All Set For The World Series

Yankees And Cubs Primed For The Word Tomorrow.

Edward J. Nell, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 — They were hunting to the front of the sun-lit boxes in the stadium today, broke out and tuned up the bands, and the World Series show is back on the way again after a lapse of two years. Down on the playing field, the big American League and National League teams are all packed in the bleachers, and the start of the annual fall hysteria Wednesday.

There was Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in rubber shirts, their jaws hanging busily on a fine brand of cut, whanging baseballs into vacant reaches of the right bleachers where, starting at Wednesday, the frantic faithful rise and scream for a split second each time one of them is hit.

Big "Red" Ruffing, the peoples' favorite, is to face Guy Bush of the Yankees in the opening game, joined by Ed Wells, Danny McDevitt and Charley Devines pitcher for the Yankees, the big and slugger, all in a gay mood of the fences with line drives.

RESSES RURAL ORGANIZATION COOPERATION

Emphasized In Address At Rotary Club.

The benefits to be derived from co-operation in farming communities, and also between rural and urban centres, were discussed in an interesting address by J. W. A. Nicholson, of North West.

Emphasis was placed by the speaker on the importance of farming in the community, the Province of the nation. One-third of the population of Canada, it was pointed out, are farmers. In this Province they represent 75 per cent of the population, and upon the success of farming depends almost entirely the success of all classes of our people.

Contrasting the economic problems of the farmer with those of the business and professional men, the speaker stressed the greater disad-

TOLL GATE SHOWS CLASS

Wins In Straight Heats At West Springfield — Canadian Horses Good.

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 26.—Toll Gate, a pacer from the J. D. Roddy stable of Kingston, Ont., proved the class of a select field in the 2.09 pace, feature event of the light harness programme at the Eastern States Exposition Grounds.

With McKane holding the reins, Toll Gate paced to a straight heat triumph, to take the big slice of a $1,500 purse. Other winners were Calumet Climatic in the three-year-old trot, and Yocken Mein in the 2.20 trot.

The Canadian entry carried through the three heats without effort. The other horses in the field were rather closely matched, but they couldn't match strides with Toll Gate. Driver McKane, as early as the first quarter mile in the opening heat, reined Toll Gate to the front of the parade and remained in that position until the finish. The stretch brushes were stiff for second place, but McKane never was forced to whip his horse.

Calumet Climatic, owned by Ackerman and McDonald of Topsfield, and driven by Ackerman, won the three-year-old trot in straight heats.

Yocken Mein, owned by Thomas Ashworth of Charlton City and driven by Thomas, came first to win the last two heats of the 2.20 trot.

THE WORLD SERIES

The 1932 World Series between New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs will get under way tomorrow afternoon, provided the weather is fine.

Due to the tremendous interest manifested in these play-downs, The Guardian in conjunction with the Halifax Herald will give the fans one hundred percent service by way of an electrical sign board erected on the Prince Street side of the Guardian building to enable the fans to follow the destinies of the game, giving an accurate play by play description as they are made at the scene of hostilities.

This is the first time in the history of sport in this province that a specially equipped electrical sign board has been used for this purpose, and no doubt thousands will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the World Series played on the sign board.

In addition the Guardian will have direct wire service to the ball field, and in this way the fans will witness the plays almost as soon as New York fans see them. This play by play account will also be carried the following day in regular editions of the Guardian.

Besides the detailed accounts, the Guardian will carry a descriptive lead by Alan Gould, Associated Press sports editor.

The first game is slated for tomorrow in New York. The second game will be played Thursday in the same place. Friday the teams will travel, resuming the series at Chicago on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. If the sixth and seventh games are necessary, they will be played in New York Wednesday and Thursday of next week. If one game is postponed, the games following will each be set back one day.

Games in New York will start at 2.30 p.m. and in Chicago at 3.30 p.m., both Atlantic Standard Time.

The Guardian-Halifax Herald board is now being "hooked up" and by Wednesday everything will be all set for the Series.

Hornsby Claims Share Of Spoils

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 26.—Rogers Hornsby, deposed Manager of the Chicago Cubs, has announced he has written a letter of protest to Baseball Commissioner K.M. Landis against the action of Chicago players in leaving him out of the World Series money.

Contending that he was the man who selected the team that recently clinched the 1932 National League title, whipped it into shape and led it through its major difficulties, Hornsby wrote that he thought he had earned and was fairly entitled to a share in the fund.

A number of business items were given attention.

