ANAEMIA OR BLOODLESSNESS.

Its Victims are Pale in Color, Subject to Dizziness, Palpitation of the Heart and Other Distressing Symptoms.

From the Echo, Plattsville, Ont.

Anemia, which literally means bloodlessness, is prevalent to an alarming extent among young girls and young women of the present day, and is a fruitful source of "decline" and consumption. The symptoms of this trouble are many, but among the most noticeable are pallor of the face, lips and gums, shortness of breath on slight exertion, dizziness, severe headaches, weakness of the vital organs, palpitation of the heart, and dropsical swelling of the limbs. The more of these symptoms shown, the greater the necessity for prompt treatment. Among those who have suffered from anemia and found a cure is Miss Emily Webb, a young lady residing near Wolverton, Ont. Miss Webb says:—"My illness came on when I was about sixteen years of age. My complexion was a pale waxy color; I was troubled with general weakness, dizziness and palpitation of the heart. I was placed under medical treatment, but the medicine prescribed by the doctor did not appear to do me the slightest good. As time went by I was slowly but surely growing worse. I was unable to do any work about the house, and my limbs would tremble to such an extent at the slightest exertion that I could scarcely stand upon my feet. Then my stomach became so weak that I vomited almost everything I ate; I grew despondent and feared I would not recover. While in this condition a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I followed the advice. After I had used two boxes I noticed an improvement and my heart was gladdened with the hope of renewed health. At the end of six boxes my appetite had fully returned, and with it strength, color to my cheeks and brightness to the eyes. I still continued taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills until I had taken in all twelve boxes, and I can truthfully assert that I am healthier and stronger than I ever was before. I owe this to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I would urge all girls who suffer as I did to give them a fair trial."

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

The Hartland, N. B., Advertiser, says:—"Right in our own village is reported another of the remarkable cures that make Dr. Williams' Pink Pills so popular throughout the land. The case is that of Mrs. E. W. Millar. The Advertiser interviewed her husband, who was glad to relate the circumstances for publication, that others might read and have a remedy put into their hands as it were. "For five years," said Mr. Millar, my wife was unable to walk without aid. One physician diagnosed her case as coming from a spinal affection. Other doctors called the malady nervous prostration. Whatever the trouble was, she was weak and nervous. Her limbs had no strength and could not support her body. There also was a terrible weakness in her back. Three months ago she could not walk, but as a last resort, after trying many medicines, she began to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Improvement was noted in a few days, and a few weeks has done wonders in restoring her health. Today she can walk without assistance. You can imagine her delight as well as my own. We owe her recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I recommend them for any case of nervous weakness or general debility." Mr. Millar is part owner and manager of one of our lumber mills and is well known throughout the country.

A PERMANENT CURE.

Mr. M. Carroll, of Roland, Man., writes:—"While living at Sydney, Man., I wrote informing you that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured me of rheumatism of twenty five years' standing, after many other medicines had failed. I am pleased to again write you and say that the cure has been permanent, as after a lapse of several years, there has been no return of the trouble. I sincerely hope my experience will be the means of helping some other poor sufferer."

GENERAL WEAKNESS CURED.

Mr. Jas. Canavan, a well known resident of Maxville, Ont., says:—"After having used your Pink Pills I am glad to recommend them to the world as a cure for extreme weakness and debility, and I am sure that if those who feel the first approach of such trouble will only take a box or two, much misery can be averted."

DYSPEPSIA CURED.

Mr. Fred. A. Henry, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered for years with dyspepsia, and although I am sure I tried a dozen remedies, I found no relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After eating I would be terribly distressed with pains in the stomach, and frequently only found relief by rejecting the food. This continued until my life was fairly miserable, but, now, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am fully restored."

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Mr. C. Thornion, Bluevale, Ont., says:—"About seven years ago I rented my farm, and moved into the village, where I have since carried on business as a pumpmaker, in the fall of 1895 I was attacked with sciatica, and suffered intensely. I took medical treatment but it did not help me. Then a druggist advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; under this treatment the sciatica was banished, and I have not since felt any return of it."

A BLACKSMITH'S TRIALS.

He Became so Run Down That Work Was Almost Impossible—His Whole Body Racked With Pain.

From the Bridgewater Enterprise.

Mr. Austin Fancy is a well known blacksmith living at Baker Settlement, a hamlet about ten miles from Bridgewater, N. S. Mr. Fancy is well known in the locality in which he lives. He is another of the legion whose restoration to health adds to the popularity of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Fancy related his story of illness:—"During the last winter, owing I suppose to over-work and impure blood, I became very much reduced in flesh, and had severe pains in the muscles all over my body. I felt tired all the time, had no appetite, and often felt so low spirited that I wished myself in another world. Some of the time necessity compelled me to undertake a little work in my blacksmith shop, but I was not fit for it, and after doing the job would have to lie down; indeed I often felt like fainting. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using a couple of boxes, I felt a decided relief. The pains began to abate, and I felt again as though life was not a dream. By the time I had used six boxes I was as well as ever, and able to do a hard day's work at the forge without fatigue, and those who know anything about a blacksmith's work, will know what this means. Those who are not well, will make no mistake in looking for health through the medium of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

COULD NOT DRESS.

