

Woman's Realm Social and Personal Fashions Literature

Living & Leisure The Woman's Realm

TAKE TIME Take time to look—it is the price of success; Take time to think—it is a source of power; Take time to play—the secret of perennial youth; Take time to read—the source of wisdom; Take time to be friendly—the way to happiness; Take time to laugh—it is the music of the soul.

WASHABLE PAPERS FOR WALLS SHOWN

NEW YORK.—The demand for plain color walls has led to experiments in "washable" wallpapers, and now we have the "scrubbable" wallpaper which, from a utilitarian standpoint, is not to be overlooked.

But there are still grand possibilities in wallpaper design. In some of the papers old motifs are being given an interesting new treatment. An illustration is the use of a swag of white lace on a light grey paper, bringing out an old motif in a charming new manner. This calls for a sharp color contrast elsewhere in the room such as coral satin or turquoise blue leather, on the new natural wood furniture.

STYLISH FOOTWEAR FOR RAINY DAYS

NEW YORK.—Stylish rainyday footwear is an economizer on shoe leather. Fabrics too fragile to brook the storm, hosiery too light in color to match the splashing rain, are kept dry and shiny.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

When you are calling on friends or spending the evening with them, do you know when to go home? When you first think it is time to go, don't let their polite protests deter you.

PLAID COVER FOR FEDESTAL TABLE

NEW YORK.—A Colonial pedestal table used as a console against the wall is given new life at one store by a scalloped-edge plaid cover, cut so that the edge of the table shows all the way around, and the gay colors of the plaid—red, green and blue—bow at the corners help to create a pleasantly festive effect.

FITTED COVER HIDES DININGROOM TABLE

NEW YORK.—A dining room table, unless it is an unusually fine one, is likely to present between meals an unimpressive expanse of shiny top. At one of the model rooms in a downtown store, the addition of a fitted cover creates a delightfully dressed-up air.

SLIM, DRAPE GOWN OF FLORAL PRINT

NEW YORK.—According to reports, slim, draped dresses with multicolor florals on black grounds are good everywhere. Print-plain combinations look especially right for wear under coats. Black patterns on bright rayon crepes, ditto. In two pieces, black-velvet collars and cuffs for black-patterned bright colors look enough like Chesterfields to have some of their magic appeal.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

Don't try to "reform" your friends and acquaintances. There is just one person whom you can and should reform—and that is yourself. It is rude to interfere with another's life unless you are urged to help.

BUTTER-SAVING SUGGESTIONS

Now that butter rationing is in effect across Canada, the consumer section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has come forward with butter saving suggestions that every housewife will follow and appreciate. First check the ways in which butter is used in the home, and then plan how you can and should reform—and that is yourself. It is rude to interfere with another's life unless you are urged to help.

If butter was formerly used in baking cakes, cookies try other fats. Select recipes for cakes, puddings and sauces which call for only moderate amounts of fat. Sugar must also be considered.

Do not use butter for frying. Fats from sausages, spareribs and other meats are excellent for this purpose. Instead of using butter, grease pans with other mild flavored fats. Drizzles from beef and lamb roasts can be used in meat and vegetable dishes, and for pan-frying many foods.

Instead of using butter in cream sauces for vegetables, substitute oil or fats. Grated cheese on vegetables also will take the place of butter.

With baked potatoes, mash individually first, and add the butter to the potato before serving. Use cheese with baked crumbly toppings. Before serving steaks do not butter them.

A timely folder "Saving and Using Fats in the Home" is available, free of charge, from the Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. There are many ways of saving butter right at the dining room table. For instance, mother might butter her bread and make the butter go a little farther.

Individual servings, either as butter balls or sauces are buttered on stretchers. Be sure to remove the butter from the refrigerator a short time before use so that it will be of good consistency for spreading. This applies particularly to cup-to-go sandwiches for school children or workers' lunch boxes.

If the crusts are to be cut off bread for sandwiches this should be done before buttering. In making large number of sandwiches it is a good idea to whip 1-4 cup of milk or 1-4 cup of water into one pound of butter. Butter one slice of the bread with the butter, and the other slice with filling.

For breakfast time less butter can be used if butter and honey are mixed before spreading on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast. Use a little less butter on toast.

New under-arm Cream Deodorant safely Stops Perspiration

1. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts. Does not irritate skin. 2. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving. 3. Instantly stops perspiration for 1 to 3 days. Prevents odor. 4. A pure, white, greaseless, stainless finishing cream. 5. Awarded Approval Seal of American Institute of Laundering for being harmless to fabric.

