

If It's a Question of Glasses

there are three principal things to be considered FIT, QUALITY, STYLE. Of the first importance is the FIT not in the lenses only, but of the frame or mounting as well. QUALITY is also important. First QUALITY lenses cost more than others, but means safety and comfort.

Frames and mountings are made in many qualities, and only in the wear and service do you find out the difference.

Last but not least importance in STYLE.

The right STYLE for you is the one that will look well, feel well and best serve you the purpose.

Special Show At Prince Edward

There was a record crowd at the Prince Edward Theatre last night when the popular screen artist, Mary Pickford was shown in one of her latest successes, "Poor Little Peppina." The story deals with the kidnapping of an American child whose parents are residing in Italy. The child grows up among her captors and when she goes to America she suffers all the hardships of the life in the slums. When at last her identity is discovered and the happy parents reclaim their child the plot unfolds and a happy ending concludes one of the best of Miss Pickford's pictures. A Pathe scenic film gives some interesting and instructive views from the large Japanese city, Tokio. The strange customs of the people and the beautiful water scenes are well illustrated. A new branch of the cinema art made by the "Slow" camera analyses the act of jumping. An unusual exhibition of the muscular action caused by jumping is brought out by this camera which photographs slight times slower than the ordinary machine. The British Weekly gives the latest news and as good as usual. The comedy of this show is of high order and is called "The Seminary Scandal." This bill will be repeated this afternoon and evening. The candy sale in aid of the St. Vincent's Orphanage was a decided success and the large house provided many good customers.

Freight Congestion And the Mail

The late arrival nightly at Charlottetown of the mail express from Summerside appears to be one of the 'Is that must be endured as there is, for the present at least, no cure in sight. While this province is the sufferer it is somewhat consoling to note that the fault does not lie with the province. The Northumberland railway at Summerside daily carries her wharf at Summerside daily, promptly on time, her average cargo being five cars of mixed freight, eighteen cars of potatoes, the mails and passengers. After her return the train for Charlottetown leaves invariably within fifteen minutes of her arrival. The detention is at Pt du Chene where, it is said, it is impossible to obtain efficient or sufficient help, a large number of the long shore-men there being boys. It is not a question of pay but simply of want of men.

The magnitude of the work that is being done by the Prince Edward Island Railway may be inferred from the fact that last night, with the congestion practically over, there were in the railway yard at Charlottetown 100 cars of potatoes, another 100 cars of potatoes and 75 cars of other freight all destined for the Mainland. When it is remembered that there are only 300 box cars available on the P. E. Island, a faint idea may be had of the size of the problem daily confronting the management. Notwithstanding this tremendous movement of freight communication with the Mainland has been, as far as Island ports are concerned, practically up to the minute. The Stanley, which at present carries mails as well as passengers and freight departs and arrives on time. Wednesday both the Stanley and the Northumberland were held up by the storm and the mails from Picou and Point du Chene did not reach Charlottetown till about four o'clock yesterday morning.

Last night there were only 25 or 30 cars of potatoes at Summerside and this probably be overtaken in three days, while it is estimated that three trips of the car ferry steamer will overtake the congestion at Charlottetown. The latter will take away 80 cars of potatoes this evening.

CORRESPONDENCE LEADING TO GENERAL HUGHES' RESIGNATION

Following is the conclusion of the letter of Sir Sam Hughes, crowded out of the Guardian yesterday morning:

As I said in the early part of this letter I have for a long time remained Minister of Militia as scores of my intimate friends knew upon their urgent request, to remain in office in order the better to uphold and to protect the interests of our soldiers overseas. As you know my great desire has been to see that Canadian soldiers enjoyed a status as such.

