

HEAR
PREMIER JONES
 Speak On The PLEBISCITE
 Tonight
CFCY
 At 7:30

DANCE

AT SUNNYSIDE
 In Aid Of
CHARLOTTETOWN JR. BOWLING TEAM
 WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30th

Spot Dances Special Door Prizes
 Adm. 50c Dancing 9-1

Annual Meeting
Boy Scouts Association
 TONIGHT — 8 P. M.
Council Chambers, City Hall
 EVERYBODY WELCOME

BIG CARNIVAL

Sponsored by

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

In Aid Of

RECREATION CENTRE

Wednesday, June 30th

3 P.M. TO 11 P.M.

GAMES

Hot Dogs, Sandwiches and Coffee, Ice Cream and Cake

GRAND PRIZE:—Round Trip Bus Ticket to New York.

MacEDWARD MANOR

AT NEW GLASGOW

WILL OPEN JULY 1st
FOR THE SUMMER SEASON

The MacEdward has all modern conveniences, situated on hill overlooking the beautiful Clyde River a short distance from National Park and Cavendish Beach.

Special Dinners for parties by appointment only. Kindly telephone 30-24 for reservation.

MRS. J. S. EDWARDS,
Manageress.

DOMINION DAY
JULY 1st.

FARE AND ONE HALF FOR THE ROUND TRIP

Good going Wednesday, June 30th, to and including 2.00 p.m. Thursday, July 1st.

Return Limit: Leave destination not later than midnight Monday, July 5th.

Times shown are Standard
For fares and further information
apply to your nearest Ticket Agent.

CANADIAN NATIONAL

SPECIAL
Low
RAIL FARES

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

(By Thomson W. Burgess)

OBBY COON SHOWS REDDY FOX

Who best succeeds in Nature's plan
Does what he can the best he can.
—Grandfather Frog.

When Grandfather Frog said that he said a mouthful of the trouble with many folks is that they think they can do anything that others can, and they waste a lot of time finding out that they can't. Success in life is finding out what you can do, then doing it the best you can.

In the soft warm dusk of a June evening Bobby Coon stood in the shallow water at the edge of the Smiling Pool with his hands thrust down in the soft mud feeling about for whatever might be hidden there. At the same time he was watching along the shore. Bobby was out for a Frog dinner. There is nothing he likes better than a Frog dinner unless perhaps it is a feast of corn in the milky stage.

Pop! pop! Bobby's quick ears heard two plops in the water a little beyond him. He knew exactly what they meant. Something had alarmed two Frogs on the shore any they had dived into the Smiling Pool. He could see the widening circles on the surface made when the Frogs struck the water. He waded ashore and moved quickly along at the edge of the water toward these widening circles. In a moment he was where they were touching the shore. The water was muddy, very muddy just there. Bobby knew what it meant. Those Frogs had dived into the soft mud of the bottom for hiding and had stirred it up, clouding the water. He grimaced.

"Fooled you, didn't they? Too bad," said a voice.

Bobby turned to face Reddy Fox. Reddy was grinning. "So it was you who scared those two Frogs into the water," growled Bobby. "Perhaps," Reddy admitted. "If I did I didn't mean to. I didn't know anyone else was over here. I heard Grandfather Frog and it reminded me that it was some time since I had been over here, and longer since I had caught a Frog. I like a Frog now and then for a change."

"I like them oftener than that," said Bobby Coon. "If I had known you were over here I wouldn't have come," said Reddy. "I guess I spoiled your hunting."

"I haven't said you did," replied Bobby.

"But you might have caught one of those Frogs. And now you can't," said Reddy.

"Who says I can't?" demanded Bobby Coon.

"But they are in the water," protested Reddy.

"You're mistaken; they are in the mud," retorted Bobby.

"And that is worse. You can't even see them," said Reddy.

Bobby Coon grinned. "They can't see me," said he. "If they were in the water I wouldn't have a chance. They would swim out of reach before I could get near. Now they are lying still in the mud just waiting for me. All I have to do is pull them out or one of them anyway unless the water above them is too deep and I don't think it is."

Reddy looked down in the muddy water. He could see nothing in it. "How do you know just where they are?" he asked.

"I don't know exactly, but I can guess about where they are. Then all I will need to do will be to feel for them," explained Bobby.

"Show me. I'll believe it when I see it done," said Reddy.