Arid is the largest selling deodorant

39¢ a jar Also in 1 1/2 and 50¢ jars

ARRID

Girl On His Hands

By JOSEPH CHADWICK

CHAPTER IX

Virginia was pecking angrily back and forth in her sitting room while Margaret Bailey, sat watching her.

"You're sure?" she asked. "You're absolutely certain? Dad was showing him the diamonds?"

Mrs. Bailey nodded. "I was at a table across the dining room. Mr. Stacy was there alone. When your father came in and went straight to the young man's table. He introduced himself and sat down. They had lunch together. Then your father brought out the diamonds."

Virginia halted. "Oh, the idiot! He may have ruined everything!"

"Well, it's a damn shame. When your father came in and went straight to the young man's table. He introduced himself and sat down. They had lunch together. Then your father brought out the diamonds."

"It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

"Margaret!" Virginia called. "It's the truth, and you know it!" Virginia, though she looked hurt, did not know that Margaret Bailey was lying about her father.

Dorothy Dix Says— CONSIDERATION BETWEEN WIFE, HUSBAND MAKES HAPPY HOME

Most Men And Women Endure Strangers But Revolt At Same Tactics By Own Mates

One of the most beautiful sights in the world is a happy family, in which the husband and wife treat each other with tenderness and consideration, in which the children are little birds in their nests agree and in which the in-laws are cherished, instead of being made targets for perpetual criticism.

Yet such a spectacle is so rare as to be almost a museum specimen that we would go miles to see. Most of the homes with which we are familiar are places of turmoil and strife, in which the husband and wife argue and bicker, and the children fight, and from which everyone flees and in which the in-laws are cherished, instead of being made targets for perpetual criticism.

But such is far from the case. Strange as it may be, husbands and wives who make their marriage a hell on earth for each other can still love each other. We have all seen women who nagged their husbands when they were dead, and men who had never said a kind word to their wives when they were alive, and from which everyone flees and in which the in-laws are cherished, instead of being made targets for perpetual criticism.

And it is an axiom that no matter how much brothers and sisters may fight amongst themselves, they will gang up on any outsider who attacks one of their group.

HOME BRINGS STRONGEST BONDS

Now we all know that there is no other happiness so pure and unalloyed as that we find on our own hearthstones; that there is no loyalty that we can trust so complete as that of those who are bound to us by the blood tie, and that the longing of every human heart is for a peaceful home in which we shall live with those we love and who love us.

Why, then, do we so seldom realize our ideal? I think it is because the general opinion prevails that it is not necessary to even be commonly polite to your own kin and kind, and that home is a place where you can cast into the discard all the amenities of civilization and be just as boorish and disagreeable as you please.

No man would dream of speaking to any other woman with the brutal frankness that he does to his wife. A man will listen with an expression of absorbed interest, while some strange woman, with the intellect of a hysterical hen, babbles on and on and on. But let his wife express an opinion with which he disagrees, and he will tell her to shut up, or he doesn't know what she is talking about. No man goes about telling other women that they are getting fat, or that their new frock is ten years too young for them, or that their hats look like something they bought out of a circus clown, but the very husbands who are so careful to tread on other women's sensibilities walk roughshod over their wives.

Now are wives any more tactful in dealing with their husbands? Most wives don't even think it worthwhile to dress up for a mere husband. They serve him cold cream and bungalow aprons for breakfast and soiled housecoats for dinner, and save their good clothes for company. Also their line of charms.

FAMILIARITY BREEDS DOMESTIC CONTEMPT

The only bore that wives suffer gladly are the one they are not married to. A woman will beg Mr. A. to tell over again that perfectly fascinating story that she has heard forty times before and that makes her yawn her head off, but let Friend Husband even suggest doing his card trick, or relating his pet story, and she will say: "John! Not that old wheeze! Why, they cut their teeth on it when they were in the cradle."

When any other man spends his money on trying to give a woman a good time, she plays up to him. She pretends to be enjoying the food whether she likes it or not. She never criticizes the play he takes her to, or the seats he has gotten. And she makes an effort to be gay and amusing and entertaining. But let Husband take her stepping and she finds fault with everything he has done and left undone, and sits up with an expression of an early Christian martyr, who is being sacrificed to the low-browed tastes of a husband.

