VERY REV. FATHER JOSEPH J. GILLIS

The late Father Gillis referred to in the following clippings from Burlington, Vermont, papers, August 1933, will regret to hear of his death. Sisters: Mrs. J. A. MacLellan and Mrs. J. M. Gillis, Messrs. Hubert, Wilfred and Joseph V. Gillis. The late Dr. E. G. Gillis, Kensington, was also a brother and Father Gillis was home to officiate at his funeral last summer. Surviving relatives have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The Very Rev. Joseph P. Gillis, rector of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception and Vicar General of the Diocese of Burlington, died last night at 8 o'clock at the Bishop DeGoesbriand Hospital. He was 65 years old. Death resulted from nephritis.

Trinity United Church, Summerside, had the honor of welcoming members of Berthelmer Lodge L. O. L. of the same name, who held their annual church parade yesterday morning and attended divine service at Trinity Church. There was a very large turnout, Orangemen occupying all the seats in the centre aisle. Besides the Summerside Lodge, members were present from Charlottetown, Craupaud, Victoria, Bedouque, Ellerslie and a few from other districts. Grand Lodge officers present were: Grand Master J. W. Moore, Inman, Bedouque; Grand Secretary P. M. MacCaull, Ellerslie; Grand Marshal D. M. Bernard, Freetown; Deputy Grand Secretary G. A. Cudmore, Charlottetown. Special music was rendered at the choir for the occasion and the anthem was "We Give Immortal Praise", Mr. Slackford and Miss Slackford taking the solo parts. Rev. L. B. Campbell took the subject, "Perfected Patriotism", and delivered a very fine address. At the conclusion of the service the Orangemen returned to the Lodge room where a vote of thanks was extended to Rev. L. B. Campbell, the choir and members of the session for the hearty welcome extended to the Orangemen and to the visiting members who honored the local Lodge with their presence at the service. Special services were held on Sunday evening for Orangemen at St. Michael's, Kensington and Charlottetown.—S.

Orangemen Hold Church Parade

The diocese and the parishoners of the Cathedral parish that Father Gillis was not named a prelate of the Papal Court with the title of Monsignor. I am authorized by the Most Reverend Bishop to state here that on several occasions the Bishop made known to Father Gillis his intention of requesting the Holy Father to name Father Gillis a Canon of the Apostolic See on each occasion Father Gillis begged the Bishop not to do so; he wished to live and die as Father Gillis. "Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him!"

Plans which Father Gillis promoted during the last two or three years for the erection of a school and chapel on land acquired at his instigation for the Cathedral parish office building have been held in abeyance because of his serious illness.

He leaves four sisters, Sister Mary Loretta of the Sisters of Mercy, Mount St. Mary Academy, two sisters in Prince Edward Island, and one sister in Alberta, Canada; three brothers in Prince Edward Island and a nephew, the Rev. A. D. Gillis of St. Patrick's Church, Portland, Me.

The body will be removed to the rectory this morning and on Monday will be taken to the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, where it will lie in state. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

The Very Rev. Joseph P. Gillis, vicar general of the Diocese of Burlington and rector of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, died on Monday morning with simple, but impressive rites, in accordance with his wish expressed two weeks before he died.

The Rt. Rev. Joseph J. Rice, bishop of Burlington, presided at the throne during the solemn high requiem mass at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception and officiated at the Libera. The Rev. J. E. Parisse, P. R., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, was his assistant, while the deacons of honor were the Rev. T. J. Leonard of Middlebury, the Rev. Archie D. Gillis of St. Patrick's Church, Portland, Me., nephew of the late Father Gillis, and the Rev. J. H. McCarthy of Wallingford as Thurifer; the Rev. W. F. Charland of Sheldon Springs and the Rev. Wilfred Gelineau of Burlington as acolytes; the Rev. R. F. Conlon of Charlottetown, and the Rev. Patrick C. Brennan of Shelburne and the Rev. John R. Ready of the Cathedral as master of ceremonies.

Last Request Read

Father Brennan read the following wish of Father Gillis, which was written by his own hand two weeks before he died, the instructions being followed to the letter.

Joseph's cemetery, Burlington; but N. B. (take notice), there is to be no sermon or other discourse in connection with my burial. Further, I require that the cheapest kind of coffin be used for the reception of my mortal remains, but that the body of the companion of the soul and will be after the last judgment, but shortly it will be dust from which it may be good, do not waste it on the dead body which has ceased to be the 'Temple of the Holy Ghost' and has become a thing of death."

