

DR. COOK'S VERACITY STRONGLY DOUBTED

A Public Meeting in Hamilton, Montana, Refuses to Believe His Affidavit, Made on the Platform, that He Had Ascended Mount McKinley.

Special to The Guardian.

HAMILTON, Mont., October 29.—After a stormy session the meeting addressed by Dr. Cook adopted a resolution expressing confidence in the veracity of Barrill and Printz, the guides who made affidavits that Cook did not climb Mount McKinley. Edw. Barrill, the guide who accompanied Cook, declared that Cook's statement that they reached the top of Mount McKinley were incorrect. Cook replied that the latter's statements were false.

Excitement was intense. Barrill demanded why Cook did not make affidavit that he scaled Mount McKinley. The challenge was accepted by Dr. Cook, and affidavit was made by the explorer on the platform in presence of the audience. Cook declared that he ascended Mt. McKinley and that Barrill was with him at the times that the records of ascension were left on the summit of the peak. The discussion then waxed warmer, Barrill's friends denouncing Cook's statements while the friends of the Doctor contended for "fair play". Attorney Wagner then offered this resolution: "The people of Hamilton after patiently listening to the charges and counter charges exchanged by the parties to the Mount McKinley controversy, declare our firm belief in the veracity of Edw. Barrill and Fredk Printz." This was carried by a large majority and the meeting was closed amid great excitement.

At times the speed was over seventy miles an hour. The rush was caused by a derailment at White River which threw the mails late. They had to be at Vancouver on Wednesday and a special train was made up and sent from White River to Winnipeg. This train made close to the minute mark and kept up the pace right through to the coast.

Special to The Guardian.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening in the parlour of the Association. The financial statement showed that the amount of three hundred and seventy-five dollars was still needed in order to close the books without a deficit.

After some discussion, it was felt desirable that a strong effort should be made to raise this amount, and so, upon motion, the meeting adjourned to meet on Wednesday next at seven-thirty. When it is the hope of the directors a complete and satisfactory report, showing rather a balance to the good, will be submitted by them.

LITTLE BETTING IN NEW YORK CAMPAIGN

Special to The Guardian.

NEW YORK, October 28.—The election betting continues more inactive than in any municipal campaign in years. As election day approaches the men who usually are ready to lay large wagers don't seem any more willing to come out with their money than they did at the start of the campaign.

A few small bets that are being made continue to run on the basis of two or more on Gaynor against the field. No more than two and a half to one bets have been reported. Some money is being placed even that Hearst will have a plurality over Bennett.

ACTRESS SHOT BY HER HUSBAND

Special to The Guardian.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Slowly recovering from the wounds inflicted recently by her infuriated husband, whose body still lies unclaimed at the district morgue, Mrs Evelyn Louise Short will unite in this movement, says the newspaper. "If the election is held next year, the date will be Tuesday, April 5, 1910. If it is postponed until 1911, it will be April 4, 1911. In any event it will be the most strategic and spectacular fight for prohibition reform.

Whatever the vote may be that comes as a climax to this campaign, the prohibition forces declare it will be the first step in the permanent annihilation of the liquor traffic in Chicago. If the non-license ballot does now win a campaign of education will be conducted in every corner of the city. If the unexpected happens and the prohibition forces win in the first skirmish, it will sound the knell of liquorism the nation over.

YOUTHFUL GYMNAST NEARLY HANGED

Special to The Guardian.

BARRINGTON, N. S., Oct. 28.—What came near being a sad hanging accident occurred here on Monday evening last. Hartley Hopkins, aged 89, son of Thomas Hopkins, was out in his father's barn practicing a variety of tricks in gymnastic peans. A small brother was with him, and when the accident occurred went into the house and gave an alarm. The mother went out hastily and found Hartley suspended by the neck with his feet barely touching the floor, and at first thought he was dead. He was hastily extricated. Medical help was summoned and he was found to be in a critical state, but life was not extinct. Last night he was able to speak and explain partly the accident. This morning he is reported in a fair way to complete recovery.

PRESENTATION TO PROF. C. H. WRIGHT

Special to The Guardian.