Probably the average husband and wife would drop dead with surprise if the man or woman to whom they are married would pay them a voluntary compliment, yet there is no one for whose praise they so hunger and thirst. There is nothing they long for so much as a little appreciation, a little show of tenderness, a little display of affection, but they seldom get them. All they get is home trials, cold candor, and harsh criticisms. Hence the many unhappy homes and marriages that are failures.

It is tragically true that bad manners wreck more homes than sin does. Wherever you see a family who are as polite to each other as they are to strangers, you see a happy family.

It was really in love with her! Then, her mind switched back to the more immediate problem of her father. That must be settled first. For the time being she must forget Arturo and do all in her power to charm John Stacy.

Turning from the window with sudden decision, she went to the phone and asked the hotel operator to ring John's room.

When he answered, she spoke in her most dulcet tones. "John, this is Virginia Dane. You said you would drop in to see me again tonight. I was wondering whether you would have dinner with me."

"I'd like that very much," John told her.

"I do hope we can reach an understanding after we've talked things over again. Will you call at my home?"

"At eight," John agreed. "I'll hear you had lunch with father?"

"Well, I see you this evening." As Virginia hung up, she was frowning. Did his reliance about her father mean anything? Did it mean that he had guessed what Roger Dane had to do with the situation? She wished she knew. . . . (To Be Continued)

HERMITAGE W. L. The regular monthly meeting of the Hermitage Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Murphy.

Meeting opened by singing Institute Ode followed by repeating Creed.

Roll call was answered by Santa Claus appearing to distribute Christmas gifts and caused much merriment.

Correspondence was read and discussed. Reports of different committees were heard and committees

FOUR SWEAR WORDS KINGSTON-ON-THE-LAKE, Eng. — (CP) — "In which We Serve," a British film which gained worldwide publicity over four swear words; it was banned at a Youth Parade in this Surrey town.

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but the mental suffering caused by the embarrassment which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood.

Burdock Blood Purifier helps to cleanse the blood and with the blood cleansed the complexion should clear up.

YOURS FOR YOUTH AND LOVELINESS

January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ward Jay with nine members and four visitors present and meeting opened with Keep the Home Fires Burning, followed by Creed. Roll call was answered by a War Saving Stamp. Slide reported two treated. It was decided to buy another blackboard for school, also to have a pantry sale in the near future. Two questionnaires were filled in and a contest was put on by Mrs. Watson Jay and won by Mrs. Keary Jay. Meeting closed with the singing of hymns and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the hostesses for a pleasant evening spent.

RUSSO-JAPS AGREEMENT BERLIN. (From German Broadcasts), Jan. 8.—(AP)—A Tokyo dispatch reported that Tomokazu Hori, Japanese Government spokesman, claimed today discussions were under way with the Soviet Government for a new Russian-Japanese fisheries agreement. The old foundation for creamed dishes or canapés. Sugar: Six servings

WOMEN IN POTTERY LONDON.—(CP)—Unable to buy household crockery because of wartime restrictions, many British women are learning to make their own, says A. D. Sinclair, principal of the Working School of Arts and Crafts, where classes are conducted in pottery making.

CANTEEN FROM CANADA LONDON.—(CP)—A mobile canteen, donated by the Order of the Eastern Star in Ontario, has been handed over to the 3rd City of London Battalion, Home Guard. Lt. Hon Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, made the presentation to Sir Thomas Moore.

FRANCE TOAST 1 egg slightly beaten 1 cup milk 4 slices stale bread 6 slices beaten egg, milk and salt. Cut bread in halves and dip in egg mixture. Sauté in butter on heavy griddle or in frying pan, keeping pan almost dry during the cooking. Turn over, and cook on both sides. Or fry in deep hot fat (350 F.) until light brown. Drain on soft paper. Serve with syrup or cinnamon and sugar for dessert, or use as foundation for creamed dishes or canapés. Sugar: Six servings

TWILIGHT Stealing so softly, that the whispering winds Are not disturbed, onward it slowly wends Taking the last vestige of glittering day; Leaving soft colours, mingled with the grey Of evening. Then, so softly from the sky, A star is placed, so gently, in the sky. By some soft, unseen hand away In the deep purple stillness for to prove, That, though the sun that lit the day Is taken, evening stars shall guide the way. Of weary travellers, wending onward home, As from their many different tasks they come. And even in countries torn with war and strife And struggle with a foe midst death and life Those soldiers pause at twilight, and they gaze With reverence, as they give their Maker praise For this most lovely hour, which, even care Can never steal because God placed it there —Ruby M. Blonden, Glen Valley.

