HIGHEST STAKES IN GOLF HISTORY!

Business Engineer George S. May, sponsor of the 1945 All-American Golf Tournament, looks on as Lynn Walker (left) and Pat Hess compare measurements with sixty thousand one-dollar bills, representing the maturity value of the tournament's war bond prizes. Offering the highest stakes in golf history, the events are expected to draw goldmine's top-notchers to Chicago's Tam O'Shanter Country Club July 23 to 29, for the 3-way annual classic of the Men's Open, the Amateur, and the Women's Open. The money, sufficient to make a pile twenty-five feet high, is on deposit at Chicago's North Shore National Bank.

This War—Four Years Ago

By The Canadian Press
JUNE 11, 1941—Germany was reported massing troops in Krakow, occupied Poland and in Romania. Joseph T. Thorson of Winnipeg was named minister of national war services to succeed Hon. James G. Gardiner who remained in charge of the agriculture department.

TINY FARMS

The average Chinese farm is only three acres compared to the average U. S. farm of about 150 acres.

The Experts Say:

OTTAWA, June 7 — (CP) — With the sugar ration reduced, one of the big questions now is to find recipes which can be adapted to the small amount and the Agriculture Department supplies this rhubarb desert which is both seasonable and sugar-saving.

This rhubarb whip requires less sugar if you pour boiling water over the rhubarb. Let it stand for five minutes and then drain.

To make the whip soak 1 1/2 tablespoons gelatine in 1/4 cup of cold water. Add soaked gelatine, 1/4 cup of sugar and one tablespoon of lemon juice to two cups of hot-stewed rhubarb and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Cool and allow to set partially. Beat two egg whites with a pinch of salt until stiff, then beat in the gelatine mixture. Turn into lightly oiled moulds and chill. Unmould and serve with custard sauce made from the egg yolks. This makes six servings.

Last impressions last, and that is one reason why desserts are such an important part of a meal. They pass judgment on the success or otherwise of the whole. These tips are pointers on the road to success in desert-making.

Jellied desserts: Allow longer time for setting in hot weather. Never add solid ingredients until jelly is partially set. Fruit will float, egg whites separate, if added too soon. If jellies are to unmould, grease the mould lightly with oil.

Cornstarch desserts: Leave plenty of room for rising, cover closely and never let water go off the boil. This means no peeking until the cooking time is up.

Argument number one in favor of using plenty of green foods while they are in season—the deeper the color the more vitamins are likely to be present, says the Nutrition Division. This goes particularly for vitamin A which helps keep eyes and complexion bright and teeth sound. One good serving of a salad leaf lettuce (outer as well as the pale inner leaves), watercress and spring onions would supply about half the day's needs of vitamin A and one-tenth of the iron.

There is no such thing as the "one" perfect dressing for all salads, for different salads require different qualities of their dressing. A sharp fruit salad demands tanginess, a mild salad needs accent, and one without much color needs color in its dressing.

French Dressing is the perfect accompaniment to cabbage or coleslaw salad.

To make it place the following ingredients in a jar with a tightly-fitting lid: 1-4 tsp of vinegar, 3-4 of a cup of salad oil, one teaspoon of sugar, dash of pepper, 1-2 tsp of onion salt, 1-2 teaspoon of dry mustard, six tablespoons peanut butter. Shake until thoroughly blended and store in a cold place. Shake well each time before using.
