"A man is never older than he feels," declared the ancient beau, bravely. "Now I feel as fresh as a two-year-old."

"Horse or egg?" asked the sweet young thing brightly.

Father (scanning school report)—I see you had twenty bad marks during last term.

Son—Well, that doesn't amount to much at the present rate of exchange.

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and will do it. Also it will aid digestion and furnish welcome refreshment to mouth and throat.

—WELCOME VISITORS.—Mr. Elijah F. Bowness, a native of Norboro, who has spent the last five years in Danvers, Mass., and fifteen years in Lewiston, Maine, is, in company with Mrs. Bowness spending a holiday in his native Province. At present he is visiting his sister Mrs. Lydia Simms, Kensington and elsewhere and is renewing many former acquaintances. In all the parts of the Eastern states in which they have travelled, they have seen no part of North America that can, along general lines equal Prince Edward Island for comfortable, independent homes, and for prosperity in agricultural pursuits. For a number of years Mr. Bowness was Supt. of Maine State Agricultural Society Lewiston, Maine, and thus has become more intimately acquainted with conditions there. He strongly and consistently advises all young men that are comfortably located here and have even fair prospects in view, to remain here, for here is where the future looms brightest for them. This advice comes from one who has had experience and who assuredly is qualified to advise. A few shining examples of success abroad do not disclose the number of these who would have done immeasureably better at home.—Y.

Moodra Niht or Mothers' Night is the oldest English name for Christmas, though the old customs of Mothers' Night have gradually died out. It was the custom for the early Saxons to dedicate the night of Christmas to the special honor of Mothers. They occupied the seats of honor and everyone brought them gifts. The custom remains to some extent in the north of England in mothering Sunday. On that day everyone who can do so still makes a pilgrimage homewards, and the mother receives the homage of her family.

"You can say this for the poultry business,"

"Well, say it."

MRS. ROBERT WARD.

It was with sincere sorrow that the many relatives and friends of Mrs. Robert Ward of this city heard of her death on Sunday, the 16th inst. The late Mrs. Ward had been in failing health for several months but had borne her prolonged illness with Christian fortitude and resignation. She was much esteemed for her charitable and lovable disposition and will be sorely missed, not only by those to whom she endeared herself but particularly by those that were near and dear to her. Her husband predeceased her about seven years ago, but, notwithstanding this great sorrow through which she was called to pass she resolutely undertook the task of tenderly caring for those with whom her life was so closely entwined.

There are left to mourn their loss two daughters, Mrs. Preston Diamond, and Mary, and two sons, Ambrose and Robert, as well as one sister, Mrs A. MacCannell and two brothers, Daniel and Bruce, all of this city and also another brother William in the United States. The funeral took place on Tuesday last and was largely attended the eervices at the home and grave being conducted by the Rev. G. C. Taylor of Zion Church. The pallbearers were: Messrs. James Walker, George Williams, Robert Diamond, Edward Acorn, William Henderson and John Casford.

..*FORMER ISLANDER DEAD. —The death occurred at Boston of Mrs. Gillis, formerly Miss McKinnon of Georgetown after a short illness. Mrs. Gillis' life has been one of service, sacrifice and love for others and devotion in her home. With busy hands and active mind she spent her latter days and those nearest to her lovingly testify to her unusual charm as mother and friend. Young nd old alike found joy in her presence her ready wit, her good solid sense, her cheery disposition and uncomplaining nature together with a steadfast trust and belief that her life was safely held and directed by her Heavenly Father who she daily glorified and proclaimed, all combined to make the rare and beloved woman found in Mrs. Gillis. A loving family and many friends will miss her tenderly, cherish her memory and who would keep one who was so sure of her Father's welcome and had long since held herself ready to His holy will. Her examples and deeds of kindness will long linger a shining tribute to the useful and obedient life of a child of God. She leaves to mourn one sister, Mrs. Thomas Henry of Georgetown. Sincere sympathy is extended.—A.

Alkali In Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly ,and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Before of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Eye Examination

Exhaustive research has revealed that at least seven out of ten people need glasses but only three out of ten wear them. That means that about four out of every ten are in need of optical service.

It may be that you are one of the four. An examination of your eyes will readily determine the condition of your eyesight and we earnestly urge you to give serious consideration to the matter of having this examination made.