CUTICURA Is Different! Don't confuse it with creams and cosmetics. CUTICURA OINTMENT IS MEDICINAL Contains OXYQUINOLINE and other valuable ingredients. GREAT FOR HELPING HEAL PIMPLES, BLACKHEADS AND OTHER BLEMISHES!

Home Service Writing Letters Can Be Made Easy

One quilt was finished for Red Cross it was decided to make another. Members to make blocks for same, also that sick and shut-ins in district be remembered with gifts for Christmas.

A social hour was then enjoyed. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Aeneas Curran. Roll call to be answered with New Year resolution. Also drawing for Lottery cheese will take place.

Meeting closed by singing "National Anthem."

WOOD ISLANDS EAST SCHOOL Standing for November and December: Grade X—1. James Stuart; Grade VIII—1. Letty Gillis; 2. Lillian White; 3. Arnold Lannon; Grade VII—1. Hannah White; 2. Josephine Acorn; 3. Francis Panting.

Grade III—1. Relda Moore. Grade II—1. Joyce Panting; 2. Margaret Gillis; 3. Laura Acorn. Grade I (a)—1. Lester White; 2. Glenn Keenan; 3. Robert White. Grade I (b)—1. Hannah Acorn; 2. Letty Gillis; 3. Letty Gillis; 4. Kenneth Emery; 3. Angus Panting.

Perfect attendance in November: James Stuart, Lillian White, Letty Gillis, Francis Panting, Hannah White, Josephine Acorn, Robert White, Glenn Keenan.

Perfect attendance in December: James Stuart, Letty Gillis, Francis Panting, Josephine Acorn, Teacher, Christine MacLean.

FOUR SWEAR WORDS KINGSTON-ON-THE-LAKE, Eng. — (CP) — "In which We Serve," a British film which gained worldwide publicity over four swear words; it was banned at a Youth Parade in this Surrey town.

"Oh, Why Can't I Write Well?" "Woe is me!" you think. "I try so hard, I use up so much paper and I just know he'll be bored to death with my letter!" Are you sure he'll be bored? Your news may not be much, but he'll love reading it if it's told right—and you can easily tell it right.

Don't just line up facts in little bald sentences. "Henry and Mildred" for use. He drove his old car to the movies."

Pick the high spots and dress them up: "Henry drove up in his car with a HORRIBLE clank! Midge was so embarrassed. Another trick is to use the exord, the "picture phrase." Not a very good speech, but "deeply moving" or "inspiring."

As you read your letter over, comb out grammar snags—easy to find when you know how! "I laid my head down," corrected, become "I lay down." "Different than" becomes "different from."

Our 32-page booklet has correct forms for common grammar mistakes, suggests topics for friendly letters, helps you find vivid words and phrases for everyday thoughts as 24 correct model letters—including business, friendly, social.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Good Letter-Writing Made Easy" to Charlottetown Guardian Home Service. Address Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Name Street Address City Province

THROAT SORE? for common remedy cure throat

JUST RUB ON MINARD'S MENTHOLIN

Name Street Address City Province

THE COOK'S CORNER

HOW TO COOK POTATOES Baked Potatoes: Light oven and set heat regular at 400 degrees. Scrub potatoes well with a vegetable brush. Rub the skin of each potato with a little cooking oil or fat. Put in a shallow baking pan and bake 40 minutes to 1 hour. To see if potatoes are done, stick with a fork or pick up in a cloth and squeeze. If potatoes are soft, they are done.

Bolled Potatoes in Jackets: Scrub thoroughly with a vegetable brush. Fill teakettle and bring water to a boil. Put potatoes in a pan, and pour boiling water from teakettle until water covers potatoes. Cover. p.n. Cook over a low flame until potatoes are soft when struck with a fork—about 20 to 30 minutes.

FRANCE TOAST 1 egg slightly beaten 1 cup milk 4 slices stale bread 6 slices beaten egg, milk and salt. Cut bread in halves and dip in egg mixture. Sauté in butter on heavy griddle or in frying pan, keeping pan almost dry during the cooking. Turn over, and cook on both sides. Or fry in deep hot fat (350 F.) until light brown. Drain on soft paper. Serve with syrup or cinnamon and sugar for dessert, or use as foundation for creamed dishes or canapés. Sugar: Six servings

RUSSO-JAPS AGREEMENT BERLIN. (From German Broadcasts), Jan. 8.—(AP)—A Tokyo dispatch reported that Tomokazu Hori, Japanese Government spokesman, claimed today discussions were under way with the Soviet Government for a new Russian-Japanese fisheries agreement. The old foundation for creamed dishes or canapés. Sugar: Six servings

WOMEN IN POTTERY LONDON.—(CP)—Unable to buy household crockery because of wartime restrictions, many British women are learning to make their own, says A. D. Sinclair, principal of the Working School of Arts and Crafts, where classes are conducted in pottery making.

