Gleanings From Tryon And Vicinity

With the mild weather of last week and the snow melting steadily...

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Myers of Hampton have been spending a few days in Tryon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foy.

Messrs. John Dawson and Richard Lord of Tryon were visitors to Albany on Thursday.

His many friends in Tryon regret the severe illness of Mr. Lemuel Dawson of Albany, who has been confined to his home for some time, and all hope that he may have a speedy and complete recovery.

With so many south west and west winds, the heavy ice on the Straits has piled up once again on Tryon Bar, in some places as high as twenty-five and thirty feet.

It is pleasing to note that Mr. Hamilton Leard of Tryon, who has been ill for some time, is much improved. His many friends will be glad to see him out and about again.

With Sunday being a somewhat milder day than its predecessor of the week before, namely Easter Sunday, the many ladies who managed to keep their hats on and wait for a mild day took the advantage when it came and many wore the chic Easter bonnets on parade.

Friends of Mr. Bertram Trowsdale of Victoria will regret to learn of his sudden death. He had long duration and that he may speedily regain his usual good health.

Mr. Jimmie Bartlett returned home last Friday night from Toronto, N. S., where he has been employed during the past two or three months.

Miss Jessie Laerd, teacher of Hampton School, will be a week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leard, North Tryon.

March the 26th turned out to be a very quiet election in the Tryon East and West Bolls, with a record number of voters turning out considering the roads, flu, etc. Reports from the Crapaud district state that some of the boys were feeling the awakening throbs of spring and were warmly welcomed to the unlikeliest of being the guy that forgot to duck.

Mr. Asher Howatt of Lower Tryon had the misfortune to drive a nail into his foot, which he laid him up during the past week.

Last Thursday evening saw another bang up crowd at the card party and dance which is a weekly affair in the village of Crapaud. The usual young people from this locality attended.

Mrs. Reuben Rogerson of Summerside is at present visiting in Tryon as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Austin Smith. Mrs. Rogerson who resided for a number of years in Tryon prior to going to Summerside to live three years ago is well and favorably known in this locality and is being warmly welcomed back to Tryon, where she is renewing many old friendships.

The many Hungarian Partridges which have frequented this locality during the past winter seem to have come through with a minimum of casualties, and at the present time have broken up their large coveys into pairs and it is a common occurrence to be walking along and scare up two here and then in a hundred yards or so, two more and so on. The black ducks also have paired off and can be seen alighting in all the different grain fields where the snow has disappeared.

Mrs. F. A. Blanchard has returned to Tryon after visiting relatives in Summerside.

Spring has arrived at last, so the old timers tell us, and it will only be a short time before tractors, teams etc., will be at work on the land, getting it ready for the seed, which the farmers will sow later. The coming year will be a history making one for the tiller of the soil and it is in him that the whole nation is depending on in these critical times. For without a maximum of those absolute necessities, which the farmer produces no nation can maintain a satisfied and well equipped army for long. So it is up to you farmers to produce all you can, on as little ground as you can, which is the basis of success in farming in any country, and by doing so you are making yourself a front line defender.

Probably the oldest voter in the district to poll his vote on election day was Mr. Wilson Howatt, of Tryon Branch Roads, who is 90 years of age and still hale and hearty. Mr. Howatt has not been out a great deal this winter, but has enjoyed good health and despite the cold turned out on the 26th to cast his vote. We hope he may live to see many more elections.

The funeral of the late Mrs. William of Cape Travers was held from her late residence to the Church of Scotland. Interment was made in the Church of Scotland Cemetery at Cape Travers.

An Italian lake although both Great Britain and France have important interests in it and although both approaches to it, at Gibraltar and the Suez Canal, are controlled by Great Britain.

The stopping of vessels carrying goods for Germany on the Mediterranean might be an assertion of power in those waters which would not be welcome to Italy. While Great Britain has no desire needlessly to provoke neutral countries the decision apparently has been taken to use all possible means of cutting off the transport of goods into and out of Germany.
