the up and coming sire Nibble Hanover, and is one of the largest money winning three-year-olds of all time. He goes to the stud at Hanover Shoe Farms to take the place, no doubt, of the late Billy Direct 1.55. George said that the racing of Night Dream was marvellous, the first, second and third quarters in exactly 30 seconds with the final quarter in 20 seconds.

S. A. Wathan & Son Wendall's stable of Fort Fairfield, Maine, has been exceptionally successful this year and we note where they are winning consistently at Roseway Raceway. At the Lexington sale of yearlings they purchased Hedway by Scotland, out of Belle Dean 2.06 1/4, for $5,000.

Muriel Hanover 2.08 4-5, which Daniels Steele races for Charlie Livingston of Winchester, Mass., won the inaugural 1/4 mile dash at Foxboro last week. It had eight starters and was a pleasant event for the great crowd of spectators. Muriel Hanover will be remembered as having raced in the Marltime some years ago.

There is a lot of luck buying horses at auction as you will have noticed in the case of Promdity, bought for $400. The same thing applies to Night Dream. When Gray and Armstrong bought Lydia Night 2.03 p. 2.06 t. for $400, she was carrying Muriel Armstrong, which they still own. They had her bred back to Nibble Hanover and left her at the farm and she produced the sensational Night Dream 1.59.

Harrison & Hoyt, who marked Demon Hanover in 2.00 1-5 at Lexington, won the Hambletonian and most of the large stakes with him this season and also a lot of smaller events. He has been unbeaten in every start. Mr. Hoyt is an amateur driver and his business is making hats and they are said to be good ones. We noticed them advertised in the harness horse papers.

Cannon Ball 2.02 by Guy Day, was recently bought by Gage Ellis, proprietor of The Village Farm, Langhorne, Pa., from Joseph Cauchon of Quebec. Cannon Ball was one of the greatest two and three-year-old trotters in the United States, winning most of the futurities in which he started. In recent years he has been racing in the Free For All Tots in the Province of Quebec. His maternal blood lines, he being by Guy Day out of Lookaway Express 2.08 1/4, make him a wanted colt for breeders. He was bred and owned by Guy Axworthy mares. His yearling half-brother brought $8,500 at the recent Kentucky auctions. The stallion Fast Train 2.03, owned by Vernon H. Irving of Shelton, N. B., is a full brother to Cannon Ball.

News from the State of Maine shows the Earle Simple stable continuing its winning streak. Last week Jessie Direct and Junior Hal each won at Lewiston and Topsham, and Bud Kalmuck won another second. Earle expects to continue campaigning in Maine until the latter part of October at least.

Our friend George MacDonald, Boston, sends us the latest results at Foxboro, showing a win by Earle Avery with Jackson Dale at six furlongs in 1:42 1-5. The two-year-old triumphed over a field of eight trotters. Earle also won the 8 1/4 furlongs with Daphne Hanover and the mile event with Free Spirit in 2:13 1-5. The same evening Daniels won the 1 1/4 mile with Muriel Hanover in 3:56 3-5, ten other starters. She paid $23.80 for $200. The Marltime drivers are certainly keeping up the reputation made last year by Joe O'Brien.

A clipping sent with the above mentions that up to October 19th the total handle for the pari-mutuel machines at Foxboro had passed the $2 million mark and that the curtains were being rung down on racing there October

Hunters' Corner

protuding from a clump of rushes that gave the position of the hunter away. Finally I found a vacant spot up near where the Morell River has its origin and made myself comfortable.

At 25 minutes to six a ripple of gunfire broke out from the Barrens and Adam's Hill to the north. From then on for a few minutes the barrage resembled that laid down by the Canadian Artillery at Vimy Ridge. . . . The whole pond was circled by a ring of fire. A hundred yards to my right a burst of 30 or 40 shots would let go every few minutes and the shot pellets would rain down like miniature hail stones. I pulled the rim of the battered old felt hat down over my eyes, hunched my shoulders. . . .

