PETE KELLY WINS MARITIME GOLF CROWN

IN THIS CORNER

Congratulations are in order to Pete Kelly, better known perhaps as a right winger of the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League but rapidly making a name for himself as the outstanding golfer in the Maritime Provinces, by his winning yesterday of the Maritime golf crown marking the first time that the title has ever been held by a Charlottetown player.

Pete's victory yesterday was a pleasing one to Island followers of golf and proves conclusively that his winning of the New Brunswick Provinces Edward Island title at Moncton and his fine showing in the Dominion meet held at Ottawa were no mere flashes in the pan but just a real sample of his ability.

Putting the same thorough, painstaking efforts into the links game as has marked his other athletic endeavours Pete has come a far way in golf circles the past few years. When he first made his appearance on the local links he was regarded as just an ordinary golfer. Hard diligent practice however has paid him well. No matter what breaks he encountered during a match he continued in the same steady manner, playing every stroke for all that it was worth and yesterday he achieved the goal that has been his ambition the past number of years.

Installed as a favourite before the tournament started Kelly was not given much of a chance after a disappointing showing in the qualifying round when he finished seventh. But he proved he had the stuff when the chips were down. He raved through three matches in impressive manner winning each one handily and yesterday "Nip" Ross of New Glasgow, although putting up a game fight was no match for the professional player who was a steadiness personified.

While Kelly was winning his golf title Eastern Canadian tennis stars on the courts of the Charlottetown Club were furnishing fans with a succession of tennis that has never been equaled here. It would be difficult indeed to describe the brilliant assortment of shots that the stars displayed as the event narrowed down to the finals. But what was witnessed were real tennis brilliancy was well testified by the long drawn out rounds of applause bursting forth at regular intervals.

Today the finals take place and in every match can be expected a recurrence of the sensational sets that have been witnessed the past two days. If it is possible, the matches will be even better than what has happened in the local meet behind the scenes who have been responsible for the manner in which the championships have been run off to be congratulated in a visit to the Maritime Provinces, the most outstanding tournament in their history.

That they have been successful would be putting it mildly. Many of the two years previous to this had been standing local teams upon their ears with his blazing speed ball when pitching for his home team from Peakes Station. In one of these games McDonald struck out no less than 24 batters while granting but one hit, but despite this local ball followers while considering him very fast never really had an inkling of his true worth.

This year however "Fiddler" went to Amherst to pitch for the St. Pats. For a while he was having only fair success but Charlie Paul famous old-time Maritime hurler has the Peakes Stat on boy under his wing. Many things were taught him by the veteran who saw his possibilities and McDonald has shown to a nicety that he possesses the stuff to become an outstanding hurler by his two recent performances against a team that has driven many a better-known hurler to cover.

class has an entry list of 21, but it is likely that quite a few of them will withdraw and start in the 2.20 class. However, those that can be counted upon to take the prize are: Ann Trogon 2.09, a mare highly thought of last season, tough and fast, out of the same stable John Dean 2.10 came from. Trilix Volo 2.11. Brent Ramsay's good mare; Mont Chesney 2.08. Robbie Insuper's western pacer; Peter Reiner 2.07; Quaker Girl 2.09; Sully 2.11; Hanover Courier 2.09; Peter Onward 2.11; winner of a free-for-all a few days ago in 2.11 1/2—a new record—McElwain the Great 2.09 1/2; that the railbirds at the track are picking as a winner because he is picking better than he ever paced since he came to this country; Billy Bonder 2.09; Calumet Duke 2.12—and he appears real good, lowered the track record at Inverness to that notch a week ago. He looks good to the boys around the race track. There are several others including Grattan Peters 2.12, Soviet 2.13, that will add to the excitement if they decide to start.

2.22 TROT. This is a nice bunch of trotters that can trot fast and stay on the trot. There is Noon Billy 2.14, from the Avery stables, also the three-year-old trotter Tara Hanover 2.17; Star Dillon, owned by H. F. Killam, Montague; Guy Todd, owned by Captain Read, Borden; Millie Kalmuck 2.14, owned by Willard Kelly; Aymer Worthing, owned by William Copp, Port Egin, N.B.; Peggy Louise 2.15; by Longset; Calumet 2.09, 2.14; Peter Pin 2.17; June Worthy 2.22, and Hal Britton, no mark but a fast trotter that has been tramping miles in 2.16 like breaking sticks the past two weeks, and last but not least Aliset 2.15, a real fast stepper that was up with the best of them at Montague.