Father Gillis also requested that no monument be placed on his grave, only a simple marker, so that in passing "you may remember" him in your prayers.

Continuing, Father Brennan said: "The Most Reverend Bishop regrets exceedingly that Father Gillis wished his funeral, but out of deference to his wishes, no eulogist has been named."

"During the 37 years of his edifying, fruitful ministry in the city of Burlington, it is doubtful if he ever asked for a personal favor; this seems to be the first one he ever requested from the Bishop. Father Gillis wished no eulogy at his funeral and we have complied with his wish, but on Sunday following his funeral the Bishop requests that every priest of the diocese pronounce a fitting eulogy on this noble, unselfish servant of God, and, furthermore, that at a convenient date in the near future every parish of the diocese offer a requiem mass for the happy repose of his soul.

"It may have surprised the clergy of the diocese and the parishoners of the Cathedral parish that Father Gillis was not named a prelate of the Papal Court with the title of Monsignor. I am authorized by the Most Reverend Bishop to state here that on several occasions the Bishop made known to Father Gillis his intention of requesting the Holy Father to name Father Gillis a Canon of the Apostolic See on each occasion Father Gillis begged the Bishop not to do so; he wished to live and die as Father Gillis.

"Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him!"

2,500 Follow Body to Cemetery

More than 2,500 persons including clergy, Sisters of the various orders, parochial school children and Mount St. Mary Academy students, parishioners, private citizens from all walks of life, the various orders previously mentioned and a delegation from the American Legion, Burlington Post, No. 2, marched in the funeral procession from the Cathedral to St. Joseph's cemetery, where interment took place. Police directed traffic for the cortege.

The Rev. John R. Ready of the Cathedral read the committal prayers at the grave.

ault and Gaudet were wiped out. The stock was valued at about $30,000 and their buildings about $15,000. They lost valuable machinery and electric lighting plant and other equipment only partly covered by insurance.

The fire swept on its way destroying the Railway Station and Freight Shed, but missing Arsenal and Gaudet's large potato warehouse which was down the line a little way. This was in danger, however, and was only saved by the efforts of the Summerside firemen, who when they arrived saw it to be the only building left which was in serious danger, and so directed their efforts on it.

Shed the fire swept in a more westerly direction and soon the property of W. B. Larkin was endangered to the ground. Mr. Larkin was the heaviest loser as he had only $5,500 insurance on his property which included a large steam sawmill, a sawmill 80-90 ft. in upper floor and which was finished in hardwood and was used as a dance hall. This was built about three years ago and cost about $3,000. Mr. Larkin also lost his well, stove and post office, besides a lumber house 20-30 feet, a large shed and small warehouse.

He also lost the greater part of his furniture, truck, wagon, car and jaunting sleigh. His mill was equipped with some expensive machinery but he lost a large boiler engine and rotary machine. Mr. Larkin's loss is in the vicinity of $10,000.

Fortunately the couriers had taken the mail out of the post office before a fire started but Mr. Larkin rushed to the Post Office and took out everything of value. He also managed to save some of his furniture including his piano.

In the line of fire was a warehouse belonging to Messrs. MacDonald and Young, which kept a hotel in Richmond. The warehouse was used to store produce but was empty at the time. Mr. Brown valued it at about a thousand dollars. The loss was partly covered with insurance.

Another loser from the fire was Mr. G. H. Brooks of Kensington, who had just completed the purchase of about one ton of wool from farmers in the district which had been placed in the freight car being shipped to Montreal. A quantity of gas and oil, besides a quantity of freight was also burned with the freight shed.

Heavy Losses Incurred

Mr. Larkins and Mr. MacNeill were the heaviest losers as they were entirely wiped out and neither carried much insurance. Mr. Larkins' mill is a total loss and the dance hall built at so much expense was also a total loss.

The total loss of all the buildings is in the vicinity of $80,000, with only part insurance.

It is impossible at this time to estimate the total loss and the expenditure which the fire entailed. The damage was in the nature of wood sleighs, truck wares and other things found around a farm. Messrs. Arsenal and Gaudet had some 30-40 tons of coal in their shed and the railway had several tons of coal in the shed. This was still burning Saturday afternoon, and evening and menacing the potato warehouse, which is the only building left standing in an area of about an acre and a half.

The fire fighters were at a disadvantage as the brook was three hundred yards away from the scene of the fire and the water was low. When the Summerside firemen arrived they secured casks and used the motor truck to bring the water from the brook which speeded the work. Summerside promised to stand by until all the water was over. The fire was under control about 11.30 but one of the firemen remained in order to keep the warehouse well sprinkled. At four o'clock water was still being hauled to the scene of the fire to keep it in check.