I found myself humming an old First Great War ditty: "When the rain drops pattered on our old tin hats and you were a buddy of mine . . ." Half the time I couldn't see what they were firing at. Once I counted 29 shots fired at a single Blue-wing teal that zig-zagged down the side of the Pond and apparently escaped unscathed. Every so often I heard the solid thump made by a clean killed duck as it made its last impact with Mother Earth. Once a big black flared over the trees and showed the silvery lining of its wing underparts. My trigger finger twitched but I held my fire. It's no use killing a bird when you know there is only a 100 to 1 chance of finding it without a dog.

The kill was remarkably light as far as birds in the hand were concerned. Far more were lost in the dense rice beds and in the surrounding woods and barrens. Personally I never fired a shot. About 8.30 a.m. I started to move along the pond's edge. On the west side of the pond between the Morell exit and "Anas Dugies" spring I checked 46 gunners. I estimated that, including the Barrens and Adam's Hill, there were between 150 and 200 gunners around the Pond. Many of the 46 I checked were empty handed. Some had one or two birds . . . mostly teal. One group of 4 had 13 blacks and teal between them.

I was told after I started my check that sometime before 5.00 a.m. (shortly before I arrived) a volley of shots fired the north end of the Pond put thousands of ducks out of the rice. They could be heard roaring through the darkness overhead like an express train. I mean with shot. . . . on an opening morning is more than this scribe can understand.

EARLY NAZI GENTREE

Platen was the first Nazi centre in Saxony.

30th. It says that Honorat LaRoche of Quebec, continues to lead the 96 furlongs with no one close enough to disturb his hand which is almost grasping the Frank G. Trot trophy. Earle Avery, who returned to the track last week, won nine races in four nights, indicating that had he been there during the entire fall meeting LaRoche would have sterner competition.

It is strange how stallions sometimes are years in the stud before they make the headlines and then their get comes with a rush. That is true now with Guy Day in the stud at Lexington, Kentucky. This year his two-year-old trotting colt Coming Day, owned by Gil Wetmore, who has sold several horses to Marltime owners, is the fastest two-year-old trotting colt of the season—2:05 2-5—and many other Guy Days are racing in top form.

Considerable progress has been made in soliciting funds for the purchase of a community horse. At a meeting held Thursday evening, Clifford "Jiggs" MacDonald prevailed upon to help out in raising the "wherewithal" and yesterday morning he and Jimmie Power had a splendid reception everywhere they called. A meeting will be held probably next Thursday evening when a report will be given to those interested.

A Composite High School has been operated in Campbellton, N. B. since 1928. All pupils entering Grade 9 in the above school have a choice of four parallel courses, the Academic, Commercial, Industrial, Home Economics. In 1947 out of a total enrollment of 270 pupils 130 took the Academic, 112 the Commercial, 28 the Industrial Course. By provision of varied courses a reasonably good High School course is provided for pupils who would otherwise leave school after Grade 8.

TIMELY NOTES ON TOPICS CONNECTED WITH Silver Fox and Mink Farming

We take pleasure in presenting our readers with the report of the president of the Farm Fur Advertising Committee and the minutes of its meeting held in Montreal a few weeks ago. Every fox farmer has contributed to this advertising fund through a deduction made from his pelts marketed. Likewise a great many mink ranchers have also contributed and it was the expressed wish of President J. E. Connolly of Bathurst, N.B. and his committee, that fur farmers should know the details of expenditures. It will be well worth the time it takes to read this report through and see the effort the committee has put into carrying out plans for the promotional advertising of our furs. . . .

PRESIDENT'S REPORT OF CANADIAN FARM FUR ADVERTISING COMMITTEE

September 11, 12, 1948

By J. E. CONNOLLY, President

Gentlemen:— I am so glad to see your presence here today and for the support and co-operation you have given during the past year. In reviewing the period since our last annual meeting held in Ottawa I am sure I am expressing the opinion of those present and of all breeders, that we have accomplished a great deal more than any of us thought was possible in the two years since the Advertising Committee was inaugurated. This could not have been done were it not for the co-operation of all directors and particularly the breeders throughout Canada.

I should like to refer briefly to the major activities of the past year. 1. Basic Trade Fair. This was a joint undertaking between our organization and the Dept. of Trade and Commerce. This year assumed the major portion of the expense and we supplied the raw and dressed pelts for the exhibit, also the manufactured garments. This was our first major undertaking in the Advertising Field. From the favorable comments of those who saw it I am convinced that it was one of the best mediums of advertising undertaken.