THURSDAY'S RACES. Of course there will be the popular FREE-FOR-ALL which is always held on Thursday, and this race will bring together Bud Wenger 2.08 1/2 and his stable-mate Tracey Hanover 2.03, with Abner T. Clegg 2.04, Marjorie M. 2.07, Guy Britton 2.03, The Great Guy 2.04, Marvin Brooke 2.04. The horses are evenly matched which makes for good racing and they are all good pacers that can shade 2.08 over for them. Yes, sir, you can expect every mile in this race to be paced in or around 2.07.

2.14 TROT. Pretty much the same line-up as the 2.17 Trot which is to be raced on Tuesday, but you know how it is, horses do not race quite the same two days in succession; some are good, some are not so good. Then Lusty Frisco 2.07 1/2 is injected into the scene and he is considered by many the best trotter in the Maritimes, having won the 2.08 at the Peakes Station, and he will be driven by Johnny Conroy.

Two Records Broken At Circuit Meet

GOSHEN N. Y., Aug. 13—(AP)—Two records were broken and the most important purchase in harness horse circles of the season was concluded in the semi-final day of Grand Circuit racing at Good Time Park today.

In the final heat of the Goshen Pace, put over from yesterday, Dominion Grattan, owned by Paul Bowser, the Boston wrestling promoter, and driven by Tom Berry, paced the mile in 2:00. That established a new fourth-beat record, wiping out the mark of 2:02 made by Margaret Dillon in 1925.

A short time later Calumet Evelyn and Rosalind established a new record for a three-heat split race as Calumet Evelyn defeated the first division of the Progressive Trot. Rosalind took the first heat in 2:01 and Calumet Evelyn the next two in 2:00 1/4 and 2:00 1/2. The previous record was made by Tara and Hollywood Phyllis in 1935.

Mr. Watt, driven by the veteran reinsman, Doc Parrish, won the Hollywood Purse in three straight heats. Immediately afterwards, his owner, H. Stacy Smith of Short Hills, N. J., sold the colt to Lawrence B. Sheppard of the Hanover, Pa. Farms, where Mr. Watt was bred, for $20,000.

E. Roland Harriman, wealthy New York sportsman, was bruised when his horse, Frisco, fell in the Progressive Trot.

LAIRD WATT

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(AP)—No matter where you sit you've got to award the title to the champion of 1937, all sports included, to that wire-whispered maestro of the Flatbush Folies, Bureigh Grimes.

His hopes for a winning ball club for Brooklyn this season, his first at the helm of the Gowanus crew, should be buried with full honors because of the medicos footing the funeral expenses.

Old Bureigh has tried everything from psychology to profanity to prayer, but his club, riddled with an all-time record for illness and injuries, today finds itself deadlocked in a struggle with Philadelphia to keep out of the National League cellar. Only a month and a half ago, Bureigh even had visions of scoring an upset with a pennant winner.

Tommy Farr Ready To Defend Welsh Title

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 13—Replying to an announcement from London that the British Board of Boxing Control had declared his Welsh heavyweight title vacant because of his failure to defend it, Tommy Farr, training for his heavyweight title bout with Joe Louis Aug. 26, declared his willingness to meet any opponent named by the board.

Montreal Rifleman Again Captures Grand Aggregate

BY FOSTER BARCLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 13—Sergt. William Ewing, Jr., a slight Montreal sharp shooter, drew the plaudits of all riflemen here today as he pressed the crown of Canada's most consistent shot more firmly on his tousle-haired head.

The young Bisley shot was re-crowned Canada's most consistent marksman after statistics announced he won the Grand Aggregate at the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

He compiled a score of 50 points through five major matches and led Sergt. T. A. Jensen of Innisfil, Alta., the king of western Canada snipers, by three points. Sergt. Ewin won the "agg" last year with 495 points.

He failed to win a major match, but was always a few points behind the winner after scores were tallied. Rain, wind or heat made no difference to Ewing who made his first trip to Bisley this year with the Canadian team.

A great day of shooting today cleaned the program and brought the meeting to its climax tomorrow—the Governor-General's Match, the King's Prize of Canada. One hundred and fifty five men go to the shooting mounds to battle for the gold medal.

Canada outshot the Mother Country for possession of the Michael Faraday Trophy. A team

Connors And Little Reach Junior Final

Hugh Little of Halifax and Ivan Connors the Holy Redeemer Club champion, advanced to the final of the junior men's singles of the Eastern Canada Tennis Championships.

Connors defeated Doug McAvity of Saint John, N. B., in a three-set semi-final match. Scores were 4-6, 6-2. Little eliminated Bill Wood of Sackville, N. B., 6-3, 6-4. Previously Wood had defeated S. Chandler of Charlottetown, 6-2, 6-4.

Marion Little of Halifax will meet E. Moran of Charlottetown in the women's singles final while other events have yet to reach the final stage.

