HER GOWNS WORTH $10,000.

NEW YORK, September 29.—Julia Marlowe arrived yesterday by the White Star liner Oceanic with about $10,000 in imported costumes, which she promptly declared. She is in conflict with the customs men. She said she had refused to use discretion or the ordinary feminine diplomacy; she simply had listed all her imported possessions down to picture postal cards and let the Government do its worst; it was her public statement for any and every customs man. Her own press agent said that her gowns were really worth $12,000, and that they were for use in "Macbeth," in which she will appear as "Lady Macbeth" with E. H. Sothern. The gowns were sent to the public stores for appraisal. Miss Marlowe and Mr. Sothern will begin their Shakespearean season in Boston, under the management of the Shuberts, on October 24.

WILD AEROPLANE GIVES 50,000 PEOPLE A SCARE.

ROCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 29.—A record crowd of 50,000 people scattered wildly at the Rochester fair today, when Archie Hoxey, in a Wright biplane, glided just above their heads for about 300 yards and then landed among a jostling gathering. No person was injured, nor was the machine or aviator hurt, but one lady had a narrow escape. Whether from presence of mind, or as a result of the pushing by the frightened crowd, she was thrown from the ground. The biplane landed suddenly, just before her and with a rebound rose just over her prostrate body to a final landing place. Although Hoxey managed to repair his machine after yesterday's mishap, so that it could fly, he was unsuccessful today. He made two attempts at flight, but on neither did he arise more than fifty feet, nor travel over a distance greater than 300 yards.

QUIETNESS AMID STORM

Far beneath the noisy waters of the raging, tossing sea, it is said there flows a current smooth and placid as can be. No rough waves disturb the flowing. 'Tis that calm and peaceful stream; All the noise of tempest raging Lies as distant as a dream. So to all who listen truly For the Saviour's loving voice, Comes that "peace that passeth knowledge," And the soul can e'en rejoice. When the storm of life is keenest; For the quiet the tempest wild Is the best, firm assurance That the Lord protects His child. Rest, then, soul, for God gives quiet To the heart that trusts His will; I will never, never leave thee," 'Tis the promise—then, be still. ALICE FOULGER.
