Contact Club

In Summerside

Active in Summerside for more than two years, the Air Force Wives' Contact Club members have left their club room on Water Street to carry on their work in new quarters at the Knights of Columbus Hut on Central Street. The history of the club yields an interesting story of work carried on quietly and efficiently through the kindness and courtesy of Mr. Peter G. Clarke, the Club members have occupied their quarters, since May 8, 1943, the quarters on Water Street, formerly occupied by the Salvation Army. With a strong membership the work has been carried on under the guidance of the President, Mrs. Alexander Lewis, wife of Group Captain Lewis, R.C. Commanding Officer at No. 1 R. & N. S. Summerside. Capable, kindly and possessing the necessary qualities of leadership, Mrs. Lewis has been tireless in her work with the club members of which are wives of all Air Force personnel of rank. On Tuesday afternoon of each week the club members gathered at the club room on Water Street and spent a pleasant hour in social contact, sewing, knitting or enjoying ping pong, bingo and other games provided. Well turned out members of the room was most attractive and contained play pens, high chair, and toys for tiny visitors. On Thursday afternoons the meetings were held at the home of Mrs. Lewis on Argyle St., where much of the club's work was done in the sunny work room furnished with two sewing machines, the use of which was available at all times. The club's activities have been numerous and varied. Mending was done for the hospitals at the St. Joseph's Hospital and St. Francis, magazines collected and a great number of curtains made for numerous occasions wedding receptions have been tendered. W. D.'s stationed at Summerside — St. John's, through whom the club. Representatives of the different societies in Summerside have at times been guests at the club and members have been pleased whenever possible to aid the societies active in Summerside. At church services were held when prizes given by the members and on one occasion it was the club's pleasure to donate the proceeds of a raffle to the Christmas and Halloween and Club parties were marked by parties and these social gatherings did much to establish a friendly atmosphere. At one meeting in the early spring was noted with interest that every province in Canada was represented in the world's leading England, Scotland and Wales. During its early and busiest months a strong membership enabled the club to meet all efforts required with the cessation of war many of the Air Force wives have left Summerside and with the decreased membership it seemed wise to move to smaller quarters. It is with sincere regret that the remaining members of the original group leave the pleasant room where the purpose of the Club has been achieved but with pleasure in sympathy continued comradeship and effort in their new abode.

IMMATURE BIRD IN POULTRY FLOCK A LIABILITY

(Experimental Farm News)

To make a satisfactory profit from the poultry flock, quality must be considered before quantity. The immature or under-developed bird is far more likely to prove a liability than an asset, says W. T. Scott, Head Poultryman, Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont.

A SUGGESTION

about civilian clothing

TO SERVICEMEN AND WOMEN

about to be discharged

To help returning Navy, Army and Air Force servicemen and women who want to get Tip Top Tailors clothes upon their formal discharge as quickly as possible, we make this suggestion:

As soon as you are notified that you will be discharged go to any Tip Top Tailors store—choose the material you like best from the special selection you will find there for service personnel only—have your measurements taken—sign a voucher by which you undertake to assign your Priority Suit Purchase certificate which you will receive upon discharge to Tip Top Tailors.

By doing this you will be gaining time and your tailored-to-measure Tip Top Tailors suit will be ready for you when you are formally discharged. Then you merely turn over your suit purchase certificate and step out in civvies ready for your return to civilian life.

Town Planner Considers Ottawa Job Career Peak

BY MAURICE DESJARDINS

PARIS, Sept. 12. (CP Cable) — Jacques Greber, distinguished architect and town planner, who has returned to Ottawa to resume his work in the growing accomplishment of a long career.

In his flat near the Place Victor Hugo, the lean, grey-haired Parisian architect, who has spent the last few years in Ottawa, Canada, said today he was deeply moved when he received a cable asking him to come to Ottawa to resume his work in the growing accomplishment of a long career.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King in an interview at Ottawa a fortnight ago advocated development of the Ottawa area on both sides of the Ottawa River as a national war memorial to Canada's war dead. First M. Greber has to obtain a short leave from Raoul Dautry, French Minister of Town Planning and Reconstruction. M. Greber is inspector-general for north and east France with nearly 150 town planners under him. He is supervising plans for the rebuilding of destroyed sections of Rouen, Amboville, St. Omer, Boulogne and Dunkerque.

Plans for rebuilding the wrecked cities of France are ready but action is held up pending the availability of coal without which production of bricks, cement, steel and glass is impossible.

M. Greber said he considers the Ottawa job the most important he has ever undertaken.

Six years ago he studied the area from the Union Station to Bronson Avenue in Ottawa. Now he will study the whole city and said he will incorporate both the south shore and the city of Hull, Que., across the river, in the over-all plan.

Including in the plan for beautifying Ottawa is creation of civic centres, school buildings, residential districts, playgrounds, sports centres and parks.

THE STORY OF THE ATOM

(1) The possibility of an atomic bomb was put before President Roosevelt by Alexander Sachs of New York who carried a letter from Prof. Albert Einstein. Panzers had rolled into France. The Luftwaffe was threatening Britain's existence. It was feared America could not keep out of the war and was in line for invasion. President Roosevelt sensed the urgency and appointed in strictest secrecy an "Advisory Committee on Uranium."

(2) The enemy, if its scientists were successful, might use atomic fission to destroy civilization. Or in our hands, the same power of the atom might save us from annihilation. President Roosevelt suggested to Prime Minister Churchill that British and American scientists combine in atomic research. Thus, the two groups might win the contest. Churchill agreed.

(3) Scientists of Great Britain, Canada and the United States set busily at work on the grim race with an unknown adversary—the Axis with its laboratories and factories. The work of Britain and America expanded. It became a major industry. The mysterious "Manhattan Engineer District" was formed in the War Department with top priorities. Top scientists were called in. G-men kept careful watch. Army officers went mysteriously about with satchels chained to their wrists.

(4) Much of the work had to do with the separation and purification of Uranium 235. Could U-235 be accumulated in any appreciable quantities? Suppose a wandering neutron hit it. It might start a chain reaction that would blast the experimenters to their doom. Then they made a highly useful discovery. Bombardment of the more common U-238 produced an entirely new element—plutonium.

Tomorrow: Busy Scientists—and Spies.