The report prepared by Mr. W. Ritchie, Canadian Representative at this Fair, stressed the interest shown by continental buyers, many of whom wanted to know how they could purchase this quality of merchandise under existing currency regulations.

2. Advertising Mink in Chatelaine Magazine (Canada).

As you are aware there was a gentlemen's agreement between American breeders and Canadian breeders that we would not advertise Canadian furs in U. S. A. as such. However, when the Advertising Committee was brought into being its principal object was to co-operate with the Advertising Committee of the National Board for the promoting of silver fox pelts. It was also decided that furs for Canadian mink should be carried on in Canada and other countries than the U. S. A. Consequently, we arranged a full page advertisement for the promotion of Standard Mink in the Chatelaine Magazine. Brochures have been prepared and distributed throughout Canada.

3. Toronto International Trade Fair.

This was carried on between our organization and the Mink Mink Breeders Association. We are indebted to our American associates for their co-operation in lending a number of glamorous mink garments for this display. I personally spent two days at the Fair and had an opportunity of meeting a large number of exhibitors from other countries. I am thoroughly convinced that when the international currency situation is normal again there will be an unlimited demand for this quality of merchandise.

4. Prince Edward Island Fur Conference.

In my opinion this was one of the most important steps ever taken in the history of the ranch fur industry. At the outset those who were instrumental in arranging this conference had grave doubts whether it would be possible to bring the various groups together, in view of the delicate relationship which is inevitable in any international undertaking of this nature. I am sure that we continue to approach all common problems with an open mind much can be accomplished. It is hoped that in the near future further study will be given to the establishment of a permanent organization for the purpose of world-wide ranch fur promotion.

Probably one of the most important decisions reached at this conference was an agreement to conduct a campaign in the fur-producing countries to advise the ranchers to produce quality pelts instead of quantity. The opinion expressed by the various representatives is that if ranchers ignore this admonition the only alternative will be a general purging of the industry.

At this time I would like to express on behalf of the Canadian Fur Advertising Committee my appreciation to Premier Walter Jones and his associates for the contributions they made in trying to rehabilitate the fur industry by making such a conference possible, and also to Mr. D. O. Stuart and Mr. J. Francis, without their assistance this conference could never have been held.

Co-operative Undertaking with the National Board Advertising Committee

It was my pleasure together with Mr. Lang and Mr. Montgomery of the Good Relations Committee to attend the meeting of the National Board at Denver. While there we had the privilege of meeting some of the leading designers and stylists of New York. They displayed some of the latest creations in fox and mink. These ladies were loud in their praise of the efforts put forth by the National Board Advertising Committee. The general opinion expressed was, these efforts were doing a splendid job. I am happy to state that our relations with the National Board could not be more friendly than at the present time. If the relationship between our two countries is being held up as a pattern for the rest of the world to follow, then we of the fur industry should lose no opportunity in trying to strengthen the ties which now bind us together.

As you are aware, this advertising programme has now been put on a permanent basis. A budget has been submitted to the National Board for the 1948 season. We have been asked to contribute $750.00 to this budget. It was also decided to include this year the advertising of Half Bloods as Starlight Mink to which we have agreed to subscribe $1000.00. In order to facilitate matters for the year, we have agreed these amounts be made available at the earliest possible moment.

General Administration

As notices indicate, I have prepared a brief of matters which I think important and I would suggest at the outset consideration be given to the preparation of a complete agenda in order to expedite the services of a secretary and provide him or her with an office and other facilities. In this way all fur farmers, and others in Canada, can be kept fully informed of all undertakings and they can then know what is being done with their money, and what efforts are being made to vitalize the industry.

From my conversation with the breeders of Standard Mink across Canada, I realize that some form of promotional work is absolutely necessary if we are to avert a catastrophe, similar to that which overtook the fox industry. The only way we can avert this is by united advertising and promotional work.

Again let me thank you for your co-operation in the past, and I hope from this meeting will come action which will benefit the fur industry as a whole.