Grimes' Lowly Dodgers Dogged By Injuries

Grasping a three hole lead at the start Kelly completed the morning round still retaining his advantage. For a while in the final 18 holes it appeared as if Ross might pull the match out of the fire as he won the nineteenth and halved the next two but again Pete turned back the bid of the Nova Scotiaian by capturing the 23rd, 25th and 27 holes and before the match was conceded had assumed a wide lead over his faltering opponent.

The rangy Nova Scotiaian conceded the match at the 13th hole after he had driven his ball into the woods at the left and bailed his third shot and a putt. Kelly was 15 feet from the pin at the edge of the green, but when Ross picked up his ball and shook Kelly's hand.

Kelly won the first three holes in the morning with Ross going one over par. They halved the next two, the Nova Scotian missing a chance on the fourth when they both went one over par. Nip won the sixth, a short pitch over a swamp, with a birdie two and they halved the next three.

Coming in on the morning round, Kelly increased his lead to three up, winning the 14th with a birdie four and the 16th in par while Ross took the 13th with a par four.

Ross Rallies

It looked as if Ross might recover early in the afternoon round after he won the 19th in par and halved the next two. But Kelly won the 23rd, the dog-legged 25th with a six after both got in trouble and the 27th. Then they halved the next two and Kelly took the 30th with a birdie and the 31st when Ross got into trouble and conceded the match.

Kelly never forced himself during the match, and contented himself with playing up to Ross and waiting to take advantage of the Nova Scotiaian when he got into trouble. Approximate medal scores for the two finalists follow:

Kelly	434 644 544 37 363 544 465 39 76
Ross	545 542 344 38 363 544 465 42 80

Belvedere Pro Second

While the two were playing off, professional members of the three Maritime Provinces completed their 72 holes of medal play for the professional championship, Jim Rimmer of Halifax's Ashburn Club winning the title he lost last year to Roland Hutot of Sydney, N. S.

Rimmer came in with a 79 yesterday, his highest score of the four rounds, for a total of 307, six better than the score of his nearest opponent, C. M. Galbraith of Charlottetown who got 313 after a big 33 this morning set him far behind.

Fencebusters Advance In Playdowns

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
SPRINGHILL, N. S., Aug. 13—Springhill Fencebusters, 1936 Nova Scotia champions, hurled the first obstacle in their way to a better title by defeating Amherst St. Pats 7-3 in the final of a best-of-five series here today.

The teams had split the first four games. Springhill now meets Stellarton Albions, Pictou County champions, in the second round of the Nova Scotia baseball playdowns.

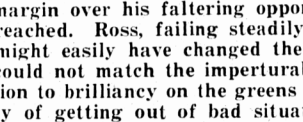

Remember When

(By The Canadian Press)
James J. Jeffries retained his world's heavyweight boxing crown 34 years ago today by outpointing James J. Corbett in 10 rounds at New York. Jeffries lost the title July 4, 1910, to Jack Johnson, first negro heavyweight. Nearly 27 years later to the day, Joe Louis colored Detroit brawler, became the second negro titlist.

Defeats Nesbitt Ross Of New Glasgow Six And Five; Rimmer Wins Pro Title

Displaying the steadiness and ability to come through in the pinches that has so often marked his National League games red-headed Pete Kelly yesterday showed he could apply the same factors in a golf match by out-standing and outplaying Nesbitt "Nip" Ross of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, to win the Maritime Provinces golf title, marking the first time that a Charlottetown player has ever held the tri-province crown. The match ended on the 13th green with Kelly having a margin of 6 and 5.

Consistently outdriven by his opponent on the fairways Kelly more than made up the deficit on the greens. It was here the match was really won. Always able to come through with brilliant putts when needed, Kelly had a big margin over his faltering opponent once the greens were reached. Ross, failing steadily when a successful putt might easily have changed the complexion of the match, could not match the imperturbable read-head who in addition to brilliancy on the greens displayed the happy faculty of getting out of bad situations, making his recovery shots just as effective as if he were driving off the tee.

Fourth Game Of Junior Playoffs

Junior Esquires are on the spot in the fourth game of the Junior League finals which takes place tomorrow at 1:45 at the Park diamond. Trailing the Capadines two games to one in the best of five series Esquires must halt the rush of Jimmy Heron's team to a city title or else be satisfied with a seat on the sidelines for the rest of the season. They are fully confident of halting their opponents, however, and say the series will go into a fifth and deciding game.

"Lefty" McAleer is the likely choice to start on the hill for the Esquires and if the young left-hander is right Canadians are going to have a tough time winning behind the hurling of their own ace, Emmet Murphy, who will be on the Canadians' mound seeking his tenth straight victory of the season.

Will Play Weekend Exhibition Game

Nationals and Bees will play an exhibition game over the weekend. Both these teams are scheduled to play off for the Industrial League championship after Exhibition week.

The game will start at 1:30.
