Washington Counts Rulers--- Both Royal and Republican--- As One of Its "War Booms"

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — The capital of the world's greatest democracy is enjoying one of the oddest of war booms—a boom in royalty and the heads of sovereign states.

This is emphasized by the present and past trips here of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, plus the forthcoming visits of exiled George II, exiled King of heroic Greece and Carlos Arroyo del Rio, President of Ecuador.

Time was when Kings and Queens commute between Washington, Ottawa and London.

Not far from their handsome country house lives Archduke Otto, claimant to the thrones of Austria and Hungary. Between lecture trips around the country, he goes this gay, cocktailing way from party to party.

Blond Crown Prince Juliana of Holland visited Washington several times, the last one accompanied by her slender, boyish husband, German-born Prince Bernhard.

Here in August, 1941, and a return visitor last month, was Grand Duchess Charlotte, of tiny Luxemburg, and all the other face cards, and even Presidents of foreign republics were rare here, but today they are common. Britain's King George and Queen Elizabeth just before the war, may have started the ball rolling. The war, of course, kept it going.

Peru's President Emanuel Prado

Ecuador's President del Rio

Washington eagerly awaits the scheduled arrival of exiled King George II of Greece, center above. Other photos show some of the Capital's recent visitors, both royal and republican.

ROYAL NORSE COUPLE ARE FAVORITES

A royal Washington resident is Crown Princess Martha of Norway, a frequent and favored White House guest. Her husband, smiling, ruddy Crown Prince Olaf pops into town frequently, in fact, he seems to accompanied by her consort, Prince Felix and Joseph Bech, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Highly important, from the standpoint of hemisphere politics was the recent visit of President Manuel Prado of Peru, who made quite a hit here. His success, and the coming visit of President Del Rio of Ecuador are considered proof of the benefits of our Good Neighbor policy.

With 52 nations diplomatically represented here, Washington has become a world city, with more embassies and legations than any other in the world.

Livestock

MONTREAL, June 29—(CP)—The Montreal livestock market today reported receipts of 1,034 cattle, 1,580 calves, 670 sheep and 398 hogs.

Cattle and calves were slow. Lambs and hogs were firm.

Steers were slow in starting. A few early sales were made at $11 to $12 for good, $10 to $11 for medium and $8 to $10 for common. Good heifers sold at $10.50 to $11, medium $9 to $10.50 and common $7 to $9. The odd fed calves or baby beeves sold around $12. Good cows were $9 to $9.75 with a top of $10, medium were $8 to $9 and common $6.75 to $7.75. Canners and cutters $5.50 to $6.50. There were no early sales of bulls. The market will be closed to all trading on July 1.

Calves were slow and prices 25 to 50 cents lower. Good quality were mostly $13.50 with a few tops selling up to $14, medium good veals $13 and just medium $12 to $12.50, with the bulk of common veals from $10 to $11.50. Drinkers and light grassers were $7.50 to $9 with the bulk between $8 and $8.75. Yearlings were $6.50 to $7.

Lambs were steady at $17 for good quality with plainer kinds mostly $16 with an odd sale as low as $15. Sheep were from $6 to $8.50.

Hogs were steady to strong. Selling at $15.75 to $16 for B-1 dressed. Grade A drew $1 per hog premium with discounts on off grades. Sows were $9.50 to $10.50 live weight.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

On the evening of June 15th, a number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Cobb assembled at their home in Milburn to honor them with a farewell party.

Miss Mae Robbins, on behalf of the people of Millburn, read an address and Miss Ruth Cobb presented them with an electric iron; after which Mr. and Mrs. Cobb expressed their thanks for the lovely gift.

After refreshments were served by the ladies, a social evening was spent.

The following is the address:

To Mr. and Mrs. George Cobb:

Your friends of Milburn wished to remember you in some way before you departed from your home district, so have taken this opportunity of presenting you with this small gift.

We ask you to accept this gift, not because of its value, but as a token of the esteem in which you are held.

Signed on behalf of your Friends.

NOTICE

AIR RAID PRECAUTION REGULATIONS

PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

The Province of Prince Edward Island having been by Order in Council of December 10th, 1941, included among the several areas in Canada subjected to Air Raid Precautions Regulations, the Honorable Harry H. Cox, being by order of December 22nd, 1941, of the Minister of Pensions and National Health authorized to act herein under Regulation No. 35, Defence of Canada Regulations (Consolidation) 1940, as amended by P. C. 4801, hereby prescribes, orders and regulations as follows:

Chief Executive

1. Major W. Herbert Poole of Charlottetown is hereby appointed Chief Executive Officer of Air Raid Precautions, and as such is authorized to give executive administration of these regulations and all things done hereunder, subject to proper directions and control of all committees having authority herein, and to appoint deputies for such areas and duties as he may see fit.