A Nova Scotia Farmer's Tale of his Intense Suffering from Rheumatism and How He Was Cured.

From the Bridgewater, N. S., Enterprise. Such suffering as rheumatism causes its victim upon whom it fastens itself is almost unendurable. Only those who write under its pain can imagine the joy of one who has been freed from its tortures. Mr. J. W. F. Kenham, of New Elm, N. S., is one of those who have been relieved from pain, and who believes it his duty to let others know how a cure can be found. Mr. Kenham is a farmer, and like all who follow this arduous but honorable calling, is subject to much exertion. It was this exposure that brought on his trouble and as of him to much suffering before he was rid of it. He says:—"In the spring of 1897 I contracted rheumatism. Throughout the winter I suffered from it, and about the first of October it became so bad that I could not get out of the house. The pains were located in my hip and back, and what I suffered can hardly be expressed. I became so helpless I could not dress myself without aid. Eventually the trouble spread to my hands and arms, and at times these would lose all freedom and become useless. In November I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking four boxes began to improve. After using six boxes the pains and soreness had all gone and I was able to do a hard day's work. I intend using a few boxes more as a precautionary measure, and I would earnestly advise those suffering from this painful trouble to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and be made well."

GAINED TWENTY-THREE POUNDS.

Mr. Arthur Piper, Dixville, Que., says:—"Last autumn I became very weak, my constitution seemed to be undermined, and I lost flesh rapidly. I had no appetite, the least exertion tired me and the words 'felt miserable' will best describe my feelings. Having read so much concerning Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I determined to try them, and the results were most beneficial. As it would seem, I gained twenty-three pounds in three weeks, and I am now feeling as well as ever I did. I would urge that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will speedily cure them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills CURE

Rheumatism, Sciatica, Locomotor Ataxia, Anæmia, Heart Troubles, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Incontinent Consumption, All Female Weakness, Debility and Headache, and all Troubles arising from Poor and Watery Blood.

HOW TO GET STRONG.

The greatest medicine in the world for building up and strengthening an enervated system is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

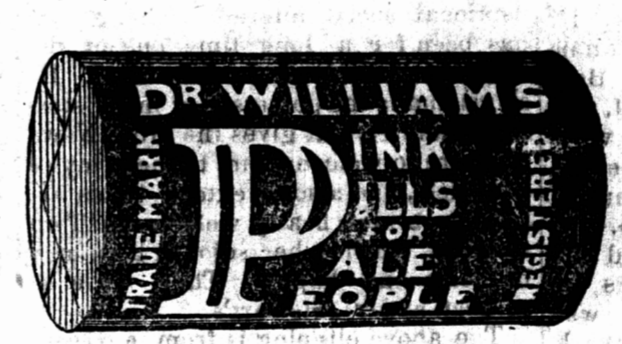

When the summer is over thousands feel worn out, easily tired, and, to use a common expression, "miserable generally." The almost torrid heat of our Canadian summers is responsible for this. Those who are in this condition are unfitted to meet the sudden changes of autumn, and easily fall a prey to disease. In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills prove a blessing to humanity.

The pills have no purgative action, and so do not further weaken the body. They build up the blood by supplying the elements which enrich it, and strengthen the nerves. But you must get the genuine

The "just the same" and "just as good" substitutes offered by some dealers never cured anyone — Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have cured thousands, some of them your neighbors.

The genuine boxes look just like this except that the wrapper is printed in red ink. Take nothing else.

STARTLING DISCOVERY

Deep Laid Plot of the Liquor Men.

ATTACK ON VERMONT

In Order to Overthrow the Prohibitory Law in That State—Anti Saloon Organization.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Startling news of a conspiracy to overthrow the prohibition law in the state of Vermont has just been received here from Mr. Paige, of Burlington, Vt., state secretary of the Anti-Saloon League. In a letter of thanks for samples of the Dominion Alliance campaign literature, which is to be used in defence of the prohibition law. The letter and documents which accompany it show that a crisis is impending which will reach its climax at the state elections, four weeks hence. Early this year it was discovered that a treacherous plot had been entered into between certain political bosses and the liquor traffic to bring about a false representation of the working of the prohibitory law through political organs, and other papers which were started with mushroom rapidity this spring and summer in different parts of the state, the aim being the election in November of a majority of members to the Vermont State Legislature favorable to license.

PLAN of the CON-PIRATORS.