HALIFAX, Oct. 28.—Wednesday night in the vestry room of St George's church Prof. C. H. Wright who has been choir master there for the past six months, and who is removing to Charlottetown, was waited upon by the members of the Choir, and presented with a gift as an appreciation of his services. In the absence of the Rector, Mr D. Colquhoun in a few well chosen remarks made the presentation, to which Prof Wright made a very impressive reply. He regretted very much severing his connection with the Choir of Old St George's, as he could say was given that the members one and all had given him when at the rehearsals loyal and unflinching support. His pasting words to them were that if they stick together in the good work they are engaged in, they need not be ashamed of their record as a Choir.

MONCTON HAS A 'TANYARD' GANG

Special to The Guardian.

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 28.—Stealing horse-racing bike wheels and tires and utilizing them for bicycles is the latest escapade of some of Moncton's boys.

This afternoon when one of the local horsemen visited the speedway stables he found that three barns had been broken into and sulky wheels and tires were missing, while several tires had been punctured. The sulkeys belonged to J. A. Uramer, J. H. Delahunt and John Doherty.

Upon discovery of the theft Chief Riceout was notified and started out at once in search of the culprits. Within an hour or two he had arrested Alfred LeBlanc, aged eleven; Lorne Chapman, aged twelve; Marcel Cormier, aged sixteen; and Fred Power, aged thirteen, and put them behind the bars. The youngest lad, when confronted by the chief, stood beside one of the stolen bike wheels, being used as a bicycle, and stoutly denied knowing anything of the burglary. Later, however, when on the way to the lockup, he broke down and gave his companions away.

The result of the chief's investigation into the thefts from the racing stables reveals a lamentable state of youthful depravity in the western end of the city. Charged with breaking and entering the four will be arraigned in the police court tomorrow afternoon.

SUFFRAGETTES MAY BECOME VIOLENT

Special to The Guardian.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(By Lady Cook)—The women of great Britain and America will get the ballot within the year. This is my prophecy. Whether it will come here or in England first is an even chance. The women's struggle for the vote in England is to the death. It is a struggle of desperation, of a maddest desperation, and it would look for nothing engaged in to die before Premier Asquith. The English minister, to protect himself, has before now been obliged to take his women relatives on more than one platform with him, for the suffragettes respect their sex. But if the battle there is not soon won, it is patent that bloodshed will be the outcome. There will be bombs thrown. "Delicate women, day after day and night after night, expose themselves to the severity of the weather; to the insults of coarse men, to the violence of the mobs. Sticks and stones have been thrown but the women have gone on. The most tenderly bred have been accused in the vilest 'Billingsgate,' but they are beyond the reach of such a lash. They stand ready at any moment to brave any hardship or danger, to gain any authority, however high, to demean themselves as prison guards, to starve themselves and drugged, to starve when women get call it glory. And when women get beyond the touch of all the conventionalities that wall about her life it means victory or the sacrifice of life itself in a ruin that will make the world remember."

PROHIBITION IN CHICAGO

Special to The Guardian.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Plans are nearly complete, according to the Associated Prohibition Press, for the launching of a popular movement to abolish the liquor traffic in Chicago and close the city's 7,136 saloons.

"It is probable that all civic reform and prohibition organizations of the great western metropolis will unite in this movement," says the newspaper. "If the election is held next year, the date will be Tuesday, April 5, 1910. If it is postponed until 1911, it will be April 4, 1911. In any event it will be the most strategic and spectacular fight for prohibition reform.

Whatever the vote may be that comes as a climax to this campaign, the prohibition forces declare it will be the first step in the permanent annihilation of the liquor traffic in Chicago. If the non-license ballot does now win a campaign of education will be conducted in every corner of the city. DR. ELIOT SAYS UNIONS MUST ULTIMATELY DIE

Special to The Guardian.

GAMBLER, O. October 28.—In a second speech before the students and friends of Kenyon College tonight, Dr Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, declared that labor unions are a menace to the country, and with the spreading of democratic form of government, they must ultimately go out of existence.

"The unions insist on all goods bearing the union label," he said. "Their policy lies in the face of every democratic doctrine concerning liberty. Unions try to limit the number of apprentices a shop may have. Again, this is an intervention with the transaction of democracy. The interference with freedom and democracy is a most extraordinary interference with freedom and democracy. The sympathetic strike is unjustifiable, as it means that unions with no grievance strike. Again, it means a promotion of a monopoly."
