Dunphy, leaves today for Lachine to report for duty with the Royal Canadian Air Force, the fourth and youngest member of the family to serve with the fighting forces. Of the other three brothers Sergeant Francis Dunphy and Sergeant Fred Dunphy are now serving overseas with the 14th Field Ambulance Corps, while AC Jack W. Dunphy is with the Royal Canadian Air Force in Toronto. A superintendent of investigation of non-in-law of Mr. Dunphy, who is the C.N.R. Islander, has a host of relatives and friends here who will be interested in the doings of his noble sons.

Mr. F. R. Sayer, publicity relation officer of the C. N. R., Moncton was in the city yesterday, and remarked on the speedy passage of the Car Ferry on its return journey from Tormentine—under two hours; it took 12 hours to get there, owing to an ice jam 300 yards off Tormentine.

"FEEDOM'S TORCH" "We have a rendezvous to keep, Where millions of our loved ones sleep; Out Yonder." Their torch we caught From dying hands By faith, we'll keep it burning. And match we must, Straight on ahead, Our pathway has no turning.

We have a rendezvous ahead, Where millions of our sacred dead Fell to keep it burning.

Dear motherland we hear you call, Our answer is: Now! One and All! Canada! Forward! Victory! We'll follow you where'er you lead, And we our sword will never sheath, Till we come home, Victorious.

So with all our means and ways, We'll send, The tools, to finish to the end, In Victory for the "Allies". So carry on! We can, We must! We cannot fail that sacred trust, They gave to us out yonder.

With faith held high and courage strong With all our might, we'll carry on! Till right shall triumph over wrong! Out yonder.

Great King of Heaven Help us this day To do our part in every way, To keep the sacred trust that they, Gave, who fell out yonder. —Charlotte R. Foley, Freetown, P.E.I.

THE LOYALISTS A steadfast hearted loyal band Exiled from their native land, Bereft of all their worldly goods Sought the wild untraversed woods, Where toilsome labours they endured To which their hands were not enured. There was the oppressive solitude When days dragged on and scarce was food, Upon their minds depression weighed, But faith in God lent present aid, And hope sprang up like a Spring flower. 'Neath genial sunshine and a shower, Religion consolation gave To fortify their hearts so brave. What a force is sentiment! This to the wilderness had sent Brave men and women, loyal and true, A home from rugged wilds to hew Nor should Canadians forget That they owe to them a debt, For their loyal constancy. To the Empire's unity. —C. T. E.

"THE SOWER" A sower went forth to sow, and in the doing, The seeds like deeds were scattered far and wide; The sower knew that in the time of harvest, We then would have an everwell-ing tide.

Then like the one who sowed—each deed of kindness You do for others travelling o'er life's way, Will surely bear much fruit—an hundredfold; And in the doing joy is brought each day.

For there ahead like Jewels of the Kingdom, All shining bright, each one a dawning ray; The deeds of kindness wait; for in the giving "Well done" may be the words we hear Him say.

Each kindly deed a little ray of sunshine, Touching some one—perhaps some day, our own; But there ahead when harvest all is gathered, The good deeds sent ahead, are at His Throne.
