W. A. MacQuarrie, Misses Mae MacDonald, Annie MacQuarrie, and Mabel Watton served. Mrs. Boyd MacQuarrie, Miss Joyce Falconer, and Mrs. George M. Dixon cut the ices. The wedding gifts were many and valuable and included bonds and cheques.

During the evening delightful music, instrumental and vocal, was contributed by Messrs Peter MacDonald, Leonard Jordan, Sterling MacLeod and Mrs. John L. MacQuarrie. A Gaelic solo by Rev. D.J Morrison was much enjoyed. There were selections rendered in a quartette by Mr. and Mrs. James Boyce, Mrs. Geddie MacLeod and Mr. Stephen MacLeod. Mr. MacLeod also led in an enjoyable sing-song with Mr. Peter MacDonald at the piano. During the evening a very large number of serenaders from surrounding and distant communities called to offer felicitations.

Previous to her wedding the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower in Hampton Hall. She received many and varied useful gifts of silver, glass, china and linen besides numerous amounts of money.

A host of friends throughout the Island join in offering this popular young couple the best of everything in the years to come.

"Portal Bungalow" Has Been Accepted In Great Britain

By J. W. SUTTON

LONDON, Nov. 29 — (CP) — The argument is over and the so-called "Portal bungalow" has been accepted. The housing (temporary accommodation) bill has been given Royal assent, authorizing the government to spend £150,000,000 for about 300,000 of the little dwellings in the first two years after the war ends.

Two other types of steel and concrete dwellings will also be available.

Probably nobody but the British could have produced the queer specimens of habitation that came forth after it was first announced that plans were being made for construction of prefabricated homes.

Until the announcement everything had gone smoothly, with the Labor party bickering mildly with the Tories over the "long delay" and many people — mostly Londoners — telling each other how nice it would be to get out of dank air raid shelters into real houses again.

Lord Portal, Minister of works, was given the big job of developing a house that could be built quickly and in large numbers to house Britain's homeless. In no time at all he produced what most men might have thought a neat little domicile.

This "Portal bungalow" had a living room, two bedrooms, a bathroom and kitchenette. Built-in cupboards and a refrigerator were the most progressive feature. There was no basement. The outside walls were made of steel and the inside walls of wood. The cost, on a mass-production basis, was estimated at £550 (about $2,425).

Once it got into the news, the experts — ordinary work-a-day housewives — had their say. The controversy was long and bitter, in the newspapers, at public meetings and in Parliament. The only thing everybody agreed upon was the kitchen sink; that it was in the wrong place.

The criticism produced three versions of the Portal:

The first revamped all existing features and made space for a baby carriage;

The second provided a built-in shed for bicycles;

The third was a compromise between the Portal bungalow and the more-familiar brick house.

The three adaptions and the original "Portal bungalow" were exhibited beside the Tate Gallery on the Thames embankment. The controversy continued. Parliament, meantime, decided to add another bedroom to the original Portal plan.

DRAMATIC STORY—

o mulct the British Empire. Canada is the only Empire country from which we have received lend-lease. With all the other dominions we have made financial arrangements much less favorable to ourselves than has the United States.

"For instance, the United States receives a lot of goods and services scot free from Australia. We get similar goods but pay for them. We are trustees and no trustee should squeeze his wards. Everything we have got from the colonies we have paid for. Consequently we owe them enormous sums. Many of them sent goods to the United States as part of reverse lend-lease and even for this we pay."

Helped The U. S.

Mr. Bracken said expenditure of Britain's large gold reserve in the United States and spending of the money in building up American munitions industries "helped America come into the war with her industries already on something of a wartime footing."

"We are glad to have rendered this service to the United States as a small return for her tremendous generosity to us," he added.

The white paper disclosed that Britain has mustered more than one-third of all her men between 14 and 64 for the armed forces and nearly half of her women between 14 and 59 are in the military services or in industry.

Britain's armed forces now number 4,500,000 men and 500,000 women. The number of persons in her munitions industries rose from 3,000,000 in 1939 to 5,000,000 in 1944. Britain's total population is about 47,000,000.

In Memoriam

MR. JOHN A. SHREENAN

In all his dealings with his fellowmen, charity in thought, word and deed, and "honesty is the best policy", were the outstanding characteristics of the deceased, who passed to his eternal reward at Kinkora on September 16th, 1944.

The late Mr. Shreenan was an industrious farmer and life-long resident of the Kinkora district, until about two years ago, when he was forced through ill health and lack of help to discontinue active participation in the farming industry.

Early in the spring of this year, he sold his farm and moved to the village there as he thought to enjoy a few more years of restful living after many years of hard work. But this was not the will of God and on the above mentioned date, he died as he had lived quietly and peacefully.

During his life time, Mr. Shreenan succeeded in building a new home along with educating his family and leaving them well prepared in every way to cope with the vicissitudes of life. Truly on his death bed he might have said "I have done my work, I have finished the job."

He leaves to mourn his widow, formerly Margaret McKenna of Kelly's Cross, two sons, Raymond with the R. C. A. F. in Newfoundland; Gerald with the Canadian Army in Holland; Laurena, Civil Servant, Vancouver, B. C.; Kathleen, R. N., at present at home. Three other children died in infancy.

He is also survived by his stepmother, Mrs. T.L. Shreenan, Kinkora and the following brothers and sisters, also half brothers and sisters—Herb, Bronx, N. Y.; George, MacLaren, Sask.; Catherine, Mrs. Ed. Keough, Winnipeg; Fannie, Rev. Sr. M. Leonora, Minneapolis, Minn.; Rev Sr. M. Ina, St. Paul, Minn.; Damien, Kinkora; Reginald, Portage La Prairie, Man.; Rev. Sr Marietta, St. Joseph's Convent, Toronto. Frank with the American Army in Germany; Mary E. Boston, Mass.; Leo with the R.C.A.F. Prince Albert, Sask. One brother Aeneas and two sisters, Mrs. James Trainor and Mrs. Parnell McCarville also one half sister Lizzie predeceased him.

His funeral took place on Sept. 18th to St. Malachi's Church, Kinkora, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor Rt. Rev. J. A. Murphy. His remains were interred in the adjoining cemetery there to await the call of the Master—Come ye blessed of the Father, possess the kingdom prepared for you.

The pallbearers were: John M. Murphy, Ignatius Lawless, Fred McCarville, Joseph Mulligan, John and Stephen Johnston.

Requiem aeternum dona eis domine.
