Solemn Procession Held to St. Dunstan's Cathedral

The Remains of the Late Father Ronald B. and Father Pius MacDonald Were Taken to the Cathedral Yesterday, Followed by Vast Concourse of People, Thousands Viewed the Remains in the Sanctuary, Where They Now Lie in State.

The long procession which followed the remains of the late Rev. Ronald B. MacDonald and Rev. Pius A. MacDonald yesterday afternoon from the Charlottetown Hospital to the St. Dunstan's Cathedral, was unprecedented in the history of the city and testified more strongly than any words could do to the love and respect with which the deceased clergymen were held. In the passing away within less than a day of each other, of Rev. Pius and Rev. R.B. MacDonald the Roman Catholics of the province have suffered a very sad double bereavement. The death of Father Pius occurred Friday afternoon as reported in Saturday's Guardian, and some hours later, at 6:30 a.m. Saturday, his venerable confrere Rev. Father Ronald B. MacDonald, while in the act of celebrating Mass, was also called to the Great Beyond.

At the Hospital yesterday afternoon, after prayers for the Dead had been offered, the remains of the deceased pastors were taken to the Cathedral, followed by the clergy and a very large procession of members of the congregation and citizens in general. The cortege proceeded slowly along Holland Street to Water St., thence up Great George St. to the Cathedral, watched by thousands who thronged the streets.

At the Cathedral the bodies were received by the Reverend Maurice MacDonald, assisted by Rev. Richard St. John and Rev. James Rooney, escorted by acolytes and altar boys. Vespers for the Dead were then sung and the Rosary chanted. The caskets were opened and the vast congregation which filled the Cathedral to overflowing filed past them where they rested in the Sanctuary. A guard of honor, drawn from the 105th Battalion, was stationed about the casket of the deceased Chaplain Rev. Father Pius. It is estimated that during the afternoon about four thousand people viewed the remains.

In the Sanctuary during the service were the following clergymen: Rev. G. J. McLellan, Rector of St. Dunstan's; Rev. J. A. MacDonald (stepson of the late Rev. R. B. MacDonald); Rev. Owen Kiggins, Rev. Jas. Murphy, Rev. A. J. McIntyre, Rev. Alphonse Sinnott, Rev. Chas. McDonald, Rev. Laurence Smith, Rev. Nazaire Poirier.

His Lordship Bishop O'Leary was prevented from being present in the Sanctuary as he is at present undergoing treatment in the

Venezelos of Greece And Premier of Bulgaria Clash

(Special to The Guardian.)
LAUSANNE, Nov. 26.—Elliphellos Venezelos, former Premier of Greece, and M. Stamboulsky, the Bulgarian Prime Minister, faced each other at today's session of the Near East conference when an effort was made to reach an agreement on Bulgaria's claim to an outlet into the Aegean Sea. Both men showed great emotion.

Stamboulsky was holding out for the actual possession by Bulgaria of the Port of Dedeagatch, contending that in no other way could Bulgaria be guaranteed free commerce. Venezelos opposed the proposal in an impassioned speech, holding out for a free port at Dedeagatch under the control of a mixed commission. The temper of the speech of M. Venezelos at once indicated what difficulties Bulgaria would have in dealing through a port which is not actually in her possession. M. Stamboulsky retorted.

Rev. Ronald B. MacDonald

(DIED NOV. 25, 1922.)

Two valiant soldiers of Christ have sheathed their sword
And lain their bodies down to rest;
Their souls have heard the message of their risen Lord,
And sought the secret higher quest.

Their works of mercy on earth are forever done,
Their loved forms are now cold and still;
These faithful servants to a brighter Home have gone
In answer to the Master's will.

The miseries of this life, to them were made known
They heard the lowly outcasts' call,
And hope and love and charity were ever shown
On their faces for each and all.

They little craved the world's honors or proud acclaim,
Content to be one of the least;
To be in the Master's Service, this was their fame
To be a true and faithful priest.

So bear them onward to their cold and silent grave
Those who loved them their creed will keep;
"To serve God well and man's immortal soul to save,"
This would they say, could they but speak.

Closing Session of Boys' Conference Held Last Night

The second session of the Older Boys' Conference met Saturday morning with a large attendance in the Hearts Hall and was opened by a service of worship led by Rev. W. Orr Mulligan of St. James Church. After the singing of a hymn, prayer and responsive reading service, Rev. Mr. Mulligan gave brief remarks on the place of worship in the boys' life. This was followed by prayer and hymn, the service being closed by prayer in unison.

The Conference was next divided into two groups, one for those familiar with the Tuxis program and the other for those unfamiliar with it. Rev. Frank Milligan taking charge of the former group and Rev. Mr. Strothard the latter, giving an excellent address on the years programme.

On Saturday afternoon the third session of the Conference opened at 2:15 in St. Paul's Parish Hall, Rev. Mr. Raymond of St. Paul's Church conducting the service of worship. In a short address Rev. A New Alliance If France Refuses U. S. Navy Treaty

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Nov. 26.—On Saturday suggestion was made in British official quarters that if the French reject the Washington Navy Treaty, it would be advisable for the United States, Great Britain and Japan to enter a new agreement to maintain the Washington quotas.

Under the arrangement both France and Italy would be disregarded on the basis that neither country could build warships either in size or number as to threaten the three leading maritime powers.

Two Lives Lost Four Barges at Bottom by Storm

(Special to The Guardian.)
SYRACUSE, Nov. 26.—Two lives lost, four wheat-laden barges beached sent to the bottom and four others piled up on the shore at Verona Beach comprised the toll of a sudden storm on Onedra Lake early today. The dead are James Specht of Tonawanda, whose body was washed ashore, and George Gross of Miami, Florida. The body of Gross has not been recovered.

Precautions Taken Against Reprisals

(Special to The Guardian.)
DUBLIN, Nov. 26.—Swift and terrible reprisals for the execution of Erskine Childers were avowedly feared by the Free State today and extraordinary precautions were taken to meet any such move. Rebel attacks were made early this morning upon a dozen or more government posts about the city but as these were confined to extremely sporadic rifle fire in the darkness little attention was paid them. The capture of De Valera will now be the objective of all Free State forces.

The action of the authorities in proceeding with the constitution before the appeal from the decision of the Master of the Rolls could be heard has met with both strong approval and strong condemnation, according to the political leanings of the people. Confidence is expressed in government circles that the Free State army is able to deal with any situation that may arise in consequence of the putting to death of one of the staunchest members of the anti-government faction.

In these circles it was declared today when the idea was broached that the execution of Childers might make the internecine strife wilder, that the irregulars already have shown a disposition to do all the harm possible and that they could do no worse.

Seven of the eight men, who with Childers were partners in Habeas Corpus proceedings, have been sentenced to terms running from five years penal servitude to twelve months imprisonment. The eighth man was found not guilty. The names of these eight men have not been divulged.

High Commissioner Stands For Canada Products

Declares Empire Exhibition Will be of no Interest to Canada if Canadian Products are not Exhibited Wherever Possible.

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Nov. 26.—P. C. Larkin, High Commissioner for Canada Saturday declared that Canada is unfavorable to partaking in the British Empire Exhibition unless it is made a real empire fair. His statement today is interesting in view of the recent clash between Robert Donald, Sir Alfred Butt and others who attacked the management as unimperial while the Duke of Devonshire's statement insists that the criticism is unwarranted. Larkin says today in part: "I was led to believe that the exhibition would be a real empire fair."