A. R. P. Defined

2. The initials A. R. P. as herein used shall mean Air Raid Precautions, and A. R. P. worker or warden shall mean any volunteer worker or warden registered for Air Raid Precautions by any committee of the Provincial Organization or any local or subordinate committee.

Prescribed Areas

3. The regulations herein contained shall apply to the following several places and areas within the Province of Prince Edward Island:

The City of Charlottetown, being the area within the corporate limits of said City, and also closely built portions of the Royalty adjacent thereto.

The Towns of Summerside, Souris, Montague, Borden, Kensington, Alberton, and Georgetown, being the areas within their respective corporate limits, as now or last established, and also all closely built in areas immediately adjacent thereto.

The Villages of Southport, Hunter River, Tignish, O'Leary, Victoria, Mount Stewart, Crapaud, North Tryon, Kinkora, Emerald, Albany, Freetown, New Glasgow, North Rustico, Malpeque, Centreville, Central Bedeque, Miscouche, St. Eleanors, Wellington, Tyne Valley, Ellerslie, Portage, Brookfield, Keppoch, St. Peters, Murray River, Cardigan, Morell, Murray Harbour, Annandale, in each instance including the areas commonly regarded as of or within such village, whereof the buildings are not separated as in the general farming areas.

General Lighting Restrictions Within Areas

4. Within the areas aforesaid, no person shall hereafter between sunset and sunrise, allow any unattended premises, ship or vehicle, in his occupation or under his control, to emit any light, nor shall any such person show or maintain any external lighted sign, or any other external lights, unless the same be under the constant control of some competent person, nor shall any person make or maintain any fire whereby the light or flames or sparks may be externally visible unless such light or flames be immediately extinguishable by some competent person in charge.

5. Provided however that anti-burglary lights in any bank or business premises shall be permissible by certificate of the Director of Police Services but they shall be at all times so shaded that no window, door or other aperture in the exterior may emit any direct beam of light and only the necessary minimum of light within shall be visible from without.

Lighting Restrictions Without Areas

6. (a) Within the Province and without the areas aforesaid no person shall between sunset and sunrise make or show or allow to be made or shown on his premises any fixed or stationary external light unless upon momentary occasion or occasions.

(b) Every summer or shore hotel, and every public hall or like premises used after nightfall and necessarily exposing a considerable area of window surface, shall, unless it be provided with a constant and reliable means of immediate communication with A. R. P. headquarters or warning station whereby it may receive air raid warnings, at all times between sunset and sunrise be subject to all lighting restrictions hereinafter imposed on premises during blackout periods; if such provision for communication be maintained, then such hotel, hall or premises shall be subject to such restrictions only during the blackout period communicative, and the giving of such communications by the said headquarters or warning station by the means provided shall be conclusive proof of its prompt receipt.

Fire Prevention

7. The occupants or persons in control of buildings within the areas aforesaid shall at all times keep the interior of said buildings and especially the upper storey thereof as free from inflammable material as is reasonably possible with regard to ordinary usage and shall provide and maintain ready means of access to all spaces immediately under the roof thereof.

8. The occupant or person in control of every building within such area shall keep a metal-bladed shovel and a bucket or similar container of like capacity, full of dry sand at all times ready for fire prevention in or on such building.

Blackouts

9. Blackout periods, whether during any air-raid or attack or in apprehension thereof, or in practice preparation thereof, shall be signalled by siren, whistle, bell or other effective sound device:

Signals

The first signal shall be the action signal, and shall be a long continued siren sound, varying in pitch or warbling, or a succession of intermittent sequences of blasts or bell strokes, to indicate the commencement of the blackout period, the end of which shall be indicated by the all clear signal, a long sustained blast or siren sound unvaried in pitch or a rapid bell-ringing.

Lighting Restrictions in Blackout

10. All street lighting or other lighting shall be entirely extinguished or concealed during the continuance of any blackout period and no person shall make any external light however temporary, except by necessary use of a flashlight with direct beam aperture reduced to one-eighth inch diameter and kept below horizontal, and motor vehicle lights to the extent hereinafter specified, nor allow any external right or fire under his control to remain unextinguished, nor any light within premises, ship or vehicle in his occupation or under his control to be externally visible, either directly or by reflection, except anti-burglary lights as hereinbefore permitted.

Emergency Lighting

11. Provided always that any hospital or other place in which emergent or wholly essential acts necessitate the use of minor and temporary lights not reasonably capable of being shaded or concealed, may be by written permit of the Chief of Police or chief police authority of the area concerned, exempted from these regulations to the extent necessary; such permit to be cancellable at any time by the issuer or by the Chief Executive hereinbefore appointed.

