Co-operative Legislation Asked

Whereas this meeting endorses the principles of co-operation and believes that an orderly development of co-operatives in Prince Edward Island should be safeguarded by legislation:

RE CURRICULUM CHANGES

Resolved: That the Central Farmers' Institute in its finding of the several committees named at our last annual meeting to consider a change in the course of our primary schools, and which would suggest a variety of matters be brought before the Board of Education with the least possible delay.

Improved Docking Facilities

Resolved, that the Central Farmers' Institute in its session at Charlottetown, this 22nd of February, 1938, go on record in supporting and urging the much needed docking and terminal facilities for the large tourist cruises, which frequent the Gulf during the summer months, to make Charlottetown a port of call.

Support Canning Industry

Whereas the farmers of Prince Edward Island are seriously handicapped in the marketing of their products because of the limited demand for same and because of the heavy rail freight charges on shipments to all parts of the mainland, and

Re Trial Shipment of Berries

Following Mr. Hemming's address Mr. F. S. Reeves, Southport, told delegates last summer an experimental shipment of a ton of Prince Edward Island strawberries had been made to jam factories in England. The berries were well received and the highest price there was paid.

REPORT COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

There is a widespread feeling that our traditional school system fails to equip the average citizen for his place in society. In a rapidly changing world it is hard for education to keep pace with our needs.

Re Free School Books

Resolved that in the opinion of the Central Farmers' Institute the matter of supplying free school books should receive very careful consideration, and your committee would suggest that this matter be referred back to our local institutes for further consideration.

EDUCATION

The introduction of agricultural education, with changes in the curriculum of our primary schools, was an outstanding feature for discussion at our convention last year.

DOCKING FACILITIES

In presenting such a gloomy picture of our conditions, we are not being pessimistic, but we are still able to see in the distance, to national and economic recovery, and greater provincial prosperity.

MARKETING REGULATIONS DESIRABLE

Our Co-operatives, such as the Egg and Poultry Association, Potato Marketing Board, Potato Growers' Association, etc., have been furnishing plenty of evidence as to the value of general marketing and their steadily increasing volume of sales will be proof sufficient of their popularity.

TENDERS FOR HAULING CREAM

To the Dunstaffnage Cheese and Butter Co., during 1938 will be received at the office, The Island and Carry Stores up until February 28th, 1938. Several new routes will be established this year as well as all the routes that were in operation last year.

Cash & Carry Stores

Improvement (Continued from page 1) summer. In premium horses there were 9 A and 15 B grade horses. This year inspection would be conducted in the month of April or early in May, Mr. Shaw announced.

DELEGATES WELCOMED

Delegates to the meeting were welcomed by Hon. W. H. Dennis, minister of agriculture, and the horsemen as he had told delegates to the Central Farmers' Institute earlier in the day, that it appeared easy enough to get money for road building but very difficult to get money to assist agriculture.

CO-OPERATIVE STORES

At a former meeting of our Central Farmers' Institute, we suggested the possibility of introducing co-operative stores as a means of rounding out the co-operative city. Since then some progress has been made. We are pleased to note that throughout the Province there are now a few buying clubs and one co-operative store operating at Southport. We wish to extend to the sponsors of these clubs, and store, our heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for their continued success. We cannot emphasize too strongly our belief in the potential value of collective purchasing. There is no means available that will so effectively combat the tremendous spread between production costs and distribution charges as that offered through the power of collective purchasing. We are pleased to note that much progress is reported in this respect from Nova Scotia. The British Canadian Co-operative stores in Cape Breton, with their condensed form, their recent semi-annual report, have provided for a rebate of 8 per cent for members and 4 per cent for non-members. A few years ago, the Co-operative stores, as a means of establishing credit for rural communities, were somewhat dubious. We are now confident that rural credit is in operation, that collective buying clubs can very materially help in saving the way toward a healthier condition of rural finances.

CAPITOL—TWO DAYS—Today & Thur.

Another DAWN with IAN HUNTER, FREDIA INESCORT, HERBEN MADDIN, G. HUNTER, JR. PLUS MUSICAL REVUE. DAILY 3.15—7.00—8.45

FARMER DELEGATES

(Continued from page 1) financing such an undertaking, and asking for legislation for the recognition of co-operatives in addition to the one asking curriculum changes, were adopted at the meeting.

Made Life Member

Mr. Peter Brodie, prominent 80-year-old York farmer was made a life member of the Central Institute of the Charlottetown branch. He had been a member for 33 years and in that time missed only one annual meeting.

In a report the representatives told Mr. Hemming "that there was no reason why we should not succeed in carrying out a variety of fruits, vegetables, soups, pickles, sauces, etc., besides chicken and other meats."

In the second year after starting there should be no difficulty in shipping five tons of finished canned goods per day from each of the two factories, and a farm staff, the representatives told Mr. Hemming. This would mean about 1,000 cases per week.

Farmers producing the required raw materials for the canning would be better off in growing such fruits as apples, strawberries, cultivated blueberries, cranberries, etc., than you are today in devoting so much of your acreage to grain, potatoes and turnips, the latter of which, to say the least, is speculative.

Re Trial Shipment of Berries

Following Mr. Hemming's address Mr. F. S. Reeves, Southport, told delegates last summer an experimental shipment of a ton of Prince Edward Island strawberries had been made to jam factories in England. The berries were well received and the highest price there was paid.

REPORT COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

There is a widespread feeling that our traditional school system fails to equip the average citizen for his place in society. In a rapidly changing world it is hard for education to keep pace with our needs.
