

In Old Age

Health and comfort in old age depends largely on keeping the liver and kidneys in healthful action.

Pains and aches, stiffness of the joints, lumbago and rheumatism tell of poisons left in the blood by sluggishness of the liver and kidneys.

People in advanced years hold Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in high esteem because of the promptness and certainty with which they awaken the action of kidneys, liver and bowels.

SOMEBODY needs your services—if you can do any useful work intelligently and well. It's not a question of "dulness" in your line—but of aggressiveness on your part in advertising for a job.

RULE STRICTLY ENFORCED.—Over fifty cases of fines and closing-up orders as penalties for infractions of food regulations are set forth in the Canadian Food Bulletin just issued. All eating houses and boarding houses are again warned to secure sugar certificates as soon as possible.

KILLED IN ACTION.—The news of the death in action in France, of D. Lorne Dewar was received by Summerside friends last week, and has caused the deepest sorrow here, where he was well known and highly respected. He was here for some time as a manager of the Dominion Dredging Co., and since then has visited Summerside each year. Sergt. Dewar whose home is in Ottawa, enlisted in a Highland regiment in St. Peter's, C. B., some time after he left Summerside. He was a splendid chap, well liked by all who knew him, and his death is deeply regretted by all. To the bereaved family is extended sincerest sympathy.

KNOWN IN THIS PORT.—Captain Herbert Doyle, of Halifax, arrived at New York Monday, having navigated past all danger a steamer he took around from the Great Lakes. The steamer says the Halifax Herald was purchased by New York parties for $800,000. It was said Tuesday but not verified that Captain Doyle would command the steamer which the Nova Scotia Steamships, Limited, intended putting on the route between Halifax and Boston with Yarmouth as a port of call both ways. Captain Doyle was formerly master of the Plant line steamer Halifax between here and Boston and later had charge of the Plant steamer Evangeline which like the Halifax, was sold for traffic overseas. Both ships have since fell victims to the Hun submarine.

ENJOYABLE OUTING.—A party of youths and maidens consisting of Messrs. Morley Newsome, John Rogerson, Lorne Lea, Misses Leah Rogerson, Gracie Woodside and Millie Cameron accompanied by Miss Elma Inman as chaperone, motored from Hampton on Thursday in Mr. Harry Webster's "Fairy" McLaughlan car. To Borden and other points of interest. While at Borden they enjoyed a dainty lunch and the balmy air and sea breezes which ever and anon are gently blowing. The ride home at eventide was one of grandeur, as the golden sun's rays were fading on the eastern horizon, filling all the land with beauty at the close of a pleasant day. All loudly proclaim Borden to be one of the best spots on this fair Island that everyone is so proud of today. V

BIG SERIAL OF THRILLS COMING

"The Women in the Web," New Vitagraph Chapter Play by Albert E. Smith and Cyrus Townsend Brady to be Shown Here for Fifteen Weeks.

The management of the Prince Edward Theatre announces he has secured the forthcoming 15-chapter Vitagraph serial, "The Woman in the Web" the first episode of which will be seen Friday and Saturday, an episode to follow each successive week. This serial, while totally different in type from its two predecessors, "The Fighting Trail" and "Vengeance—and the Woman," has many unique touches and many thrills, even more gripping than those which made for the amazing success of the recent Vitagraph adventure chapter plays.

The story of "The Woman in the Web" was written by Albert E. Smith, president of the Vitagraph Company, and Cyrus Townsend Brady, who were the authors of "Vengeance—and the Woman." Mr. Smith is conceded to be one of the greatest devisors of stunts in picturedom and Dr. Brady for many years has held a place in the front rank of fiction writers, so the combination is ideal for motion picture production.

Hedda Nova and J. Frank Glendon, film players of exceptional talent and widely known, are the stars of "The Woman in the Web." Miss Nova is a young Russian girl of striking brunette beauty, who scored her greatest successes in "The Bar Sinister" and "The Sign Invisible," which was shown recently in the new Rivoli Theatre, in New York City. Miss Nova, asserts Walter W. Irwin, general manager of the Vitagraph distributing organization, comes as near being the ideal serial heroine as any woman he ever has seen. She is an accomplished athlete, a fine actress and a splendid horsewoman, riding with all the skill attributed to the cowboys of the West.

Mr. Glendon is a young Westerner, standing more than six feet, virile and an ideal adventure star, who will hesitate at no risk to bring realism to a scene. He passed several years on a ranch in Montana, living in the outdoors, most of the time in the saddle, before coming East to moving picture. His fine work in O. Henry pictures won him leads in Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Features and he was Mr. Smith's instant choice for leading man in the forthcoming serial.

"The Woman in the Web" is unhesitatingly stamped by Messrs Smith and Brady as one of their strongest efforts, Romance, intrigue and adventure are the outstanding points, but the theme itself is different in treatment and color than in any of its predecessors. The serial is woven about a young girl bound by royal blood to wed a noble suitor, but whose heart belongs to a young American.

A great mission is forced upon her and in carrying it out she is fought at every turn by powerful influence extending around the globe. She is supported only by her American sweetheart. The development of the story is a masterpiece of continuity and is fascinating, convincing and an almost continuous chain of thrills.

In the making of "The Woman in the Web," carte blanche was given David Smith and Paul Hurst of widest experience and reputation, who have been most happy in locations, which are situated in many different sections of the country. 1133-8-30M11.