"Who am I to teach a Fox new

"I haven't said you did," replied Bobby tricks?" replied Bobby Coon as slowly and carefully he waded out into the water. It was shallow for quite a way. Before it was too deep for wading he stopped and with both hands began feeling in the mud. He moved suddenly and pulled to the surface a Frog clutched tightly in his black hands. "It's easy when you know how," said he as he waded ashore while the other Frog, the lucky one, frantically swam out in deep water.

The next story: "Reddy Satisfies Himself."

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

A TIME FOR BOLDNESS

A little boldness on South's part in today's play would almost certainly have been crowned with success.

North dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

7 4 3	Q 8 5
Q 6 5	10 7 4 3
8 3 2	10 6
A 5 4 2	K 10 9 8
K 10 9 6	Q 8 5
2	10 7 4 3
A J 8 2	10 6
5	K 10 9 8
Q 9
A J
K 9
A K Q J 9 4
J 8 7

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	2NT	Pass
3NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened his fourth-highest spade, and East's queen was taken by the ace. South then ran off the diamond suit.

On the third diamond lead, West discarded a heart, an East seized the occasion to give a high signal in clubs, announcing control of that suit. Thereupon, West did not hesitate to give up one club and his remaining low hearts, clutching four spades headed by the king in a death's grip. Now, of course, declarer was almost through — his only remaining trick was the club ace. Down one!

In a situation of this type a declarer's one good chance is to "steal" the fulfilling trick before the defenders know exactly what they are up against. It is futile to run the long suit immediately because then the defenders can count declarer's sure and probable tricks and guide themselves accordingly. Thus, when West sees that declarer has six diamond tricks, the spade ace and the club ace, it would be extremely bad play for him to let the declarer win a heart trick by leading the nine toward the queen — West's right play would be to come right in with the ace and (unless his partner signalled for a heart continuation) to lay down the king of spades on the one hope of dropping the jack.

The logical plan, from declarer's point of view, is to lead the low heart toward the queen immediately, before revealing his solid diamonds. At that stage, West would have to be almost clairvoyant to put up the ace.

RELIEVE ACHES & PAINS
 BY RUBBING IN 19-44
MINARD'S
 "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT
 35¢

NOTICE

Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of P. E. I. Protestant Orphanage will be held in St. Paul's Parish Hall, Prince St., Charlottetown, P. E. I., on Friday evening, June 25th, at 8 P. M. Sharp.

A number of trustees are to be appointed to the board and all contributors present will have vote; complete, printed financial reports will be distributed and the work of the institution freely discussed.

The meeting is wide open to the public and all are cordially invited to attend. The Clergy are asked to make this announcement on the Sunday previous.

IRA M. BROWN,
Sec'y.-Treas.

KING OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED

JOE PALOOKA

By Ham Fisher

DOTTY DRIPPLE

By Buford

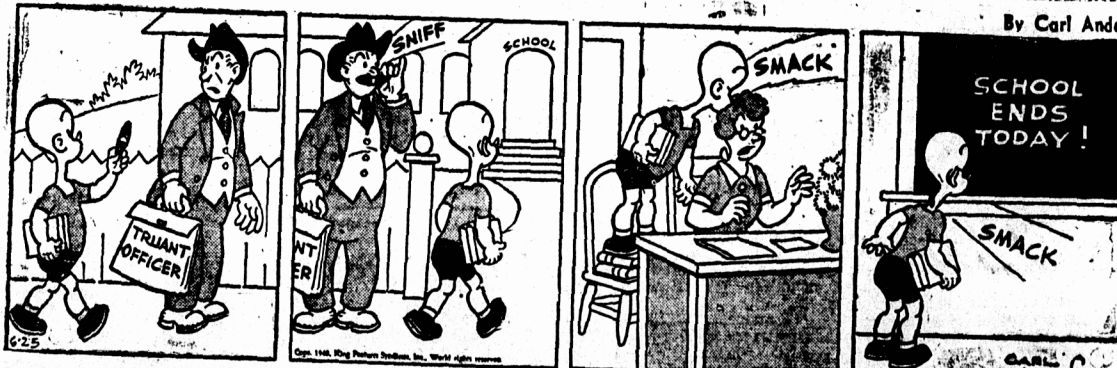

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

HENRY

By Carl Anderson

TIPPY AND "CAP" STUBBS

By Edwin

TILLIE THE TOILER

By Webster

PENNY

By Harry Hoogen

