YES, THANKS TO TRUST COMPANY MANAGEMENT!

Conserving BUSINESS VALUES..

The value of a business as part of an estate depends largely on the ability and experience of the Executor and Trustee. A business which has been operated by a man who was sole owner, or controlling shareholder, requires particular skill and understanding of management problems. In such a situation our complete and well experienced organization provides protection for both estate and beneficiaries. Your business would be carried on safely and efficiently in our care for the benefit of your dependents. Your inquiry regarding this and other aspects of Trust Service is cordially invited. There is no obligation.

LORD-LAWSON NUPTIALS—A wedding was solemnized at 7 o'clock last evening at St. James Church, Charlottetown, when Dorothy Frances, daughter of Col. and Mrs. U. G. Dawson of Charlottetown became the bride of George Burton Lord, Jr., of Pictou, Mass. The ceremony was attended by a number of immediate relatives, was performed by Rev. Dr. R. Moorhead Legate. The couple was unattended. The bride wore a blue dress and hat with matching accessories and carried a corsage of roses. The happy young couple will leave this morning for Hartford, Conn., where the groom is employed. Mr. Lord, the groom, is a nephew of Mrs. D. A. MacKinnon, wife of Col. D. A. MacKinnon, D.S.O., of this city.

EVACUEE CHILDREN GO TO NEW HOMES—Twenty-five happy evacuee children, who arrived in Charlottetown ten days ago, will be distributed to their foster homes today after they have been viewed by Her Excellency, Princess Alice, at Government House. They will be present at Government House at the same time as the Girl Guides as many of their number were members of the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts back home in England. Their ten-day period of observation at Bellevue Farm is over and the boys and girls will be separated today. They will go to foster homes in Charlottetown and Summerside and several out-of-town points. They immensely enjoyed their stay at Bellevue Farm and it is with a certain amount of regret that they leave today but the youngsters are able to adjust themselves quickly to any change and no doubt will be settled in their new homes within a few days.

Prison Camp

in custody in camps, thousands had to be quickly organized, thousands of men who have 24 hours a day in which to plan the escape, but a man determined to leave no stone unturned to see these people are held in safe keeping," said Mr. Easton.

The minister, busily engaged directing Canada's military services, took the swift action after being informed at his home of the latest escapes.

Earlier, internment operations headquarters announced officially the escape of the two latest prisoners who were identified as Fritz Pleisch, a petty officer in the submarine service, and Herbert Naumann, an army sergeant-major.

Pleisch was described as being five feet, 11½ inches tall, weighing 176 pounds. He has a scar on the right forehead and is very alert in appearance. He was wearing a blue navy jacket, blue shorts. He has no hat.

Naumann, five feet eight inches tall, weighs 165 pounds and is of a fresh complexion, has light brown hair and grey eyes. He wore dark blue trousers and a blouse, somewhat similar to ski jacket.

Pleisch was captured in the North Sea last November while Naumann was taken prisoner during fighting around Arras, France. Pleisch had been interned in Britain and later brought to Canada for the duration of the war.

Internment officials said a widespread search was on tonight for the prisoners who escaped in a clever manner. They said the prisoners placed two planks under the chassis of a dump truck, climbed on top of them and left the camp with the truck, unnoticed.

However, when the truck reached a dump the driver noticed two "suspicious looking" figures dash away from the vehicle. The driver gave chase but he was not fast enough for them and they got away.

The driver returned to the camp and reported the incident. A roll was immediately called among the prisoners and as a result it was discovered two of them were missing.

Canada Takes Over Four French Ships

OTTAWA, Aug. 30—(CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald announced today that four French ships were being requisitioned by the Canadian Mercantile Marine.

At the same time the Ministry announced the appointment of Cmdr. J. R. Beech as commander-in-chief of the Pacific Coast and Capt. Taylor Wood Grant of Halifax as director of naval personnel at Ottawa.

The French ships taken over have a total tonnage of 13,870 tons and are the Saint Malo, Maitreline, Lisieux and Limoges. Five Danish ships with a tonnage of 21,184 net tons were taken over when Denmark was invaded.

Mr. Macdonald explained compensation would be given to owners of French ships which were requisitioned, in the same way that compensation was provided for owners of Canadian vessels requisitioned "in an eastern port from day to day."

The four French ships requisitioned were in Canadian harbor when France sued for an armistice.

Cmdr. Beech, named Pacific Coast commander, succeeds Capt. V. G. Brodeur, who has been appointed naval attaché at the Canadian Legation in Washington. Cmdr. Beech saw service in various ships of the Royal Navy during the war and has been on active service since.

Capt. Grant, who comes to active headquarters in Washington, commanded the H.M.C.S. Skeena in 1938. As director of personnel he will have charge of recruiting activities and the assignment of preliminary training which necessitates officers or men and all personnel questions.