The next step proposed is for the prohibitory law to be resubmitted to the people with the alternative of a local option bill. It is hoped that by centralizing the whole influence of the liquor traffic in the United States upon Vermont, as was done in the case of Iowa, the people may be robbed of the protection which they now enjoy against the legalized liquor traffic. Mr. Paige writes: It is evidently the policy of the opponents of the law to make a strong attempt to capture all of the strategic places, all of the strongest towns and thus the most influential men in the assembly and as many of the smaller towns as possible. Unsigned and wholly anonymous circulars are being circulated about the state urging people to say, on blanks furnished, that they favor a popular vote on the repeal of the prohibitory law and the substitution of local option. The Democratic party in Vermont is openly committed against summary laws. The Republican party is supposed to stand for the prohibition law, but it is useless to try to disguise the fact that an increasing section of that party is verging towards license, and hopes to secure at the coming session of the legislature a substantial change in the present law. The present standard-bearer of that party is openly opposed to the re-election of the prohibitory laws.

ANTI-SALOON ORGANIZATION.

The prohibition forces have organized for the battle in connection with the American Anti-Saloon League, the superintendents of which, Rev. Howard H. Russell, D.D., and the Rev. John C. Jackson, D.D., are holding union meetings throughout the state. The campaign is managed by a general committee of thirteen prominent ministers of various denominations and twenty-eight lay temperance workers, including the leading officers of the W. C. T. U. The headquarters of the prohibition committee is at Burlington, Vt., where the secretary, Mr. L. J. Paige, has his office.

The anti-prohibition headquarters appear to be at Rutland, as the literature against prohibition emanates from there. Mr. Paige is deputy grand worthy patriarch of the Sons of Temperance.

In his letter just received here Mr. Paige commends the methods of the Anti-Saloon League to the prohibitionists of Canada and says:

RECOMMENDED TO CANADIANS.

"I believe the Anti-Saloon League is the best aid the temperance people can enlist to-day. You see it does not ask a man's political or religious opinion. If he loves God and mankind and hates the saloon he can lend under the banner of the Anti-Saloon League. We now have a strong league organized in Vermont and are organizing local leagues in the towns and cities through the state."

rapidly as possible. The league is now organized in twenty of our states and doing good everywhere it is planted. With it we are not only trying to save our prohibitory law from repeal but we are also trying by its excellent methods to educate the young and the grown people with temperance ways and life practice. Now, I understand you have a vote for prohibition. I hope you will get it but if you do, do not fall asleep and rest too confidently in the law. It will not enforce itself. Your law should imprison for the first offence."

A GREAT GENERAL.

(Continued From The Third Page.) In the meantime, during all the years of preparation and achievement, the man has disappeared.

THE MAN, HERBERT KITCHENER, owned the affection of private friends in England and of old comrades of fifteen years' standing; for the rest of the world there is no man Herbert Kitchener, but only the Sirdar, neither asking affection nor giving it.

His officers and men are wheels in the machine; he feeds them enough to make them efficient, and works them as mercilessly as he works himself. He will have no married officer in his army; marriage interferes with work. Any officer who breaks down with the climate goes on sick leave once; next time he goes and the Egyptian army bears him on its strength no more. Asked once why he did not let his officers come down to Cairo during the season, he replied, "It was to go home, where they would get fit and I could more work out of them. I would. But why should I let them go to Cairo?" I. i. unnamable, but it is war, and it has a severe significance.

And if you suppose, therefore that the Sirdar is unpopular, he is not. No general is unpopular who always beats the enemy. When the columns move out of camp in the evening to march all night through the dark, they know not whether, and fight at dawn with an enemy they have never seen, every man goes forth with a tranquil mind. He may personally come back and he may not; but about the general result there is but a doubt. You bet your boots the Sirdar knows; he wouldn't fight if he weren't going to win. Other generals have been better loved; none was ever better trusted.

For of this one human weakness the Sirdar is believed not to have part himself—ambition. He is on his promotion, a man who cannot afford to make a mistake. Homilies against ambition may be left to those who have failed in their own; the Sirdar's is apparently purely personal, is legitimate and even lofty. He has attained eminent distinction at an exceptionally early age; he has commanded victorious armies at an early age when most men are hoping to command regiments. Even now a junior Major-General, he has been entrusted with an army of six brigades, a command such as few of his seniors have ever led in the field.

Finally he has been entrusted with a mission such as almost every one of them would have greedily accepted—

THE CROWNING TRIUMPH. of half a generation at war. Naturally, he has awakened jealousy, and he has brought permission to take each step on the way only by brilliant success in the last. If in this case he is not stiffly unbending to the high as he is to the low, who shall blame him? He has climbed too high not to take every precaution against a fall. But he will not fall—just yet, at any rate. So far as Egypt is concerned, he is the man destiny—the man who has been preparing himself sixteen years for one great purpose. For England, Egypt he is the Mahdi, the expected, the man who has sisted experience and corrected error; who has worked out small things and waited for great things to sit still and fire to steady, steadfast, cold and inflexible, the man who has out his human heart and made himself a machine to retain Char-