Heavy rain later in the day helped very considerably to put out the flames.

Railway Lines Damaged

The fire was so severe that the railway lines were displaced and the ties burned for about a hundred yards. The noon train from the west was obliged to go through on the siding. Men were busily engaged in repairing the track late in the afternoon.

Mr. J. P. Gaudet has nothing but praise for the firemen, who although the heat was intense kept a continual stream of water on his hose. The large trees in front of the house were in the way and were the means of keeping the heat from the workmen on the roof.

Messrs. Arsenal and Gaudet are grateful to Wellington and Summerside firefighters who did what they could to help out. Summerside saved the situation very considerably. They kept the potato warehouse from burning and also the barn on Mrs. Cameron's property west of the track. Had the fire got a good start there, Richmond would have been almost completely wiped out.

The station had been there for many years and was a building of about twenty by forty feet. The place has now a very desolate look with smouldering ruins and oil and coal burning in the engine and along the railway line. Nothing is standing but the gas tanks outside the general store. The smoke stack of the mill is lying on its side, with the machinery a twisted mass of iron.

The buildings razed were all in good repair. Gaudet's store had every up to date convenience. The steam mill was thoroughly up to date. The new dance hall was the pride of the community and Mrs. Cameron's new building was a handsome new building. Fortunately in all the burning mass of timber no one was hurt. Many people from Summerside and surrounding country went out to view the ruins.

6 MEMBERS OF TEAM ARE REPORTED ILL

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

MANCHESTER, England, July 7.—In the midst of their third and vital test match with England members of the Australian cricket team have been stricken with a mysterious epidemic. So many of the Australians are ill that it is believed the situation is unprecedented in the history of test cricket.

The celebrated batsman Don Bradman and Young A. Chipperfield were compelled to retire from the field today suffering from sore throats and the intense heat and now W. M. Woodfull, W. H. Ponsford, Alan Kippax and W. A. Brown are reported ill. All have taken a complete rest from play. Bradman and Young A. Chipperfield complained of the latter two are not better and if they recover in time to play tomorrow they will probably be kept back as late as possible in the batting order.

It is understood Woodfull and Ponsford are suffering from a very minor form of the ailment and it is hoped they will be fit to take the field tomorrow.

The Australians have only four players available, B. A. Barrow, Neil, L. O. B. Fleetwood-Smith, Hans Ebeling and E. H. Bromberg. If it were necessary to find a further substitute they could bring in a Manchester professional or a member of the ground staff for fielding.

Murray Wins First Major Tennis Title

By Wallace Ward, Canadian Press Sports Writer. (By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, July 8.—Young Bobby Murray, 20-year-old McGill University student, is the new singles tennis champion of Quebec. Murray served notice on ranking Canadian stars with a three-set victory over Laird Wait, defending champion 6-1, 7-5, 6-4 in the Quebec final here yesterday to win his first major title.

Murray showed smart and aggressive tennis to beat his chum and college mate in a tense struggle. He was constantly on the attack and came to the net with a beautiful exhibition of volleying. Murray showed a much improved service and was hitting the ball hard and true throughout. Laird Wait, newest member of the Canadian Davis Cup team, was a little erratic and struggled unsuccessfully to gain control of his strokes.

Eng. Cricket Team Takes Long Lead

(C. P. Cable by Guardian's Special Wire)

MANCHESTER, England, July 8.—When the Australians resumed batting here Monday they will face the longest lead English batsmen have ever established in a cricket test match at home.

Weak bowling and a batsman's wicket enabled England to amass a first innings score of 627 runs for nine wickets, declared in the third test match of the season, opened at the old Trafford ground on Friday. The two day's play saw Maurice Leyland contribute 135 runs, Pat Hendren an easy 132, and Leslie Ames 72.

The only Aussie bowler who worried the hard-hitting Englishmen was W. J. Reilly. He shined in the fall of seven out of nine English wickets, though the bowling analysis revealed he was hit for 189 runs.

At tea-time yesterday a vast crowd were acclaiming the new record at home of 627 for nine when England declared. After the interval Australia went out to bat, a grim and determined team lacking their most famous batsman, Don Bradman, who left the game on Friday with a sore throat.

Ponsford was out, caught by the lively Pat Hendren, after scoring only 12. Brown and McCabe hovered in front of the wicket, quickly taking a little more than an hour. When the stumps were drawn Australia had made 136 runs for the loss of only one wicket, and the English bowlers seemed no more effective than the Australians.