Mr. Macdonald said men who want to join the navy but are called up for 30 days military training should take their training and then "hope for the best, which is of course, to join the navy."

The minister said the navy had a waiting list of 15,000.

U. S. Grand Jury Indicts Two Firms

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—(AP)—A special federal grand jury investigating alleged anti-trust law violations in war industries today indicted the General Electric Company and the Krupp Company of Essen, Germany, of conspiracy to fix prices and control supply of hard metals and tools vital to the defence program of the United States.

The indictment, described by federal investigators as the most important defence monopoly bill yet returned, was the second handed by General Electric Company, and the fourth war industry indictment by the grand jury in as many days.

Named in today's bill, besides the General Electric and Krupp Companies, were:

Walter M. Stearns of Schenectady, N.Y., Manager of Trade Relations and Special Contracts for General Electric; Carbonyl Company of Detroit; Mich. a wholly-owned subsidiary of General Electric; and W. G. Robbins of Detroit, President, and Zay Jeffries of Cleveland, Chairman of the board. Jeffries declared operations of his company "have been carried out in guidance by competent counsel" and that the firm "has not knowingly violated any statute of the United States."

Four Drowned In St. Lawrence

CECARS, Que., Aug. 30—(CP)—Four men were drowned in the St. Lawrence River opposite this village early tonight when their rowboat capsized about 100 yards from shore. Four others escaped, a similar fate.

The dead, all residents of this hamlet near Montreal, were:

Armand Daunis, 44-year-old father of Cpl. Kelly, and another youth identified only as Holdway. They also are residents of Cecars.

Those rescued were reported to be Remi Leroux, two young brothers of Cpl. Kelly, and another youth identified only as Holdway.

The Master of Ceremonies at last night's Review program was Mr. I. Y. Reddin and the artists deserve special mention for the fine show they staged. Every number was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

The Light Horse Troop paraded to the Grounds with their band accompanied by the Carre by the West Kent School Band. The band of the Summerside Girls, who were dressed in brightly coloured uniforms, was in attendance and decorated the audience with several pleasing numbers. The demonstrations by the R.C.N.V.R. and Light Horse unit were highlights on a reading by Robert Compton were well rounded out program. Another among the other pleasing numbers special feature was the manoeuvres on the program.

Britain Turns Down Nazi Red Cross Ships Protest

LONDON, Aug. 31—(Saturday)—(CP)—Britain announced today it would refuse to recognize as Red Cross ships any German vessels which the Nazis claim are used to rescue Nazi air-men shot down at sea.

The reply to an announcement the Nazis intend to mark 64 ships with the Red Cross for such a purpose, was countered by Britain with the assertion that the "character and functions" of so many vessels were open to "the gravest suspicions."

Germans have attacked British vessels engaged in saving both British and German airmen, officials said, and have "repeatedly and flagrantly" attacked bona fide hospital ships.

The reply to the German note was sent via Switzerland, through whom the original German announcement was made.

It said that claims of Red Cross privileges for such vessels was "wholly unfounded."

Red Army In Offensive Tactics

MOSCOW, Aug. 30—(AP)—Red army drill in "offensive tactics" in a special western military district and maneuvers of the Red fleet in an unidentified sea were disclosed today while Russia viewed with an attitude of apparent detachment the newest movement of borders in the Balkans.

The Soviet Union was awaiting Rumanian reply to two protests charging Rumanian border troops with "provocative actions" on the Soviet-Rumanian frontier—protests which warned of the grave consequences which any future trouble might bring.

However, some diplomatic sources expressed the belief this situation is not now serious. They said Rumanian frontier guards had been ordered to keep the peace during the Vienna territorial negotiations which today resulted in the loss of approximately half of Rumania's province of Transylvania to Hungary. Also demarcation of the new Russo-Rumanian border by a mixed commission is expected to begin shortly.

New York Ferry In Collision

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—(AP)—A ferry boat en route from Staten Island to the Battery at the tip of Manhattan today collided with a tug in the Upper Bay late yesterday, was reported to police headquarters.

Three marine division launches were sent to the scene and the tug was hoisted.

The coast guard said the ferry boat was able to proceed to her dock at the Battery and that first reports indicated there had been no fatalities.

10 towns in England and one in Wales.

Early today the Air Ministry announced the German had lost 62 planes to 19 for the Royal Air Force during Friday's fighting in which hundreds of planes attempted an assault on British targets across the capital.

This brought more than 1,000 the number of Nazi raiders downed this month, the Air Ministry said. Ten R.A.F. pilots bailed out to safety.

As the night raid passed its fourth hour, a roll of bombs from the outskirts signalled the persistence of the Germans. The sky was lit for a few moments but the blaze did not last long.