In conclusion, Sir Robert, let me say I have always been frank and honorable with you. When rumors would reach me of your supposed plans of retiring from the office of Minister of Militia to the High Commissioner or to be Chief Justice of Canada, or to the Privy Council as Colonial Representative or any other statement, seriously affecting you or your political honor which bound you to the party, and that you should not use your position or forward your own personal ends, I have promptly consulted you and you have, as promptly, given your explanation or denial. Recently I heard, on excellent authority that you had in contemplation for some time to retire to the Supreme Court of Canada by arrangement with the present incumbent of the Chief Justiceship and send over the Prime Ministership to another under whom it is well known I would not serve. Surely you could not be a party to any such manipulation, but would face the electors and stand or fall by the result.

I tender you my resignation to take effect as soon as I can remove my belongings from the Department, of which I shall give you prompt notice. For the future, permit me the pleasure to support every act, every proposition, coming from where it may which will tend towards the successful protection and welfare of the soldiers who are so manfully sacrificing themselves in the great cause of human liberty.

Sincerely yours,
SAM HUGHES.
The Right Honorable Sir Robert L. Borden, G. C. M. G., Prime Minister of Canada.
Ottawa.

Rumored Changes In The United States Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—There have been many reports circulated regarding changes in the cabinet, but officials in close touch with President Wilson declared today that it is almost certain that he will urge all the present members of the cabinet to remain at their posts and changes are not expected, unless members themselves desire to quit the official family.

It is considered possible, however, that one or more members of the cabinet may resign for personal reasons. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has been frequently mentioned as one member likely to resign and Representative Carter Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, has been suggested for his post.

Last Night In Baptist Church

There was a large and interested congregation at the special service in the Baptist Church last night. Rev. C. R. Freeman held the closest attention of his hearers, as he eloquently presented his inspiring and instructive address. His subject was Conversion, as found in Matthew 18: 3. "Verily, I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children ye cannot enter the kingdom of heaven." "What does conversion mean? Some may tell you that a good little boy may grow up in a Christian home and gradually grow into a Christian, and come into the church without any special experience or change of heart. Conversion does not mean merely the improvement of man by his own will and good resolutions.

Conversion and regeneration are the two sides of the same truth, man turning away from sin, and God meeting him and imparting to him a new life. Men may be under conviction and not be converted, because they are unwilling to give up some pet sin. That man cannot be converted. Have angels walked the well-known ground.

F. B. Myers, a man of great power and influence in the service of God, tells us that for a period of his life he held on to some things which he did not wish to surrender, and his efforts in Christian service were fruitless. Unrecognized because so near.

Two Cases of Eczema And How They Were Cured

FURTHER PROOF THAT DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT IS A POSITIVE CURE FOR CHRONIC ECZEMA.

If you read these letters you will find that Dr. Chase's Ointment is not to be classed among ordinary salves and ointments. By actually curing itching, stinging eczema in many thousands of cases it has stood the most severe test to which any ointment can be put.

Mr. J. Brice, Temperance road, Parry Sound, Ont., writes: "Just a line to praise Dr. Chase's Ointment for what it has done for my wife. She has been suffering with eczema in her head for two years, and has spent no end of money with doctors and for ointments, which did her no good. She had about given up hope of ever being cured, when someone told her to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. By the use of this Ointment the trouble has left her entirely. We have unbounded faith in it. I have told several people about the Ointment."

less. One day he retired to his room and on bended knee made a full and unconditional surrender of his life to God, and a new experience filled his soul, and afterwards God mightily used him in saving men. What are the means by which conversion is brought about? By the word of God, by simply reading some text of scripture, by the Holy Spirit applying the great truths of his word. Souls may be saved by personal effort, by parents in the home, teachers in the Sunday school, by consistent Christian living of his followers.

"The choice of usual gave excellent service. At the close of Mr. Freeman's address Mrs. Freeman sang very sweetly a beautiful solo entitled, "No Room for Jesus." Service tonight at 7.30. All made welcome.

OUR FIGHTING MEN.

The war is like the Judgment Day—All sham, all pretext torn away; And swift the searching hours reveal Hearts good as gold, souls true as steel.

Not wigned and strange beyond our ken. But in the form of common men. He holds on to some things which he did not wish to surrender, and his efforts in Christian service were fruitless. Unrecognized because so near.