CANTEEN FROM CANADA LONDON.—(CP)—A mobile canteen, donated by the Order of the Eastern Star in Ontario, has been handed over to the 3rd City of London Battalion, Home Guard. Lt. Hon Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, made the presentation to Sir Thomas Moore.

FRANCE TOAST 1 egg slightly beaten 1 cup milk 4 slices stale bread 6 slices beaten egg, milk and salt. Cut bread in halves and dip in egg mixture. Sauté in butter on heavy griddle or in frying pan, keeping pan almost dry during the cooking. Turn over, and cook on both sides. Or fry in deep hot fat (350 F.) until light brown. Drain on soft paper. Serve with syrup or cinnamon and sugar for dessert, or use as foundation for creamed dishes or canapés. Sugar: Six servings

TWILIGHT Stealing so softly, that the whispering winds Are not disturbed, onward it slowly wends Taking the last vestige of glittering day; Leaving soft colours, mingled with the grey Of evening. Then, so softly from the sky, A star is placed, so gently, in the sky. By some soft, unseen hand away In the deep purple stillness for to prove, That, though the sun that lit the day Is taken, evening stars shall guide the way. Of weary travellers, wending onward home, As from their many different tasks they come. And even in countries torn with war and strife And struggle with a foe midst death and life Those soldiers pause at twilight, and they gaze With reverence, as they give their Maker praise For this most lovely hour, which, even care Can never steal because God placed it there —Ruby M. Blonden, Glen Valley.

CUTICURA Is Different! Don't confuse it with creams and cosmetics. CUTICURA OINTMENT IS MEDICINAL Contains OXYQUINOLINE and other valuable ingredients. GREAT FOR HELPING HEAL PIMPLES, BLACKHEADS AND OTHER BLEMISHES!

Home Service Writing Letters Can Be Made Easy

One quilt was finished for Red Cross it was decided to make another. Members to make blocks for same, also that sick and shut-ins in district be remembered with gifts for Christmas.

A social hour was then enjoyed. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Aeneas Curran. Roll call to be answered with New Year resolution. Also drawing for Lottery cheese will take place.

Meeting closed by singing "National Anthem."

WOOD ISLANDS EAST SCHOOL Standing for November and December: Grade X—1. James Stuart; Grade VIII—1. Letty Gillis; 2. Lillian White; 3. Arnold Lannon; Grade VII—1. Hannah White; 2. Josephine Acorn; 3. Francis Panting.

Grade III—1. Relda Moore. Grade II—1. Joyce Panting; 2. Margaret Gillis; 3. Laura Acorn. Grade I (a)—1. Lester White; 2. Glenn Keenan; 3. Robert White. Grade I (b)—1. Hannah Acorn; 2. Letty Gillis; 3. Letty Gillis; 4. Kenneth Emery; 3. Angus Panting.

Perfect attendance in November: James Stuart, Lillian White, Letty Gillis, Francis Panting, Hannah White, Josephine Acorn, Robert White, Glenn Keenan.

Perfect attendance in December: James Stuart, Letty Gillis, Francis Panting, Josephine Acorn, Teacher, Christine MacLean.

FOUR SWEAR WORDS KINGSTON-ON-THE-LAKE, Eng. — (CP) — "In which We Serve," a British film which gained worldwide publicity over four swear words; it was banned at a Youth Parade in this Surrey town.

"Oh, Why Can't I Write Well?" "Woe is me!" you think. "I try so hard, I use up so much paper and I just know he'll be bored to death with my letter!" Are you sure he'll be bored? Your news may not be much, but he'll love reading it if it's told right—and you can easily tell it right.

Don't just line up facts in little bald sentences. "Henry and Mildred" for use. He drove his old car to the movies."

Pick the high spots and dress them up: "Henry drove up in his car with a HORRIBLE clank! Midge was so embarrassed. Another trick is to use the exord, the "picture phrase." Not a very good speech, but "deeply moving" or "inspiring."

As you read your letter over, comb out grammar snags—easy to find when you know how! "I laid my head down," corrected, become "I lay down." "Different than" becomes "different from."

Our 32-page booklet has correct forms for common grammar mistakes, suggests topics for friendly letters, helps you find vivid words and phrases for