Thousands of Londoners stayed up for the buzz air raid but most of the metropolitan area's 10,000,000 residents turned in weary of the marauding raids.

The fighter planes pounced on the German bombers caught like flies in a web spun by searchlight beams.

At least two bombers, prowling singly over London, were believed to have been crippled so badly that they would be unable to return to their base, presumably in German-occupied France, and were shot down.

A hospital was reported hit and another institution set ablaze. Details of casualties were not immediately available.

Daylight attempts to break through London's defences failed on this, the 12th day since Aug. 8 of mass raids—as compared with hit-and-run and sporadic raids on other days. It was estimated that at least 700 Nazi raiders stormed into Britain's skies.

Tonight the Germans came over the London area as well as over scattered towns in England and Wales.

The fourth alarm sounded last night set a record. It was the first time that more than three visitations occurred in one day.

In the thick of the day's fighting the 1st Fighter Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force was reported to have seen intensive action over a London suburb.

The first German formation of 150 bombers, escorted by about the same number of fighters, crossed the coast shortly before noon, spread out fanwise in groups of 50 and attempted to bomb southwest England airbases.

A smaller scale raid after lunch was interrupted later by another mass attack in which the enemy used

Concert Parties Planned By Carry On Corps

The Carry On Canada Corps has undertaken to stage a number of outstanding concert parties for patriotic purposes at various centres throughout the province. It is planned to have these concerts held between Sept. 3 and Sept. 23. These concerts will lead up to the annual Red Cross drive for funds.

Patriotic concerts, stimulating the war effort, and entertaining the whole community, were notable features of the recruiting campaigns in the darksome days of 1915, 1916, and 1917. In the present struggle it is felt that the stimulating effect of patriotic concerts should now be mobilized in the interests of Red Cross work.

An energetic committee of Carry On Canada Corps headed by Mr. J. Lawson is prepared to arrange and supervise the concert programs and outstanding, well-known popular artists are ready and willing to help out to the limit of their abilities in furtherance of this war work without thought of remuneration.

Mr. Lawson has appointed four different groups of artists to stage the concerts. One group is headed by Mrs. G. E. Full, another is headed by Dr. Paul Leonard, while a third is headed by Mr. J. Austin Trainor. C.D.A. The fourth consists of a general concert group.

The Women's Institutes are being asked to co-operate in the series of concerts by providing halls, heating, and lighting. The total receipts will go to the Red Cross and full credit will accrue to the local institute.

Assisting Mr. Lawson are Mr. Arthur Bruce, Miss Q. Jenkins, and Mr. Frank O'Neill.

Britons Get Away From Gas Masks

LONDON, Aug. 30—(CP)—Gas masks, which nearly every Briton carried at the outbreak of the war, have been disappearing from streets gradually but steadily until less than half the population carries them habitually.

An Englishman thinks nothing of burrowing himself daily with an umbrella and gas-attaching use in which he may carry anything from papers to lunch and a change of socks.

But he was a bit upset when possession of a gas mask, as well as a ticket, was demanded for admission to a movie.

The movie soon found the accumulation of forgotten masks too great to cope with, and dropped the rule.

There was a marked drop in the number of gasmask carriers immediately as well as accompanying toddlers who lug containers almost half their size.

But when German gas attacks failed to materialize, attempts to get the public accustomed to wearing masks were chiefly limited to newspaper appeals and warnings.

RUMANIA BOWS

Five Minutes To Decide

Just before midnight, according to authoritative accounts of what went on in the palace, the king and queen called from Vienna. He was told that he had five minutes to decide. The Rumanian high command reported it could not defend the country against the simultaneous thrusts, and Rumania capitulated.

The seven-point arbitration agreed upon in Vienna to accomplish this major operation upon Rumanian territory had provided:

1. The fixing of the new frontier putting about half of Transylvania into Hungarian hands, but leaving the details to a Rumanian-Hungarian commission. Exact estimates of the territory involved could not be made.
2. Rumanian soldiers to move out of the ceded territory within two weeks; to hand it over "in orderly condition."
3. Rumanian citizens now living in the ceded area to become Hungarians "automatically" but with the provision that they be given six months to select one citizenship or the other. If they decide to remain as Rumanians they must leave the new Hungarian Transylvanian state within an additional period of 12 months, taking all their movable property and liquidating all their debts.
4. For this "liquidation" they are to be compensated by Hungary.
5. Hungarians who now are Rumanian citizens may go back to Hungary and citizenship under the same conditions.
6. Hungary is to give to Rumanians becoming Hungarian citizens "the same rights" as Hungarian citizens. Rumania to do likewise for those going the other way around.
7. Questions arising under the terms to be negotiated between Rumania and Hungary.

It is settled that which cannot be made, the issue will be settled by Germany and Italy.