Traffic Restrictions in Blackout

12. During the continuance of such blackout all roads and highways shall be kept clear for emergency use, and no person shall drive or operate any vehicle within any such area, unless within the exemptions next below, but shall at the commencement of the warning immediately park or stand his vehicle by curb or otherwise properly.

Traffic Exemptions

13. (a) Provided always that lights shielded or diminished as hereinafter required shall be permissible on the following motor vehicles, and that such motor vehicle may operate during blackouts only with due care and at such rate of speed as reasonable safety to persons and property shall allow with the efficiency of such light remaining, viz:

Vehicles in Police, ambulance and fire services in the ordinary necessities of such services.

Vehicles while engaged in servicing utilities, or such other services as are necessary in or necessarily maintained through ordinary emergencies.

Vehicles of physicians, clergymen and nurses, while used in the ordinary necessities of their professions.

Vehicles of A. R. P. workers while used in actual A. R. P. work and carrying a permit for such use signed by the Chief Executive Officer or any official by him designated therefor.

Vehicles of the armed forces while used in the ordinary course of duty.

Vehicles used by other persons in emergent necessity, but only if traffic congestion shall not result or be likely to result from such use.

(b) Lights on all vehicles shall be shielded or diminished as follows:

All lights other than two headlights as ordinarily placed and one red rear light shall be extinguished or entirely concealed.

The rear light shall be shielded so as to emit light rays only below the horizontal and from only one aperture of maximum dimension of one-quarter inch.

Headlight shall be shielded so that no ray of light be directed above horizontal.

Light from headlights shall be diminished by aperture devices or by coverings so as to be practically invisible at a distance of 500 yards but readily visible directly forward for 100 yards, and so that light shining therefrom or reflected from any road surface or other thing shall be invisible from a distance of 500 yards overhead.

The aperture device presently approved by the Director of Police Services of the Provincial A. R. P. Committee, and any other device hereafter by him approved shall be held sufficient for all intended purposes or regulations hereunder.

Conduct of Persons in Blackout

14. Subject to consideration of safety, duty and reasonable necessity, all persons shall during the blackout period remain in or seek shelter and avoid unnecessary exposure, use of streets and roadways, and other interference with A. R. P. personnel. No child under the age of sixteen years shall be or remain abroad without emergent cause.

Right of Entry

15. All constables or peace officers, whether or not of A. R. P. personnel, may enter upon any premises, or ship, doing only necessary breaking therefor and using only necessary force, and take control of any vehicle, so as to abate any externally visible offence against these regulations, and shall have the right of entry, without breaking or force unless especially instructed in writing by the Chief Executive Officer, to enter any premises to inspect their condition for any hazard or for any violation of these regulations.

Enforcement

16. All A. R. P. wardens are empowered to enforce these regulations assuming the powers of a peace officer to such extent as the nature of emergency may reasonably require, and to report violations thereof.

Sound Devices to be Used

17. All persons in control of any steam whistle, or other sound device reasonably effective as a warning signal, shall if previously required to do so by the Chief Executive Officer use the same according to the instructions of the A. R. P warden or official designated by such requisition.

Exception of Defence Forces

18. These regulations shall not in any way effect, limit, or govern the personnel, premises or vehicles of the naval, military or air services while on service operations.

Effective By Publication

19. The foregoing regulations shall be published forthwith in the Royal Gazette of this Province, and shall immediately upon such publication have full force and effect.

H. H. COX,
By Authority of Minister.

Halifax, 2nd June, 1942.

I concur in the foregoing orders.