CANADIAN BOAT MAY CHALLENGE

(Canadian Press)

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—The syndicate of Orillia, Ont., sportsmen contemplating entry of a Canadian boat in the Harmsworth races next year, would be given most earnest consideration it was believed here today, although officials of the Yachtsmen's Association of America were absent from their offices.

A challenge for the trophy must come through an established yacht club in the country where the bid originates and it must be filed before March 1 in the year of the race, with the Yachtsmen's Association of America. One of the requirements is that the challenging craft must be built wholly within the country from which the challenge is made. In the case of Canada, special dispensation might be made permitting the use of engines or other materials made in Great Britain. The challenging or defending country may have three boats in the race if desired. The winner has to capture two heats to get the trophy.

There have been rumors of a possible challenge from Italy next year. If both Canada and Italy challenge it will be the first time Gar Wood, United States defender, has been in competition with more than one challenger at the same time in defense of the trophy.

Schmeling Wins In The Eighth

Bruised And Battered Mickey Walker No Match For Teuton — Was Knocked Down Three Times

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN BOWL, New York, Sept. 26.—(By The Canadian Press)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Mickey Walker at the close of the eighth round of his 15 round bout. Kearns, Walker's manager relinquished his fighter's chance when Walker's left eye had been closed and his face badly cut by two knockdowns in the eighth round.

Walker was so badly battered under Schmeling's vicious attack in the eighth round that he barely lasted the three minutes under terrific punishment. Seeing his battered warrior's condition, Kearns leaped into the ring as the bell sounded, took Walker to his seat, and refused to let him continue.

Schmeling also floored Walker for a count of six in the first round. In a dramatic and unusual finish, the fight was stopped after the bell ended the eighth round with Walker so badly cut and bleeding around the eyes that he was unable to continue. Knocked down twice for counts of six and nine seconds in the eighth, Walker staggered to his corner with his left eye tightly Association, while crossing the track was knocked down and somewhat injured.

Vesta Boy, driven by D. Steele, Summerside, won the free-for-all at Sydney in 2.17. Spooner Boy winning the first heat in 2.17. Prince Wilkes, Meadowvale, Walter H. and Gallagher were the other starters. Robert L., owned by J. R. Ferguson, Stellarton, won the 2.30 class in 2.29. Montrose, Jr., F. Redding, North Sydney, winning the first and fourth heats in 2.17, 2.28, and Helen R., the second heat in 2.28.

closed, his right eye cut and blood streaming from gashes about his nose and mouth. Without hesitation his veteran manager Jack Kearns, accepted defeat for the fighting Irishman and notified referee Jack Denning, who immediately awarded the decision to Schmeling.

In effect Walker was "stopped" the victim of his first technical knockout since he was halted in 1926 by Joe Dundee after previously losing the world welterweight title to Pete Latzo.

A crowd estimated by promoter James J. Johnston at 55,000 contributing gate receipts of about $175,000, saw Walker battered to shreds in the eighth round by Schmeling's spectacular right hand attack after a spirited rally had carried the fighting Irishman back from the verge of being knocked out.

Walker was knocked down for a six count with a terrific right hander to the jaw in the opening round, cut about the mouth and otherwise battered as a result of his over confidence in trying to swap punches at long range with the German. Safely past this spot Mickey rallied so effectively, carrying the fight to close quarters and punishing Max's body, that he took four of the next six rounds and appeared to have the upper hand when the fatal eighth started.

It looked as though Schmeling had been slowed up by Walker's body punches in the third, fourth, fifth and seventh rounds. The German was backing off, befuddled by Mickey's rushes, trying to regain his bearings. The barrel-chested little Irishman himself appeared confident he had taken the steam out of his rival's right hand. For at the outset of the eighth he again decided to risk a free swinging exchange. Schmeling weighed 188 1-2. Walker 174 1-2.

favorable, and was helped by reports of increasing employment, particularly in railroad and industrial districts, and by the continued expansion of wholesale trade, says Dun's Canadian Review. The displays of fall merchandise are attracting an increasing number of buyers, despite the return of warm weather in some provinces.

Shoes, millinery wearing apparel, and house-furnishings are contributing the chief activity in the retail movement. Sales of automobiles have shown a little improvement, while accessory lines, replacement parts, and garage equipment are moving well. Hardware wholesalers note increasing sales, with numerous repeat orders for some of the fall goods ordered earlier in the season. Due to the small stocks on hand, wholesalers in all lines look for a gain in orders during the next two weeks.

For the first time since November, 1931, there was a slight rise in wholesale prices during August, the official index reporting 66.8, as compared with 66.6 in July. The Dominion foreign trade during August showed an improvement, with a $5,000,000 favorable balance of exports over imports.