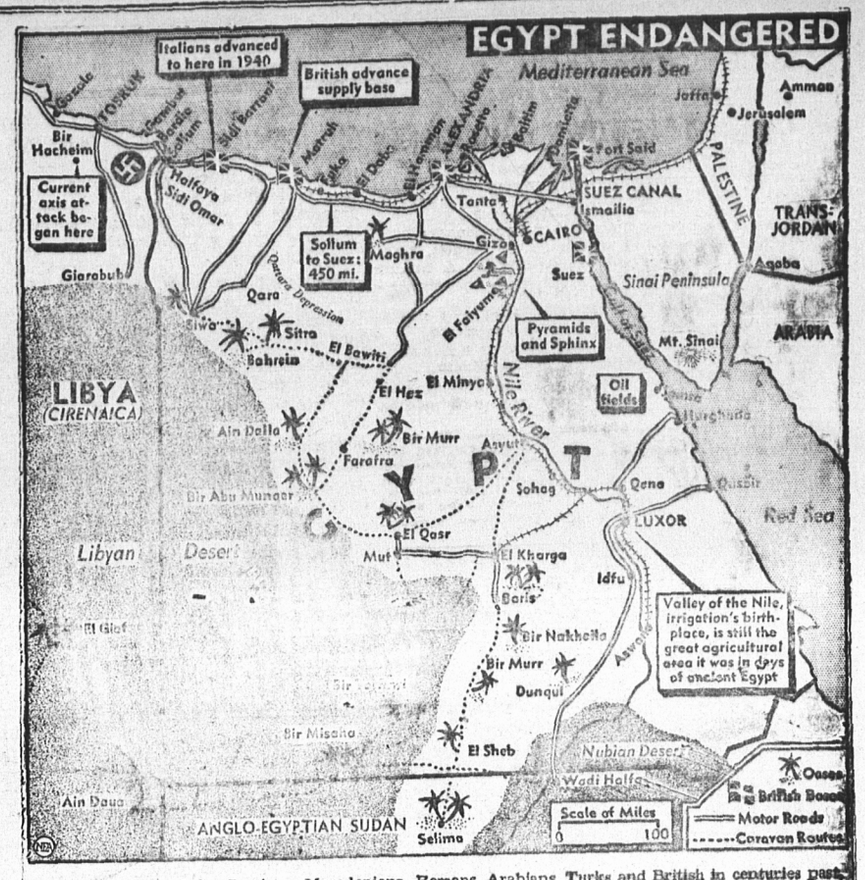
FIRE WAGONS GO GREEN

HONOLULU — (CP) — Because of war conditions formerly red fire apparatus here has been painted green to lessen visibility.



Egypt, battleground for Persians, Macedonians, Romans, Arabians, Turks and British in centuries past, now faces invasion by a German-Italian army thrusting eastward from Libya. Because southwestern Egypt is a mass of desert land, dotted with a few oases, the coastal highway remains the only feasible route of attack on Alexandria, the Suez Canal and the rich Nile valley. Egypt is still technically neutral.

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

Sir,—Professor Reddin asks for comments upon his letter in Saturday's Guardian treating upon the above subject. The Professor is certainly warranted in following any course that will engender public interest in this important matter, particularly important now, for, if our young people continue to leave the Island as they have been doing of late, our School Boards will be confronted with the serious problem of being unable to obtain teachers at any price and that would mean the closing of many country schools.

In his letter Mr. Reddin makes some broad statements of fact regarding which the public are not informed and which they can hardly be expected to accept, he states, without some proof. For example, that our Government's contribution to the teachers' salaries is considerably less than the combined provincial and municipal payments to the teachers in the other provinces. If such is really the case let us have the figures. Again, he states that the cost of collection per unit is "much lower in P. E. I. than elsewhere", also that the percentage of school attendance is lower. Again, I say, let us have the figures.

The future economic progress of Prince Edward Island is directly dependent upon the education of the young people of today, particularly those attending the country schools. In Charlottetown, Summerside and a few of the larger villages, where our better schools are situated, we seem to be educating our boys and girls off the land, and that results to a large extent in their leaving the Island after they have graduated from Prince of Wales College. This surely is not a very paying proposition for the tax payers of the Province.

Agriculture is our main industry and it seems to me that what is required is a Provincial Agricultural College where the farmers' sons can obtain the practice and theory of farming at the lowest possible cost to their parents. The MacDonald Consolidated School building is lying idle and is actually being robbed of its metal parts. If some housing accommodation building were erected and additional adjoining land purchased, that would seem to be an excellent start for a School of this kind. Possibly Mr. Stewart, Sir William MacDonald's business successor in Montreal, woud assist in the undertaking.

I am, Sir, etc.
H. K. S. HEMMING.

DOWNS TWO AXIS BOMBERS

VALETTA, Malta, June 29—(CP name was not immediately made Cable)—A Canadian pilot whose available shot down two Axis bombers last night over this Mediterranean Island fortress, authorities disclosed today.

The Canadian, it was announced, was repeating this accomplishment for the second time in four days.

It was presumed the bombers which fell victims to his guns were attempting to penetrate the Island defences, but details of the actions were not available.

NOTED HEADMASTERS PLAN NEW NAVAL COLLEGE

Canada's new Naval College at Esquimalt, B.C., will open in October, largely through the efforts of two outstanding educators. Discussing plans for the courses when they were photographed, they are (left) Acting Commander C. H. Bonnycastle, until recently headmaster of Rothesay College in New Brunswick, and Lieut.-Commander Kenneth Ketchum, lately headmaster of St. Andrew's College and newly-appointed director of studies at the new college. Applications for entry to the Naval College must be in the hands of the Naval Secretary, Naval Headquarters, Ottawa, by May 31.
